"REVENUE FARMS ENACTMENT, 1902, AMENDMENT ENACTMENT, 1903."

No. 53.—SPIRIT FARM RULES MADE BY THE ACTING RESIDENT, WITH THE APPROVAL OF THE RESIDENT-GENERAL, ON THE 1st DAY OF JANUARY, 1904, UNDER SECTION 4 OF "THE REVENUE FARMS ENACTMENT, 1902, AMENDMENT ENACTMENT, 1903."

1. In these Rules the expression "District Officer" includes in Districts where there is no District Officer such person as the Resident may, by notification in the Gazette, appoint in that behalf; and the expression "Farm Shop" includes any shop maintained by or under licence from the Farmer for the sale of spirituous liquors.

2. The Farmer may licence any person to manufacture spirituous liquors from rice, sugar and ragi for any period not extending beyond the term of the Farm Contract.

3. (i). The Farmer may, with the written approval of the District Officer, open and maintain shops for the sale of spirituous liquors manufactured within the Farm area from rice, sugar and ragi; and may, with such approval as aforesaid, issue licences for the sale of such spirituous liquors on the premises described in such licence for any period not exceeding twelve months, and may charge for every such licence a fee at a rate which shall not exceed $4 per month.

(ii). If the Farmer shall open or maintain any such shop or issue any such licence as is referred to in this rule without such approval as aforesaid he shall be deemed to have committed a breach of these rules.

(iii). No spirituous liquors sold at any Farm shop shall be consumed on the premises of such shop except under a licence from the Government in that behalf.

(iv). The Resident may cancel any licence issued by the Farmer on breach of any of these Rules applicable to such licence.

4. The Farmer shall open and maintain shops for the sale of such spirituous liquors as aforesaid at such places within any district as the District Officer may direct.

5. A suitable sign-board shall be kept fixed conspicuously, to the satisfaction of the District Officer, on every house used for the purposes of the Farm or for the manufacture or sale of such spirituous liquors as aforesaid, whereon shall be specified the nature of the spirituous liquors manufactured or kept for sale in such house; and every licensee shall keep his licence in such house and shall produce it on demand for the inspection of the Farmer or of any Police or Revenue Officer.

6. No person shall retail such spirituous liquors as aforesaid otherwise than in exchange for coin legally current in the State.

7. The Farmer shall manufacture such spirituous liquors as are hereunder described at the under-mentioned strengths and shall keep the same constantly in stock for sale to the public at retail prices not exceeding those hereunder specified :—

Spirit manufactured from rice only ...	40 per cent under proof, per imperial pint 20 cents;
Spirit manufactured from rice and ragi only	40 per cent under proof, per imperial pint 16 cents;
Spirit manufactured from rice and ragi only	50 per cent under proof, per imperial pint 12 cents;
Spirit manufactured from rice, sugar and ragi only	40 per cent under proof, per imperial pint 12 cents;
Spirit manufactured from rice, sugar and ragi only	50 per cent under proof, per imperial pint 10 cents;

8. When such spirituous liquors are of greater strength than 40 per cent under proof, the amount to be added to the above-mentioned prices for every additional 5 degrees of strength shall not exceed the following :

Spirit manufactured from rice or rice and ragi only	per imperial pint 1½ cents;
Spirit manufactured from rice, sugar and ragi only	per imperial pint 1 cent.

9. Neither the Farmer nor any person licensed by him shall make use of lime or any other injurious matter in the manufacture of spirituous liquors or employ for the manufacture of the spirituous liquors described in Rules 7 and 8 any ingredients other than those therein specified without the written permission of the Resident.

10. Except as may be otherwise provided by law, neither the Farmer nor any person licensed by him under Rule 3 may refuse to sell to any person such spirituous liquors as are specified in Rules 7 and 8 on tender of payment at the rates prescribed by the said rules.

11. No person shall have in his possession, custody or control any spirituous liquors known to have been sold or purchased in contravention of the rights vested in the Farmer or contrary to the provisions of these Rules.

12. The Farmer and every person licensed by or claiming under him shall furnish or permit to be taken on demand by the Superintendent of Revenue Farms or by any Officer duly authorised by the Resident in that behalf, for the purpose of analysis, a sufficient sample of any spirituous liquors manufactured by him or kept by him for sale.

13. Every Farm shop shall be opened at 6 a.m. and not earlier and shall be closed not later than 10 p.m.

14. Every Farm shop shall have its premises on the ground floor only and shall have not more than one entrance for customers and such entrance shall lead directly from a public thoroughfare.

15. Every Farm shop and all premises appertaining thereto shall be kept clean and in good order and repair.

16. No drunkenness, disorder or gaming shall be permitted in any Farm shop and no prostitutes shall be admitted thereto.

17. The death of any person in any Farm shop shall be forthwith reported at the nearest police station.

18. Every place used by the Farmer for the purposes of the Farm or used by any person licensed by the Farmer for the purposes of such licence shall at all times be open to inspection by the Superintendent of Revenue Farms or by any duly authorised Government Officer; and every Farm shop shall at all times be open to inspection by any Police Officer not below the rank of Sergeant on his informing the occupier of the reason of such inspection.

19. The Farmer shall keep books shewing the quantity and description of such spirituous liquors as aforesaid manufactured and imported by him, respectively, and the balance in stock of any of such spirituous liquors, and such books shall be at all times open to inspection by the Superintendent of Revenue Farms or by any Officer authorised in writing by the Resident in that behalf.

20. (i). Within 15 days from the date of the commencement of his exclusive rights the Farmer shall cause a copy of these Rules distinctly written in English, Chinese and Tamil, or in such other languages as the District Officer may direct, to be conspicuously exhibited in every place used for the purposes of the Farm and thereafter shall keep the same so exhibited during the whole term of the Farm contract.

(ii). Every person licensed under Rule 3 shall within 15 days from the issue to him of such licence cause a copy of these Rules distinctly written in English, Chinese and Tamil, or in such other languages as the District Officer may direct, to be conspicuously exhibited in every place used for the purposes of such licence; and thereafter shall keep the same so exhibited during the whole term of his licence.

21. Any person who shall commit a breach of any of the foregoing rules shall be liable, on conviction before a Magistrate, to a fine not exceeding $100.

1st January, 1904.

“REVENUE FARMS ENACTMENT, 1902, AMENDMENT
ENACTMENT, 1903.”

No. 54.—TODDY FARM RULES MADE BY THE ACTING RESIDENT, WITH THE APPROVAL OF THE RESIDENT-GENERAL, ON THE 1ST DAY OF JANUARY, 1904, UNDER SECTION 4 OF “THE REVENUE FARMS ENACTMENT, 1902, AMENDMENT ENACTMENT, 1903.”

1. In these Rules the expression “District Officer” includes in Districts where there is no District Officer such person as the Resident may, by notification in the Gazette, appoint in that behalf; and the expression “Farm Shop” includes any shop maintained by or under licence from the Farmer for the sale of toddy.
2. The Farmer may licence any person to manufacture toddy for any period not extending beyond the term of the Farm Contract.
3. (i). The Farmer may, with the written approval of the District Officer, open and maintain shops for the sale of toddy and may with such approval as aforesaid issue licences for the sale of toddy on the premises described in such licence for any period not exceeding twelve months, and may charge for every such licence a fee at a rate which shall not exceed $2 per month.
(ii). If the Farmer shall open or maintain any such shop or issue any such licence as is referred to in this rule, without such approval as aforesaid, he shall be deemed to have committed a breach of these Rules.
(iii). No toddy sold at any Farm shop shall be consumed on the premises of such shop except under a licence from the Government in that behalf.
(iv). The Resident may cancel any licence issued by the Farmer on breach of any of these Rules applicable to such licence.
4. The Farmer shall open and maintain shops for the sale of toddy at such places within any district as the District Officer may direct.
5. A suitable sign-board shall be kept fixed conspicuously, to the satisfaction of the District Officer, on every house used for the purposes of the Farm or for the manufacture or sale of toddy, whereon shall be specified the nature of the toddy manufactured or kept for sale in such house; and every licensee shall keep his licence in such house and shall produce it on demand for the inspection of the Farmer or of any Police or Revenue Officer.
6. No person shall retail toddy otherwise than in exchange for coin legally current in the State.
7. The Farmer shall keep a sufficient supply of toddy of good quality constantly in stock for sale to the public.
8. The retail price to be charged for the best toddy shall not exceed 8 cents per quart or such other price as the Resident may, by notification in the Gazette, from time to time direct.
9. No person shall sell or offer for sale any toddy adulterated or compounded in such a manner as to be injurious to health.

10. No toddy shall be imported into the State except with the permission of the Farmer.

11. The Farmer and every person licensed to sell toddy shall supply to all bakers applying therefor toddy of good quality in such quantities as they may require for making bread and at such prices as may be fixed from time to time by the District Officer.

12. On application by any Baker to the District Officer for a licence to make toddy from specified trees for the purposes of his bakery, and on approval of such application by the District Officer, the Farmer shall issue to such Baker a licence to make toddy from the specified trees approved by the District Officer, and no charge shall be made in respect of such licence except that such Baker shall pay monthly to the Farmer in respect of each of the said trees such sum not exceeding 15 cents as the District Officer shall direct. Such Baker shall use all toddy obtained from the said trees for the purposes of his bakery only and shall not use or permit to be used any of such toddy for any other purposes whatsoever.

13. Except as may be otherwise provided by law, neither the Farmer nor any person licensed by him under Rule 3 may refuse to sell toddy to any person on tender of due payment therefor.

14. No person shall have in his possession, custody or control any toddy known to have been sold or purchased in contravention of the rights vested in the Farmer or contrary to the provisions of these Rules.

15. The Farmer and every person licensed by or claiming under him shall furnish or permit to be taken on demand by the Superintendent of Revenue Farms or by any Officer duly authorised by Government in that behalf, for the purpose of analysis, a sufficient sample of any toddy manufactured by him or kept by him for sale.

16. Every Farm shop shall be opened at 6 a.m. and not earlier and shall be closed not later than 10 p.m.

17. Every Farm shop shall have its premises on the ground floor only and shall have not more than one entrance for customers and such entrance shall lead directly from a public thoroughfare.

18. Every Farm shop and all premises appertaining thereto shall be kept clean and in good order and repair.

19. No drunkenness, disorder or gaming shall be permitted in any Farm shop and no prostitutes shall be admitted thereto.

20. The death of any person in any Farm shop shall be forthwith reported to the nearest police station.

21. Every place used by the Farmer for the purposes of the Farm or used by any person licensed by the Farmer for the purpose of such licence shall at all times be open to inspection by the Superintendent of Revenue Farms or by any duly authorised Government Officer; and every Farm shop shall at all times be open to inspection by any Police Officer not below the rank of Sergeant on his informing the occupier of the reason of such inspection.

22. (i). Within 15 days from the date of the commencement of his exclusive rights the Farmer shall cause a copy of these Rules distinctly written in English and Tamil, or in such other languages as the District Officer may direct, to be conspicuously exhibited in every place used by him for the purposes of the Farm, and thereafter shall keep the same so exhibited during the whole term of the Farm contract.

(ii). Every person licensed under Rule 3 shall within 15 days from the issue to him of such licence cause a copy of these Rules distinctly written in English and Tamil, or in such other languages as the District Officer may direct, to be conspicuously exhibited in every place used by him for the purposes of such licence, and thereafter shall keep the same so exhibited during the whole term of his licence.

23. Any person who shall commit a breach of any of the foregoing rules shall be liable, on conviction before a Magistrate, to a fine not exceeding $100.

1st January, 1904.

1. Offices closing to the public at 4 p.m. will open out again at 5.50 p.m. for the receipt and delivery of any telegrams that may have been awaiting transmission at other offices, and for ten minutes only after 5.50 p.m. postmasters will be prepared to accept over the counter any telegrams that the public may wish to hand in.

2. The hours for the closing of mails will be notified locally by each Post Office.

3. No money order business will be transacted on Saturday, except in Taiping, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 11 a.m.

4. On Sundays and holidays, offices will only be opened from 8 to 10 a.m. and 4 to 5 p.m. for the acceptance over the counter and delivery of telegrams, sale of stamps and the delivery of any mails received. No other postal business will be transacted.

A mail will be despatched from Taiping for Penang on Sunday evening.

CONDITIONS OF WINDOW DELIVERY.

PRIVATE BOX HOLDERS.

1. Window Delivery Tickets are issued on the following conditions:—

(a). A Ticket entitles the holder to a delivery of correspondence over the counter to the bearer of the ticket at any time during the day while a Post Office is open for the transaction of postal business generally, but on Sundays and holidays only for the limited time of half an hour after the receipt of a mail.

(b). On arrival of a mail, the correspondence for all ticket-holders will have special attention, so that such correspondence may be delivered over the counter within as short a time after receipt of mails as possible.

(c). Holders of tickets must provide locked receptacles with duplicate keys, one of which will be kept in the Post Office, and the Post Office authorities will then see that the correspondence is duly placed in the receptacle, which will be locked and handed to the bearer. Bags with Yale locks may be obtained from the Taiping Post Office, Large $5.15, Small $3.60.

(d). In order to facilitate sorting in the Post Office ticket-holders are advised to request their correspondents to address all correspondence that may be required to be delivered through the medium of a box and ticket in accordance with the superscription on the ticket. No correspondence as a rule will be sorted into a box unless it bears an address in accordance with that given on the ticket. Articles addressed by means of a name and post town only will not be sorted into boxes (unless a special ticket and box is taken for that name) but will be sent out for delivery by postmen. Correspondence sorted into boxes will not on any account be delivered to postmen but will be kept till called for.

(f). The foregoing rules apply to ordinary correspondence only. Registered correspondence and parcels cannot be delivered at the same time as ordinary correspondence, and must be delivered to the addressees personally, as their receipts are required.

(g). The fee is $6 per annum.

GENERAL WINDOW DELIVERY.

2. The following persons may have their correspondence delivered over the counter free of charge:—

(a). All Heads of Government Departments, by presentation of an official ticket, to be authorised by the Secretary to Resident, under the conditions above stated.

(b). Persons residing outside the limit of delivery.

(c). Persons applying for letters addressed to the care of the Post Office, or for letters to be kept till called for, unless such persons reside within the limit of the delivery and make a practice to have their letters so addressed; in which case the letters will be sent out for delivery.

3. No person residing within the limits of delivery, unless he rent a private box, can claim to have his correspondence delivered at the Post Office.

E. BURNSIDE,
Acting Secretary to Resident.

No. 262/04.

RESIDENT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
SELANGOR, MALAY PENINSULA.

TAIPING, 26th January, 1904.

No. 69.—RETIREMENT OF SIR FRANK SWETTENHAM, K.C.M.G.

SIR,

As you are already aware, Sir Frank Swettenham, K.C.M.G., has retired from the public service from the date of the expiration of his leave of absence, 12th January current.

2. The Sultans and peoples and all the Officers of the Federated Malay States will, I know, share my keen regret at the step taken by Sir Frank Swettenham, who has so long, faithfully, ably, honourably and successfully devoted his high abilities to furthering the interests of the peoples of the Malay Peninsula and the well-being of the servants of the Governments of the Federated Malay States.

3. I annex extract from a despatch addressed by the Secretary of State to the Officer Administering the Government of the Straits Settlements, No. 419 of 16th December, 1903, together with its enclosure, being copy of the Secretary of State's letter to Sir Frank Swettenham, No. 43,530/03 of 16th December, 1903.

4. I shall be obliged if you will cause this letter and its two enclosures to be published in an extraordinary number of your Government Gazette.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

W. H. TREACHER,
Resident-General, Federated Malay States.

THE ACTING BRITISH RESIDENT, PERAK.

RETIREMENT OF SIR F. A. SWETTENHAM, K.C.M.G., GOVERNOR OF THE STRAITS SETTLEMENTS.

SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE COLONIES TO OFFICER ADMINISTERING THE GOVERNMENT, STRAITS SETTLEMENTS.

STRAITS SETTLEMENTS,
[No. 419.]

DOWNING STREET,
16th December, 1903.

SIR,

You will have learnt from my telegram of the 12th instant, that Sir F. A. Swettenham has decided to retire from the public service at the expiration of his leave of absence (January 12th). His reason for taking this step is, in his own words, that he feels that 33 years' service in the climate of the Malay Peninsula must shake any constitution, and that he wishes to retire before he becomes a burden to the Colony whose interests he has endeavoured to serve.

2. In the circumstances, I have felt bound to accept his resignation, though I need hardly say that I have done so with the very greatest regret—a regret which will, I am sure, be shared by the people of the Colony and the Federated Malay States for whose interests he has done so much during his 33 years of loyal and successful service.

3. Sir Frank Swettenham's unrivalled acquaintance with the affairs of the Malay Peninsula and his intimate knowledge of the character of the native people now under the protection of Great Britain qualified him in a unique degree for the high position to which His Majesty was pleased to appoint him, and his retirement will be a very serious loss to the Colony and to the States with which he has so long been connected.

4. I enclose a copy of a letter which I have caused to be addressed to him. I am confident that in expressing the hope that he may long be spared to enjoy his well-earned rest I am speaking not only for myself but all those with whom his long and honourable career has brought him into contact.

* * * * *

I have, etc.,

ALFRED LYTTLETON.

SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE COLONIES TO SIR F. A. SWETTENHAM, K.C.M.G.

43,530/1903.

DOWNING STREET,
16th December, 1903.

Sir,

I am directed by Mr. Secretary Lyttleton to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 2nd instant, and to state that it is with very deep regret that he has learnt that you desire to retire from the public service.

2. In accepting your resignation which will be duly laid before His Majesty as from the end of your leave of absence, January 12th next, Mr. Lyttleton desires to express his high appreciation of the distinguished services which you have rendered to the Empire by your 33 years of successful work in the Malay Peninsula, and his hope that you may long be spared to enjoy the rest which you have so well earned.

3. I am to enclose a copy of a despatch which has been addressed to the Governor of the Straits Settlements.

I am etc.,

ADDRESS OF PROTECTOR OF LABOUR, FEDERATED MALAY STATES.

No. 3.—The address of the Protector of Labour, Federated Malay States, from 1st January, 1904, until further notice, will be care of General Post Office, Madras.

COUNCIL OF STATE, KUALA KANGSAR.

THURSDAY, 7TH JANUARY, 1904.

PRESENT :

HIS HIGHNESS IDRIS MERSID-EL-AAZAM SHAH, G.C.M.G., Sultan of Perak, President.

The Acting British Resident, H. C. BELFIELD, Esq.

The Raja Muda, RAJA MUSA.

The Raja di Hilir, RAJA ABDUL JALIL.

The Orang Kaya Mentri, WAN MUHAMMAD ISA.

The Orang Kaya Kaya Laksamana, HUSSEIN.

The Datoh Muda, ABDUL WAHAB.

Towkay LEONG FI.

Towkay HEAH SWEE LEE.

Towkay CHUNG THYE PHIN.

ABSENT :

The Acting Secretary to Resident, E. BURNSIDE, Esq.

The Orang Kaya Temenggong, WAN HASSAN.

The Orang Kaya Kaya Sri Adika Raja, WAN MUHAMMAD SALEH, I.S.O.

1. The Acting Resident addresses the Council in a few words expressive of his satisfaction at being once again present to take part in their deliberations. He reminds the members that it is now more than ten years since he last sat among them when acting in the office of Secretary to Government, and he desires to assure His Highness and the Council that whatever additional experience he may have gained during that period will be placed unreservedly at the service of His Highness and of the State which it is at the present time his privilege to administer.

The remarks of the Acting Resident are kindly acknowledged by His Highness the Sultan on behalf of the Council.

2. The reasons which necessitate the introduction of a draft Enactment, entitled "The Trustee Investment Enactment, 1902, Repeal Enactment, 1904," are explained to the Council by the Resident. The Enactment is considered and passed, becoming No. 1 of 1904.

3. Draft Rules made under Section 2 of "The Advocates and Solicitors' Costs Enactment, 1902," are discussed and passed.

The Council expresses a desire to have the Rules translated into Malay, Chinese and Tamil.

4. A Draft Enactment, entitled "The Volunteer Enactment, 1904," is considered and passed, becoming No. 2 of 1904. This Enactment repeals and re-enacts, with amendments, "The Volunteer Enactment, 1902."

5. The Acting Resident submits to the Council correspondence on the subject of a pension to Chung Ah Choy, a Dresser in the Medical Department, whose service dates from 7th July, 1883. It is decided to grant him a pension of $385 per annum, being the amount for which he is certified to be eligible.

6. Ten applications for the vacant posts of Assistant Penghulu, Selinsing, and Assistant Penghulu, Gunong Semanggol, are considered. Appointment to the vacant post at Selinsing was deferred at the last Meeting of the Council, pending a report from the District Officer, Larut and Krian. This is now read. It is decided to appoint Kulup Muhammad Kassim bin Pandak Itam Abdul Rahman as Assistant Penghulu, Selinsing, on six months probation, salary $218 per annum; and Talip bin Muhammad Jadi as Assistant Penghulu, Gunong Semanggol, on six months probation, salary $180 per annum.

7. Upon representations made by the Acting Resident the Council takes into consideration the question of the advisability of granting mining rights over agricultural lands, which practice, in its opinion, has become too general. It is resolved that in future only such applications as the Resident may expressly approve shall be brought before the Council.

8. The following applications for mining rights over agricultural lands are considered and approved, on the terms stated in the subjoined schedule :—

Mukim.	Name.	Title.	Area.			Premium per acre.

* The whole land had been planted with coffee and was in a flourishing condition up to 1901 when all the coffee in this neighbourhood was destroyed by caterpillars. The land adjoins the estate of Mr. Osborne, the conversion of which was allowed on the same terms.

9. Mr. Gustave Louis Mouchell's application for a grant of exclusive privileges in respect of an invention for "Improvements in and relating to Piles, Columns, and Analogous Structures" is approved.

10. The Council approves the recommendation of the District Officer, Larut and Krian, that Sheik Syed Bagdar, Malay Writer in the Larut Land Office, be allowed to retire on a pension of $372 per annum, as he is 59 years of age, and has more than 26 years service.

11. The Resident submits to the Council a letter from the Acting District Officer, Larut and Krian, proposing Wahab bin Jafar as a candidate for the new appointment of Assistant Penghulu, Briah, at a salary of $180 per annum as provided in the 1904 Estimates. The Council approves the appointment of Wahab bin Jafar on six months probation.

12. On the application of Towkay Leong Fi, who brings to the notice of the Council the number of gang robberies now occurring in the Kinta District, His Highness the Sultan is pleased to approve that six men of the Body Guard be sent to Kinta for six weeks on patrol duty.

The Council adjourns sine die.

(Signed) HARVEY CHEVALLIER,

ENACTMENT NO. 2 OF 1904.

An Enactment to repeal and re-enact with amendments "The Volunteer Enactment, 1902."

[7th January, 1904.]

H. C. BELFIELD, Acting British Resident.

IT IS HEREBY enacted by His Highness the Sultan in Council as follows :—

1. (i). This Enactment may be cited as "The Volunteer Enactment, 1904," and shall come into force upon the publication thereof in the Gazette. Short title, commencement and repeal.

(ii). Upon the coming into force of this Enactment the Enactment specified in the First Schedule shall be repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column of the said schedule; but so that any corps duly constituted and all appointments duly made under the provisions of the Enactment hereby repealed shall continue and be in force as if constituted and made under the provisions of this Enactment.

2. In this Enactment unless the context otherwise requires :—

Interpretation.

"Officer" means a person holding a commission as Officer in a Volunteer Corps.

"Commandant" means the Officer holding the highest rank in a Volunteer Corps.

"Divisional Commander" means the Officer subordinate to the Commandant who holds the next highest rank in the corps within the State.

"Volunteer" means a member of a Volunteer Corps not being an Officer.

"Appointments" includes accoutrements and equipments of every kind, other than clothing.

"Rules of the corps" includes rules of any division thereof.

PART I.

ORGANISATION OF VOLUNTEER CORPS.

3. (i). It shall be lawful for the Resident-General to accept the services of any persons desiring to become members of a Volunteer Corps under this Enactment and offering their services, and on such acceptance being notified in the Gazette the proposed corps shall be deemed lawfully constituted under this Enactment. Resident-General may accept services of corps.

(ii). Any such corps shall be designated by such title and shall consist of such divisions as the Resident-General shall by regulation direct and may be attached to the Malay States Guides or any detachment thereof in such manner and for such periods as the Resident-General shall by regulation direct.

No. 2 OF 1904.

Officer's commission to be issued by High Commissioner.

4. The Officers shall be commissioned by the High Commissioner, upon the recommendations of the Resident-General, and such commission shall not be deemed vacated by the death or retirement from office of the High Commissioner by whom the same was issued.

Power for Volunteer to quit corps on conditions.

5. (i). Subject as hereinafter mentioned any Volunteer may, except when on active service, quit his corps on complying with the following conditions :—

(a). Giving to his Divisional Commander 14 days' notice, in writing, of his intention to quit the corps and paying to the corps the sum of $25 if he quits it before completing one year's service, or the sum of $10 if he quits it after completing one year's and before completing two years' service ;

(b). Delivering up in good order (fair wear and tear only excepted) all arms, clothing and appointments, being public property or property of the corps or division, issued to him ; and

(c). Paying all money due or becoming due by him under the regulations or rules of the corps either before or at the time or by reason of his quitting it, and thereupon he shall be struck out of the muster roll of the corps by the Commandant.

(ii). If any Volunteer gives such notice and the Commandant refuses to strike him out of the muster roll and the Volunteer considers himself aggrieved thereby, the Volunteer may appeal to a Magistrate, who shall hear and determine the appeal and may for the purposes thereof administer oaths and examine any person as a witness, and if it appears to such Magistrate that the arms, clothing and appointments issued to the Volunteer, being public property or property of the corps or division, have been delivered up in good order (fair wear and tear only excepted) and that he has paid, or is ready to pay, sufficient compensation for any damage that such articles may have sustained and that all moneys due or becoming due by him under this Enactment or under regulations or rules of the corps, either before or at the time of or by reason of his quitting it, have been paid, such Magistrate may order the Commandant forthwith to strike such Volunteer out of the muster roll of the corps and such determination shall be binding on all persons.

(iii). Nothing in this section contained shall authorise any Volunteer to obtain his discharge, except with the consent of the Resident-General, before the expiration of any period of service for which he may have, by writing, engaged to serve.

Volunteers to be under command of
forces.

6. Whenever any Volunteers are on active service or are undergoing drill, exercise, or inspection, or voluntarily doing any duty together with His Majesty's regular forces, they and their Officers shall, subject to regulations under this Enactment, be under the command of the Officers of His Majesty's regular forces, provided always that the volunteers shall, when the circumstances of the service admit, be led by their own Officers under such command.

Annual
inspection.

7. So long as the Volunteer Corps shall be attached to the Malay States Guides it shall be the duty of the Commandant of the Malay

VOLUNTEER.

States Guides to inspect, at least once a year, every unit of the Volunteer Corps, wherever stationed, and to report as to its efficiency to the Resident-General.

8. The Resident-General may, by regulations, declare what is requisite to entitle a Volunteer to be deemed efficient, by defining for that purpose the number of drills to be attended by the Volunteer and the course of instruction and training to be gone through by him, and the degree of proficiency in drill and instruction to be attained by him and by the corps or any part thereof to which he belongs, such proficiency to be estimated by the inspecting Officer at the annual inspection of the corps or otherwise as prescribed.

Requisites of efficiency to be declared by Resident-General.

9. The Resident-General may disband or discontinue the services of any Volunteer Corps or any part thereof whenever it seems to him expedient to do so.

Disbanding of corps.

10. (i). The Resident-General may at any time assemble a Court of Enquiry, composed of members of the Volunteer Corps, to enquire into any matter relative to such corps or any part thereof or to any Officer or Volunteer, and to record the facts and circumstances ascertained on such enquiry, and, if required, to report on the same for his information.

Court of Enquiry.

(ii). The Commandant or the Divisional Commander may at any time assemble a Court of Enquiry, composed either of Officers and Volunteers belonging to the corps or of such Officers or of such Volunteers, to enquire into any matter relative to the corps or any part thereof or any Volunteer not being an Officer, and to record the facts and circumstances ascertained on such enquiry, and, if required, to report on the same for the information and assistance of the Commandant or Divisional Commander.

11. The Resident-General may from time to time by notification in the Gazette make regulations respecting anything in this Enactment directed or authorised to be done or provided by regulations and also such other regulations as may seem fit (not being inconsistent with any of the provisions of this Enactment) respecting :—

Power of Resident-General to make regulations.

(a). The appointment, promotion and rank of Officers ;

(b). The assembling and proceedings of Courts of Enquiry ;

(c). Generally the execution of this Enactment and the general government and discipline of the Volunteer Force ;

Provided always, that when a General Committee shall have been constituted in accordance with any rules made under the provisions of Section 19 hereof, any regulations that may from time to time be in force under this section shall not be varied or rescinded except after reference to such General Committee.

PART II.

ACTIVE SERVICE.

12. (i). In case of great national or local emergency or in case of actual or apprehended invasion of or attack on the Federated Malay States the Resident-General may call out any Volunteer Corps or any division thereof for active service.

Resident-General may call out Volunteers for active service in case of emergency, invasion, etc.

No. 2 OF 1904.

(ii). Every Officer and Volunteer belonging to any corps or division so called out shall be bound to assemble at such place and perform such service as may be directed by the Resident-General.

(iii). Every such Officer and Volunteer from the time of his corps or division being so called out shall, for the purposes of this Enactment, be deemed to be on active service. If any such Officer or Volunteer not incapacitated by infirmity for service refuses or neglects so to assemble he shall be deemed a deserter.

(iv). The period of such service shall continue so long as the Resident-General shall consider necessary and shall end only by order of the Resident-General.

(v). Nothing in this Enactment shall render any Officer or Volunteer liable to serve or proceed on duty, without his consent, beyond the limits of the Federated Malay States.

Volunteers when called out on service to be entitled to pay and quarters.

13. All persons enrolled in any Volunteer Corps, when called out on active service by the Resident-General, shall be entitled to pay and allowances in such manner and after such rates and conditions and to be quartered or billeted in like manner in every respect and under and subject to the same regulations as His Majesty's forces, so far as the same shall, by the Resident-General, be deemed applicable to the Volunteer Corps.

Relief to families of Volunteers called out on service.

14. All persons enrolled and who shall, when called out on active service, leave families unable to support themselves, shall during the period of their absence on active service be entitled to relief for their wives and families, and it shall be lawful for the Resident-General to fix the amount of such relief.

When travelling expenses are payable to Volunteers.

15. Whenever any person enrolled as aforesaid shall be called out on active service away from his place of residence, he shall be entitled to receive, if willing to do so, his travelling expenses from and to such place of residence, and it shall be lawful for the Resident-General to fix the rate and amount of such expenses.

Pensions to Officers and Volunteers disabled on service and to widows and families of those killed on service.

16. All Officers and Volunteers who shall have received wounds or injuries on active service, and the widows and families of all such Officers and Volunteers who may have been killed or have died, within twelve months after having been wounded, of wounds received during such active service, or have died within twelve months from illness directly traceable to fatigue or exposure incident to such active service, shall be entitled to such pensions or gratuities as shall be fixed by the Resident-General, provided that no pension or gratuity under this section shall exceed the sum of $1,000 per annum.

PART III.

DISCIPLINE.

As to discipline when not on active service.

17. The discipline of Officers and Volunteers when they are not on active service or undergoing drill, exercise, training or inspection together with, or voluntarily doing any duty together with, His Majesty's regular forces, or any part thereof, or with the Malay States Guides, shall be maintained as follows:—

VOLUNTEER.

(i). The Commandant of a Volunteer Corps may, subject to such appeal to the Resident-General as hereinafter mentioned, discharge from the corps any Volunteer and strike him out of the muster roll either for disobedience of orders by him while doing any duty with the corps or any division thereof or for neglect of duty or misconduct by him as a member of the corps or for other sufficient cause, the existence and sufficiency of such causes, respectively, to be judged of by the Commandant or in case of appeal by the Resident-General.

(ii). Any Volunteer so discharged shall, nevertheless, be liable to deliver up in good order (fair wear and tear only excepted) all arms, clothing and appointments, being public property or property of the corps or division, issued to him and pay all moneys due or becoming due by him under this Enactment or under regulations or rules of the corps either before or at the time or by reason of his discharge, but any Volunteer who feels aggrieved by such discharge may appeal to the Resident-General within a reasonable time after such discharge, and the Resident-General may cancel or confirm such discharge or give such other directions with reference thereto as to him may seem just and proper, and such determination shall be binding on all persons.

(iii). If any such Officer or Volunteer, as aforesaid, while :—

(a). He is on the line of march or on duty with the corps to which he belongs or any part thereof, or

(b). He is engaged in any exercise or drill with such corps or any part thereof, or

(c). He is wearing the clothing or accoutrements of such corps and is going to or returning from any place of exercise, drill, or assembly of such corps, or is otherwise on duty, disobeys any lawful order of any Officer under whose command he then is, or is guilty of misconduct, the senior Officer present in command of the corps may order the offender if an Officer into arrest, and if not an Officer into the custody of any Volunteer belonging to the corps, provided that the offender be not kept in such arrest or custody longer than during such time as the corps, or such part thereof as aforesaid, then remains on march or duty or continues engaged in any such exercise or drill as aforesaid, or otherwise on duty, and for the purposes of this provision any such Officer or Volunteer while going to or returning from any place of exercise, drill or assembly of his corps shall be deemed to be on duty so long as he continues to wear the clothing or accoutrements of such corps.

(iv). Every such arrest shall be forthwith reported to the Commandant or to such other Officer as may be prescribed.

18. (i). The discipline of Officers and Volunteers when they are on active service or are undergoing drill, exercise, training or inspection together with, or are voluntarily doing any duty together with, the Malay States Guides or His Majesty's regular forces, or any part thereof, shall be maintained as follows :—

As to discipline when on active service.

The provisions of the Imperial Act 44 and 45 Victoria Chapter 58 and of any other Imperial Act for the time being amending the same shall, so far as the same are consistent with the provisions of this Enactment, apply to all Officers and Volunteers, with the following modifications only :—

44 and 45
Vict. c. 58.

No. 2 OF 1904.

(a). That no Officer or Volunteer shall for any offence against such Act or Acts be subject to the penalty of death ;

(b). That no sentence of a Court Martial for the trial of an Officer or Volunteer shall be carried into execution unless confirmed by the Resident-General.

(ii). Nothing in this section contained shall be deemed to limit or derogate from the power given by Section 177 of the said Imperial Act to the General Officer Commanding His Majesty's Forces, with which the corps is serving, of making such exceptions or modifications as in the same section are referred to.

PART IV.

RULES AND PROPERTY OF CORPS.

Power for corps to make rules.

19. (i). The members of a Volunteer Corps or of any division thereof may, from time to time, make rules for the management of the property, finances and civil affairs of the corps or of such division, respectively, but no such rules shall have effect unless and until they have been approved by the Resident-General and such approval has been notified by the Resident-General to the Commandant to be by him forthwith communicated to the corps or division, whereupon the rules so approved shall be published in the Gazette and shall thereupon be binding upon all members of the corps expressed to be subject thereto.

(ii). A copy of the rules in print or writing, or partly in print and partly in writing, certified under the hand of the Commandant as a true copy of the rules whereof such approval has been notified as aforesaid, shall be conclusive evidence of the rules of the corps or of any division thereof.

Vesting of property in Divisional
Commander.

20. All moneys subscribed by or to or for the use of any division of a Volunteer Corps and all effects belonging to any such division or lawfully used by it not being the property of any individual member thereof and the exclusive right to sue for and recover current subscriptions, arrears of subscriptions and other moneys due to such division shall vest in the Divisional Commander for the time being and his successors in office, with power for him and his successors to sue, to make contracts and conveyances and to do all other lawful things relating thereto, and any civil or criminal proceedings taken by virtue of this section by the Divisional Commander shall not be discontinued or abated by his death, resignation or removal from office, but may be carried on by and in the name of his successor in office.

Volunteers
failing to give up arms, etc., when liable to do so to pay value thereof.

21. If any person fails to deliver up in good order (fair wear and tear excepted) any arms, clothing or appointments, which he is liable under this Enactment or any regulations or rules made hereunder to deliver up, he shall be liable to pay to the Divisional Commander the value thereof, as such value shall be determined by a General Committee constituted in accordance with the rules made under this Enactment.

Recovery of subscriptions and fines.

22. If any person belonging or having belonged to a Volunteer Corps neglects or refuses to pay anything subscribed or undertaken to be paid by him towards any of the funds or expenses of such corps or any division thereof or due under the rules of the corps and actually payable by him or to pay any fine incurred by him under the rules of the corps, such money or fine shall (without prejudice to any other remedy) be recoverable from him with costs at any time within 18 months after the same becomes due and payable in manner hereinafter mentioned and when recovered shall be applied as part of the general fund of the corps or of the division to which the same was payable.

VOLUNTEER.

PART V.

MISCELLANEOUS.

23. Any money or fine recoverable under this Enactment or under any regulation or rule duly made hereunder may be recovered in a summary way in any Civil Court, notwithstanding that the amount may be in excess of the ordinary jurisdiction of such Court.

Summary
recovery of fines, etc.

24. The Commandant or the Divisional Commander may appear in any Civil Court or before any Magistrate or Magistrates by any member of the corps authorised by him in writing under his hand.

Appearance in court of Commandant or Divisional Commander.

25. The Resident-General may exempt from municipal taxation any horse kept for the purposes of this Enactment.

Exemption of horses from taxation.

26. It shall be lawful for the Government Treasurer in any District to pay to the Divisional Commander for the purposes of the division such sum in each year as shall be fixed by the Resident-General not exceeding $25 for every efficient member of such division who holds a certificate of proficiency in accordance with any regulations made under Section 8 and is certified by the Divisional Commander to have attended not less than the prescribed number of drills or parades within the year, but no such payment shall be made unless the Commandant of the Malay States Guides shall have certified that the division has been inspected by him during that year and is in a state of efficiency.

Capitation
grant.

27. Every member of a Volunteer Corps shall on his admission, or as soon afterwards as may be, take the oath set forth in the Second Schedule to this Enactment to be administered by a Magistrate or by an Officer of the corps who has taken such oath.

Oath to be taken.

28. Whoever assaults or resists or abets within the meaning of the Penal Code any person in assaulting or resisting any member of the corps in the discharge of his duty as such member shall be punishable, on conviction before a Magistrate, with fine not exceeding $100, or with imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, or with both.

No. 2 OF 1904.

THE SECOND SCHEDULE.

I, A. B., do sincerely promise and swear that I will well and truly serve as a Volunteer within the Federated Malay States, and will in all things submit myself to and obey the lawful orders of my superior Officers for the defence of the said States against all enemies and opposers whatsoever according to the conditions of my service.

MALAY STATES VOLUNTEER RIFLES.

REGULATIONS MADE BY THE RESIDENT-GENERAL
UNDER SECTION 11 OF "THE VOLUNTEER ENAC TMENT, 1904."

- | | |
| Object of corps. | 1. The object of the corps is to assist in the permanent defence of the Federated Malay States against foreign invasion and in the suppression of local disturbances. |
| Title and membership. | 2. The corps shall be called the "Malay States Volunteer Rifles" and shall consist of original members whose services have been accepted by the Resident-General under the provisions of "The Volunteer Enactment, 1904," or of any previous Enactment empowering him in that behalf and of other members duly elected by ballot in accordance with rules in force under any such Enactment. |
| Corps to be attached to Malay States Guides. | 3. The corps shall be attached for purposes of organisation to the Malay States Guides until further order; provided that questions of seniority and command shall be regulated as follows:—
| Physical fitness. | 4. Previous to enrolment, members shall have been passed by a qualified Surgeon as physically fit for duty as soldiers. |
| Appointment of commissioned Officers. | 5. The commissions of the Officers of the corps will be issued by the High Commissioner upon the recommendations of the Resident-General. |
| Appointment of non-commissioned Officers. | 6. Non-Commissioned Officers shall be appointed or promoted by the Divisional Commander subject to the approval of the Commandant; provided that no member shall be so appointed or promoted until he has passed such qualifying examination as may be fixed from time to time by the Commandant. |

VOLUNTEER.

7. All appointments and promotions of commissioned Officers shall be published in the Gazette and shall take effect from the date of such publication. Gazette.

8. All members of the corps serving within the State shall constitute one division which shall be divided into companies; and each company shall be sub-divided into sections under the command of a Sergeant or other Non-commissioned Officer. Division companies and sections.

9. The duties of Sergeants in command of sections, assisted by the other Non-commissioned Officers of those sections, shall be as follows:— Duties of Non-commissioned Officers.

(a). They shall keep a nominal roll of their sections;

(b). They shall take steps to see that each member of their respective sections carries out the prescribed number of drills each year with the least possible delay;

(c). They shall use every endeavour to maintain their sections in a good state of discipline and efficiency.

10. Members shall take the oath prescribed by Section 27 of the Enactment, and shall sign the following form of enrolment and be bound thereby:— Enrolment.

“I, _____, being desirous of becoming a member of the Malay States Volunteer Rifles, on being elected thereto, do hereby engage to serve for a period of not less than two years and to be bound by any authorised rules and regulations which may be in force or which may be duly brought into force during the continuance of my membership.”

11. Uniform (except mess uniform) and appointments shall be supplied free to members. Uniform.

12. Uniform, when supplied, shall be worn at all parades when so notified in company orders. Under no circumstances shall a member wear any article of uniform when in plain clothes. Wearing of uniform.

13. No member shall take his arms or appointments beyond the limits of the Federated Malay States except with the permission of the Resident-General communicated through the Commandant. Taking arms beyond the States.

14. No member will be classed as efficient until he has completed the following course or obtained a certificate of proficiency from the Commandant:— Qualifications for efficiency.

(a). For recruits—

(i). Thirty squad and company drills;

(ii). Musketry Table (a), Army Musketry Regulations, or such part thereof as the Commandant may consider necessary;

(iii). Attendance at the annual inspection unless leave of absence has been obtained from the Divisional Commander.

(b). For trained Volunteers: second year—

(i). Attendance, twenty drills,

(ii). Musketry Table (b), Musketry Regulations;

(iii). Annual inspection as above.

No. 2 OF 1904.

(c). Third and subsequent years —

(i). Attendance, fifteen drills ;

(ii). Musketry Table (b), Musketry Regulations ;

(iii). Annual inspection as above.

Every recruit must obtain a certificate of proficiency in drill from the Adjutant, and if unable to do so after attending the number of drills herein prescribed, he must continue to attend extra drills until he obtain such certificate. Should any member, owing to exceptional circumstances, not have performed the exact distribution of drills as given above but have attended an equal or greater aggregate number of drills, it shall be within the discretion of the Divisional Commander, with the sanction of the Inspecting Officer, to return him as efficient.

Railway passes and travelling expenses.

15. Free return passes shall be issued to Officers and Volunteers travelling on any part of the Federated Malay States Railways for the immediate purpose of attending drills or manœuvres, and all transport expenses actually and necessarily incurred by Officers or Volunteers residing outside the limits of any town and travelling for the immediate purpose of attending any drills or manœuvres in such town shall be recoverable at any District Treasury on the certificate of the Divisional Commander.

Extra efficiency.

16. All possible inducement and encouragement shall be provided for the acquirement of additional training, counting towards extra efficiency, in army signalling and musketry and machine-gun drill.

Annual
inspection.

17. (i). Every member shall attend the annual inspection parade of his division, unless he have previously obtained written leave of absence from the Divisional Commander. In case of sickness a medical certificate must accompany the application for such leave.

(ii). No capitation grant shall accrue due in respect of any member absent from such parade (even though holding a certificate of proficiency) unless he has duly obtained leave of absence or has left the State and is borne on the Reserve List.

Parades, drills and rifle exercise.

18. The Divisional Commander, or such Officer or Officers as he may depute, shall fix the time and place for parades, drills and rifle exercise.

Period for becoming efficient.

19. Members joining before 1st October in any year will be required to become efficient by 31st March of the following year. Those joining after 1st October who fail to become efficient by 31st March of the following year shall not be liable for loss of capitation grant and their drills will be credited to them for the following year.

Term of service.

20. In accordance with the terms of enrolment members will be required to serve for not less than two years, complying with the requirements for efficiency or making good to their division any loss of capitation grant for which they have become liable for both years ; subject, however, to termination of service by removal from the Federated Malay States, ill-health or other reason satisfactory to the Resident-General, failing which they must make good all losses which the division may incur by any termination of their service.

VOLUNTEER.

21. Any member who having already served two years is on the effective muster roll of his division on a date within three months before the date of the annual inspection, and resigns before such latter date without good and sufficient reason, to be approved by the Divisional Commander, shall be liable to the division for any loss of capitation grant that may be thereby incurred. In like manner all members who fail to carry out the provisions of any regulations made by the Resident-General under the provisions of "The Volunteer Enactment, 1904," shall be liable to their division for any loss of capitation grant resulting therefrom.

Liability as to capitation grant.

22. Any member leaving or being transferred from the State in which he was enrolled, may be attached to any company or section of the Malay States Volunteer Rifles in any other State, if possible in the same rank as he held in the corps of the State in which he last served, and should he return he may rejoin his original company or section. If there be no vacancy on the establishment, any member so returning shall be made a supernumerary.

Members leaving the State.

23. Members temporarily leaving the Federated Malay States for more than three months or residing in places where, in the opinion of the Divisional Commander, it is impossible for them to become efficient, may be given leave of absence by the Divisional Commander, but such members will be struck off the strength of their sections during the period of such absence.

Leave of absence.

24. Each member shall be responsible, subject to fair wear and tear only, for the due preservation and return at any time when called upon by the Officer Commanding his company, or when leaving the Federated Malay States for more than three months, of all articles issued to him, whether the property of the Government or of the corps or division.

Care of property.

25. Volunteers when assembled for drill or voluntarily doing any military duty shall be under the sole command of their own Officers, except :--

Volunteers to be under command of their own Officers,

(a). When acting together with His Majesty's Regular Forces, or any part thereof ;

Exceptions.

(b). When acting together with the Malay States Guides ;

(c). When the Resident-General, by writing under his hand, directs that they shall be placed under military command.

26. All official communications from members to the Commandant shall be in writing, and shall be sent through the non-commissioned Officer in command of sections to the Officer commanding the company and the Adjutant in an open cover.

Communications to Commandant.

27. Any Volunteer who considers himself aggrieved in any matter may represent his case to the Officer commanding his company ; any appeal against the decision of such Officer shall be made through him to the Divisional Commander, and any appeal against the decision of the Divisional Commander shall be made through him to the Commandant, and any further appeal shall be made through the Commandant to the Resident-General whose decision shall be final. The Commandant shall be bound to forward a complaint to the Resident-General should the aggrieved member claim his right of final appeal.

Grievances.

No. 2 OF 1904.

Cases not provided for.

28. If any case arises not provided for in "The Volunteer Enactment, 1904," or in the regulations or rules made thereunder, or if there should be any doubt as to the correct interpretation thereof, the Divisional Commander, after consultation with the General Committee, shall decide the course to be adopted, subject to an appeal to the Commandant.

Members to be provided with regulations and rules.

29. Every member shall be provided with a copy of the regulations and rules of the corps.

Obedience to superiors.

30. All commissioned Officers shall see that obedience to superiors is strictly enforced.

Disobedience to be reported.

31. (i). Disobedience of orders, or disrespect shewn by any member of the corps to any superior Officer or non-commissioned Officer, shall be forthwith reported to the Divisional Commander.

(ii). Any non-commissioned Officer failing to report any contempt or neglect of his authority shall be liable to reduction.

Effect of arrest.

32. Any member of the corps under arrest shall be suspended from all military duty, including target practice, until the case leading to such arrest shall have been disposed of.

Military duty.

33. Any member of the corps present under arms on parade, or performing any administrative duty of a military nature in or out of uniform, shall be deemed to be on military duty.

Release from arrest.

34. No Officer or Volunteer who has been reported as having been placed under arrest shall be released except by order of the Officer to whom he has been so reported, or, in the unavoidable absence of such Officer, by order of the Officer next in command.

Salutes.

35. Volunteers in uniform shall at all times salute the Resident-General, the Resident, and all commissioned Officers of His Majesty's Service and Officers of the Malay States Volunteer Rifles when in uniform. Volunteers in plain clothes shall salute all Officers on the parade ground.

Receipt of reprimands.

36. No Volunteer shall reply to an Officer or non-commissioned Officer when found fault with on duty or in the ranks.

Addressing Officers.

37. No Volunteer in uniform shall address any Officer unless he be accompanied by a non-commissioned Officer.

In writing.

38. No Volunteer shall address any Officer in writing on any subject connected with duty except as provided by Regulation 26.

Offences entailing arrest and fine.

39. Whenever any member of the corps shall be deemed by the Divisional Commander guilty of any of the offences following, that is to say:—

(a). Neglecting or refusing to attend any parade, inspection or military exercise which he has been ordered to attend;

(b). Refusing or neglecting to obey any lawful order of his superior Officer while going to, present at, or returning from any parade, inspection or military exercise;

VOLUNTEER.

(c). Behaving in a disorderly manner or in a manner subversive of good discipline while going to, present at, or returning from any parade, inspection, or military exercise ;

(d). Being in a state of intoxication while going to, present at, or returning from any parade, inspection or military exercise ;

(e). Being insolent towards his superior Officer while in the execution of his duty as such Officer ;

(f). Failing to keep in proper order any arms, accoutrements, ammunition, appointments or property entrusted to him as a Volunteer ;

Such member may, if an Officer, be ordered under arrest until his case is inquired into, and, if not an Officer, may be ordered into custody of any Volunteer, until the parade, inspection or military exercise is over, and the Divisional Commander may, by writing under his hand, order that such person shall pay such fine, not exceeding $10 for each offence, as he may think fit.

40. Subject to the approval of the Divisional Commander, the senior Officer in command on any parade may impose fines in respect of such parade in accordance with the following schedule, and such fines shall be in addition to any fines imposed under Regulation 39 :—

Fines for offences on parade.

SCHEDULE.				Maximum fine.

“THE ADVOCATES AND SOLICITORS’ COSTS
ENACTMENT, 1902.”

No. 154.—RULES MADE UNDER SECTION 2 OF THE ABOVE ENACTMENT, BY THE ACTING JUDICIAL COMMISSIONER, WITH THE APPROVAL OF THE SULTAN IN COUNCIL, ON THE 7TH DAY OF JANUARY, 1904, FOR FIXING TABLES OF FEES AND COSTS TO BE CHARGEABLE BY ADVOCATES AND SOLICITORS FOR WORK DONE BY THEM IN THE COURTS OF THE SENIOR MAGISTRATE, OF MAGISTRATES OF THE FIRST CLASS AND OF MAGISTRATES OF THE SECOND CLASS.

1. In these Rules the expression “Advocate” includes any persons admitted to practise in the Courts of the Federated Malay States, and shall mean and include the legal representative of any Advocate deceased.

The expression “Taxing Officer” shall mean the Registrar of Courts for the State.

2. When an order for taxation is made the costs shall be taxed by the Taxing Officer in accordance with the Second Schedule to these Rules.

3. Upon the taxation of the bill the certificate of the Taxing Officer, unless set aside, shall be conclusive as to the amount thereof, and the Advocate may, on the expiration of four days, if there is no application for review, apply for execution.

4. Any party dissatisfied with the bill of costs as certified by the Taxing Officer may apply within four days to the Court of the Senior Magistrate to have the same reviewed, and the Court may confirm or vary the same and may make such further orders as to the costs of the application as it may think fit.

5. The fees set forth in the First Schedule are those which Advocates shall be entitled to charge for work done by them in Courts of Magistrates of the First and Second Class, and those in the Second Schedule are those which Advocates shall be entitled to charge for work done by them in the Court of the Senior Magistrate.

6. Fees for more than one Advocate shall not be allowed unless the Court shall at the hearing so certify.

7. No fees for attendances upon the client are to be allowed except for obtaining his instructions upon matters arising in the cause beyond the ordinary discretion of the Advocate and not relating to matters of procedure.

8. Bills of costs are to be copied on foolscap paper bookwise, with separate columns for fees and for costs out of pocket and two extra columns for additions or deductions made by the Taxing Officer. Dates must be furnished for each item. One copy is to be made for the Taxing Officer and left with him on obtaining an appointment to tax, and one copy for the party against whom the bill is made, which copy shall be served on such party by the party drawing up the bill.

9. Not less than 48 hours' notice of taxation shall be given to the party or parties except by consent.

10. When the taxation is finished the Taxing Officer, after making the necessary additions and deductions, shall proceed to make his certificate for the amount of costs allowed, by writing the words "Taxed at " at the foot of the bill over his signature.

11. In all other matters arising on taxation not dealt with in these rules the decision of the Taxing Officer shall, subject to an appeal to the Senior Magistrate as aforesaid, be final.

THE FIRST SCHEDULE.

On the hearing of suit:—

When not more than half of a day is occupied a sum not exceeding $25.

When a whole day is occupied a sum not exceeding $50.

NOTE A.—The maximum sums set down above are to be allowed in general only where, in the opinion of the Judge, the case has involved such questions of law as require previous searching of authorities or where the facts have required unusual investigation. In no case shall the sum awarded for Advocate's fees exceed ten per centum of the amount of the decree.

NOTE B.—The hearing of a suit may be assumed to occupy a whole day, where the Court is situated more than five miles by road or ten miles by railway from the Advocate's usual place of business, and in such cases a sum, which shall in no case exceed $10, may be allowed for expenses in addition to the Advocate's fee.

CIRCULAR DESPATCH FROM THE RIGHT HONOURABLE
THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE COLONIES AND ITS ENCLOSURES.

No. 155.—(Circular.)

DOWNING STREET,
17th November, 1903.

SIR,

In continuation of my Circular despatch of the 5th instant, I have the honour to transmit to you the accompanying further prints relative to the Regulations with respect to the Certificates of Origin required in the case of sugar imported into Italy, the Netherlands and Sweden.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient, humble servant,

ALFRED LYTTTELTON.

THE OFFICER ADMINISTERING
THE GOVERNMENT OF
THE STRAITS SETTLEMENTS.

SIR F. BERTIE TO THE MARQUESS OF LANSDOWNE.

(Received October 5th.)

(No. 99. Circular.)

ROME,
October 2nd, 1903.

MY LORD,

With reference to Sir R. Rodd's despatch No. 88, Commercial, of the 10th August last, I have the honour to transmit herewith translation of a note which I have received from the Department of Foreign Affairs, explaining that the certificates of origin required for the importation of sugar into Italy, in accordance with the provisions of the Brussels Convention, are governed by the Regulations which have long been in force respecting certificates of origin for other merchandise, as defined in Appendix II of the existing Italian Tariff.

I have, etc.,

(For SIR F. BERTIE).

(Signed) RENNELL RODD.

ENCLOSURE.

(Translation.)

M. LE CHARGE D'AFFAIRES,

FOREIGN OFFICE, ROME,
October 1st, 1903.

With reference to the request which you made to me verbally, I hasten to inform you that the Regulations for certificates of origin for sugar imported into the Kingdom are those that have been continuously in force for certificates of origin required by the Royal Customs for other merchandise; they were extended to sugar after the 1st September, the date on which the Convention of Brussels came into force.

These Regulations are published as the Second Appendix to the existing Italian Customs Tariff, and are now well known to commerce.

I have, etc.,

(For the Minister),

(Signed) FASSATI.

SIR H. HOWARD TO THE MARQUESS OF LANSDOWNE.

(Received October 19th).

(No. 76.—Commercial).

THE HAGUE,
October 16th, 1903.

MY LORD,

With reference to my despatch No. 70, Commercial, of the 19th ultimo, I have the honour to transmit herewith a copy and a translation of a Royal Decree, dated the 7th instant, and published to-day, containing the Regulations adopted in regard to the certificates of origin required for the importation of sugar into the Netherlands in accordance with the provisions of the Brussels Convention of the 5th March, 1902.

I have, etc.,

(Signed) HENRY HOWARD.

ENCLOSURE.

DECREE OF THE 7TH OCTOBER, 1903, CONTAINING INSTRUCTIONS CONCERNING THE MANNER OF DETERMINING THE PLACE OF ORIGIN OF SUGAR.

WE, WILHELMINA, by the Grace of God Queen of the Netherlands, Princess of Orange-Nassau, etc., etc., etc.

On the proposal of our Minister of Finances, of the 19th August, 1903, No. 81, Import Duties and Excise ;

With reference to the Convention, concerning the taxation of sugar, ratified by the law of the 12th January, 1903, (" Staatsblad," No. 18), and also to Article XVI of the law of the 24th July, 1903, (" Staatsblad," No. 248), containing further Regulations concerning the excise duty upon sugar ;

Having heard the Council of State (advice of the 14th September, 1903, No. 15) ;

With reference to the further report of our Minister aforesaid, of the 2nd October, 1903, No. 9, Import Duties and Excise ;

Have decreed, and do decree :

Article 1.—Sugar which is imported into this country, whatever its destination may be, must be accompanied by a certificate of origin, except in the case provided for in the following Article.

Article 2.—No certificate is required for sugar which passes through this Realm in transit, provided such transit be effected in accordance with Cap. 4 or 5 of the Royal Decree of the 26th March, 1872, (" Staatsblad," No. 19), as that Decree appears after the amendments and supplement thereto made by the Royal Decree of the 12th March, 1876, (" Staatsblad," No. 53).

Article 3.—The certificate must be issued in the country of origin, or in the country in which the sugar is treated, by the Revenue Officers appointed by the Government of that country for that purpose.

Article 4.—The certificate must contain a statement of—

- (a). The sort and quantity of the sugar ;
- (b). The sort, number, and the marks of the packages ;
- (c). The country of origin, and that of destination of the sugar ;
- (d). The manner of transport (railway or ship).

The certificate is valid for the period determined by the officer who issued it, but not for more than one year, the time during which the sugar is kept in bond not being reckoned.

Article 5.—The certificate of origin of sugar treated in a State which is not a party to the Convention must, in addition to the above, state that the sugar does not come from a factory in which is treated sugar which would be liable to a special tax on importation into this country.

Article 6.—The certificates become invalid if, during transport, the sugar has been transhipped in a country which gives bounties.

Our Minister of Finances may grant exemption from this Regulation in case of force majeure, or when the identity of the sugar coming from a State which is a party to the Convention, even though it pass through a State which gives bounties, is sufficiently established.

Article 7.—This Decree shall come into operation on the second day following the date on which it is placed in the “Staatsblad” and in the “Staatscourant.”

Our Minister of Finances is charged with the execution of this Decree, which shall be placed simultaneously in the “Staatsblad” and in the “Staatscourant,” and a copy whereof shall be sent to the Council of State.

ARRÊTÉ ROYAL DU 29 AOÛT, 1903, MODIFIANT ET COMPLÉTANT LES DISPOSITIONS CONTENUES RELATIVEMENT À LA RUORIQUE “SUCRES” DANS LE TARIF DES DOUANES ACTUELLEMENT EN VIGUEUR.

NOUS OSCAR, par la grace de Dieu Roi de Suède, de Norvège, des Goths et des Vendes, faisons savoir que le Riksdag nous ayant annoncé, par message du 11 avril dernier, qu'il a voté le projet que Nous lui avons soumis à la suite de la Convention adoptée par la Conférence internationale de Bruxelles du 5 Mars, 1902, relativement aux droits sur les sucres, Nous avons, après avoir entendu Notre Administration générale des douanes, ordonné que la ruorique “sucres” du tarif des douanes actuellement en vigueur recevra la rédaction suivante :

	Quantité servant de base pour le calcul des droits.	Droits.
	kilog.	öre.
579. Sucre :
Raffiné de toute espèce, tel que sucre en pains, sucre candi et sucre en taolettes ainsi que sucre cassé en morceaux ou pulvérisé	1	33
Non Raffiné :
580. (a) Pas plus foncé que le no 18 du type hollandais appliqué dans le commerce mondial et dont un specimen normal par viendra à chaque bureau des douanes par les soins de l'Administration générale	1	33
581. (o) Plus foncé que le numero susdit du même type, que la marchandise entre à l'état solide ou liquide	1	33.5
Le sucre fabriqué dans l'un des pays suivants appartenant aux catégories désignées ci-apres, paie en sus des droits ci-dessus indiqués, un droit supplémentaire qui est pour le sucre fabriqué.

	Quantité servant de base pour le calcul des droits.	Droits.
	kilog.	öre.
En Espagne : sucre raffiné ou non raffiné, 19.44 öre par kilogramme.
Au Danemark : sucre raffiné, 2.52 öre au kilogramme ; sucre non raffiné, 1.26 öre au kilogramme.
Au Japon : sucre candi raffiné, 1.88 öre au kilogramme.
En Roumanie : sucre raffiné 16.20 öre par kilogramme ; sucre non raffiné, 12.78 öre par kilogramme.
En Russie : sucre contenant au moins 99 p.c. de sucre, 5.86 öre au kilogramme ; sucre contenant au moins 88 p.c. de sucre, 5.16 öre au kilogramme ; sucre contenant moins de 88 p.c. de sucre, 4.46 öre au kilogramme.
En Argentine : sucre raffiné et non raffiné, 14.85 öre au kilogramme.
582. Sirop (jus) et melasse	1	10

NOTE.—Lorsqu'un colis contient des sucre de sucres de catégories différentes, payant des droits différents, il lui est fait application du droit le plus élevé pour tout le contenu : toutefois ceci ne s'applique pas au sucre de fécule ou au sirop (jus) de fécule, à l'entrée sous forme de sirop (jus) ordinaire, de couleur orune ou claire-orune.

En connexion avec ce qui précède, nous avons trouvé bon d'ordonner ce qui suit :—

1. Le sucre étranger, raffiné ou non raffiné, qui entre dans le Royaume pour y être consommé ou soumis à une main—d'œuvre devra être accompagné d'un certificat d'origine. À défaut d'un document régulier de cette nature, le sucre sera frappé du chiffre des droits les plus élevés applicables à son espèce ;

2. Le certificat d'origine émanera d'une autorité publique du pays où le sucre a été produit, d'où il est exporté ou où il a été soumis à une main—d'œuvre ;

3. Le certificat d'origine doit indiquer ;

(a). La nature au sucre dont il s'agit et sa quantité ;

(b). Le nature, le nombre et les marques des colis ;

(c). Le pays dont la marchandise provient ou où elle a été produite, ainsi que le pays de destination ;

(d). Le mode de transport (chemin de fer, navire).

Ce certificat sera valable pour la durée que l'autorité qui le délivre détermine. Ce temps ne pourra, toutefois, pas dépasser un an (non compris le temps pendant lequel le sucre reste dans un entrepôt) ;

4. Pour le sucre qui est préparé dans des pays autres que l'Allemagne, l'Autriche-Hongrie, la Belgique, la France, la Grande-Bretagne, l'Italie et les Pays-Bas, le certificat doit porter, en outre, que la marchandise a été travaillée dans une fabrique qui ne met pas en œuvre du sucre provenant d'un pays pour lequel le droit supplémentaire est à appliquer ;

5. Le certificat perd sa valeur si la marchandise vient à être déchargée, en cours de transport dans un État qui accorde des primes ; il pourra, toutefois, être fait exception à cette règle quand il s'agit soit de cas de force majeure, soit de sucre venant d'Allemagne, d'Autriche-Hongrie, de Belgique, de France, de Grande-Bretagne, d'Italie ou des Pays-Bas, et qui a transité par l'État prémentionné dans des conditions qui garantissent l'identité du sucre.

Le présent arrêté entrera en vigueur le 1^{er} Septembre, 1903.

Tous ceux que la chose concerne ont à s'y conformer. En foi de quoi nous avons signé les présentes et avons fait apposer notre Sceau Royal.

MARSTRAND, le 29 Aout, 1903.

IMPERIAL INSTITUTE OF THE UNITED KINGDOM, THE COLONIES AND INDIA,
IMPERIAL INSTITUTE ROAD,
LONDON, S.W., 23rd November, 1903.

SIR,

I have the honour to enclose a report on the possible commercial uses of the seeds of Hevea brasiliensis (the Para Rubber tree) which has been made at the instance of the Government of the Straits Settlements, and to ask that you will be good enough to transmit this to the Government at Singapore.

It will be seen that important commercial uses are indicated for these seeds which are at present a waste product.

I trust that the further action suggested in the Report may be taken to put the seeds on the English market. The Imperial Institute is taking steps to bring them under the notice of brokers and merchants, and will be glad to be of any further assistance to the Government of the Straits Settlements in the matter.

I am, etc.,

WYNDHAM R. DUNSTAN,

THE UNDER SECRETARY OF STATE,
COLONIAL OFFICE.

Director.

IMPERIAL INSTITUTE.

(SOUTH KENSINGTON, LONDON, S.W.)

REPORT ON THE CONSTITUENTS OF THE SEEDS OF HEVEA BRASILIENSIS AND THEIR COMMERCIAL USES BY PROFESSOR WYNDHAM R. DUNSTAN, M.A., F.R.S., DIRECTOR.

A consignment of the seed of the Para Rubber tree (Hevea brasiliensis) was forwarded to the Imperial Institute by the Assistant Superintendent of Forests and Gardens, Penang, at the request of the Superintendent of Government Plantations, Selangor, and is referred to in a letter dated 16th October, 1902.

A sample of decorticated Para Rubber seeds was subsequently sent to the Imperial Institute by Mr. L. Wray, Curator of the Perak Museum, Straits Settlements, together with a covering letter dated 15th February, 1903, and a third sample, consisting of meal prepared from these seeds by a local planter, was forwarded to the Imperial Institute by the Acting Superintendent of Forests and Gardens, Penang, together with a letter dated 17th April, 1903.

In the letters accompanying these samples it was stated that large areas in the Straits Settlements and the Malay Native States have now been planted with Hevea brasiliensis, and that in a few years large supplies of this seed will be available. It was therefore considered desirable that the seed should be examined in order to determine its commercial value and to ascertain especially to what purposes the oil and meal prepared from it could be applied. It is suggested in the letter dated 16th October, 1902, that the oil might be used in the preparation of varnish and that the residue might be used as a cattle food.

CHEMICAL EXAMINATION OF SEEDS.

These samples have been submitted to chemical examination in the Scientific and Technical Department of the Imperial Institute with the following results:—

The kernels constitute about 50 per cent by weight of the whole seeds. On extraction with light petroleum, they yielded 42·3 per cent of oil (Specimen A), whilst the whole seed (husk and kernel ground together) furnished 20 per cent of oil (Specimen B).

The oil obtained from the kernels alone is clear, of a light yellow colour, and has an odour somewhat resembling that of linseed oil. It belongs to the class of drying oils and yields a clear, transparent film, when allowed to dry by exposure to air. The husks contain a solid fat, which has a high saponification number and a low iodine value, but since the amount of this solid fat in the husks is very small it makes but little difference to the properties of the oil obtained from kernel and husks ground together. The following table gives the constants found for both specimens of the oil, those of linseed oil being added for comparison.

	Para Rubber seed oil A. (from kernels only).	Para Rubber seed oil B. (from whole seed).	Linseed Oil.
Specific gravity at 15° C	0·9,302	0·9,316	0·931 to 0·937
Free Fatty Acids.
Acid Value	10·7	19·0	0·8 to 8·9
(Calculated as Oleic Acid)	5·4 per cent.	9·6 per cent.	0·4–5·7 per cent.
Ester Value	195·4	190·3
Neutral Oil	94·6 per cent.	90·4 per cent.	95·5–99·6 do.
Saponification Value	206·1	209·3	187–195
Iodine Value	128·3	121·2	160–181

On saponification with Caustic Soda, Para Rubber seed oil yields a rather soft soap of a yellowish colour. It was found that the time required for the complete saponification of this oil is about half as much again as that required in the case of olive oil.

Examination of Para Rubber Seed Meal.

The sample consisted of about seven pounds of finely ground meal of a pale buff colour; it was free from husk and possessed the pleasant odour characteristic of oil meals. The results of its chemical examination in the Scientific and Technical Department of the Imperial Institute are as follows:—

Extraction and Examination of the Oil.

On extraction with light petroleum, the meal yielded 36·1 per cent of an oil which had a slightly acid odour, and, on standing, solidified as a soft crystalline, yellow mass. It furnished the following constants:—

Specific gravity at 15° C	0·911
(Acid Value)	130·5
Free Fatty Acids (Free Acids calculated as Oleic Acid)	65·6 per cent

Neutral Oil	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	34.4
Ester Value	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	65.2
Saponification Value	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	195.7
Iodine Value	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	136.2

When heated, the oil began to melt at 19° C. and was a clear liquid at 28° C. It had very marked drying properties and yielded a solid, transparent film. On saponification with Caustic Soda, the oil furnished a rather soft soap of a yellowish colour.

In the following table, the constants and properties of the oil extracted from this sample of meal are contrasted with those of the oil obtained from the freshly crushed decorticated seeds; the constants of linseed oil are again added for comparison.

	Oil extracted from Para Rubber Seed Meal.	Oil extracted from decorti- cated Para Rubber Seeds (freshly crushed).	Linseed Oil.
Yield of Oil per cent	36.1	42.3	33.37
Physical State	Solid below 19° C	Liquid	Liquid
Specific Gravity 15°/15°	0.911	0.9302	0.931-0.937
Free Fatty Acids per cent (calculated as Oleic Acid)	65.6	5.4	0.4-5.7
Iodine Value	136.2	128.3	160-181

It will be observed that the oil extracted from the meal was solid whereas that obtained from the freshly ground seed was a liquid. This difference is due to the large proportion (65.6 per cent) of free fatty acids present in the former, whilst the latter contained only 5.4 per cent of free acids. The cause of this difference in the two oils has been investigated and it has been found that after the seed has been crushed the oil gradually undergoes decomposition, owing to the action of a Hydrolytic enzyme contained in the seed, which will be made the subject of special study.

Analysis of the Meal.

The meal furnished the following results on analysis:—

	Per cent.
Moisture	9.1
Ash	3.53
Fibre	3.4
Oil	36.1
Proteids	18.2
Carbohydrates	29.67

The ash was found to contain 30.3 per cent of phosphoric acid (calculated as P. 2 O. 5) present in the form of phosphates, which is equivalent to 1.07 per cent of phosphoric acid in the meal.

The results of this examination of the Para Rubber seed meal indicate that the material thus prepared could neither be used as a fodder owing to the presence in it of large quantities of free fatty acids nor for the expression of Para Rubber seed oil since the latter has been largely decomposed. It is probable, however, that if the oil were expressed from the decorticated seeds, the residual cake could be utilised as a feeding material, as is shewn by the following comparison between the calculated composition of such a cake and the composition of some commercial feeding cakes:—

Calculated composition of.	Moisture, per cent.	Ash, per cent.	Proteids, per cent.	Fibre, per cent.	Fat, per cent.	Carbohy- drates, per cent.	Nutri- ment value.
Para Rubber Seed Cake	13.36	5.19	26.8	5.00	6.00	43.64	84.25
Linseed Cake (new process)	9.4	5.4	35.6	7.1	7.5	35.0	87.85
Do. (old do.)	10.8	5.0	28.6	6.7	10.6	38.3	91.28
Cotton Seed Cake (new process)	11.12	6.10	38.47	9.78	8.78	25.75	84.4

These figures shew that a cake prepared from the Para Rubber seed meal would compare favourably with other cakes as a cattle food, and that it contains a particularly low proportion of indigestible matter (fibre).

Commercial Valuation.

Specimens of both the seeds and oil have been submitted to leading brokers. They report that the oil could probably be used as a substitute for linseed oil and would be worth at present about £20 per ton, but that oil merchants would not take it up unless they first had an opportunity of testing it in bulk. The brokers consider that it would be more profitable to ship the seeds themselves to this country, as is done in the case of most other oil seeds. They value the decorticated seeds at £10 to £12 per ton, and add that they would be prepared to take two or three tons at the lower price in order to introduce them into the market.

The Para Rubber seed meal was not commercially valued, since in its present condition it could not be utilised in any way. It may be stated, however, that a Para Rubber seed cake of the composition already given should be almost as valuable as linseed cake, which at present sells from £5.15 to £6.15 per ton.

The results of this investigation lead to the conclusion that the seed of the Para Rubber tree is a valuable economic produce and is likely to become of considerable commercial importance. The oil could probably be employed for the purposes to which linseed oil is applied, whilst the residual cake would be of value as a cattle food. It must be pointed out, however, that the oil should be expressed from the kernels before these have been ground, and for this reason the seeds should if possible be decorticated and the kernels exported unground.

WYNDHAM R. DUNSTAN.

No. 7.] TAIPING, THURSDAY, FEB. 18, 1904. [VOL. XVII.

THE following Notification is, by Command of the Acting Resident, published for general information.

E. BURNSIDE,
Acting Secretary to Resident.

NEUTRALITY PROCLAMATION.

No. 196.—His Highness the Sultan of Perak, being fully determined to observe the duties of neutrality during the existing state of war between His Imperial Majesty the Tsar of All the Russias and His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Japan, and being moreover resolved to prevent as far as possible the use of the harbours, ports, coasts and waters of the State in aid of the warlike purposes of either belligerent, has commanded that the following Rules be published, which are to be treated and enforced as His Highness's orders and directions.

These Rules are to be put in force forthwith after the date of this Notification and are to be obeyed by all persons within the State and its dependencies.

RULES REFERRED TO.

1. During the continuance of the present state of war, all ships of war of either belligerent are prohibited from making use of any port or roadstead in the State of Perak, as a station or place or resort for any warlike purpose, or for the purpose of obtaining any facilities for warlike equipment; and no ship of war of either belligerent shall hereafter be permitted to sail out of or leave any port, roadstead or waters subject to the jurisdiction of the State, from which any vessel of the other belligerent (whether the same shall be a ship of war or a merchant ship) shall have previously departed, until after the expiration of at least twenty-four hours from the departure of such last mentioned vessel beyond the jurisdiction of the State.

2. If any ship of war of either belligerent shall, after the time when this Order shall be first notified and put in force in this State, enter any port, roadstead or waters of the State, such vessel shall be required to depart and to put to sea within twenty-four hours after her entrance into such port, roadstead or waters, except in case of stress of weather or of her requiring provisions or things necessary for the subsistence of her crew, or repairs; in any of which cases the authorities of the port, or of the nearest port (as the case may be), shall require her to put to sea as soon as possible after the expiration of such period of twenty-four hours, without permitting her to take in supplies beyond what may be necessary for her immediate use; and no such vessel which may have been allowed to remain within the waters of the State for the purpose of repair shall continue in any such port, roadstead or waters for a longer period than twenty-four hours after her necessary repairs shall have been completed.

Provided, nevertheless, that in all cases in which there shall be any vessel (whether ship of war or merchant ship) of the said belligerent parties in the same port, roadstead or waters within the State, there shall be an interval of not less than twenty-four hours between the departure therefrom of any such vessel (whether a ship of war or a merchant ship) of the one belligerent, and the subsequent departure therefrom of any ship of war of the other belligerent; and the time hereby limited for the departure of such ship of war respectively shall always, in case of necessity, be extended, so far as may be requisite for giving effect to this proviso, but no further or otherwise.

3. No ship of war of either belligerent shall, hereafter be permitted, while in any port, roadstead or waters of the State, to take in supplies, except provisions and such other things as may be requisite for the subsistence of her crew, and except so much coal only as may be sufficient to carry such vessel to the nearest port of her own country, or to some nearer named neutral destination, and no coal shall again be supplied to any such ship of war in the same or any other port, roadstead or waters of the State without special permission, until after the expiration of three months from the time when such coal may have been last supplied to her within the waters of the State as aforesaid.

4. Armed ships of either belligerent are interdicted from carrying prizes made by them into the ports, harbours, roadsteads or waters of the State.

5. No coal shall hereafter be supplied to any ship of war of either belligerent while in any port, roadstead or waters of the State except on the written authorization of the Harbour Master or officer in charge of the port, specifying the amount of coal which may be supplied.

6. Before issuing any authorization for the supply of coal to any ship of war of either belligerent the Harbour Master or officer in charge of the port shall obtain a written declaration, duly signed by the officer commanding such ship of war, stating the destination to which such ship is proceeding and the amount of coal already on board.

In order that the above Rules may be duly carried out and respected, it is hereby notified that no ship of war of either of the belligerent parties above-mentioned will be permitted to receive from any person or body corporate any commodity, including also stores and necessaries, without permission first obtained in writing from the Harbour Master or officer in charge of the port.

FEDERATED MALAY STATES RAILWAYS SERVANTS' BENEFIT FUND.

CONSTITUTION OF THE FUND AND RULES FOR ITS MANAGEMENT.

No. 45.—A Fund shall be constituted to be called "The Federated Malay States Railways Servants' Benefit Fund," hereinafter referred to as "The Fund."

2. The Fund shall consist of all amounts recovered by way of penalty from officials employed on the Government railways for breach of by-laws made under Section 72 of the Railway Enactment, 1903, and of such other amounts as may from time to time be placed by the Government or otherwise to credit of the Fund.

3. The Fund shall be deposited in the Government Savings Bank at Kuala Lumpur in the name of the General Manager of the Federated Malay States Government Railways.

4. The Fund may be utilised for the purpose of assisting the widow, wife or family of any Government Railway official killed or injured whilst performing his duty as such railway official, or of assisting any Government Railway official who may be temporarily incapacitated from the performance of his duty as such railway official; and such assistance shall, if and so far as the state of the Fund admit thereof, take the form of a monthly allowance.

5. There may also be made from the Fund any payments which in the opinion of the Committee having the control thereof are in the interests of Railway servants and may fairly be charged against the Fund, such as payments on account of prizes for the best kept stations and the like.

6. The control of the Fund with power to make payments therefrom at discretion shall be vested in a Committee of four persons, that is to say the General Manager, the Chief Accountant and Auditor, a Divisional Engineer to be selected by the General Manager and the Traffic Manager. The General Manager shall be ex-officio Chairman and besides being entitled to vote in the first instance shall also have a casting vote. At any meeting of the Committee three shall form a quorum.

7. No amount shall be withdrawn from the Fund except on an authority signed by the General Manager and countersigned by the Chief Accountant and Auditor.

8. The accounts of the Fund, wherein shall be shewn every amount placed to credit thereof and every amount withdrawn therefrom, shall be kept by the Chief Accountant and Auditor and shall be audited twice annually by the Financial Commissioner.

CIRCULAR DESPATCH FROM THE RIGHT HONOURABLE
THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE COLONIES AND ITS ENCLOSURES.

No. 63.—(Circular).

DOWNING STREET,

9th January, 1904.

SIR,

With reference to my predecessor's Circular despatch of the 12th September, 1901, I have the honour to transmit to you copies of a notification of the Bundesrath which has been issued prolonging after 31st December, 1903, the provisions contained in their last notification of 11th June, 1901, respecting German commercial relations with the British Empire, and of a memorandum on the subject prepared by the Commercial Attaché to His Majesty's Embassy at Berlin.

I have caused the information contained in these papers to be conveyed to you by telegram.

I have, etc.,

THE OFFICER ADMINISTERING

ALFRED LYTTTELTON,

THE GOVERNMENT OF

THE STRAITS SETTLEMENTS.

[Enclosure 1 in Circular dated 9th January, 1904.]

MEMORANDUM ON COMMERCIAL RELATIONS WITH THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

The "Reichsanzeiger" of this evening publishes the text of the law, recently passed by the Reichstag, which authorised the Bundesrath to grant most-favoured-nation treatment to the British Empire up to the 31st of December, 1905, a translation of which has already been forwarded.

Below that law the formal Notification of the Bundesrath is now published which, in the present instance, does not even mention by name any country as exempted from the benefits of such treatment, but it provides that the same conditions, as prevailed in the last similar Notification of June 11th, 1901, shall continue to be in force after December 31st, 1903, until further notice. A copy and translation of this Notification are enclosed herewith.

It will be remembered that the Notification of 1901 excluded Canada from the privilege of most-favoured-nation treatment. Under the wording of the new Notification, therefore, the Dominion of Canada still continues to be exempted as before.

No action is taken, at present, to exempt the imports from the Cape and New Zealand from the benefits of most-favoured-nation treatment in view of the preferences recently accorded by those countries to goods imported from Great Britain.

BERLIN,
December 30th, 1903.

WILLIAM S. H. GASTRELL.

[Enclosure 2 in Circular dated 9th January, 1904.]

NOTIFICATION CONCERNING THE COMMERCIAL RELATIONS WITH THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

By virtue of the foregoing law the Bundesrath has decided to prolong the duration of the provisions, contained in the Notification of June 11th, 1901 ("Reichsgesetzblatt," page 205), beyond the 31st of December, 1903, until further notice.

BERLIN,
December 30th, 1903.

For the Imperial Chancellor, (Signed) GRAF VON POSADOWSKY.

MEAN TIME.

No. 64.—With reference to the Government Notification published in the Gazette of the 26th October, 1900, it is hereby notified that from the 1st June, 1905, the Federated Malay States and the Colony of the Straits Settlements will adopt the mean time of the 105th meridian, 1 p.m. mean time, corresponding to 6 hours 0 minutes 0 seconds Greenwich Mean Time.

On and after that date the time referred to in all Time-tables of Government railways or steamships, and time guns fired at any place within the Federated Malay States and the Colony will denote the mean time of the 105th meridian, which is 7 hours fast of Greenwich Mean Time.

OFFICE OF THE PROTECTOR OF LABOUR,

SINGAPORE, 3rd March, 1904.

V. V. KRISHNIEP, for Protector of Labour, Federated Malay States.

The Perak Government Gazette
EXTRAORDINARY.
PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY.

No. 11.] TAIPING, THURSDAY, MAR. 17, 1904. [VOL. XVII.

THE following Notification is, by Command of the Acting Resident, published for general information.

E. BURNSIDE,
Acting Secretary to Resident.

No. 377.—Referring to the Neutrality declaration of His Highness the Sultan of Perak, published under Notification No. 196 on the 18th February, 1904, and the Rules thereunder, the following Proclamation by His Majesty The King-Emperor, together with a letter from the Foreign Office embodying the Rules for the observance of the duties of Neutrality during the existing state of war between Russia and Japan, are published for general information.

11th February, 1904.

By the KING.

A PROCLAMATION.

EDWARD, R. & I.

WHEREAS WE are happily at peace with all Sovereigns, Powers, and States :

AND WHEREAS a state of war unhappily exists between His Majesty The Emperor of all the Russias and His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, and between their respective subjects, and others inhabiting within their countries, territories, or dominions :

AND WHEREAS WE are on terms of friendship and amicable intercourse with each of these Powers, and with their several subjects, and others inhabiting within their countries, territories, or dominions :

AND WHEREAS great numbers of Our loyal subjects reside and carry on commerce, and possess property and establishments, and enjoy various rights and privileges, within the dominions of each of the aforesaid Powers, protected by the faith of treaties between Us and each of the aforesaid Powers :

AND WHEREAS WE, being desirous of preserving to Our subjects the blessings of peace, which they now happily enjoy, are firmly purposed and determined to maintain a strict and impartial neutrality in the said state of war unhappily existing between the aforesaid Powers :

WE, THEREFORE, have thought fit, by and with the advice of Our Privy Council, to issue this Our Royal Proclamation :

AND WE do hereby strictly charge and command all Our loving subjects to govern themselves accordingly, and to observe a strict neutrality in and during the aforesaid war, and to abstain from violating or contravening either the laws and statutes of the realm in this behalf, or the law of nations in relation thereto, as they will answer to the contrary at their peril :

AND WHEREAS in and by a certain Statute made and passed in a Session of Parliament holden in the 33rd and 34th year of the reign of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, intituled "An Act to Regulate the conduct of Her Majesty's Subjects during the existence of Hostilities between Foreign States with which Her Majesty is at Peace," it is, among other things, declared and enacted as follows:—

"This Act shall extend to all the dominions of Her Majesty, including the adjacent territorial waters:—" "Illegal Enlistment."

"If any person, without the licence of Her Majesty, being a British subject, within or without Her Majesty's dominions, accepts or agrees to accept any commission or engagement in the Military or Naval Service of any foreign State at war with any foreign State at peace with Her Majesty, and in this Act referred to as a friendly State, or, whether a British subject or not, within Her Majesty's dominions, induces any other person to accept or agree to accept any commission or engagement in the Military or Naval Service of any such foreign State as aforesaid:—

"He shall be guilty of an offence against this Act, and shall be punishable by fine and imprisonment, or either of such punishments, at the discretion of the Court before which the offender is convicted; and imprisonment, if awarded, may be either with or without hard labour.

"If any person without the licence of Her Majesty, being a British subject, quits or goes on board any ship with a view of quitting Her Majesty's dominions, with intent to accept any commission or engagement in the Military or Naval Service of any foreign State at war with a friendly State, or, whether a British subject or not, within Her Majesty's dominions, induces any other person to quit or to go on board any ship with a view of quitting Her Majesty's dominions with the like intent:—

"He shall be guilty of an offence against this Act, and shall be punishable by fine and imprisonment, or either of such punishments, at the discretion of the Court before which the offender is convicted; and imprisonment, if awarded, may be either with or without hard labour.

"If any person induces any other person to quit Her Majesty's dominions or to embark on any ship within Her Majesty's dominions under a misrepresentation or false representation of the service in which such person is to be engaged, with the intent or in order that such person may accept, or agree to accept, any commission or engagement in the Military or Naval Service of any foreign State at war with a friendly State:—

"He shall be guilty of an offence against this Act, and shall be punishable by fine and imprisonment, or either of such punishments, at the discretion of the Court before which the offender is convicted; and imprisonment, if awarded, may be with or without hard labour.

"If the Master or Owner of any ship, without the licence of Her Majesty, knowingly either takes on board, or engages to take on board, or has on board such ship within Her Majesty's dominions any of the following persons, in this Act referred to as illegally enlisted persons, that is to say:—

"(1). Any person who, being a British subject within or without the dominions of Her Majesty, has, without the licence of Her Majesty, accepted, or agreed to accept, any commission or engagement in the Military or Naval Service of any foreign State at war with any friendly State:

"(2). Any person, being a British subject, who without the licence of Her Majesty is about to quit Her Majesty's dominions with intent to accept any commission or engagement in the Military or Naval Service of any foreign State at war with a friendly State:

"(3). Any person who has been induced to embark under a misrepresentation or false representation of the service in which such person is to be engaged, with the intent or in order that such person may accept or agree to accept any commission or engagement in the Military or Naval Service of any foreign State at war with a friendly State."

"Such Master or Owner shall be guilty of an offence against this Act, and the following consequences shall ensue; that is to say:—

"(1). The offender shall be punishable by fine and imprisonment, or either of such punishments, at the discretion of the Court before which the offender is convicted; and imprisonment, if awarded, may be either with or without hard labour: and

"(2). Such ship shall be detained until the trial and conviction or acquittal of the Master or Owner, and until all penalties inflicted on the Master or Owner have been paid, or the Master or Owner has given security for the payment of such penalties to the satisfaction of two Justices of the Peace, or other Magistrate or Magistrates having the authority of two Justices of the Peace: and

"(3). All illegally enlisted persons shall immediately on the discovery of the offence be taken on shore, and shall not be allowed to return to the ship."

Illegal Ship-building and Illegal Expeditions.

"If any person within Her Majesty's dominions, without the licence of Her Majesty, does any of the following acts; that is to say:—

"(1). Builds or agrees to build, or causes to be built any ship with intent or knowledge, or having reasonable cause to believe that the same shall or will be employed in the Military or Naval Service of any foreign State at war with any friendly State: or

"(2). Issues or delivers any commission for any ship with intent or knowledge, or having reasonable cause to believe that the same shall or will be employed in the Military or Naval Service of any foreign State at war with any friendly State: or

"(3). Equips any ship with intent or knowledge, or having reasonable cause to believe that the same shall or will be employed in the Military or Naval Service of any foreign State at war with any friendly State: or

"(4). Despatches, or causes or allows to be despatched, any ship with intent or knowledge, or having reasonable cause to believe that the same shall or will be employed in the Military or Naval Service of any foreign State at war with any friendly State:

"Such person shall be deemed to have committed an offence against this Act, and the following consequences shall ensue:

"(1). The offender shall be punishable by fine and imprisonment, or either of such punishments, at the discretion of the Court before which the offender is convicted, and imprisonment, if awarded, may be either with or without hard labour.

"(2). The ship in respect of which any such offence is committed, and her equipment, shall be forfeited to Her Majesty:—

"Provided that a person building, causing to be built, or equipping a ship in any of the cases aforesaid, in pursuance of a contract made before the commencement of such war as aforesaid, shall not be liable to any of the penalties imposed by this section in respect of such building or equipping if he satisfies the conditions following (that is to say):—

"(1). If forthwith upon a proclamation of neutrality being issued by Her Majesty he gives notice to the Secretary of State that he is so building, causing to be built, or equipping such ship, and furnishes such particulars of the contract and of any matters relating to, or done, or to be done under the contract as may be required by the Secretary of State:

"(2). If he gives such security, and takes and permits to be taken such other measures, if any, as the Secretary of State may prescribe for ensuring that such ship shall not be despatched, delivered, or removed without the licence of Her Majesty until the termination of such war as aforesaid."

"Where any ship is built by order of or on behalf of any foreign State when at war with a friendly State, or is delivered to or to the order of such foreign State, or any person who to the knowledge of the person building is an agent of such foreign State, or is paid for by such foreign State or such agent, and is employed in the Military or Naval Service of such foreign State, such ship shall, until the contrary is proved, be deemed to have been built with a view to being so employed, and the burden shall lie on the builder of such ship of proving that he did not know that the ship was intended to be so employed in the Military or Naval Service of such foreign State.

"If any person within the dominions of Her Majesty, and without the licence of Her Majesty:—

"By adding to the number of the guns, or by changing those on board for other guns, or by the addition of any equipment for war, increases or augments, or procures to be increased or augmented, or is knowingly concerned in increasing or augmenting the warlike force of any ship which at the time of her being within the dominions of Her Majesty was a ship in the Military or Naval Service of any foreign State at war with any friendly State:—

"Such person shall be guilty of an offence against this Act, and shall be punishable by fine and imprisonment, or either of such punishments, at the discretion of the Court before which the offender is convicted; and imprisonment, if awarded, may be either with or without hard labour.

"If any person within the limits of Her Majesty's dominions, and without the licence of Her Majesty:—

"Prepares or fits out any Naval or Military expedition to proceed against the dominions of any friendly State, the following consequences shall ensue:—

"(1). Every person engaged in such preparation or fitting out, or assisting therein, or, employed in any capacity in such expedition shall be guilty of an offence against this Act, and shall be punishable by fine and imprisonment, or either of such punishments, at the discretion of the Court before which the offender is convicted; and imprisonment, if awarded, may be either with or without hard labour.

"(2). All ships, and their equipments, and all arms and munitions of war, used in or forming part of such expedition, shall be forfeited to Her Majesty.

"Any person who aids, abets, counsels, or procures the commission of any offence against this Act shall be liable to be tried and punished as a principal offender."

AND WHEREAS by the said Act it is further provided that ships built, commissioned, equipped, or despatched in contravention of the said Act, may be condemned and forfeited by judgment of the Court of Admiralty; and that if the Secretary of State or Chief Executive Authority is satisfied that there is a reasonable and probable cause for believing that a ship within Our dominions has been or is being built, commissioned, or equipped, contrary to the said Act, and is about to be taken beyond the limits of such dominions or that a ship is about to be despatched contrary to the Act, such Secretary of State or Chief Executive Authority shall have power to issue a warrant authorising the seizure and search of such ship and her detention until she has been either condemned or released by process of law. AND WHEREAS certain powers of seizure and detention are conferred by the said Act on certain Local Authorities;

Now, in order that none of our subjects may unwarily render themselves liable to the penalties imposed by the said Statute, we do hereby strictly command that no person or persons whatsoever do commit any act, matter, or thing whatsoever contrary to the provisions of the said Statute, upon pain of the several penalties by the said Statute imposed and of our high displeasure.

AND WE do hereby further warn and admonish all our loving subjects, and all persons whatsoever entitled to our protection, to observe towards each of the aforesaid Powers, their subjects and territories, and towards all belligerents whatsoever with whom We are at peace the duties of neutrality; and to respect in all and each of them the exercise of belligerent rights.

AND WE HEREBY further warn all Our loving subjects, and all persons whatsoever entitled to Our protection, that if any of them shall presume, in contempt of this Our royal proclamation, and of Our high displeasure, to do any acts in derogation of their duty as subjects of a neutral Power in a war between other Powers, or in violation or contravention of the law of nations in that behalf, as more especially by breaking, or endeavouring to break, any blockade lawfully and actually established by or on behalf of either of the said Powers, or by carrying officers, soldiers, despatches, arms, ammunition, military stores or materials, or any article or articles considered and deemed to be contraband of war according to the law or modern usages of nations, for the use or service of either of the said Powers, that all persons so offending, together with their ships and goods, will rightfully incur and be justly liable to hostile capture, and to the penalties denounced by the law of nations in that behalf.

AND WE do hereby give notice that all Our subjects and persons entitled to Our protection who may misconduct themselves in the premises will do so at their peril, and of their own wrong; and that they will in no wise obtain any protection from Us against such capture or such penalties as aforesaid, but will, on the contrary, incur Our high displeasure by such misconduct.

GIVEN AT OUR COURT at Buckingham Palace, this 11th day of February, in the year of our Lord 1904, and in the fourth year of Our Reign.

GOD save the KING.

The Most Honourable the Marquess of Lansdowne to the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty* :—

FOREIGN OFFICE,

February 10th, 1904.

MY LORDS,

His Majesty being fully determined to observe the duties of neutrality during the existing state of war between Russia and Japan; being, moreover, resolved to prevent, as far as possible, the use of His Majesty's harbours, ports, and coasts, and the waters within His Majesty's territorial jurisdiction in aid of the warlike purposes of either belligerent, has commanded me to communicate to your Lordships, for your guidance, the following Rules, which are to be treated and enforced as His Majesty's orders and directions :—

Rule 1.—During the continuance of the present state of war, all ships of war of either belligerent are prohibited from making use of any port or roadstead in the United Kingdom, the Isle of Man, or the Channel Islands, or in any of His Majesty's Colonies or foreign Possessions or Dependencies, or of any waters subject to the territorial jurisdiction of the British Crown, as a station or place of resort for any warlike purpose, or for the purpose of obtaining any facilities for warlike equipment; and no ship of war of either belligerent shall hereafter be permitted to leave any such port, roadstead, or waters from which any vessel of the other belligerent (whether the same shall be a ship of war or a merchant ship) shall have previously departed until after the expiration of at least 24 hours from the departure of such last-mentioned vessel beyond the territorial jurisdiction of His Majesty.

Rule 2.—If there is now in any such port, roadstead, or waters subject to the territorial jurisdiction of the British Crown any ship of war of either belligerent, such ship of war shall leave such port, roadstead, or waters within such time not less than 24 hours as shall be reasonable, having regard to all the circumstances and the condition of such ship as to repairs, provisions, or things necessary for the subsistence of her crew; and if after the date hereof any ship of war of either belligerent shall enter any such port, roadstead, or waters, subject to the territorial jurisdiction of the British Crown, such ship shall depart and put to sea within 24 hours after her entrance into any such port, roadstead, or waters, except in case of stress of weather, or of her requiring provisions or things necessary for the subsistence of her crew, or repairs; in either of which cases the authorities of the port, or of the nearest port (as the case may be), shall require her to put to sea as soon as possible after the expiration of such period of 24 hours, without permitting her to take in supplies beyond what may be necessary for her immediate use; and no such vessel which may have been allowed to remain within British waters for the purpose of repair shall continue in any such port, roadstead, or waters, for a longer period than 24 hours after her necessary repairs shall have been completed. Provided, nevertheless, that in all cases in which there shall be any vessels (whether ships of war or merchant ships) of both the said belligerent parties in the same port, roadstead, or waters within the territorial jurisdiction of His Majesty, there shall be an interval of not less than 24 hours between the departure therefrom of any such vessel (whether a ship of war or merchant ship) of the one belligerent, and the subsequent departure therefrom of any ship of war of the other belligerent; and the time hereby limited for the departure of such ships of war respectively shall always, in case of necessity, be extended so far as may be requisite for giving effect to this proviso, but no further or otherwise.

Rule 3.—No ship of war of either belligerent shall hereafter be permitted, while in any such port, roadstead, or waters subject to the territorial jurisdiction of His Majesty, to take in any supplies, except provisions and such other things as may be requisite for the subsistence of her crew, and except so much coal only as may be sufficient to carry such vessel to the nearest port of her own country or to some nearer named neutral destination, and no coal shall again be supplied to any such ship of war in the same or any other port, roadstead, or waters subject to the territorial jurisdiction of His Majesty, without special permission, until after the expiration of three months from the time when such coal may have been last supplied to her within British waters as aforesaid.

Rule 4.—Armed ships of either belligerent are interdicted from carrying prizes made by them into the ports, harbours, roadsteads, or waters of the United Kingdom, the Isle of Man, the Channel Islands, or any of His Majesty's Colonies or Possessions abroad.

The Governor or other chief authority of each of His Majesty's Territories or Possessions beyond the seas shall forthwith notify and publish the above Rules.

I have, etc.,

LANSDOWNE.

ORDER UNDER SECTION 77 OF THE RULES UNDER THE QUARANTINE AND PREVENTION OF DISEASE ENACTMENT, 18 OF 1903.

No. 378.—Whereas it appears to the Acting Resident that a contagious and infectious disease, viz., Rinderpest, exists amongst cattle at Parit Buntar, in the District of Krian :

It is hereby ordered that, with the following exceptions, no movement of cattle into, out of or within the area contained on the north by Boundary Road; east, the Krian river; south, Canal Road to Simpang Lima police station; thence in a straight line to the police station at Parit Megat Aris until its junction with the Coast Road, and west the Coast Road, will be permitted until further orders.

Exception (a).—Cattle may pass through that area by train, but may not be taken from, or sent to, any station within that area.

Exception (b).—Cattle that have not been actually exposed to infection may be permitted to work in carts within that area under the permit system. The permit, which must bear the number of the cart and a description of the cattle, must be carried on the person of the driver.

Exception (c).—Cattle may be brought from a non-infected area by train, or otherwise, for the purpose of slaughter for human food, on the written authority of the Health Officer.

COUNCIL OF STATE, KUALA KANGSAR.

WEDNESDAY, 16TH MARCH, 1904.

PRESENT :

HIS HIGHNESS IDRIS MERSID-EL-AÄZAM SHAH, G.C.M.G., Sultan of Perak, President.

The Acting British Resident, H. C. BELFIELD, Esq.

The Raja Muda, RAJA MUSA.

The Raja di Hilir, RAJA ABDUL JALIL.

The Orang Kaya Temenggong, WAN HASSAN.

The Orang Kaya Kaya Sri Adika Raja, WAN MUHAMMAD SALEH, I.S.O.

The Orang Kaya Kaya Laksamana, HUSSEIN.

The Datoh Muda, ABDUL WAHAB.

The Orang Kaya Kaya Stia Bijaya di Raja, JEREGAN.

The Datoh Panglima Besar, HAJI ABDUL RAOF.

Towkay HEAH SWEE LEE.

Towkay CHUNG THYE PHIN.

ABSENT :

The Acting Secretary to Resident, E. BURNSIDE, Esq.

The Orang Kaya, MENTRI.

Towkay LEONG FI.

The Council met at 11 a.m.

1. The Sultan informs the Council that, with the approval of His Excellency the High Commissioner, he has been pleased to appoint the Orang Kaya Kaya Stia Bijaya di Raja and Panglima Besar, Haji Abdul Raof, as Members of the Council of State, in the places of Datoh Panglima Kinta, Muhammad Usuf, and Datoh Sri Maharaja Lela, Abubakar, both deceased.

His Highness speaks of the good services performed by the late Datoh Sri Maharaja Lela Abubakar at the time of the Perak war and afterwards, and says that his son, Muhammad Osman, a well educated lad in the Government service, whose ancestors have always been devoted to the Sultan of Perak, will be installed as Sri Maharaja Lela at the Astana Nagara to-morrow.

Having referred to the late Datoh Panglima Kinta Muhammad Usuf, a popular and strong minded Chief, who accompanied the Sultan to England in 1902, His Highness mentions that his successor in the Council, Datoh Stia Bijaya di Raja, worked for the late Sultan first as a Clerk; he was then made a Bentara with the title of Raja di Bongsu, and afterwards was appointed one of the Orang Besar-Di-Lapan.

His Highness refers to Datoh Panglima Besar, Haji Abdul Raof, as a Chief who has always rendered much assistance to the Government. He accompanied the late Sir William Maxwell to Acheen in connection with the "Nisero" case, and is a son of a former Panglima Besar, who was also a Member of the State Council.

2. A draft Enactment, entitled "The Sanitary Boards Enactment, 1904," being an Enactment to repeal and re-enact with amendments "The Sanitary Boards Enactment, 1902," is considered and passed, becoming No. 3 of 1904.

3. A draft Enactment, entitled "The Probate and Administration Enactment, 1904," being an Enactment to repeal and re-enact with amendments "The Probate and Administration Enactment, 1900," is considered and passed, becoming No. 4 of 1904.

4. A draft Enactment, entitled "The Mineral Ores Enactment, 1904," being an Enactment to amend the law relating to the purchase and smelting of Mineral Ores, is considered and passed, becoming No. 5 of 1904.

5. A draft Enactment, entitled "The Explosives Enactment, 1904," being an Enactment to regulate the manufacture, use, sale, storage, transport, importation and exportation of explosive substances, is considered and passed, becoming No. 6 of 1904.

6. A draft Enactment, entitled "The Criminal Procedure Code Amendment Enactment, 1904," being an Enactment to amend "The Criminal Procedure Code, 1902," is considered and passed, becoming No. 7 of 1904.

7. A draft Enactment, entitled "The Police Force (Asiatics) Pensions Enactment, 1904," being an Enactment to repeal and re-enact with amendments "The Police Force (Asiatics) Pensions Enactment, 1898," is considered and passed, becoming No. 8 of 1904.

8. A draft Enactment, entitled "The Cruelty to Animals Prevention Enactment, 1904," being an Enactment to repeal and re-enact with amendments "The Cruelty to Animals Prevention Enactment, 1903," is considered and passed, becoming No. 9 of 1904. At the suggestion of His Highness the Sultan the Council expresses its desire that the publication of this Enactment in the Gazette be postponed for six months from this date in order that due notice may be given by the Penghulus to the inhabitants of each mukim.

9. A draft Enactment, entitled "The Muhammadan Laws Enactment," being an Enactment to provide for the punishment of certain offences by Muhammadans is considered. The Resident explains to the Council that he has been asked by the Resident-General for his views regarding certain amendments desired by His Highness the Yam Tuan and the Malay Members of the Negri Sembilan State Council. The first amendment proposed is to insert the words "or Katli" after the words "Court of a Penghulu" in Section 3. The second amendment proposed is to insert the words "under seventeen years of age" after the word "girl" in Section 4. The third amendment proposed is to substitute the word "woman" for the word "girl" in Section 5.

The Council decides that the amendments are not necessary.

10. Mr. Edward Richmond Stokoe's application for a grant of exclusive privileges in respect of an invention for "An improved method of moulding cement concrete castings" is approved.

11. An application by Lenggong, Penghulu of the Ulu Bernam, for an Assistant Penghulu there is submitted. The District Officer, Batang Padang, recommends the appointment as the Penghulu is unable to read or write and this is explained by the Resident. The Raja Muda, who speaks highly of the Penghulu, informs the Council that the population has increased at Ulu Bernam and consequently the work of the Penghulu there is heavier than formerly. The Council decides to recommend the appointment of an Assistant Penghulu on a salary of $180 per annum.

12. The following applications for mining rights over agricultural lands are considered and approved on the terms stated in the subjoined schedule:—

Makim.	Name.	Title.	Approximate Area.			Premium per acre.
			A.	R.	P.
Ulu Kinta ...	Fu Chu Chun ...	A. L. No. 2,541 ...	10	0	25	$ 25

S. Raia, do. ...	Ujan bin Paras ...	A. L. No. 2,179 ...	4	2	37	25

13. An application by the owners of the Kamuning estate in the Kuala Kangsar District for a modification of the terms on which mining rights have been granted to them, viz.: minimum size of each block converted to be 50 acres, is considered. The Resident explains that the matter has been referred to the Senior Warden of Mines, who has pointed out that within the estate there are no large flat tracts of stanniferous land which could be selected of not less than 50 acres in extent, as most of the stanniferous lands consists of small gullies where the available land might not amount to more than 5 to 15 acres. The Council decides to now fix the minimum area of each block at 5 acres instead of 50 acres agreed upon in Minute 6 (a) of Meeting held on 11th April, 1903.

14. The Resident submits to the Council the notes of evidence taken in a case of murder in Kinta, tried by the Judicial Commissioner with Assessors, in which two Siamese named Quet alias Pet and Mat Akib were on the 4th March, 1904, convicted and sentenced to death for the murder of one Khair Din, a Police Constable. The Council confirms the sentence passed by the Judicial Commissioner and orders it to be carried out on the 11th April, 1904.

15. On the question of the allowance of the Datoh Sri Maharaja Lela, Osman, being considered, the Council is reminded by His Highness the Sultan that the initial allowance to his father the late Datoh Sri Maharaja Lela Abubakar was $1,200 per annum. In consequence of the increased cost of living at the present time it is decided to recommend that the allowance to the late Datoh's son commence from 17th March, 1904, at $1,500 per annum, and that the allowance already authorised ($1,815 per annum) remain in the Estimates.

The Council adjourns sine die.

for Clerk of Council.

No. 450.—The following Enactments were passed at a Meeting of the Council of State held on the 16th March, 1904.

FEDERATED MALAY STATES.

STATE OF PERAK.

ENACTMENT No. 3 OF 1904.

An Enactment to repeal and re-enact with amendments "The Sanitary Boards Enactment, 1902," being an Enactment to define the Powers and Duties of Sanitary Boards.

[16th March, 1904].

H. CONWAY BELFIELD,

Acting British Resident.

IT IS HEREBY enacted by His Highness the Sultan in Council as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (i). This Enactment may be cited as "The Sanitary Boards Enactment, 1904," and shall come into force upon the publication thereof in the Gazette.

Repeal.

(ii). Upon the coming into force of this Enactment the Enactment mentioned in the First Schedule hereto shall be repealed to the extent specified in the third column of that schedule.

Provisions of other Enactments.

(iii). All by-laws, declarations and appointments made under the provisions of the Enactment hereby repealed shall, so far as they are consistent with the provisions of this Enactment and of any by-laws made hereunder, be deemed to have been made under this Enactment.

(iv). Nothing in this Enactment contained shall affect the provisions of any Enactment in force for the time being for preventing the introduction and spread of infectious and contagious diseases, or the liability of any person to any punishment or penalty to which he may be liable under any Enactment other than this Enactment, but so that no person shall be twice punished for the same offence.

SANITARY BOARDS.

2. In this Enactment and in any by-laws made thereunder, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context:— Interpretation.

“Owner” means the person for the time being receiving the rent of the land or premises in connection with which the word is used, whether on his own account or as agent or trustee for any other person, or who would so receive the same if such land or premises were let to a tenant; and in any case in which such person cannot be found or makes default shall include also the occupier, if any, of such land or premises.

“Sanitary Board area” means an area subject to the control of a Sanitary Board in respect of the matters provided for by this Enactment.

“Street” includes every road, square, footway, passage or waterway (whether a thoroughfare or not, over which the public has a right of way and also the way over any public bridge.

“Town limits” means the limits of a town as defined from time to time under the provisions of any law regulating the establishment of towns.

3. (i). The Resident may from time to time, with the approval of the Resident-General, by notification in the Gazette, declare any area within the State to be a Sanitary Board area for the purposes of this Enactment, and may in like manner appoint Sanitary Boards, consisting of such public servants and other persons as he may nominate, to exercise control within the area mentioned in such appointment over all matters as to which jurisdiction is given to them by this Enactment, and may appoint particular members of any Sanitary Board to be the Chairman and Health Officer of such Board, respectively. Every such appointment shall cease and determine at the expiration of the year in respect of which the same is made. Appointment of Sanitary Boards.

(ii). The Resident may also, with the approval of the Resident-General, appoint Secretaries, Inspectors and such other officers as may be necessary for the purposes of this Enactment; the appointment of every Secretary to a Sanitary Board and of all Inspectors shall be notified in the Gazette.

(iii). The boundaries of any Sanitary Board area may be declared to be coincident with any town limits or may be separately defined.

(iv). Any such declaration or appointment may from time to time in like manner be added to, varied or revoked.

4. The duties of a Sanitary Board shall be to take all lawful measures for the following purposes within the area subject to its control:— Duties of Sanitary Boards.

(a). The regulation and control of buildings and building operations,

(b). The laying out and maintenance of reserves for recreation and other purposes, the enclosure and care of unoccupied premises, the planting and preservation of trees and shrubs, the laying out, cleaning, watering, lighting and control of streets, canals and bridges,

No. 3 of 1904.

and, in places within the jurisdiction of a Sanitary Board to which a Sanitary Board Engineer has been appointed, the making, repairing and draining of the same ;

(c). The control and supervision of—

(i). Drains, latrines, cesspools and dust-bins ;

(ii). Wells and water-tanks ;

(iii). Stables and cattle-sheds and places for keeping sheep, goats, swine and poultry, including, if the Sanitary Board shall think necessary, power to make it compulsory on all owners of hackney carriages to use only public stables for their horses and carriages upon such terms and subject to such charges as may from time to time be prescribed ;

(iv). The sale of fresh provisions and the licensing of persons to hawk food-stuffs ;

(d). The establishment and regulation of markets and slaughter-houses and the fixing of the fees to be charged for the use of the same, including, if the Sanitary Board shall think necessary, the grant to particular persons of the exclusive right to use any slaughter-houses or of the exclusive right to provide or slaughter any particular description of beast for human food, and the prohibition of the sale within a certain radius from a market of articles of any kind sold in such market ;

(e). The regulation, by registration, licensing or otherwise, of bakeries, dairies, laundries and street stalls ; the seizure and disposal of unwholesome fish, flesh or other provisions ;

(f). The regulation, inspection and licensing of common lodging-houses, eating-houses, jinrikisha stables, theatres, native inns and other places of public resort, with the view of enforcing the observance of ordinary sanitary regulations in respect of lighting, ventilation, whitewashing, drainage and overcrowding therein ;

(g). The establishment and regulation of public bathing places, including power to charge fees for the use of or to lease the same ;

(h). The removal and disposal of refuse and night-soil, including, if the Sanitary Board shall think necessary, the publication of rules making it compulsory on all persons who may require night-soil buckets to buy such night-soil buckets from the Sanitary Board at such price as the Sanitary Board may fix ;

(i). The prevention and abatement of nuisances and the regulation of dangerous, unhealthy or offensive trades or occupations ;

(j). The prevention and removal of obstructions in the streets and in verandahs or footways ;

(k). The repair or removal of ruinous or dangerous houses, huts or out-buildings and removal of occupants therefrom ;

(l). All other matters, whether similar or not to those above mentioned, connected with the conservancy and the improvement of the area subject to its control.

SANITARY BOARDS.

5. For the various purposes described in Section 4 and for the conduct of its own business a Sanitary Board shall have power to pass by-laws not inconsistent with the provisions of this Enactment or of any other Enactment for the time being in force in the State and to declare whether such by-laws shall apply to the whole area subject to its control or to some specified part or parts thereof, and to prescribe penalties for breach thereof not exceeding the penalties prescribed by Section 7, and every Sanitary Board is hereby required to pass such by-laws, either in addition to or in substitution for by-laws already existing, as may from time to time be prescribed by the Resident, with the approval of the Resident-General, and such by-laws may provide for the payment of reasonable fees for such registration, licences or other matters as may be required for the purposes of this Enactment.

Power to pass
by-laws.

6. No by-law passed under this Enactment and no resolution rescinding or varying any such by-law shall have effect unless and until it has been confirmed by the Resident, with the approval of the Resident-General, and published in the Gazette.

Confirmation and publication of by-laws.

7. If any person is guilty of the contravention of any such by-law for the breach of which no penalty is otherwise expressly provided or of infringing any exclusive right granted under Section 4 (d), he shall be liable, upon conviction, to fine not exceeding $50 or, in the case of a continuing offence, to fine not exceeding $10 for every day during which such offence is continued.

Penalty for breach of
by-laws.

8. No resolution passed by any Sanitary Board shall be acted on until the minutes of the meeting at which such resolution was passed have been submitted to, and such resolution has been approved in writing by, the Resident.

Resolutions to be approved by Resident.

9. All members and servants of a Sanitary Board shall be deemed to be public servants within the meaning of the Penal Code.

Public servants.

10. (i). When any by-law passed under this Enactment or any notice issued to enforce the provisions of this Enactment or of any such by-law requires any act to be done or refrained from or any work to be executed by the owner or occupier of any premises and default is made in complying with the provisions of such by-law or notice, the Sanitary Board may cause such act to be done or such work to be executed and may pull down any work executed in contravention of such by-law or notice, and for such purpose shall have power, by the members or their officers, servants, workmen or contractors, to enter at all reasonable hours in the daytime into and upon any building or land.

Sanitary Board where default made.

(ii). All expenses incurred by the Sanitary Board in carrying out the provisions of this section may be recovered in the manner provided by this Enactment for the recovery of unpaid rates, or the Sanitary Board may, at its option, recover the same from the owner or occupier by action in a Court of law.

11. When any building other than a Government building is about to be erected, re-erected, added to or altered within any Sanitary Board area the Board may by notice in writing give such directions as it thinks fit in respect of the construction of an arcade for the use of foot-passengers along such parts of the building as abut on any street; and any person carrying on any building operations otherwise than in accordance with such directions shall be liable on conviction to fine not exceeding $50, and any work executed in contravention of such directions may be pulled down.

Obstruction of streets and arcades.

12. (i). Whoever within any Sanitary Board area builds, erects, sets up or maintains any wall, fence, rail, post or any accumulation of any substance or other obstruction in any street or in any open arcade or verandah abutting on any street or covers over or obstructs any open drain, sewer or aqueduct along the side of any street, and whoever deposits or causes to be deposited any box, bale or package of merchandise or other article in or upon any street or in or upon any open arcade abutting on any street so as to prevent, hinder or delay the work of scavenging or to create obstruction or inconvenience to the passage of the public for a longer time than may be reasonably necessary for loading or unloading such merchandise or article shall be liable on conviction to fine not exceeding $50 and thereafter to fine not exceeding $10 for every day during which such offence is continued.

(ii). A Magistrate may on the application of a Sanitary Board made through any member or officer of the Board make an order against the person erecting, depositing or maintaining any such obstruction requiring him to remove the same.

Inspection of places used for sale or storage of food.

13. (i). Any member of a Sanitary Board or any person authorised by the Chairman of a Sanitary Board in writing in that behalf may enter into and inspect any place within the Sanitary Board area which is used for the sale, either wholesale or by retail, of articles of human food or drink or used for the storage of such articles intended for sale and may examine any such articles which are therein, and if he consider that any such articles are unfit for human food or drink may seize the same and bring them before a Magistrate; if the Magistrate finds that such articles are unfit for human food or drink he shall order the same to be destroyed or so disposed of as to prevent their being exposed for sale or used for food or drink, and may impose a fine not exceeding $100 on the owner thereof or the person in whose possession the same were found. Provided that in the case of flesh or fish seized as aforesaid the Health Officer may order the same to be destroyed, and any Magistrate may make an order or impose a fine under this section without such flesh or fish being brought before him if it is satisfactorily proved to him that the same was at the time of seizure unfit for human food.

(ii). A certificate under the hand of the Health Officer may be accepted by the Magistrate as sufficient evidence that such flesh or fish was unfit for human food at the time of seizure.

Revocation and cancellation of licences.

14. Every licence issued under any by-law passed under this Enactment shall be revocable at the discretion of the Sanitary Board by which the same was issued without compensation at the expiration of one month's notice in writing served on the holder thereof, and every such licence shall be liable to immediate cancellation by the Board without notice and without compensation on any failure of the holder thereof or his servants or agents to observe and comply with any by-law or condition to which such licence may from time to time be subject.

15. An annual rate for the general purposes of this Enactment may be imposed upon all lands and upon all houses and buildings within any Sanitary Board area not exceeding five per centum of their annual value, and an additional rate, not exceeding two per centum, may be imposed upon all such houses and buildings benefited by a Government water supply, and a further rate not exceeding two per centum may in like manner be imposed for protection from fire. Such rate or rates shall be fixed from time to time with the approval of the Resident and shall be payable by half-yearly instalments, in advance without demand, by the owners of such lands, houses or buildings in the months of January and July in each year.

levy rates.

16. Houses and buildings used exclusively as places for religious worship, all public burial and burning grounds, all buildings used exclusively for public schools or for charitable purposes and all property belonging to or rented by His Highness the Sultan or the Government of the State may be exempted by direction of the Resident from the payment of such rate or rates.

Resident may exempt certain property.

17. The Board may exempt from payment of any rate any house, building, or land the annual value whereof is less than $10 if the same be the sole rateable property of the owner, or any house or hut which shall be occupied rent free by labourers employed at any plantation or mine.

Board may exempt
perty.

18. Where any house or building shall have been vacant for thirty consecutive days during any year, the Board shall remit so much of the rate for that year as may be proportionate to the number of days during which the said house or building may have remained unoccupied: provided that the owner of such house or building, or his agent, shall have given notice in writing of the vacancy thereof to the Board, and that the amount of rate to be remitted shall be calculated from the date of the delivery of such notice.

Remission of rate when a house is not occupied.

19. The rate or rates imposed upon houses, buildings and lands according to the annual value thereof in any Sanitary Board area under this Enactment shall be assessed in the manner hereinafter provided.

Assessment
upon annual value of property.

20. The estimated gross annual rent at which the houses, buildings and lands liable to the rate might reasonably be expected to let from year to year shall, for the purposes of the rate, be held and deemed to be the annual value of such houses, buildings and lands. The annual value of a house or building so estimated shall not include the value of any machinery contained therein.

Annual value, how to be ascertained.

21. For the purpose of such assessment the Board shall, from year to year, cause a valuation to be made of all houses and buildings. Such valuation shall be entered in a book to be kept at the office of the Board, wherein also shall be written in distinct columns the name of the owner of the property, the name of the occupier, a designation of the property either by name or number sufficient to identify the same, the name of the street or locality in which such property is situated and the amount of the rate assessed thereon.

Designation of owner if name unknown.

22. When the name of the owner or occupier is not known it shall be sufficient to designate him in the said book, and also in any notice or other proceeding under this Enactment, as the "owner" or "occupier" of the property on which the rate is assessed, without further description.

Valuation returns.

23. In order to enable the Board to arrive at a fair valuation of any houses or buildings liable to the rate, it shall be lawful for the Board to require the owner or occupier of such houses or buildings to furnish returns of the rent or annual value thereof and such person shall thereupon be legally bound to furnish the same, and for the like purpose it shall be lawful for the Board, or any person or persons appointed by it for that purpose, at any time to enter and inspect such houses or buildings after having given three days' notice of such intention to the occupier thereof.

Power to enter premises.

Public notice of valuation.

24. When the valuation has been completed, the Board shall notify in the Gazette and by placards in Malay, English, Chinese and Tamil posted in conspicuous places throughout the town the place where the record of valuation may be inspected; and the person in whose custody such record may be shall permit every person appearing to be the owner or occupier of any property included in the assessment, or the agent of such owner or occupier, to inspect the same during office hours and to make extracts therefrom without payment of any fee.

Notice of consideration of complaints.

25. The Board shall give public notice of a day, not being less than thirty days from the date of publication of such notice, when it will proceed to consider complaints against such valuation and assessment, and in all cases in which any property is for the first time assessed or the assessment thereof is increased the Board shall also give notice thereof to the owner or occupier of the property. All complaints shall be made personally or by agent or in writing at least fourteen days before the day fixed in the notice; and all complaints so made shall be enquired into by the Board and such amendments of the valuation shall thereupon be made as the Board may deem just.

assessment.

26. After the complaints have been enquired into and the revision of the valuation and assessment has been completed the amendments made shall be authenticated by the signatures of two members of the Board, who shall at the same time certify that no valid complaint has been made against the valuation and assessment except in the cases in which amendments have been made; and thereupon the rate so assessed shall be deemed to be the rate for the whole year for which the assessment is made, and such year shall commence on the first day of January.

Amendment of record.

27. The Board may at any time, upon the representation of parties or other information, amend the record by inserting the name of any person whose name ought to be so inserted or any property liable to the rate, or by removing the name of any person or any property not liable to the rate, or by reducing the amount of the rate: provided that in all cases in which any property is so inserted as liable to the rate notice thereof in writing shall be served on the owner or occupier of such property and fifteen days allowed from the date of service of such notice within which he may appeal to the Board against such valuation and assessment.

28. It shall not be necessary to prepare a new record every year, but the Board may adopt the valuation and assessment for the preceding year, with such alterations as may in particular cases be deemed necessary, as the valuation and assessment for the year following: provided that public notice of such valuation and assessment shall be given in the manner prescribed in Section 24, and that the provisions of such section and of the three following sections shall be applicable to such valuation and assessment.

New assessment not compulsory each year.

29. Any person who, having made a complaint in the manner prescribed by Section 25 against any rate assessed under the provisions of this Enactment, is dissatisfied with the decision of the Board thereon may appeal to the Court of the Senior Magistrate: provided that with the presentation of the petition for appeal there shall be paid into Court the amount of the rate appealed against.

Appeals against Board's assessment.

30. Every such appeal shall be commenced within thirty days of the date of the certificate of the Board under Section 26, or, in case of any subsequent amendment under the provisions of Section 27, within thirty days of the receipt by the person aggrieved of notice of such amendment.

Time allowed for appeal.

31. The decision of the Court of the Senior Magistrate upon any appeal under Section 29 shall be final and conclusive.

Finality of appeal.

32. Subject to the provisions of "The Land Enactment, 1903," any rate duly imposed under this Enactment shall be a first charge on the property in respect of which it is imposed, and shall be recoverable in the manner hereinafter provided.

Rates to be a first charge on property.

33. All payments shall be made at the office of the Board or at such other place as the Board may appoint, and counterfoil receipts shall be issued signed by the Secretary or other Officer of the Board duly authorised thereto.

Place of payment.

34. If any rate or fee be not paid within the prescribed time the Board may cause to be served upon the person liable therefor a notice substantially in the Form A in the Second Schedule hereto, signed by the Secretary or other Officer of the Board duly authorised in that behalf, requiring such person to pay the same, together with a fee of 50 cents for the cost of the notice, within 15 days from the date of service of such notice; and if within 15 days from the date of service of such notice payment be not made or sufficient cause be not shewn to the satisfaction of the Board why payment should not be made it shall be lawful for a Magistrate on information laid by the Secretary of the Board, or other Officer of the Board duly authorised in that behalf, to issue a warrant substantially in the Form B in the Second Schedule hereto for the recovery of the amount due with all costs by attachment and sale of the movable property of the person liable to the amount of the said rate or fee, together with the expenses of such attachment and sale, and if the person liable be the occupier of any premises in respect of which the said rate or fee is due, by attachment and sale also of any movable property found on such premises.

Inventory of
attached.

35. (i). The Officer charged with the execution of such warrant shall make an inventory of the property attached thereunder and shall at the same time give notice in writing, substantially in the Form C in the Second Schedule hereto, to the person in possession thereof at the time of the attachment, that such property will be sold as therein mentioned.

(ii). It shall be lawful for such Officer to break open in the day-time any house or building for the purpose of effecting such attachment.

Sales under warrant;
application of proceeds.

36. Unless the amount due with costs be paid within seven days from the date of the attachment, or the operation of the warrant be suspended, the property attached or such part thereof as may be necessary shall be sold by public auction and the proceeds shall be applied in satisfaction of the said amount and costs, and the surplus, if any, shall be paid to the person in possession of the property at the time of the attachment.

Property may be attached wherever found.

37. The movable property of any person from whom any rate or fee is due may be attached in manner aforesaid, wherever the same may be found, for default in the payment of the money due from such person.

Attachment and sale of
property.

38. (i). If the amount due cannot be recovered in the manner aforesaid it shall be lawful for the Senior Magistrate on the application of the Secretary of the Board or other Officer of the Board duly authorised in that behalf to issue a warrant substantially in the Form D in the Second Schedule hereto for the attachment and sale of the immovable property in respect of which such amount has accrued due.

(ii). The provisions of Section 66 of the "Registration of Titles Enactment, 1897," shall apply in the case of any warrant issued under this section in the same way as in the case of a warrant of execution of a decree.

(iii). The attachment shall be made by an order under the hand of the Officer named in the warrant, and expressed to be made pursuant to such warrant, prohibiting the person liable for the said amount from transferring or charging the property in any way and all persons from receiving the same from him by purchase, gift or otherwise. A copy of the order shall be served upon the person liable as aforesaid and a copy shall also be fixed up in a conspicuous part of the property attached.

(iv). If at the expiration of three months from the date of such attachment such amount has not been paid or the operation of the warrant suspended, the property attached may be sold in accordance with the terms of the warrant.

Application of proceeds.

39. The proceeds of such sale shall be applied in the first place in satisfaction of the amount due and costs, and in the event of there being any surplus remaining the Board shall, if it is satisfied as to the right of any person claiming such surplus pay the amount thereof to such person, and, if it is not so satisfied, shall place the amount on deposit in the Treasury to be held in trust for the person who may ultimately succeed in establishing his claim thereto.

40. To the purchaser at a sale under Section 38 there shall be issued, on payment of his purchase money to the Board, an order in writing from the Senior Magistrate's Court entitling him to have the title to the property or interest so purchased by him duly registered in his name without the payment of any fee therefor, and such registration shall have the effect of transferring to and vesting in him such property or interest free from all encumbrances created over it and from all subordinate interests derived from it except such as are expressly reserved at the time of sale. Purchaser's title.

41. If any person whose movable or immovable property has been attached under the provisions of this Enactment disputes the propriety of the attachment, he may apply to the Court whence the warrant of attachment issued for an order to stay the proceedings, and the Court after making such enquiry as may be necessary shall make such order in the premises as may be just. Application to Court against attachment.

42. If the sum due from the owner of any house or building on account of any rate or fee is paid by the occupier thereof, such occupier may, in the absence of any agreement to the contrary with the owner, deduct from the next and following payments of his rent the amount which may have been so paid by him. Recovery from owner of assessment paid by occupier.

43. No rate or fee which has remained due from the owner of any house or building for more than one year shall be recoverable from the occupier thereof not being the owner. Occupier when not liable.

44. Instead of proceeding by attachment and sale, or in case of failure to realise by attachment and sale the whole or any part of the sum due in respect of any rate or fee, the Board may sue the person liable to pay the same in any Court of competent jurisdiction. Alternative procedure.

45. Every notice, order, or document required or authorised by this Enactment or by any by-law made thereunder to be served on any person may be served personally upon the person to whom it is addressed or be left at his usual place of abode with some adult member or servant of his family, or, if it cannot with the exercise of due diligence be so served, may be affixed on some conspicuous part of such place of abode, and shall thereby be deemed to be duly served; provided that if the place of abode of the owner or occupier of any land, house or building in respect of which such notice, order or document is required to be served be unknown, or if the owner or occupier of such land, house or building be not resident within the Sanitary Board area, every such notice, order or document shall be deemed to be duly served if affixed on some conspicuous part of such land, house or building. Service of notices and other documents.

46. No attachment or sale under this Enactment shall be deemed unlawful nor shall any person making the same be deemed a trespasser. Irregular proceedings.

No. 3 OF 1904.

passer on account of any defect or want of form in any notice, warrant of attachment and sale, inventory or other proceeding relating thereto, nor shall such person be deemed a trespasser ab initio on account of any irregularity afterwards committed by him; but all persons aggrieved by such irregularity may seek relief for the special damage in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

Disposal of revenue; and objects of expenditure.

47. All moneys received by a Sanitary Board by virtue of this or of any other Enactment shall be paid into the District Treasury for the credit of the public revenue; and all moneys entrusted to a Sanitary Board by the Government for expenditure shall be applied by the Board for the purposes described in Section 4 and in the execution of any other measures necessary to promote the health or convenience of the public and generally for the purposes of this Enactment, as may be deemed expedient by the Board, and subject in all cases to the control and direction of the Resident.

Accounts.

48. Proper statements of all receipts and disbursements on account of any Sanitary Board shall be kept and periodically rendered in such form and at such times as the Resident may direct.

Protection of persons acting under this Enactment.

49. (i). No action shall be brought against any person for anything done or bona fide intended to be done in the exercise or supposed exercise of the powers given by this Enactment or by any by-law made thereunder.

(a). Without giving to such person one month's previous notice in writing of the intended action and of the cause thereof;

(b). After the expiration of three months from the date of the accrual of the cause of action;

(c). After tender of sufficient amends.

(ii). In every action so brought it shall be expressly alleged that the defendant acted either maliciously or negligently and without reasonable or probable cause, and if at the trial the plaintiff shall fail to prove such allegation judgment shall be given for the defendant.

(iii). Though judgment be given for the plaintiff in any such action such plaintiff shall not have costs against the defendant unless the Magistrate before whom the action is tried shall certify his approbation of the action.

ENACTMENT No. 4 OF 1904.

An Enactment to repeal and re-enact with amendments the Probate and Administration Enactment, 1900, being an Enactment to provide for the grant of Probates of Wills and Letters of Administration to the estates of deceased persons.

[16th March, 1904].

H. CONWAY BELFIELD,

Acting British Resident.

IT IS HEREBY enacted by His Highness the Sultan in Council as follows:—

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

1. (i). This Enactment may be cited as "The Probate and Administration Enactment, 1904," and shall come into force upon the publication thereof in the Gazette. Short title and commencement.
- (ii). Upon the coming into force of this Enactment the Enactment specified in the First Schedule hereto shall be repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column of the said schedule. Repeal.

No. 4 OF 1904.

Court.	2. The Courts having jurisdiction to grant probates of wills and letters of administration to the estates of deceased persons shall be as laid down in the Courts Enactment, 1900.
Interpretation.	3. In this Enactment unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context:—
“Minor.”	“Minor” means any person domiciled in British India, in the Colony or in a Federated Malay State, who has not completed his age of 18 years and any other person who has not completed his age of 21 years; and “minority” means the status of any such person:
“Minority.”
“Will.”	“Will” means the legal declaration of the intentions of the testator with respect to his property, which he desires to be carried into effect after his death:
“Codicil.”	“Codicil” means an instrument made in relation to a will, and explaining, altering or adding to its dispositions. It is considered as forming an additional part of the will:
“Specific legacy.”	“Specific legacy” means a legacy of specified property:
“Demonstrative legacy.”	“Demonstrative legacy” means a legacy directed to be paid out of specified property:
“Probate.”	“Probate” means the copy of a will certified under the seal of a Court of competent jurisdiction, with a grant of administration to the estate of the testator:
“Executor.”	“Executor” means a person to whom the execution of the last will of a deceased person is, by the testator’s appointment, confided:
“Administrator.”	“Administrator” means a person appointed by competent authority to administer the estate of a deceased person when there is no executor: and
“Court.”	“Court” means a Court having such jurisdiction as is described in Section 2.
“F.M.S.”	“Federated Malay States” means the four States of Perak, Selangor, Pahang and Negri Sembilan.

CHAPTER II.

OF GRANT OF PROBATE AND LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION.

4. The executor or administrator, as the case may be, of a deceased person is his legal representative for all purposes, and all the property of the deceased person vests in him as such.

But nothing herein contained shall vest in an executor or administrator any property of a deceased person which would otherwise have passed by survivorship to some other person.

5. When a will has been proved and deposited in a Court of competent jurisdiction situated beyond the limits of the State, and a properly authenticated copy of the will is produced, letters of administration may be granted with a copy of such copy annexed.

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION.

6. Probate can be granted only to an executor appointed by the will. Probate only to appointed executor.

7. The appointment may be express or by necessary implication. Appointment, express or implied.

Illustrations.

(a). A wills that C be his executor if B will not. B is appointed executor by implication.

(b). A gives a legacy to B and several legacies to other persons, among the rest to his daughter-in-law, C, and adds, "but should the within-named C be not living, I do constitute and appoint B my whole and sole executrix." C is appointed executrix by implication.

(c). A appoints several persons executors of his will and codicils, and his nephew residuary legatee, and in another codicil are these words:—"I appoint my nephew my residuary legatee to discharge all lawful demands against my will and codicils, signed of different dates." The nephew is appointed an executor by implication.

8. Probate cannot be granted to any person who is a minor or is of unsound mind. Persons to whom probate cannot be granted.

9. When several executors are appointed, probate may be granted to them all simultaneously or at different times. Grant of probate to several executors simultaneously or at different times.

Illustration.

A is an executor of B's will by express appointment, and C an executor of it by implication. Probate may be granted to A and C at the same time, or to A first and then to C or to C first, then to A.

10. If a codicil be discovered after the grant of probate, a separate probate of that codicil may be granted to the executor, if it in no way repeals the appointment of executors, made by the will. Separate probate of codicil discovered after grant of probate.

If different executors are appointed by the codicil, the probate of the will must be revoked, and a new probate granted of the will and the codicil together. Procedure when different executors appointed by codicil.

11. When probate has been granted to several executors, and one of them dies, the entire representation of the testator accrues to the surviving executor or executors. Accrual of representation to surviving executor.

12. Probate of a will when granted establishes the will from the death of the testator, and renders valid all intermediate acts of the executor as such. Effect of probate.

13. Letters of administration cannot be granted to any person who is a minor or is of unsound mind. To whom administration may not be granted.

14. Letters of administration entitle the administrator to all rights belonging to the intestate as effectually as if the administration had been granted at the moment after his death. Effect of letters of administration.

15. Letters of administration do not render valid any intermediate acts of the administrator tending to the diminution or damage of the intestate's estate. Acts not validated by administration.

No. 4 OF 1904.

Grant of administration where executor has not renounced.

16. When a person appointed an executor has not renounced the executorship, letters of administration shall not be granted to any other person until a citation has been issued calling upon the executor to accept or renounce his executorship ;

Exception.

Except that, when one or more of several executors has or have proved a will, the Court may, on the death of the survivor of those who have proved, grant letters of administration without citing those who have not proved.

Form and effect of renunciation of executorship.

17. The renunciation may be made orally in the presence of the Court, or by a writing signed by the person renouncing, and when made shall preclude him from ever thereafter applying for probate of the will appointing him executor.

Procedure
where executor renounces or fails to accept within time limited.

18. If the executor renounce, or fail to accept, the executorship within the time limited for the acceptance or refusal thereof, the will may be proved and letters of administration, with a copy of the will annexed, may be granted to the person who would be entitled to administration in case of intestacy.

Grant of administration to universal or residuary legatee.

19. When the deceased has made a will, but has not appointed an executor, or

When he has appointed an executor who is legally incapable or refuses to act, or has died before the testator, or before he has proved the will, or

When the executor dies after having proved the will, but before he has administered all the estate of the deceased.

An universal or a residuary legatee may be admitted to prove the will, and letters of administration with the will annexed may be granted to him of the whole estate, or of so much thereof as may be unadministered.

Right to administration of representative of deceased residuary
legatee.

20. When a residuary legatee who has a beneficial interest survives the testator, but dies before the estate has been fully administered, his representative has the same right to administration with the will annexed as such residuary legatee.

Grant of administration where no executor, nor residuary legatee, nor representative of such legatee.

21. When there is no executor and no residuary legatee or representative of a residuary legatee, or he declines or is incapable to act, or cannot be found, the person or persons who would be entitled to the administration of the estate of the deceased if he had died intestate, or any other legatee having a beneficial interest, or a creditor, may be admitted to prove the will, and letters of administration may be granted to him or them accordingly.

Citation before
grant of administration to legatee other than universal or residuary.

22. Letters of administration with the will annexed shall not be granted to any legatee other than an universal or a residuary legatee until a citation has been issued and published in the manner herein-after mentioned, calling on the next-of-kin to accept or refuse letters of administration.

When testator is a public servant not domiciled here.

22A. When the testator is a public servant not domiciled in the Malay Peninsula and no executor or residuary legatee or representative of a residuary legatee can be found within 14 days after the death of such public servant within the jurisdiction willing and capable to act, any person authorised thereto in writing by the Resident may be admitted to prove the will, and letters of administration may be granted to him accordingly.

23. When the deceased has died intestate, administration of his estate may be granted to any person who, according to the rules for the distribution of the estate of an intestate applicable in the case of such deceased, would be entitled to the whole or any part of such deceased's estate.

To whom administration may be granted.

When several such persons apply for administration, it shall be in the discretion of the Court to grant it to any one or more of them.

When no such person applies, it may be granted to a creditor of the deceased.

23A. When a public servant not domiciled in the Malay Peninsula has died intestate, and no person who, according to the rules for the distribution of the estate of an intestate applicable in the case of such deceased would be entitled to the whole or any part of such deceased's estate has applied for administration within 14 days after the death of such public servant, administration of his estate may be granted to any person authorised in writing by the Resident to make application in that behalf.

Public servant, not domiciled here, dying intestate.

CHAPTER III.

OF LIMITED GRANTS.

A.—Grants Limited in Duration.

24. When the will has been lost or mislaid since the testator's death, or has been destroyed by wrong or accident and not by any act of the testator, and a copy or the draft of the will has been preserved, probate may be granted of such copy or draft, limited until the original or a properly authenticated copy of it be produced.

Probate of copy or draft of lost will.

25. When the will has been lost or destroyed, and no copy has been made nor the draft preserved, probate may be granted of its contents, if they can be established by evidence.

Probate of contents of lost or destroyed will.

26. When the will is in the possession of a person, residing out of the State in which application for probate is made, who has refused or neglected to deliver it up, but a copy has been transmitted to the executor, and it is necessary for the interests of the estate that probate should be granted without waiting for the arrival of the original, probate may be granted of the copy so transmitted, limited until the will or an authenticated copy of it be produced.

Probate of copy where original exists.

27. When no will of the deceased is forthcoming, but there is reason to believe that there is a will in existence, letters of administration may be granted, limited until the will or an authenticated copy of it be produced.

Administration until will produced.

No. 4 of 1904.

B.—Grants for the Use and Benefit of Others Having Right.

Administration
with will annexed to Attorney of absent executor.

28. When any executor is absent from the State in which application is made, and there is no executor within the State willing to act, letters of administration with the will annexed may be granted to the agent of the absent executor, for the use and benefit of his principal, limited until he shall obtain probate or letters of administration granted to himself.

Administration with will annexed to Attorney of absent person who, if present, would be entitled to administer.
Administration to Attorney of absent person entitled to administer in case of intestacy.

29. When any person to whom, if present, letters of administration with the will annexed might be granted, is absent from the State, letters of administration with the will annexed may be granted to his agent, limited as above-mentioned.

Administration during minority of sole executor or residuary legatee.

30. When a person entitled to administration in case of intestacy is absent from the State, and no person equally entitled is willing to act, letters of administration may be granted to the agent of the absent person, limited as before-mentioned.

Administration during minority of several executors or residuary legatees.

31. When a minor is sole executor or sole residuary legatee, letters of administration with the will annexed may be granted to the legal guardian of such minor, or to such other person as the Court shall think fit, until the minor has attained his majority, at which period, and not before, probate of the will shall be granted to him.

Administration for use and benefit of lunatic.

32. When there are two or more minor executors and no executor who has attained majority, or two or more residuary legatees and no residuary legatee who has attained majority, the grant shall be limited until one of them has attained his majority.

33. If a sole executor or a sole universal or residuary legatee, or a person who would be solely entitled to the estate of the intestate according to the rules for the distribution of intestates' estates applicable in the case of the deceased, be a minor or lunatic, letters of administration with or without the will annexed, as the case may be, shall be granted to the person to whom the care of his estate has been committed by competent authority, or, if there be no such person, to such other person as the Court thinks fit to appoint, for the use and benefit of the minor or lunatic, until he attains majority or becomes of sound mind, as the case may be.

Administration pendente lite.

34. Pending any suit touching the validity of the will of a deceased person, or for obtaining or revoking any probate or any grant of letters of administration, the Court may appoint an administrator of the estate of such deceased person, who shall have all the rights and powers of a general administrator, other than the right of distributing such estate; and every such administrator shall be subject to the immediate control of the Court and shall act under its direction.

C.—Grants for Special Purposes.

Probate limited to purpose specified in will.

35. If an executor be appointed for any limited purpose specified in the will, the probate shall be limited to that purpose, and, if he should appoint an agent to take administration on his behalf, the letters of administration with the will annexed shall accordingly be limited.

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION.

36. If an executor appointed generally give an authority to an Attorney to prove a will on his behalf, and the authority is limited to a particular purpose, the letters of administration with the will annexed shall be limited accordingly.

Administration with will annexed limited to particular purpose.

37. Where a person dies, leaving property of which he was the sole or surviving trustee, or in which he had no beneficial interest on his own account, and leaves no general representative, or one who is unable or unwilling to act as such, letters of administration, limited to such property, may be granted to the beneficiary, or to some other person on his behalf.

Administration limited to trust property.

38. When it is necessary that the representative of a person deceased be made a party to a pending suit, and the executor or person entitled to administration is unable or unwilling to act, letters of administration may be granted to the nominee of a party in such suit, limited for the purpose of representing the deceased in the said suit, or in any other suit which may be commenced in the same or in any other Court between the parties, or any other parties, touching the matters at issue in the said suit, and until a final decree shall be made therein and carried into complete execution.

Administration limited to suit.

39. If, at the expiration of twelve months from the date of any probate or letters of administration, the executor or administrator to whom the same has or have been granted is absent from the State within which the Court that has granted the probate or letters of administration is situate, such Court may grant to any person whom it thinks fit letters of administration limited to the purpose of becoming and being made a party to a suit to be brought against the executor or administrator, and carrying the decree which may be made therein into effect.

Administration limited to purpose of becoming party to suit to be brought against executor or administrator.

40. In any case in which it appears necessary for preserving the property of a deceased person, the Court within whose district any of the property is situate may grant, to any person whom such Court thinks fit, letters of administration limited to the collection and preservation of the property of the deceased, and giving discharges for debts due to his estate, subject to the directions of the Court.

Administration limited to collection and preservation of deceased's property.

41. When a person has died intestate, or leaving a will of which there is no executor willing and competent to act, or where the executor is, at the time of the death of such person, resident out of the State, and it appears to the Court to be necessary or convenient to appoint some person to administer the estate or any part thereof other than the person who under ordinary circumstances would be entitled to a grant of administration, the Court may, in its discretion, having regard to consanguinity, amount of interest, the safety of the estate and probability that it will be properly administered, appoint such person as it thinks fit to be administrator;

Appointment as administrator, of person other than one who under ordinary circumstances would be entitled to administration.

And in every such case letters of administration may be limited or not as the Court thinks fit.

D.—Grants with Exception.

42. Whenever the nature of the case requires that an exception be made, probate of a will or letters of administration with the will annexed shall be granted subject to such exception.

Probate or administration with will annexed subject to exception.

No. 4 of 1904.

Administration
with exception.

43. Whenever the nature of the case requires that an exception be made, letters of administration shall be granted subject to such exception.

E.—Grants of the Rest.

Probate or administration
of rest.

44. Whenever a grant with exception, of probate, or letters of administration with or without the will annexed, has been made the person entitled to probate or administration of the remainder of deceased's estate may take a grant of probate or letters of administration, as the case may be, of the rest of the deceased's estate.

F.—Grants of Effects Unadministered.

Grant of effects unadminis-
tered.

45. If the executor to whom probate has been granted has died leaving a part of the testator's estate unadministered a new representative may be appointed for the purpose of administering such part of the estate.

Rules as to grants of effects unadminis-
tered.

46. In granting letters of administration of an estate not fully administered, the Court shall be guided by the same rules as apply to original grants, and shall grant letters of administration to those persons only to whom original grants might have been made.

Administration
when limited grant expired, and still some part of estate unadminis-
tered.

47. When a limited grant has expired by effluxion of time or the happening of the event or contingency on which it was limited, and there is still some part of the deceased's estate unadministered, letters of administration shall be granted to those persons to whom original grants might have been made.

CHAPTER IV.

ALTERATION AND REVOCATION OF GRANTS.

What errors may be rectified by Court.

48. Errors in names and descriptions, or in setting forth the time and place of the deceased's death, or the purpose in a limited grant, may be rectified by the Court, and the grant of probate or letters of administration may be altered and amended accordingly.

Procedure
when codicil discovered after grant of administration with will annexed.

49. If, after the grant of letters of administration with the will annexed, a codicil be discovered, it may be added to the grant on due proof and identification, and the grant altered and amended accordingly.

Revocation or annulment for just cause.

50. The grant of probate or letters of administration may be revoked or annulled for just cause.

Explanation.—"Just cause" is—

"Just cause."

First—That the proceedings to obtain the grant were defective in substance;

Second—That the grant was obtained fraudulently by making a false suggestion or by concealing from the Court something material to the case;

Third—That the grant was obtained by means of an untrue allegation of a fact essential in point of law to justify the grant, though such allegation was made in ignorance or inadvertently;

Fourth—That the grant has become useless and inoperative through circumstances;

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION.

Fifth—That the person to whom the grant was made has wilfully and without reasonable cause omitted to exhibit an inventory or account in accordance with the provisions of Chapter VII of this Enactment, or has exhibited under that chapter an inventory or account which is untrue in a material respect.

Illustrations.

- (a). The Court by which the grant was made had no jurisdiction.
- (b). The grant was made without citing parties who ought to have been cited.
- (c). The will of which probate was obtained was forged or revoked.
- (d). A obtained letters of administration to the estate of B, as his widow, but it has since transpired that she was never married to him.
- (e). A has taken administration to the estate of B as if he had died intestate, but a will has since been discovered.
- (f). Since probate was granted, a later will has been discovered.
- (g). Since probate was granted, a codicil has been discovered which revokes or adds to the appointment of executors under the will.
- (h). The person to whom probate was, or letters of administration were, granted, has subsequently become of unsound mind.

CHAPTER V.

OF THE PRACTICE IN GRANTING AND REVOKING PROBATES AND LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION.

51. The Court shall have the like powers and authority in relation to the granting of probate and letters of administration, and all matters connected therewith, as are by law vested in it in relation to any civil suit or proceeding pending in the Court.

Court's powers as to grant of probate and administration.

52. The Court may order any person to produce and bring into Court any paper or writing being or purporting to be testamentary, which may be shewn to be in the possession or under the control of such person;

Court may order person to produce testamentary papers.

And if it be not shewn that any such paper or writing is in the possession or under the control of such person, but there is reason to believe that he has the knowledge of any such paper or writing, the Court may direct him to attend for the purpose of being examined respecting the same.

And he shall be bound to answer such questions as may be put to him by the Court, and, if so ordered, to produce and bring in such paper or writing, and shall be subject to the like punishment in case of default in not attending or in not answering such questions or not bringing in such paper or writing, as he would have been subject to in case he had been a party to a suit, and had made such default.

And the costs of the proceeding shall be in the discretion of the Court.

53. The proceedings of the Court in relation to the granting of probate and letters of administration, shall, except as hereinafter otherwise provided be regulated, so far as the circumstances of the case will admit, by the civil procedure in force for the time being.

Proceedings of Court in relation to probate and administration.

No. 4 OF 1904.

When probate or administration may be granted by Court.

54. Probate of the will or letters of administration to the estate of a deceased person may be granted under the seal of the Court and signature of the presiding officer if it appears by a petition, verified as hereinafter mentioned, of the person applying for the same that the testator or intestate, as the case may be, had at the time of his decease a fixed place of abode, or any property, movable or immovable, within the jurisdiction of the Court.

Conclusiveness of probate or letters of administration.

55. Probate or letters of administration shall have effect over all the property, movable or immovable, of the deceased throughout the State in which the same is granted,

And shall be conclusive as to the representative title against all debtors of the deceased, and all persons holding property which belongs to him,

And shall afford full indemnity to all debtors paying their debts, and all persons delivering up such property to the person to whom such probate or letters of administration shall have been granted :

Conclusiveness of application for probate or administration, if properly made and verified.

56. The application for probate or letters of administration, if made and verified in the manner hereinafter mentioned, shall be conclusive for the purpose of authorising the grant of probate or administration, and no such grant shall be impeached by reason that the testator or intestate had no fixed place of abode, or no property within the jurisdiction of the Court at the time of his death, unless by a proceeding to revoke the grant if obtained by a fraud upon the Court.

Petition for probate.

57. Application for probate or for letters of administration with the will annexed shall be made by a petition distinctly written in English, with the will, or, in the cases mentioned in Section 24, 25 and 26, a copy draft or statement of the contents thereof, annexed, and stating —

(a). The time of the testator's death ;

(b). That the writing annexed is his last will and testament, or as the case may be ;

(c). That it was duly executed ;

(d). The amount of assets which are likely to come to the petitioner's hands ;

(e). And where the application is for probate, that the petitioner is the executor named in the will ;

(f). That the deceased at the time of his death had a fixed place of abode or had some property situate within the jurisdiction of the Court.

In what cases translation of will to be annexed to petition.

Verification of translation by person other than Court translator.

58. In cases wherein the will, copy or draft is written in any language other than English, there shall be a translation thereof annexed to the petition by a translator of the Court, if the language be one for which a translator is appointed ; or, if the will, copy or draft be in any other language, then by any person competent to translate the same, in which case such translation shall be verified by that person in the following manner :—

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION.

"I (A B) do declare that I read and perfectly understand the language and character of the original, and that the above is a true and accurate translation thereof."

59. Application for letters of administration shall be made by petition distinctly written as aforesaid, and stating— Petition for letters of administration.

- (a). The time and place of the deceased's death;
- (b). The family or other relatives of the deceased, and their respective residences;
- (c). The right in which the petitioner claims;
- (d). The amount of assets which are likely to come to the petitioner's hands;
- (e). That the deceased at the time of his death had a fixed place of abode or had some property situate within the jurisdiction of the Court.

60. The petition for probate or letters of administration shall in all cases be subscribed by the petitioner and shall be verified by the petitioner in the following manner or to the like effect:— Petition for probate or administration to be signed and verified.

"I (A. B.), the petitioner in the above petition declare that what is stated therein is true to the best of my information and belief."

61. Where the application is for probate, or for letters of administration with the will annexed, the petition shall also be verified by at least one of the witnesses to the will (when procurable), in the manner or to the effect following:— Verification of petition for probate by one witness to will.

"I (C. D.), one of the witnesses to the last will and testament of the testator mentioned in the above petition, declare that I was present and saw the said testator affix his signature (or mark) thereto (as the case may be) (or that the said testator acknowledged the writing annexed to the above petition to be his last will and testament in my presence)."

62. If any petition or declaration which is hereby required to be verified contains any averment which the person making the verification knows or believes to be false, such person shall be subject to punishment according to the provisions of the law for the time being in force for the punishment of giving or fabricating false evidence. Punishment for false averment in petition or declaration.

63. In all cases it shall be lawful for the presiding officer of the Court, if he thinks fit— Court may examine petitioner in person, also To examine the petitioner in person upon oath or affirmation, and

To require further evidence of the due execution of the will, or the right of the petitioner to the letters of administration, as the case may be, and require further evidence,

To issue citations calling upon all persons claiming to have any interest in the estate of the deceased to come and see the proceedings before the grant of probate or letters of administration. and issue citation to inspect proceedings.

Every citation shall be fixed up in some conspicuous part of the Court-house, shall be served upon such persons as the Court may direct, and shall be otherwise published or made known in such manner as the Court may direct. Publication of citation.

caveator.

66. No proceeding shall be taken on a petition for probate or letters of administration after a caveat against the grant thereof has been entered with the Court to which the application has been made or notice thereof has been given of its entry with some other Court, until after such notice to the person by whom the same has been entered as the Court shall think reasonable.

Grant of probate to be under seal of Court.

67. Whenever it appears to the Court that probate of a will should be granted, the Court shall grant the same under its seal in manner following :—

Form of such grant.

"I, (Senior Magistrate or Magistrate of the First Class), hereby make known that on the day of in the year the last will of , late of , a copy whereof is hereunto annexed, was proved and registered before me, and that administration of the property and credits of the said deceased, and in any way concerning his will, was granted to , the executor in the said will named, he having undertaken to administer the same and to make a full and true inventory of the said property and credits and exhibit the same in this Court within six months from the date of this grant or within such further time as the Court may from time to time appoint, and also to render to this Court a true account of the said property and credits within one year from the same date or within such further time as the Court may from time to time appoint.

"The day of , 19 ."

Grant of letters of administration to be under seal of Court.

68. Whenever it appears to the Court that letters of administration to the estate of a person deceased, with or without a copy of the will annexed, should be granted, the Court shall grant the same under its seal in manner following :—

Form of such grant.

"I, (Senior Magistrate or Magistrate of the First Class), hereby make known that on the day of letters of administration (with or without the will annexed, as the case may be) of the property and credits of , late of , deceased, were granted to , the father (or as the case may be) of the deceased, he having undertaken to administer the same, and to make a full and true inventory of the said property and credits, and exhibit the same in this Court within six months from the date of this grant or within such further time as the Court may from time to time appoint, and also to render to this Court a true account of the said property and credits within one year from the same date or within such further time as the Court may from time to time appoint.

"The day of , 19 ."

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION.

69. Every person to whom any grant of letters of administration is committed, and, if the Court so direct, any person to whom probate is granted, shall give a bond to the Senior Magistrate to enure for the benefit of the Senior Magistrate for the time being, with one or more surety or sureties, engaging for the due collection, getting in, and administering the estate of the deceased, which bond shall be in the form heretofore in use or in such other form as the Judicial Commissioner from time to time by any general or special order directs.

Administration bond.

70. The Court may, on application made by petition and on being satisfied that the engagement of any such bond has not been kept,

Assignment of administration bond.

And upon such terms as to security, or providing that the money received be paid into Court, or otherwise as the Court may think fit, Assign the same to some proper person.

Who shall thereupon be entitled to sue on the said bond in his own name as if the same had been originally given to him instead of to the Senior Magistrate, and shall be entitled to recover thereon, as trustee for all persons interested, the full amount recoverable in respect of any breach thereof.

71. No probate of a will shall be granted until after the expiration of seven clear days, and no letters of administration shall be granted until after the expiration of 14 clear days, from the day of the testator or intestate's death.

Time before which probate or administration shall not be granted.

72. The Senior Magistrate or Magistrate of the First Class, as the case may be, shall file and preserve among the records of his Court all original wills and authenticated copies of wills of which probate or letters of administration with the will annexed may be granted by him;

Filing of original wills of which probate
or administration with will annexed granted.

And the Judicial Commissioner, with the approval of the Resident-General, may make regulations for the preservation and inspection of the wills or authenticated copies of wills so filed as aforesaid.

73. After any grant of probate or letters of administration, no other than the person to whom the same shall have been granted shall have power to sue or prosecute any suit, or otherwise act as representative of the deceased, throughout the State in which the same may have been granted, until such probate or letters of administration shall have been recalled or revoked.

Grantee of probate or administration alone to sue, etc., until same revoked.

74. In any case before the Court in which there is contention, the proceedings shall take, as nearly as may be, the form of a suit, according to the provisions of the civil procedure in force for the time being, in which the petitioner for probate or letters of administration, as the case may be, shall be the plaintiff, and the person who may have appeared as aforesaid to oppose the grant shall be the defendant.

Procedure in contentious cases.

75. Where any probate is, or letters of administration are, revoked, all payments bonâ fide made to any executor or administrator under such probate or administration before the revocation thereof shall, notwithstanding such revocation, be a legal discharge to the person making the same;

Payment to executor or administrator before probate or administration revoked.

No. 4 of 1904.

Right of such executor or administrator to recoup himself.

And the executor or administrator who shall have acted under any such revoked probate or administration may retain and reimburse himself out of the assets of the deceased in respect of any payments made by him which the person to whom probate or letters of administration shall be afterwards granted might have lawfully made.

Power to refuse letters of administration.

76. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, it shall be in the discretion of the Court to make an order refusing, for reasons to be recorded by it in writing, to grant any application for letters of administration made under this Enactment.

Surrender of revoked probate or letters of administration.

77 (i). When a grant of probate or letters of administration is revoked or annulled under this Enactment, the person to whom the grant was made shall forthwith deliver up the probate or letters to the Court which made the grant.

(ii). If such person wilfully and without sufficient cause omits so to deliver up the probate or letters, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to $1,000, or with imprisonment of either description which may extend to three months, or with both.

Appeals.

78. Any person aggrieved by any order or decision made or given by the Senior Magistrate under this Enactment may appeal to the Judicial Commissioner, provided that no such appeal shall be entertained after the expiration of 30 days from the date of the order or decision appealed against.

CHAPTER VI.

OF THE POWERS OF AN EXECUTOR OR ADMINISTRATOR.

In respect of causes of action surviving deceased, and debts due at death.

79. An executor or administrator has the same power to sue in respect of all causes of action that survive the deceased, and may exercise the same powers for the recovery of debts due to him at the time of his death, as the deceased had when living.

Demands and rights of suit of or against deceased survive to and against executor or administrator.

80. All demands whatsoever, and all rights to prosecute or defend any suit or other proceeding, existing in favour of or against a person at the time of his decease, survive to and against his executors or administrators, except causes of action for defamation, assault as defined in the Penal Code, or other personal injuries not causing the death of the party, and except also cases where after the death of the party, the relief sought could not be enjoyed, or granting it would be nugatory.

Illustration.

A collision takes place on a railway in consequence of some neglect or default of the officials, and a passenger is severely hurt, but not so as to cause death. He afterwards dies without having instituted any suit. The cause of action does not survive.

Power of executor or administrator to dispose of property.

81. (i). An executor or administrator has, subject to the provisions of this section, power to dispose, as he thinks fit, of all or any of the property for the time being vested in him under Section 4.

(ii). The power of an executor to dispose of immovable property so vested in him is subject to any restriction which may be imposed in this behalf by the will appointing him, unless probate has been granted to him and the Court which granted the probate permits him by an order in writing, notwithstanding the restriction, to dispose of any immovable property specified in the order in a manner permitted by the order.

(iii). An administrator may not, without the previous permission of the Court by which the letters of administration were granted:—

(a). Mortgage, charge or transfer by sale, gift, exchange or otherwise any immovable property for the time being vested in him under Section 4, or (b). Lease any such property for a term exceeding five years.

(iv). A disposal of property by an executor or administrator in contravention of Sub-section (ii) or Sub-section (iii), as the case may be, is voidable at the instance of any other person interested in the property.

(v). Before any probate or letters of administration is or are granted under this Enactment there shall be endorsed thereon or annexed thereto a copy of Sub-section (i), (ii) and (iv), or of Sub-section (i), (iii) and (iv), as the case may be, and of Section 90 hereof.

(vi). A probate or letters of administration shall not be rendered invalid by reason of the endorsement or annexure required by the last foregoing sub-section not having been made thereon or attached thereto, nor shall the absence of such an endorsement or annexure authorise an executor or administrator to act otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(vii). Sections 62, 63, 64 and 65 of the "Registration of Titles, Enactment, 1897," are repealed and the following sections substituted in their stead:—

TRANSMISSIONS.

62. Whenever the proprietor of any land shall die, the representative of the deceased proprietor shall, before any dealing with such land, and subject to the provisions of Section 81 of "The Probate and Administration Enactment, 1904," make an application in writing to the Registrar of the registration district in which such land is situate to be registered as proprietor, and shall produce to the Registrar the probate, letters of administration, or certificate of representation, and thereupon the Registrar shall enter in the register a memorial of the date of the probate, letters of administration or certificate of representation, the date and hour of the production of the same to him, the date of the death of such proprietor, when the same can be ascertained, and shall add the words "as representative" after the name of the person to whom such probate, letters of administration, or certificate of representation was granted, and upon such entry being made, the representative shall, subject to the provisions of "The Probate and Administration Enactment, 1904," be deemed to be the proprietor of such land or such part thereof as shall for the time being remain undisposed of, and the Registrar shall note the fact of such registration by memorandum under his hand on the probate, letters of administration, or certificate of representation, provided always that the title of the representative to such land shall relate back and take effect as from the date of the death of the deceased proprietor.

No. 4 OF 1904.

63. Subject to this Enactment, and to "The Probate and Administration Enactment, 1904," the land of any deceased proprietor disposed of by his will shall be held by the representative according to the dispositions of such will, but these shall not be registered, nor, subject as aforesaid, shall any person dealing with the said land have any concern with the same

64. Whenever any charge or lease affecting land shall be transmitted in consequence of the death of the proprietor thereof, the probate, letters of administration, or certificate of representation, accompanied by an application in writing from the representative claiming to be registered as proprietor in respect of such charge or lease, shall be produced to the Registrar, who shall thereupon enter in the register, and on the instrument evidencing title to the charge or lease transmitted, the date of the certificate of representation as aforesaid, the date and hour of production of the same to him, the date of the death of such proprietor, when the same can be ascertained, with such other particulars as he may deem necessary, and upon such entry being made the representative shall be deemed to be the proprietor of such charge or lease, and the Registrar shall note the fact of such registration by memorandum under his hand on the certificate of representation.

65. Any person registered as the representative of a deceased person shall hold the land in respect of which he is registered for the purposes to which the same is applicable according to equity and good conscience, and subject to any trusts upon which the deceased proprietor held the same, but for the purpose of any registered dealings with such land he shall, subject to the provisions of "The Probate and Administration Enactment, 1904," and of this Enactment, be deemed to be the absolute proprietor thereof.

Purchase by executor or administrator of deceased's property.

82. If an executor or administrator purchases, either directly or indirectly, any part of the property of the deceased, the sale is voidable at the instance of any other person interested in the property sold.

Powers of several executors or administrators exercisable by one.

83. When there are several executors or administrators, the powers of all may, in the absence of any direction to the contrary in the will or grant of letters of administration, be exercised by any one of them who has proved the will or taken out administration.

Illustrations.

(a). One of several executors has power to release a debt due to the deceased.

(b). One has power to surrender a lease.

(c). One has power to sell the property of the deceased, movable or immovable.

(d). One has power to assent to a legacy.

(e). One has power to endorse a promissory note payable to the deceased.

(f). The will appoints A, B, C and D to be executors, and directs that two of them shall be a quorum. No act can be done by a single executor.

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION.

84. Upon the death of one or more of several executors or administrators, all the powers of the office become, in the absence of any direction to the contrary in the will or grant of letters of administration, vested in the survivors or survivor.

Survival of powers on death of one of several executors or administrators.

85. The administrator of effects unadministered has, with respect to such effects, the same powers as the original executor or administrator.

Powers of administrator of effects unadministered.

86. An administrator during minority has all the powers of an ordinary administrator.

Powers of administrator during minority.

87. When probate or letters of administration shall have been granted to a married woman, she has all the powers of an ordinary executor or administrator.

Powers of married executrix or administratrix.

CHAPTER VII.

OF THE DUTIES OF AN EXECUTOR OR ADMINISTRATOR.

88. It is the duty of an executor to provide funds for the performance of the necessary funeral ceremonies of the deceased in a manner suitable to his condition, if he has left property sufficient for the purpose.

As to deceased's funeral ceremonies.

89. (i). An executor or administrator shall, within six months from the grant of probate or letters of administration, or within such further time as the Court which granted the probate or letters may from time to time appoint, exhibit in that Court an inventory containing a full and true estimate of all the property in possession, and all the credits, and also all the debts owing by any person to which the executor or administrator is entitled in that character;

Inventory and account.

And shall in like manner, within one year from the grant or within such further time as the said Court may from time to time appoint, exhibit an account of the estate, shewing the assets which have come to his hands and the manner in which they have been applied or disposed of.

(ii). The Judicial Commissioner may from time to time prescribe the form in which an inventory or account under this section is to be exhibited.

(iii). If an executor or administrator, on being required by the Court to exhibit an inventory or account under this section, intentionally omits to comply with the requisition, he shall be deemed to have committed an offence under Section 176 of the Penal Code.

(iv). The exhibition of an intentionally false inventory or account under this section shall be deemed to be an offence under Section 193 of the Penal Code.

90. The executor or administrator with all reasonable expedition or diligence shall collect the property of the deceased and the debts due to him, and shall pay all debts due by the deceased's estate and the legacies under the will (if any), in accordance with the provisions hereinafter contained, and shall forthwith proceed, when there is no minority or other special reason to the contrary, to hand over the Collection of and dealing with the property.

No. 4 of 1904.

residue of the estate (if any) to the person or persons entitled thereto, and to make his final report to the Court setting forth the manner in which he has discharged his duties.

Expenses to be paid before all debts.

91. Funeral expenses to a reasonable amount, according to the degree and quality of the deceased, and death-bed charges, including fees for medical attendance, and board and lodging for one month previous to his death, are to be paid before all other debts.

Expenses to be paid next after such expenses.

92. The expenses of obtaining probate or letters of administration, including the costs incurred for or in respect of any judicial proceedings that may be necessary for administering the estate, are to be paid next after the funeral expenses and death-bed charges.

Wages for certain services to be next paid, and then other debts.

93. Wages due for services rendered to the deceased within three months next preceding his death by any labourer, artizan or domestic servant are next to be paid, and then the other debts of the deceased according to their respective priorities (if any).

Save as aforesaid, all debts to be paid equally and rateably.

94. Save as aforesaid, no creditor is to have a right of priority over another.

But the executor or administrator shall pay all such debts as he knows of, including his own, equally and rateably, as far as the assets of the deceased will extend.

Debts to be paid before legacies.

95. Debts of every description must be paid before any legacy.

Executor or administrator not bound to pay legacies without indemnity.

96. If the estate of the deceased is subject to any contingent liabilities, an executor or administrator is not bound to pay any legacy without a sufficient indemnity to meet the liabilities whenever they may become due.

Abatement of general legacies.

97. If the assets, after payment of debts, necessary expenses and specific legacies, are not sufficient to pay all the general legacies in full, the latter shall abate or be diminished in equal proportions ;

Executor not to pay one legatee in preference to another.

And, in the absence of any direction to the contrary in the will, the executor has no right to pay one legatee in preference to another, nor to retain any money on account of a legacy to himself or to any person for whom he is a trustee.

Non-abatement of specific legacy when assets sufficient to pay debts.

98. Where there is a specific legacy, and the assets are sufficient for the payment of debts and necessary expenses, the thing specified must be delivered to the legatee without any abatement.

Right under demonstrative legacy when assets sufficient to pay debts and necessary expenses.

99. Where there is a demonstrative legacy, and the assets are sufficient for the payment of debts and necessary expenses, the legatee has a preferential claim for payment of his legacy out of the fund from which the legacy is directed to be paid until such fund is exhausted, and if, after the fund is exhausted, part of the legacy still remains unpaid, he is entitled to rank for the remainder against the general assets as for a legacy of the amount of such unpaid remainder.

Rateable abatement of specific legacies.

100. If the assets are not sufficient to answer the debts and the specific legacies, an abatement shall be made from the latter rateably in proportion to their respective amounts.

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION.

Illustration.

A has bequeathed to B a diamond ring, valued at $500, and to C a horse, valued at $1,000. It is found necessary to sell all the effects of the testator, and his assets, after payment of debts, are only $750. Of this sum $250 are to be paid to B, and $500 to C.

101. For the purpose of abatement, a legacy for life, a sum appropriated by the will to produce an annuity, and the value of an annuity when no sum has been appropriated to produce it, shall be treated as general legacies. Legacies treated as general for purpose of abatement.

CHAPTER VIII.

OF THE EXECUTOR'S ASSENT TO A LEGACY.

102. The assent of the executor is necessary to complete a legatee's title to his legacy. Assent necessary to complete legatee's title.

Illustrations.

(a). A by his will bequeaths to B his municipal mortgages which are in deposit with the Chartered Bank. The Bank has no authority to deliver the securities, nor B a right to take possession of them, without the assent of the executor.

(b). A by his will has bequeathed to C his house in Ipoh in the tenancy of B. C is not entitled to receive the rents without the assent of the executor.

103. The assent of the executor to a specific bequest shall be sufficient to divest his interest as executor therein, and to transfer the subject of the bequest to the legatee, unless the nature or the circumstances of the property require that it shall be transferred in a particular way. Effect of executor's assent to specific legacy.

This assent may be verbal, and it may be either express or implied from the conduct of the executor. Nature of assent.

Illustrations.

(a). A horse is bequeathed. The executor requests the legatee to dispose of it, or a third party proposes to purchase the horse from the executor, and he directs him to apply to the legatee. Assent to the legacy is implied.

(b). The interest of a fund is directed by the will to be applied for the maintenance of the legatee during his minority. The executor commences so to apply it. This is an assent to the whole of the bequest.

(c). A bequest is made of a fund to A, and after him to B. The executor pays the interest of the fund to A. This is an implied assent to the bequest to B.

(d). Executors die after paying all the debts of the testator, but before satisfaction of specific legacies. Assent to the legacies may be presumed.

(e). A person to whom a specific article has been bequeathed takes possession of it and retains it without any objection on the part of the executor. His assent may be presumed.

104. The assent of an executor to a legacy may be conditional, and if the condition be one which he has a right to enforce, and it is not performed, there is no assent. Conditional assent.

No. 4 OF 1904.

Illustrations.

(a). A bequeaths to B his lands in Klang, which at the date of the will, and at the death of A, were subject to a mortgage for $10,000. The executor assents to the bequest on condition that B shall within a limited time pay the amount due on the mortgage at the testator's death. The amount is not paid. There is no assent.

(b). The executor assents to a bequest on condition that the legatee shall pay him a sum of money. The payment is not made. The assent is nevertheless valid.

Assent of executor to his own legacy.

105. When the executor is a legatee, his assent to his own legacy is necessary to complete his title to it, in the same way as it is required when the bequest is to another person, and his assent may in like manner be express or implied.

Implied assent.

Assent shall be implied if in his manner of administering the property he does any act which is referable to his character of legatee and is not referable to his character of executor.

Illustration.

An executor takes the rent of a house or the interest of municipal securities bequeathed to him, and applies it to his own use. This is assent.

Effect of executor's assent.

106. The assent of the executor to a legacy gives effect to it from the death of the testator.

Illustrations.

(a). A legatee sells his legacy before it is assented to by the executor. The executor's subsequent assent operates for the benefit of the purchaser, and completes his title to the legacy.

(b). A bequeaths $1,000 to B with interest from his death. The executor does not assent to this legacy until the expiration of a year from A's death. B is entitled to interest from the death of A.

Executor when to deliver legacies.

107. An executor is not bound to pay or deliver any legacy until the expiration of one year from the testator's death.

Illustration.

A by his will directs his legacies to be paid within six months after his death. The executor is not bound to pay them before the expiration of a year.

CHAPTER IX.

OF THE PAYMENT AND APPORTIONMENT OF ANNUITIES.

Commencement of annuity when no time fixed by will.

108. Where an annuity is given by the will, and no time is fixed for its commencement, it shall commence from the testator's death, and the first payment shall be made at the expiration of a year next after that event.

When annuity, to be paid quarterly or monthly, first falls due.

109. Where there is a direction that the annuity shall be paid quarterly or monthly, the first payment shall be due at the end of the first quarter or first month, as the case may be, after the testator's death, and shall, if the executor think fit, be paid when due; but the executor shall not be bound to pay it till the end of the year.

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION.

110. Where there is a direction that the first payment of an annuity shall be made within one month or any other division of time from the death of the testator, or on a day certain, the successive payments are to be made on the anniversary of the earliest day on which the will authorises the first payment to be made.

Date of successive payments when first payment directed to be made within given time, or on day certain.

And, if the annuitant dies in the interval between the times of payment, an apportioned share of the annuity shall be paid to his representative.

Apportionment where annuitant dies between times of payment.

CHAPTER X.

OF THE INVESTMENT OF FUNDS TO PROVIDE FOR LEGACIES.

111. Where a legacy, not being a specific legacy, is given for life, the sum bequeathed shall at the end of the year be invested in any of the securities specified in the Second Schedule hereto, which schedule may from time to time be varied by order of the Judicial Commissioner published in the Gazette, and the proceeds thereof shall be paid to the legatee as the same shall accrue due.

Investment of sum bequeathed where legacy not specific, given for life.

112. Where a general legacy is given to be paid at a future time, the executor shall invest a sum sufficient to meet it in securities of the kind mentioned in the last preceding section.

Investment of general legacy, to be paid at future time.

The intermediate interest shall form part of the residue to the testator's estate.

Intermediate interest.

113. Where an annuity is given and no fund is charged with its payment or appropriated by the will to answer it, an English or Indian Government annuity of the specified amount shall be purchased; or Procedure when no fund charged with or appropriated to annuity.

If no such annuity can conveniently be obtained, then a sum sufficient to produce the annuity shall be invested for that purpose in any of the securities specified in the Second Schedule hereto, which schedule may from time to time be varied by order of the Judicial Commissioner published in the Gazette.

114. Where a bequest is contingent, the executor is not bound to invest the amount of the legacy, but may transfer the whole residue of the estate to the residuary legatee (if any) on his giving sufficient security for the payment of the legacy if it shall become due.

Transfer to residuary legatee of contingent bequest.

115. Where the testator has bequeathed the residue of his estate to a person for life with a direction that it shall be invested in certain specified securities, so much of the estate as is not at the time of his death invested in securities of the specified kind shall be converted into money and invested in such securities.

Investment of residue bequeathed for life, with direction to invest in specified securities.

116. Such conversion and investment as are contemplated by the last preceding section shall be made at such times and in such manner as the executor in his discretion thinks fit;

Time and manner of conversion and investment.

And, until such conversion and investment shall be completed, the person who would be for the time being entitled to the income of the fund when so invested shall receive interest at the rate of six per cent per annum upon the market value (to be computed as of the date of the testator's death) of such part of the fund as shall not yet have been so invested.

Interest payable until investment.

Procedure where minor entitled to immediate payment or possession of bequest, and no direction to pay to person on his behalf.

117. Where, by the terms of a bequest, the legatee is entitled to the immediate payment or possession of the money or thing bequeathed, but is a minor, and there is no direction in the will to pay it to any person on his behalf, the executor or administrator shall pay or deliver the same into the Court by which the probate was, or letters of administration with the will annexed were, granted, to the account of the legatee and such payment into Court shall be a sufficient discharge for the money so paid.

And such money, when paid in, shall be invested in any of the securities specified in the Second Schedule hereto, which schedule may from time to time be varied by order of the Judicial Commissioner published in the Gazette, which securities, with the interest thereon, shall be transferred to the person entitled thereto, or otherwise applied for his benefit as the Court may direct.

CHAPTER XI.

OF THE PRODUCE AND INTEREST OF LEGACIES.

Legatee's title to produce of specific legacy.

118. The legatee of a specific legacy is entitled to the clear produce thereof, if any, from the testator's death.

Exception.—A specific bequest contingent in its terms does not comprise the produce of the legacy between the death of the testator and the vesting of the legacy. The clear produce of it forms part of the residue of the testator's estate.

Illustrations.

(a). A bequeaths his flock of sheep to B. Between the death of A and delivery by his executor the sheep are shorn, or some of the ewes produce lambs. The wool and lambs are the property of B.

(b). A bequeaths his municipal securities to B, but postpones the delivery of them till the death of C. The interest which falls due between the death of A and the death of C belongs to B, and must, unless he is a minor, be paid to him as it is received.

(c). The testator bequeaths all his four per cent Indian Government promissory notes to A when he shall complete the age of 21. A, if he complete that age, is entitled to receive the notes, but the interest which accrues in respect of them between the testator's death and A's completing 21, forms part of the residue.

Residuary legatee's title to produce of residuary fund.

119. The legatee under a general residuary bequest is entitled to the produce of the residuary fund from the testator's death.

Exception.—A general residuary bequest contingent in its terms does not comprise the income which may accrue upon the fund bequeathed between the death of the testator and the vesting of the legacy. Such income goes as undisposed of.

Illustrations.

(a). The testator bequeaths the residue of his property to A, a minor, to be paid to him when he shall complete the age of 21. The income from the testator's death belongs to A.

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION.

(b). The testator bequeaths the residue of his property to A when he shall complete the age of 21. A, if he complete that age is entitled to receive the residue. The income which has accrued in respect of it since the testator's death goes as undisposed of.

120. Where no time has been fixed for the payment of a general legacy, interest begins to run from the expiration of one year from the testator's death. Interest when no time fixed for payment of general legacy.

Exceptions.—(i). Where the legacy is bequeathed in satisfaction of a debt, interest runs from the death of the testator.

(ii). Where the testator was a parent or a more remote ancestor of the legatee, or has put himself in the place of a parent of the legatee, the legacy shall bear interest from the death of the testator.

(iii). Where a sum is bequeathed to a minor with a direction to pay for his maintenance out of it, interest is payable from the death of the testator.

121. Where a time has been fixed for the payment of a general legacy, interest begins to run from the time so fixed. The interest up to such time forms part of the residue of the testator's estate. Interest when time fixed.

Exception.—Where the testator was a parent or a more remote ancestor of the legatee, or has put himself in the place of a parent of the legatee, and the legatee is a minor, the legacy shall bear interest from the death of the testator, unless a specific sum is given by the will for maintenance, or unless the will contains a direction to the contrary.

122. The rate of interest shall be six per cent per annum. Rate of interest.

123. No interest is payable on the arrears of an annuity within the first year from the death of the testator, although a period earlier than the expiration of that year may have been fixed by the will for making the first payment of the annuity. No interest on arrears of annuity within first year after testator's death.

124. Where a sum of money is directed to be invested to produce an annuity, interest is payable on it from the death of the testator. Interest on sum to be invested to produce annuity.

CHAPTER XII.

OF THE REFUNDING OF LEGACIES.

125. An executor who has paid a legacy under the order of the Court is entitled to call upon the legatee to refund in the event of the assets proving insufficient to pay all the legacies. Refund of legacy paid under Court's orders.

126. When an executor has voluntarily paid a legacy, he cannot call upon a legatee to refund in the event of the assets proving insufficient to pay all the legacies. No refund if paid voluntarily.

127. When the time prescribed by the will for the performance of a condition has elapsed, without the condition having been performed, and the executor has thereupon, without fraud, distributed the assets, in such case, if further time has, under the second clause of this section, been allowed for the performance of the condition, and the Refund when legacy becomes due on performance of condition within further time allowed.

No. 4 OF 1904.

condition has been performed accordingly, the legacy cannot be claimed from the executor, but those to whom he has paid it are liable to refund the amount.

Where the will requires an act to be performed by the legatee within a specified time, either as a condition to be fulfilled before the legacy is enjoyed, or as a condition upon the non-fulfilment of which the subject matter of the bequest is to go over to another person, or the bequest is to cease to have effect, the act must be performed within the time specified, unless the performance of it be prevented by fraud, in which case such further time shall be allowed as is requisite to make up for the delay caused by such fraud.

When each legatee compellable to refund in proportion.

128. When the executor has paid away the assets in legacies, and he is afterwards obliged to discharge a debt of which he had no previous notice, he is entitled to call upon each legatee to refund in proportion.

Distribution of assets.

129. Any executor or administrator, after giving notice in the most public manner reasonably possible, as for instance, by the publication of notices in newspapers likely to be seen by creditors, by distributing handbills in the native character, or in other manner, and all reasonable ways likely to attract the attention of creditors and others, calling upon all concerned to send in to him their claims against the estate of the deceased, and stating his intention to proceed to a distribution of assets on and after a certain date, of which not less than three months' notice shall be given, shall, at the expiration of the time so named, be at liberty to distribute the assets, or any part thereof, in discharge of such lawful claims as he knows of, and shall not be liable for the assets so distributed to any person of whose claim he has not had notice at the time of such distribution ;

Creditor may follow assets.

But nothing herein contained shall prejudice the right of any creditor or claimant to follow the assets, or any part thereof, in the hands of the persons who may have received the same respectively.

Creditor may call upon legatee to refund.

130. A creditor who has not received payment of his debt may call upon a legatee who has received payment of his legacy to refund, whether the assets of the testator's estate were or were not sufficient at the time of his death to pay both debts and legacies, and whether the payment of the legacy by the executor was voluntary or not.

When legatee not satisfied or compelled to refund under Section 140, cannot oblige one paid in full to refund.

131. If the assets were sufficient to satisfy all the legacies at the time of the testator's death, a legatee who has not received payment of his legacy, or who has been compelled to refund, under the last preceding section, cannot oblige one who has received payment in full to refund, whether the legacy were paid to him with or without suit, although the assets have subsequently become deficient by the wasting of the executor.

When unsatisfied legatee must first proceed against executor, if solvent.

132. If the assets were not sufficient to satisfy all the legacies at the time of the testator's death, a legatee who has not received payment of his legacy must, before he can call on a satisfied legatee to refund, first proceed against the executor if he is solvent ; but if the executor is insolvent or not liable to pay, the unsatisfied legatee can oblige each satisfied legatee to refund in proportion.

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION.

133. The refunding of one legatee to another shall not exceed the sum by which the satisfied legacy ought to have been reduced if the estate had been properly administered.

Limit to refunding of one legatee to another.

Illustration.

A has bequeathed $240 to B, $480 to C, and $720 to D. The assets are only $1,200 and if properly administered would give $200 to B, $400 to C, and $600 to D. C and D have been paid their legacies in full leaving nothing to B. B can oblige C to refund $80 and D to refund $120.

134. The refunding shall, in all cases, be without interest.

Refunding to be without interest.

135. The surplus or residue of the deceased's property, after payment of debts and legacies, shall be paid to the residuary legatee when any has been appointed by the will.

Residue after usual payments to be paid to residuary legatee.

136. Where a person not having his domicile in the State has died leaving assets both in the State and in the country in which he had his domicile at the time of his death.

Transfer of assets from State to executor or administrator in country of domicile for distribution.

And there has been a grant of probate or letters of administration in the State with respect to the assets there and a grant of probate or letters of administration in the country of domicile with respect to the assets in that country.

The executor or administrator, as the case may be, in the State, after having given such notices as are mentioned in Section 129 and after having discharged, at the expiration of the time therein named, such lawful claims as he knows of,

May, instead of himself distributing any surplus or residue of the deceased's property to persons residing out of the State who are entitled thereto, transfer, with the consent of the executor or administrator, as the case may be, in the country of domicile, the surplus or residue to him for distribution to those persons.

CHAPTER XIII.

OF THE LIABILITY OF AN EXECUTOR OR ADMINISTRATOR FOR DEVASTATION.

137. When an executor or administrator misapplies the estate of the deceased, or subjects it to loss or damage, he is liable to make good the loss or damage so occasioned.

Liability of executor or administrator for devastation.

Illustrations.

(a). The executor pays out of the estate an unfounded claim. He is liable to make good the loss caused by the payment.

(b). The deceased had a valuable lease renewable by notice, which the executor neglects to give at the proper time. The executor is liable to make good the loss caused by the neglect.

(c). The deceased had a lease of less value than the rent payable for it, but terminable on notice at a particular time. The executor neglects to give the notice. He is liable to make good the loss.

No. 4 of 1904.

For neglect to get in any part of property.

138. When an executor or administrator occasions a loss to the estate by neglecting to get in any part of the property of the deceased, he is liable to make good the amount.

Illustrations.

(a). The executor absolutely releases a debt due to the deceased from a solvent person, or compounds with a debtor who is able to pay in full. The executor is liable to make good the amount so lost.

(b). The executor neglects to sue for a debt till the debtor is able to plead the law for the limitation of suits, and the debt is thereby lost to the estate. The executor is liable to make good the amount of the debt.

CHAPTER XIV.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Provisions applied to administrator with will annexed.

139. In Chapters VIII, IX, X and XII of this Enactment the provisions as to an executor shall apply also to an administrator with the will annexed.

Saving clause.

140. Nothing contained in this Enactment shall—

(a). Validate any testamentary disposition which would otherwise have been invalid ;

(b). Invalidate any such disposition which would otherwise have been valid ;

(c). Deprive any person of any right of maintenance to which he would otherwise have been entitled ;

(d). Affect any Enactment in force for the time being to facilitate succession to the land of deceased persons and to lessen the cost of the same in cases where such land is of small value ; or (e). Affect the provisions of Chapter VI of the "Stamp Enactment, 1897," relating to duties on the estates of deceased persons ;

(f). Affect any rules of Muhammadan law as varied by local custom in respect of the distribution of the balance of the estate of a deceased person after the debts have been satisfied.

Executor, etc., may apply to Court for advice.

141. (i). Any executor or administrator shall be at liberty without the institution of a suit to apply by petition to the Senior Magistrate's Court for the opinion, advice or direction of such Court on any question respecting the management or administration of the assets of his testator or intestate.

(ii). Such application shall be served upon, or the hearing thereof shall be attended by, all persons interested in such application, or such of them as the Court thinks expedient.

(iii). The executor or administrator, acting upon the opinion, advice or direction given by the Court, shall be deemed, so far as regards his own responsibility, to have discharged his duty as such executor or administrator in the subject matter of the said application ; provided never-the-less that this section shall not extend to indemnify any executor or administrator in respect of any act done in accordance with such opinion, advice or direction as aforesaid if such executor or administrator has been guilty of any fraud or wilful concealment or misrepresentation in obtaining such opinion, advice or direction, and the costs of such application as aforesaid shall be in the discretion of the Court.

(iv). This section applies to executors and administrators constituted or created either before or after the commencement of this Enactment.

"Land Officer" includes any officer of the Land or Mines Departments.

"Mineral ore" does not include gold.

Prohibition of purchase, treatment or storage of ore except under licence.

3. On and after the commencement of this Enactment it shall not be lawful for any person, unless duly licensed in that behalf—

(i). To purchase any mineral ore;

(ii). To keep any factory or place for the purpose of smelting or otherwise treating mineral ore;

(iii). To keep any house, store, shop or place for the purpose of purchasing or storing therein any mineral ore other than such as has been raised from land in his own occupation.

Provided that every licence to purchase mineral ore shall include the right to keep a house, store, shop or place for the purchase or storage thereof, and that every licence to keep a factory or place for the purpose of smelting or otherwise treating mineral ore shall include all rights conveyed by a licence to purchase mineral ore.

Form and terms of licence.

4. (i). Such licence may be issued by the Warden of Mines upon application and payment of a fee of $10 and shall be substantially in the form of Schedule B with such variations as may be necessary, but no such licence shall be issued until the applicant therefor shall have made a deposit of $200, to be returned as hereinafter provided; such deposit shall be either by cash paid into the Treasury or by delivery at the Treasury of a Bank receipt evidencing the payment of the said amount to the credit of the Government with such Bank; interest allowed by the Bank on any such amount shall be payable to the depositor.

(ii). Every such licence shall expire on the 31st day of December of the year in respect of which it is issued and shall be valid only for the place and purpose specified therein.

Sub-licences.

5. (i). It shall be lawful for the Warden, on the application of any person licensed to purchase mineral ore, to issue to such person for the use of himself or his agents sub-licences which shall be substantially in the form of Schedule C, subject to the payment of a fee of 50 cents for each sub-licence.

(ii). To every sub-licence there shall be attached, on issue, a photograph of the sub-licensee. Such photograph shall be supplied by the sub-licensee, who shall preserve the same in good condition or return the sub-licence to the Warden with a view to having a fresh photograph attached.

MINERAL ORES.

(iii). No sub-licence shall remain in force after the termination of the licence to which it relates.

(iv). Every holder of a sub-licence when acting in pursuance thereof shall keep such sub-licence on his person and shall produce it on demand for the inspection of any Land Officer or Police Officer.

6. Every applicant for or holder of a licence or sub-licence under this Enactment shall produce before the Warden every weight or instrument for weighing which he may use or intend to use for the purposes of such licence or sub-licence. Weights to be produced.

7. (i). The Warden shall endorse upon the licence or sub-licence, as the case may be, a description of the weights and instruments for weighing so produced before him, and may test the same: provided that the Warden shall not endorse on a sub-licence any weights or instruments for weighing which have not been endorsed on the licence to which such sub-licence relates; and provided further that the Warden may in his discretion disallow the use, for the purposes of the licence or sub-licence, of any weight or instrument for weighing so produced before him and shall not endorse upon the licence or sub-licence the description of any weight or instrument for weighing so disallowed by him. Endorsement and testing by Warden.

(ii). If at any time after such endorsement upon a licence any weight or instrument for weighing other than as described therein shall be found —

(a). In the possession of the licensee, or

(b). In the possession of any person to whom a sub-licence shall have been issued on the application of the licensee, and it be not proved to have been in the possession of such person without the knowledge or consent of the licensee, or

(c). In the building or place licensed, the licensee shall be deemed to have committed an offence against the provisions of this Enactment; and if at any time after such endorsement upon a sub-licence any weight or instrument for weighing other than as described therein shall be found in the possession of the sub-licencee the sub-licencee shall be deemed to have committed an offence against the provisions of this Enactment.

8. (i). It shall be lawful for the Warden to refuse to allow any furnace to be used in any smelting house if he shall be satisfied that such furnace cannot be efficiently worked with charcoal made from woods other than those specified in Schedule D. Certain furnaces may be prohibited.

(ii). The Warden may also refuse to licence any smelting-house containing any such furnace as aforesaid.

9. The Resident may from time to time, by notification in the Gazette, add to or otherwise vary the list of woods specified in schedule D. Resident may vary Schedule D.

10. It shall be lawful for the Warden to refuse to issue or renew a licence or sub-licence to any person, for reasons to be stated by him in writing, if so required by the applicant or licensee. Power of Warden to refuse licence or sub-licence.

No. 5 of 1904.

Power of Warden to cancel licence or sub-licence.

11. (i). It shall be lawful for the Warden to cancel any licence at any time, either upon application by the licensee for the withdrawal of the deposit made under Section 4 (i), or upon the conviction of the licensee of any offence under this Enactment or on any charge involving fraudulent dealing.

(ii). It shall be lawful for the Warden in his discretion to cancel any sub-licence at any time.

Penalty for false weights.

12. Any person who may be convicted under Sections 7 or 8 of the Weights and Measures Order in Council, No. 14 of 1893, in respect of any purchase of ore shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $250, in addition to any penalty in that Order in Council provided, and in case of a second or subsequent conviction shall also be liable to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding three months.

Duties of licensee.

13. (i). Every licensee under this Enactment shall keep posted in a conspicuous place in the building or place licensed both his licence and a list, signed by the Warden, of all sub-licences issued under Section 5 upon his application; and shall allow at all times the inspection of such building or place by any Magistrate or Land Officer or any Police Officer not under the rank of Inspector.

(ii). No such person shall purchase mineral ore elsewhere than at the place where his licence is posted except under and in accordance with a sub-licence issued to him under Section 5.

(iii). Every such person shall keep books of account in which shall be entered day by day the following particulars concerning all purchases of ore:—

- (a). The date of purchase;
- (b). The seller's name and address;
- (c). The weight of ore purchased;
- (d). The price paid;

(e). The number and description of the title to the land from which the ore was raised; and shall produce such books on demand for the inspection of any Magistrate or any Land Officer, or any Police Officer not under the rank of Inspector.

Vendor's authority for sale.

14. No licensee or sub-licensee shall purchase any mineral ore except upon delivery to him by the vendor of a written authority for the sale thereof bearing the signature or chop of the person in lawful occupation of the land from which such ore was raised or of his duly authorised agent.

Return of deposit.

15. (i). Every applicant for a licence, or licensee, shall, on demand, be entitled to receive from the Warden an order on the Treasury authorising the return of any deposit made under Section 4 (i): provided that no deposit shall be returned to any licensee until after the expiration of one month from the date on which his licence expired.

MINERAL ORES.

(ii). All moneys deposited by any licensee shall be at all times liable to be applied in satisfaction of any fine inflicted upon him by any Court.

16. Any person who shall commit any offence against the provisions of this Enactment, or who shall make default in complying with any obligation imposed on him by this Enactment, shall be liable, on conviction before a Magistrate, to a fine not exceeding $250. Penalty.

17. All prosecutions under this Enactment may be had before a Magistrate of the First Class. Jurisdiction.

18. The Resident may, with the approval of the Resident-General, make rules, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Enactment, for the purpose of further securing the effectual control of the sale, purchase, storage and treatment of mineral ores and the prevention of fraud in connection therewith, and such rules, when published in the Gazette, shall have the force of law. Rules.

19. Any person who shall commit any breach of the provisions of any such rule shall be liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding $100, and, when the breach is a continuing one, to a further fine of $10 for every day during which such breach shall continue. Penalty.

20. It shall be lawful for any Magistrate before whom a conviction may be had under this Enactment to direct that any sum not exceeding one half of any fine recovered upon such conviction shall be paid to any person upon whose information or evidence such conviction was obtained. Rewards to informers.

21. Any person aggrieved by any refusal or order of the Warden under this Enactment, or any rules made thereunder, may appeal to the Commissioner of Lands and Mines, Federated Malay States, whose decision shall be final; provided that such appeal shall not be admitted after the expiration of 30 days from the date of the refusal or order appealed against. Appeal.

22. No document purporting to give to any licensee under this Enactment any charge, lien or security over any ore shall in the absence of an express provision to that effect be required to be attested or registered under the Bills of Sale Enactment, 1900, or any other law by which such Enactment may be amended or repealed, or shall be rendered in any way void or invalid by reason of the absence of such attestation or registration, provided:— Certain documents exempt from registration.

(i). That the loan secured by such document shall not be less than $100.

(ii). That such document shall give no charge, lien or security on any ore after the lapse of six months from the date thereof;

(iii). That the signatures of the parties to such documents shall be attested by two witnesses;

(iv). That such document and a duplicate thereof, both duly stamped, shall be produced in the Court of a Magistrate of the First Class within 14 days of the date of its execution, and be endorsed by such Magistrate in the manner hereinafter prescribed;

No. 5 of 1904.

(v). That every such document shall be in the English language and that the Magistrate may refuse to endorse, or to retain, or file the duplicate of any document the terms of which may in his opinion not be sufficiently explicit or be liable to misconstruction.

Duty of Magistrate.

23. Every Magistrate before whom such document and duplicate are so produced shall endorse thereon the date of production and shall retain and file the duplicate.

STATE OF PERAK.

ENACTMENT No. 6 OF 1904.

An Enactment to regulate the manufacture, use, sale, storage, transport, importation and exportation of Explosive Substances.

[16th March, 1904].

H. CONWAY BELFIELD,

Acting British Resident.

IT IS HEREBY enacted by His Highness the Sultan in Council
 as follows:—

1. (i), This Enactment may be cited as "The Explosives Enactment, 1904," and shall come into force on a day to be fixed by the Resident by notification in the Gazette.

Short title and commencement.

No. 6 of 1904.

- Repeal. (ii). On the commencement of this Enactment the Enactment specified in the schedule shall be repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column thereof.
- Conservator of Port. 2. All powers and duties conferred and imposed by this Enactment or by any rules made thereunder on the Conservator of the Port may in places where there is no Conservator be exercised and performed by any officer whom the Resident may from time to time by notification in the Gazette appoint in that behalf.
- Definitions. 3. In this Enactment and in rules made thereunder unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context:—
- (i). “Explosive”
- (a). Means gunpowder, nitro-glycerine, dynamite, gun-cotton, blasting powders, fulminate of mercury or of other metals, coloured fires, and every other substance, whether similar to those above-mentioned or not, used or manufactured with a view to produce a practical effect by explosion or a pyrotechnic effect; and
- (b). Includes fog-signals, fireworks, fuzes, rockets, percussion caps, detonators, cartridges, ammunition of all descriptions, and every adaptation or preparation of an explosive as above defined.
- (ii). “Manufacture” includes the preparation of any component parts of an explosive, the admixture or other treatment of the same, the breaking up or unmaking of any explosive, or making fit for use any damaged explosive, and the process of re-making, altering, or repairing any explosive.
- (iii). “Vessel” includes any steam or sailing ship, junk, boat, sampan, or any kind of craft used for the conveyance of persons or things by water.
- (iv). “Carriage” includes any carriage, waggon, cart, truck, or other vehicle used for the conveyance of goods or passengers by land, in whatever manner the same may be propelled or moved.
- (v). “Import,” with its grammatical variations and cognate expressions, means to bring or cause to be brought into the State either by land or sea.
- (vi). “Export,” with its grammatical variations and cognate expressions, means to take or cause to be taken out of the State either by land or sea.
- (vii). “Railway Administration” means in the case of a railway worked by the Government the General Manager of the Federated Malay States Government Railways, and in the case of a railway worked by a company or individual such company or individual.
- (viii). “Chief Police Officer” means the Police Officer of highest rank next after the Commissioner available for duty at any time in the State.
- Extension of definition of explosive to other explosive substances. 4. The Resident may from time to time, with the approval of the Resident-General, by notification in the Gazette, declare that any substance which appears to the Resident to be specially dangerous to life or property, by reason either of its explosive properties or of any process in the manufacture thereof rendering it liable to explosion, shall be deemed to be an explosive within the meaning of this Enactment (subject to such exceptions, limitations and restrictions as may be specified in the notification), and this Enactment shall accordingly extend to that substance in like manner as if it were included in the definition of the term "explosive."

5. (i). The Resident may, with the approval of the Resident-General, at any time after the passing of this Enactment make rules consistent therewith to regulate or prohibit, except under or in accordance with the conditions of a licence granted as provided by such rules, the manufacture, possession, use, sale, storage, transport, importation and exportation of explosives or any specified class of explosives. All licences under this Enactment shall be granted and issued by the Chief Police Officer or any officer appointed by him in writing in that behalf.

Power to make rules as to licensing of the manufacture, possession, use, sale, storage, transport, importation, or exportation of explosives.

(ii). Rules under this section may provide for all or any of the following among other matters—that is to say,

(a). The fees to be charged for licences and the other sums (if any) to be paid for expenses by applicants for licences;

(b). The manner in which applications for licences shall be made and the matters to be specified in such applications;

(c). The form in which and the conditions on and subject to which licences shall be granted;

(d). The period for which licences are to remain in force; and (e). The exemption absolutely or subject to conditions of any explosives from the operation of the rules.

(iii). The Resident may by the rules impose penalties on all persons manufacturing, possessing, using, selling, storing, transporting, importing, or exporting explosives in breach of the rules or otherwise contravening the rules:

Provided that the maximum penalty which may be imposed by any such rules shall not exceed:—

(a). In the case of a person so importing, exporting, or manufacturing an explosive, a fine of $2,000.

(b). In the case of a person so possessing, storing, using, or transporting an explosive, a fine of $700.

(c). In the case of a person so selling an explosive, a fine of $300; and (d). In any other case, a fine of $100.

(iv). Any penalty to which any person is liable under the provisions of any rule made under this section may be awarded by the Court of a Magistrate of the First Class.

6. (i). Whenever under this Enactment any person mentioned in a licence issued under the provisions hereof is declared liable to any punishment, penalty, or forfeiture for any act committed by him, he shall be liable to the same punishment, penalty, or forfeiture for every similar act committed by any agent or servant employed by him in or about the licensed premises.

Liability of principal for offences committed by agent, etc.

No. 6 of 1904.

Every agent or servant employed by any person mentioned in a licence shall also be liable to every punishment, penalty, or forfeiture prescribed for offences against this Enactment as fully and effectually as if such agent or servant had been the person mentioned in the licence.

(ii). Every person employed in or about any premises licensed under this Enactment shall be deemed to have been so employed by the person mentioned in the licence unless and until the contrary be proved.

Power to prohibit the manufacture, possession, or importation of specially dangerous explosives.

7. (i). Notwithstanding anything in this Enactment contained, the Resident may, with the approval of the Resident-General, from time to time by notification in the Gazette :—

(a). Prohibit either absolutely or subject to conditions the manufacture, possession or importation of any explosive which is of so dangerous a character that in the opinion of the Resident it is expedient for the public safety to issue the notification ; and

(b). Rescind or vary any notification under this section.

(ii). Any person manufacturing, possessing, or importing an explosive in contravention of a notification issued under this section, shall on conviction before the Court of a Magistrate of the First Class be liable to a fine not exceeding $2,000, and, in the case of importation by water, the owner or master of the vessel in which the explosive is imported shall in the absence of reasonable excuse each be liable on conviction before such Court as aforesaid to a fine not exceeding $2,000.

(iii). The Conservator of the Port at every port within the State shall have and may exercise all the powers of a Magistrate of the First Class under this Enactment.

Power to make rules conferring powers of inspection, search, seizure, detention, or removal.

8. The Resident may, with the approval of the Resident-General, make rules consistent with this Enactment authorising any officer either by name or in virtue of his office :—

(a). To enter, inspect and examine any place, carriage, or vessel in which an explosive is being manufactured, possessed, used, sold, transported, or imported under a licence granted under this Enactment, or in which he has reason to believe that an explosive has been or is being manufactured, possessed, used, sold, transported, or imported in contravention of this Enactment or of the rules made thereunder ;

(b). To search for explosives therein ;

(c). To take samples of any explosive found therein on payment of the value thereof ; and (d). To seize, detain, remove, and, if necessary, destroy any explosive found therein.

Power to make rules for testing of explosives before importation.

9. The Resident may, with the approval of the Resident-General, make rules to regulate the tests to which various classes or any particular class of explosives may or shall be subjected before permission is granted to land the same in the State.

EXPLOSIVES.

10. Whenever there occurs in or about, or in connection with any place in which an explosive is manufactured, possessed, or used, or any carriage or vessel either conveying an explosive or on or from which an explosive is being loaded or unloaded, any accident by explosion or by fire attended with loss of human life or serious injury to person or property, or of a description usually attended with such loss or injury, the occupier of the place, or the master of the vessel, or the person in charge of the carriage, as the case may be, shall forthwith give notice thereof to the officer in charge of the nearest police station. Notice of accidents.
11. (i). Any Magistrate who is of opinion that an enquiry is necessary into the cause of any accident of the description mentioned in Section 10 may make such enquiry. Enquiry into accidents.
- (ii). Any Magistrate making an enquiry under this section shall, for the purposes of conducting the enquiry, have all the powers which he would have in holding an enquiry into an offence within his jurisdiction.
12. Any person found committing wilfully or negligently any act which tends to cause explosion or fire in or about any factory, magazine, hulk, vessel, store-house or shop containing explosives shall be liable, in addition to any other penalty to which he may be liable, to a fine not exceeding $500. Dangerous acts
13. Every offence under this Enactment may be summarily tried by a Magistrate. Every person guilty of any contravention or breach of the provisions of this Enactment or of any rule made thereunder for which no special penalty has been prescribed shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $100. Summary jurisdiction ; general penalty.
14. In case of a conviction under any section of this Enactment, or for breach of any rule thereunder, involving a fine, it shall be lawful for the Court inflicting such fine to direct on the application of the Police Officer in charge of the prosecution that any part, not exceeding one-half thereof, shall be paid to any person who has, or divided in such proportions as the Court may order amongst any persons who have, given such information to the police as has led to the conviction of the offender or offenders. Rewards to informers.
15. Whenever a person is convicted of an offence punishable under this Enactment, or the rules made thereunder, the Court before which he is convicted may direct that the explosive, or ingredient of the explosive, or the substance (if any) in respect of which the offence has been committed, or any part of that explosive, ingredient, or substance, shall, with the receptacles containing the same, be forfeited. Forfeiture of explosives.
16. Where the owner or master of a vessel is adjudged under this Enactment to pay a fine for an offence committed with or relating to that vessel, the Court may, in addition to any other power which it may have for the purpose of compelling payment of the fine, direct it to be levied by seizure and sale of the vessel and the tackle, apparel and furniture thereof, or so much thereof as is necessary. Seizure and sale of vessels.
17. Whoever abets the commission of an offence punishable under this Enactment, or the rules made thereunder, or attempts Abetment and attempt.

No. 6 OF 1904.

to commit any such offence, and in such attempt does any act towards the commission of the same, shall be liable to the same penalty as if he had committed the offence.

Power to arrest without warrant persons committing dangerous offences.

18. Whoever is found committing any act punishable under this Enactment, or the rules made thereunder, which tends to cause explosion or fire in or about any place where an explosive is manufactured or stored or any railway or port or any carriage or vessel may be arrested without a warrant by a Police Officer, or by the occupier of, or the agent or servant of, or other person authorised by the occupier of that place, or by an agent or servant of, or other person authorised by the Railway Administration or Conservator of the Port, and be removed from the place where he is arrested and conveyed as soon as conveniently may be before a Magistrate.

Saving for manufacture, possession, use, sale, transport, or importation by Government

19. Nothing in this Enactment shall apply to the manufacture, possession, use, sale, storage, transport, importation, or exportation of any explosive—

(a). By order of the Government; or

(b). By any person employed under the Government in the execution of this Enactment, or as a keeper of a magazine, artisan, soldier, sailor, police officer, or otherwise, or enrolled as a volunteer, in the course of his employment or duty as such.

Saving clause as to British vessels of war.

20. Nothing in this Enactment shall apply to any vessel-of-war of His Britannic Majesty.

Publication of rules.

21. No rule made under this Enactment shall take effect until it has been published in the Gazette.

Resident may authorise magazines or hulks.

22. It shall be lawful for the Resident to authorise the erection of such magazines, or the establishment of such hulks, as he may consider necessary for the storage of Government explosives, or for the storage or safe custody of explosives belonging to other persons, and to fix a scale of fees to be paid for the use of Government magazines or any portion thereof.

Fees.

23. The Resident may, with the approval of the Resident-General, from time to time make rules consistent with this Enactment to determine the fees to be charged under this Enactment and may direct by whom and in what manner the same are to be collected and accounted for.

Protection to officers.

24. (i). No action shall be brought against any person for anything done or bona fide intended to be done in the exercise or supposed exercise of the powers given by this Enactment or by any rules made thereunder—

(a). Without giving to such person one month's previous notice in writing of the intended action and of the cause thereof;

(b). After the expiration of three months from the date of the accrual of the cause of action;

(c). After tender of sufficient amends.

EXPLOSIVES.

(ii). In every action so brought it shall be expressly alleged that the defendant acted either maliciously or negligently and without reasonable or probable cause; and if at the trial the plaintiff shall fail to prove such allegation, judgment shall be given for the defendant.

(iii). Though judgment shall be given for the plaintiff in any such action, such plaintiff shall not have costs against the defendant unless the Magistrate before whom the action is tried shall certify his approbation of the action.

2. (i). Subject to the exceptions and provisions hereinafter contained, a pension may be granted to any member of the Police Force of the Federated Malay States (hereinafter called the Force) who has served continuously ten years and upwards, and who is certified by a qualified Medical Officer to be unfit for further service, at the rate of fifteen-sixtieths of the annual pay of his rank, provided that he has held the same rank for three years, but otherwise of the average of the annual salary of the appointments held by him for the three years immediately preceding his retirement, with an additional allowance of one-sixtieth in respect of each additional year of such service, until the completion of a period of thirty-five years, when the annual allowance of forty-sixtieths may be granted, and no addition shall be made in respect of service beyond thirty-five years. Any member of the Force shall, however, after fifteen years' service, become eligible for a pension of twenty-sixtieths of his annual pay, without being required to produce a medical certificate of unfitness for service, provided he shall have attained the age of forty-five years.

Computation of pensions, ten years' service and upwards.

(ii). All absence on leave with half salary, or intervals between successive periods of engagement during which half pay is drawn, will count as half time for pension purposes. No absence without salary will be taken into account as service in computing a pension.

Periods of absence.

No. 8 OF 1904.

Short service gratuities. (iii). Should the term of service be less than ten years, a gratuity may be granted at the rate of half a month's salary for each completed six months of service. A gratuity will be computed on the monthly pay of the member's rank at the time of retirement if he has held the same rank for three years, but otherwise on the average monthly pay of the appointments held by him for the three years immediately preceding retirement.

Limit of age. (iv). No member of the Force shall be entitled to a pension or gratuity in respect of any service under the age of eighteen years.

Compulsory retirement. (v). Where a member of the Force who is below the age at which he would become entitled under the provisions of Rule 2 (i) to retire on a pension is removed from the Force on the ground of his inability to efficiently discharge his duties and the Commissioner thinks that the special circumstances of his case justify the grant to him of a retiring allowance, he may be given such retiring allowance as the Commissioner thinks just and proper, subject to the approval of the Resident-General, but in no case exceeding the amount for which his length of service would qualify him under these rules.

Allowance for injuries received on duty. 3. (i). Where a member of the Force is permanently injured :—
 (a). In the actual discharge of his duty, and (b). Without his own default, and (c). By some injury specially attributable to the nature of his duty, an annual allowance may be granted to him in addition to any pension to which he may be entitled under these rules, such allowance not to exceed the under-mentioned portion of his salary and emoluments at the date of the injury :—

When his capacity to contribute to his support is—

Slightly impaired	...	...	...	Five-sixtieths
Impaired	...	...	...	Ten-sixtieths
Materially impaired	...	...	...	Fifteen-sixtieths
Totally destroyed	...	...	...	Twenty-sixtieths

Provided that no such allowance shall, together with the pension, exceed fifty-sixtieths of his salary and emoluments at the date of the injury.

Reduction of allowance. (ii). The allowance shall be reduced by such amount as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Resident-General, shall think reasonable in the following cases :—

(a). Where the injured man has continued to serve for not less than one year after the injury in respect of which he retires ;

(b). Where the injured man is forty years of age or upwards at the date of the injury ; or

(c). Where the injury is not the sole cause of retirement—i.e., the retirement is caused partly by age or infirmity.

POLICE FORCE (ASIATICS).

(iii). When the member of the Force so injured has less than ten years' service and is not entitled to an ordinary pension, he may receive, in lieu of a gratuity, an annual allowance of so many sixtieths as the years he has actually served in addition to the number of sixtieths that may be awarded to him under (i) and (ii). Annual allowance.

4. Any pension, gratuity, or other allowance may be paid in the Federated Malay States, or in any British possession: Payments made in British India shall be calculated at the rate of exchange to be fixed from time to time by the Resident-General; payments made in the United Kingdom or in any British Colony not having a dollar currency shall be calculated at the current bank rate of exchange on the day of payment. Places and rates of payments.

5. Full pensions or gratuities will be granted only when the candidate's conduct has been uniformly good. Good conduct essential for full pension.

6. When the candidate has been reduced for misconduct and subsequently reinstated, if the reinstatement took place three years before his retirement, his pension will be calculated on his actual salary without deduction; if within three years of the retirement, the pension will be calculated on the average salary for the three years. Computation in event of reduction.

7. If the candidate has been reduced for misconduct and has not been reinstated, his pension will be calculated on his actual salary at the time of his retirement, even though the reduction was within three years of the retirement; but no further reduction will be made unless in very exceptional circumstances, in which the misconduct has been very serious or the punishment inflicted inadequate. Where candidates are reinstated.

8. In cases in which the candidate's general conduct has been good, and the reduction may be viewed in the same light as a reprimand would be in other Departments of the service, the pension may be computed on the average salary of the last three years, although the reduction may have taken place within that time, and the candidate may not have been reinstated. Where general conduct good.

9. In cases when the candidate's conduct has been decidedly bad, no pension, commuted allowance, or gratuity shall be given. No pension in cases of bad conduct.

10. (i). A commuted allowance or gratuity in lieu of pension, not exceeding five times the amount of the annual pension, may be granted except in cases of retirement due to ill health, in cases in which the candidate is a settled resident out of India, the Colony, and the Malay Peninsula. Commuted allowance in lieu of pension.

(ii). In calculating the amount of any such commuted allowance or gratuity, there shall be taken into consideration any pension which may have been paid to the candidate prior to the grant of such commuted allowance or gratuity.

11. If any person receiving a pension under this Enactment should be appointed to fill any office in any public Department in the State, or in any other of the Federated Malay States, or in the Colony, India, or any other British possession, such pension shall cease to be paid during the period of such employment, if the annual amounts of the emoluments of the office to which he shall be appointed shall be equal Cases of appointment while receiving pension.

No. 8 of 1904.

to those of the office formerly held by him ; and in case they shall be equal to those of his former office, then no more of such pension shall be paid to him than, together with the salary of his new appointment, shall be equal to the emoluments of his former office.

Forfeiture of pension.

12. A pension or retiring allowance is granted only upon the condition that it becomes forfeited and may be withdrawn by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Resident-General, in any of the following cases:—

(a). On the conviction of the grantee, before any Court of law in the dominions of His Britannic Majesty or in the Federated Malay States, of any offence for which he is sentenced to death, or penal servitude, or rigorous imprisonment for one year or more, unless within twelve months after such conviction he receives a free pardon ;

(b). On his knowingly associating with thieves or suspicious persons ;

(c). On his refusing to give information and assistance to the police, whenever in his power, for the detection and apprehension of criminals, and for the suppression of any disturbance of the public peace ;

(d). If he enter into, or continue to carry on, any business, occupation, or employment which shall be, in the opinion of the Commissioner, disgraceful in itself or injurious to the public, or in which he shall make use of the fact of his former employment in the police in a manner which the Commissioner considers to be discreditable or improper.

The following Notifications are, by Command of the Acting Governor, published for general information.

GRANT OF EXCLUSIVE PRIVILEGES SANCTIONED UNDER THE INVENTIONS ORDER IN COUNCIL, NO. 2 OF 1896.

No. 476.—Whereas Gustave Louis Mouchel, Engineer, of 38, Victoria Street, London, England, has presented to His Highness Idris Mersid-el-Aázam Shah, G.C.M.G., Sultan of Perak, a petition, No. 5 of 1902, praying for a grant of exclusive privileges in inventions, under Order in Council No. 2 of 1896, for an invention for improvements in and relating to piles, columns and analogous structures, and has filed a specification, No. 4 of 1902, and done all things under the said Order in Council to entitle him to a Grant of Exclusive Privileges in respect of the said invention:

It is hereby ordered that the said Gustave Louis Mouchel, his heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, shall have the exclusive privilege of making, selling and using the said invention in the said specification described, in the State of Perak, for the term of fourteen years from the 9th day of March, 1900, in terms of and subject to the provisions of the Inventions Order in Council, 1896.

13th April, 1904.

MEDICAL EXAMINATION OF EMIGRANTS IN INDIA.

No. 477.—The following instructions for Medical Officers examining intending emigrants for the Straits Settlements and Federated Malay States have received the approval of the Surgeon-General with the Madras Government, and are printed for general information:—

1. The emigrant should be free from contagious disease in a fit state of health to undertake a sea voyage and thereafter to perform 600 days field labour.

2. Age.—The emigrant should be between the ages of 16 and 45.

3. Caste and Occupation.—Fakirs, Brahmins and Beggars should be rejected.

4. Hernia, Etc.—Cases of hernia, hydrocele and enlarged testicle should be rejected.

5. Eye.—Cases of ophthalmia or of diseased eyelids, cataract, double or single, and of spots on the cornea should be rejected.

6. Stature.—Short stature or slimness is not an objection if the emigrant be wiry and strong and able to handle agricultural implements well.

7. Leprosy, Epilepsy.—Any signs of leprosy, epilepsy, insanity, varicose veins in any part of the body, ulcers on legs or feet and syphilis in any form are sufficient to justify rejection.

8. Minors.—Minors whether male or female under 16 years of age cannot emigrate except when accompanying their parents and must therefore be rejected.

9. Single Women.—Single women who are pregnant or with infant in arms should not be accepted.

10. Anæmia, Fever.—Intending emigrants suffering from anæmia or malarial fever should not be accepted.

11. Labourers are required not only for heavy and trying labour, e.g., labour on sugar estates, railway and road construction, but also for lighter labour, e.g., coconut or coffee estates, or under less trying conditions, e.g., light labour on a sugar estate. Emigrants fit only for light work may be accepted if otherwise healthy.

12. The Medical Officer should understand that while no candidate should be passed unless there is a reasonable certainty that they will be able to perform their contracts, it is on the other hand most desirable that no men should be rejected about whom such reasonable certainty exists.

18th April, 1904.

SCALE OF HOSPITAL CHARGES AND RULES FOR THE ADMISSION OF PATIENTS TO HOSPITAL.

No. 478.—The following revised scale of Hospital Charges and Rules for the admission of patients to Government Hospitals is published for general information and takes the place of all existing Rules on the subject:—

CHARGES FOR GOVERNMENT OFFICERS AND SERVANTS.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Salary $25 a month and under... | Free |
| Do. above $25 a month | ... 1 per cent on monthly salary including Exchange Compensation Allowance (if any) with a maximum charge of $3 per diem |
| For a separate room, if available and occupied at the patient's special request... | ... $5 per diem. |

The family (wife or children) of a Government Officer, on admission to Hospital, will be charged according to the above scale, the charge being regulated by the salary of the husband or father, as the case may be. Children under twelve years half rates.

All Officers and servants of the Medical Department to be treated free.

CHARGES FOR GENERAL PUBLIC.

	$	c.
2. For a separate room (if available and occupied at the patient's special request)	8	00 per diem
First Class Ward	5	00 do.
Second do.	2	50 do.
Third do.	1	00 do.
Native Ward	30	do.
Statute Immigrants and Coolies		Free

RULES REGARDING ADMISSIONS TO GOVERNMENT HOSPITALS.

3. (i). Patients admitted to Hospital will as far as possible be located in the wards according to nationality, but in all cases the decision as to the ward to which a patient is to be admitted will be decided by the Surgeon in charge.

(ii). It will be necessary for all patients seeking admission to a Government Hospital to produce an order under the following heads:—

(a). Seamen and Officers from Ships:—From Agents of Ships, Commanders of Vessels, or the Officer in charge of the Port.

(b). Police Cases:—From any District Inspector of Police for all cases sent to hospital by them on account of accident, etc.

(c). Police Constables, Warders and all Government employés:—From the Officer under whom they are employed, who must specify the salary they draw.

(d). Domestic Servants:—From their employers, guaranteeing payment.

(e). Europeans or Eurasians in distressed circumstances and unable to pay hospital charges:—From the Deputy Commissioner of Police or any District Inspector of Police; the order bearing a certificate to the effect that the person is in destitute circumstances.

(f). Foreigners, not Seamen:—From the Secretary to Resident, or in the out-stations, from the District Officer.

(iii). Private individuals seeking admission must furnish the hospital authorities with a satisfactory reference, from their employer or other responsible person, for the payment of their hospital bills, or make a deposit to cover at least fourteen days' charges; the balance to credit of any patient, if he be discharged before the fourteen days, will be refunded. Should, however, it be necessary for him to remain longer in hospital he must make a fresh deposit, or if unable to do so a fresh order for his admission from the Deputy Commissioner of Police or a District Inspector of Police must be applied for by the patient himself or by the District Surgeon or Apothecary in charge as in paragraph 3 (ii) (e).

(iv). Native paupers are on no account to be admitted to the First, Second or Third Class Wards.

(v). Hospital fees include diets, extra diets, or medical comforts ordered by the Surgeon.

(vi). The fees for treatment in all Wards include all professional attendance.

N.B.—Nothing in these Rules is to be taken as preventing those on duty in the hospital from at once admitting any case requiring immediate treatment.

COLLECTION OF FEES.

4. (i). In the case of Government servants, bills must be sent in on the day of discharge of the patient from hospital to the Head of Department, and in the out-stations to the District Officer or local Head of Department in which the Government servant may be employed. The Head of Department or District Officer concerned will be responsible for the payment of the bill.

(ii). In the case of private individuals, bills must be made out at the end of each month and sent to the employer or other responsible person from whom a reference has been produced for payment of hospital fees, with a request that settlement be made within seven days; or when a deposit has been made, the amount of the bill should be deducted therefrom, and the balance be refunded when the patient is discharged.

20th April, 1904.

RENT ON GOVERNMENT QUARTERS.

No. 479.—The following Rules for charging and collecting rent on Government quarters have been approved by the Resident-General and will take effect from 1st April, 1904, and until further notice.

1. All Government quarters on which rent is chargeable are to be divided into the following classes and the rents specified will be charged for such quarters :—

Class.			Approximate Cost.			Rent per Mensen to Officers drawing sterling pay.			Rent per Mensen to Officers drawing dollar pay.
			$			£	s.	d.	$	c.
I	...	...	10,000	and upwards	...	7	0	0	70	00
II	...	...	7,500	and up to $10,000	...	5	5	0	52	00

VIII	...	...	900	„ 1,500	...	...	...	...	7	00
IX	...	...	Under $900	...	...	...	...	...	3	00

2. Quarters will be classified according to actual cost in the case of those built of “permanent material,” but in the case of those constructed of “non-permanent material” the cost will be assessed at a higher rate than the initial cost, the expenditure on maintenance of such buildings being much larger than that necessary in regard to the former.

3. As a general rule quarters will be allotted as near as may be on the following lines:—

Officers drawing salaries of or equal to—

£					Class.
900	per annum or over	...	...	...	I
660	„ and up to £900	...	...	...	II

120	„ „ 200	} ... Classes VI and VII
And Senior Clerks	...
Junior Clerks...	...	...	...	„	VIII and IX

4. For the purposes of Rule 3 the salaries of Officers drawing dollar salaries will be calculated at the rate of 2s. to the dollar.

5. The allotment of Government quarters will be made by the State Engineer in each State, subject to the instructions of the Resident, and; in the case of Federal quarters; of the Federal Secretary.

6. The Government reserves to itself the right to allot available quarters to Officers in such manner as it considers will tend most to the good of the service.

7. No Officer is compelled to rent Government quarters, but any Officer who wishes to do so may apply to the State Engineer who will allot quarters to him if available.

8. Every Officer occupying Government quarters, for any portion of any month from the 1st to the 8th, or from the 9th to the 15th, or from the 16th to the 23rd, or from the 24th to the end of the month, inclusive of the days specified, shall pay one quarter of a month's rent in respect of each such period.

15th April, 1904.

DESPATCH FROM THE RIGHT HONOURABLE THE SECRETARY OF STATE.

No. 483.—(Circular).

DOWNING STREET,

8th March, 1904.

SIR,

With reference to my Circular despatch of the 12th ultimo respecting the Rules for the observance of the duties of Neutrality to be in force during the existing state of war between Russia and Japan, I have the honour to transmit to you, for the information of your Government and for such publication as may be thought desirable, a copy of a Gazette notice giving the text of a telegram from his Majesty's Minister at Tokio relating to a Notification issued by the Japanese Government on the 10th ultimo, respecting the articles regarded by that Government as Contraband of War, and the establishment of a Prize Court at Sasebo.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient, humble Servant,

ALFRED LYTTETON.

THE OFFICER ADMINISTERING

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE

STRAITS SETTLEMENTS.

[Enclosure to Circular dated 8th March, 1904.]

EXTRACT FROM THE "LONDON GAZETTE," DATED FRIDAY,
FEBRUARY 19TH, 1904.

FOREIGN OFFICE,

February 19th, 1904.

His Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs has received the following telegram from Sir Claude MacDonald, His Majesty's Minister at Tokyo, in reply to enquiries addressed to him respecting the intentions of the Japanese Government in regard to Contraband of War and the establishment of Prize Courts:—

" Notification published 10th February, Contraband of War divided into two classes :—

First Class.—Military weapons, ammunition, explosives, and materials, including lead, saltpetre, sulphur, etc., and machinery for making them, uniforms, naval and military, military accoutrements, armour plated machinery, and materials for construction or equipment of ships of war, and all other goods which, though not coming under this list, are intended solely for use in war. Above-mentioned articles will be regarded as Contraband of War when passing through or destined for enemy's army, navy or territory.

Second Class.—Provisions, drinks, horses, harness, fodder, vehicles, coal, timber, coins, gold and silver bullion, and materials for construction of telegraphs, telephones, railways. Above-mentioned articles will be regarded as Contraband of War when destined for enemy's army or navy, or in such cases where, being goods arriving at enemy's territory, there is reason to believe they are intended for use of enemy's army or navy. Exception has been made as regards articles manifestly intended for use of vessel carrying them.

" A Prize Court has been established at Sasebo with appeal to Tokyo."

—	—	—	Russia. Rules to be observed during the War with Japan.

RUSSIA.

(Translation.)

An Order of His Majesty the Emperor, communicated to the Senate by the Minister of Justice, approving the Rules which the Imperial Government will enforce during the war with Japan.

His Majesty the Emperor was graciously pleased, on the 14th February, 1904, to write in his own hand upon the original, "Let it be so."

RULES WHICH THE IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT WILL ENFORCE DURING THE WAR WITH JAPAN.

1. Japanese subjects are authorised to continue, under the protection of Russian law, to reside and to follow peaceful callings in the Russian Empire, except in the territories forming part of the Imperial Lieutenancy in the Far East.

2. Japanese merchant vessels which, at the time of the declaration of war, happened to be in Russian ports and harbours, are authorised to remain there before putting to sea with cargoes not being articles contraband of war, for such period as may be necessary in proportion to their loading requirements, but which shall in no case exceed 48 hours, counting from the moment that the present declaration is published by the local authorities.

3. Subjects of neutral States may continue without hindrance their commercial relations with Russian ports and towns, provided that they conform to the laws of the Empire, and to the principles of the law of nations.

4. The military authorities are bound to take all necessary measures to secure freedom for the lawful trade of neutrals so far as is compatible with warlike operations.

5. The following Rules are to be observed with regard to neutral commerce :—

(i). The neutral flag covers enemy's goods, with the exception of contraband of war.

(ii). Neutral goods, with the exception of contraband of war, may not be seized under the enemy's flag.

(iii). Blockade, in order to be binding, must be effective, that is to say, it must be maintained by a force really sufficient to prevent access to the enemy's coast.

6. The following articles are deemed to be contraband of war :—

(i). Small arms of every kind, and guns, mounted or in sections, as well as armour-plates.

(ii). Ammunition for fire-arms, such as projectiles, shell-fuses, bullets, priming, cartridges, cartridge-cases, powder, saltpetre, sulphur.

(iii). Explosives and materials for causing explosions, such as torpedoes, dynamite, pyroxyline, various explosive substances, wire conductors, and everything used to explode mines and torpedoes.

(iv). Artillery engineering and camp equipment, such as gun carriages, ammunition waggons, boxes or packages of cartridges, field kitchens and forges, instrument waggons, pontoons, bridge trestles, barbed wire, harness, etc.

(v). Articles of military equipment and clothing such as bandoliers, cartridge boxes, knapsacks, straps, cuirasses, entrenching tools, drums, pots and pans, saddles, harness, completed parts of military uniforms, tents, etc.

(vi). Vessels bound for an enemy's port, even if under a neutral commercial flag, if it is apparent from their construction, interior fittings, and other indications that they have been built for warlike purposes, and are proceeding to an enemy's port in order to be sold or handed over to the enemy.

(vii). Boilers and every kind of naval machinery, mounted or unmounted.

(viii). Every kind of fuel, such as coal, naphtha, alcohol, and other similar materials.

(ix). Articles and material for the installation of telegraphs, telephones, or for the construction of railroads.

(x). Generally, everything intended for warfare by sea or land, as well as rice, provisions and horses, beasts of burden and others which may be used for a warlike purpose, if they are transported on the account of or are destined for the enemy.

7. The following acts, forbidden to neutrals, are assimilated to contraband of war. The transport of the enemy's troops, of his despatches and correspondence, the supply of transports and war-ships to the enemy. Neutral vessels captured in the act of carrying contraband of this nature may, according to circumstances, be seized, and even confiscated.

8. The Imperial Government reserves to itself the right to depart from the above-mentioned Regulations in regard to an enemy or neutral State which, on its side, does not observe them, as well as to take the necessary measures in accordance with the special circumstances of each specific case.

9. The detailed Regulations which the military authorities are bound to observe during naval warfare are set forth in the "Règlement" relating to prizes sanctioned by His Majesty the Emperor on the 27th March, 1895, as well as in the special instructions approved by the Admiralty Council on the 20th September, 1900, relating to stoppage, visit, capture, transport, and delivery of captured vessels and goods.

10. In addition, the military authorities are bound to conform to the following International Agreements signed by Russia:—

(i). The Geneva Convention of the 10th (22nd) August, 1864, for the amelioration of the condition of the wounded in time of war.

(ii). The Declaration of St. Petersburg of the 29th November (11th December), 1868, respecting the prohibition of the use of explosive projectiles.

(iii). Agreement signed at the International Peace Conference at The Hague, the 17th (29th) July, 1899, and ratified by His Majesty the Emperor the 6th May, 1900.

(a). Convention with respect to the laws and customs of war by land.

(b). Convention for adapting to maritime warfare the principles of the Geneva Convention of the 10th (22nd) August, 1864.

(c). Declaration relating to the prohibition of the use, for a period of five years, of projectiles and explosives dropped from balloons or by means of other similar new methods.

(d). Declaration relating to the prohibition of the use of projectiles which are only intended to spread asphyxiating or noxious fumes.

(e). Declaration relative to the prohibition of the use of bullets which expand or flatten easily in the human body, such as bullets with hard casing, of which the casing does not entirely cover the core, or is provided with notches.

No. 600.—A Hongkong Ordinance to provide for the surrender of Fugitive Criminals from the Federated Malay States is published for general information.

HONGKONG.

No. 4 OF 1903.

AS AMENDED BY ORDINANCE No. 8 OF 1903.

An Ordinance to provide for the Surrender of Fugitive Criminals from the Territory of each of the Malay States—Perak, Selangor, Pahang and Negri Sembilan.

[3rd March, 1903.]

HENRY A. BLAKE,

Governor.

Preamble.

WHEREAS persons who have committed certain crimes or offences within the Territory of either of the Malay States—Perak, Selangor, Pahang or Negri Sembilan—may escape to the Colony and it is expedient to provide for the apprehension of such fugitive criminals from justice and for their surrender to the Government of such States, respectively, in order that they may be dealt with according to law: Be it enacted by the Governor of Hongkong, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows :—

Short title.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as The Malay States (Fugitive Criminals) Surrender Ordinance, 1903.

Interpretation.

2. In the interpretation of this Ordinance and the schedules thereto, the following expressions shall, unless repugnant to or inconsistent with the context, have the meaning hereinafter assigned to them, viz :—

MALAY STATES (FUGITIVE CRIMINALS) SURRENDER.

"Surrender crime" means any crime or offence which if committed in the Colony would be one of the crimes or offences mentioned in the First Schedule hereto.

"Fugitive criminal" means any person accused or convicted of a surrender crime committed within the jurisdiction of either of the Malay States—Perak, Selangor, Pahang or Negri Sembilan—who is or is suspected of being in the Colony of Hongkong.

"British Resident" means any person for the time being lawfully discharging the duties of the office of British Resident.

The surrender crimes mentioned in the First Schedule to this Ordinance shall be construed according to the law in force in the Colony at the date of the alleged surrender crime.

Provided always that the Governor in Council may from time to time by order to be published in the Gazette declare that any crime or offence specified in such order and not included in the First Schedule hereto shall form part thereof, and from and after the date of the publication of such order the crime or offence specified therein shall come within the operation of this Ordinance as if the same had been originally included in the said schedule, and further that the Governor in Council may at any time by order to be published in the Gazette declare that any crime or offence specified in the First Schedule hereto or which may hereafter be added to the said schedule as hereinbefore provided shall no longer form part thereof and from and after the date of the publication of such order such crime or offence shall cease to come within the operation of this Ordinance.

Power to add or expunge from the schedule of crimes and offences.

3. The following restrictions shall be observed with respect to the surrender of fugitive criminals:—

Restrictions on surrender.

(i). A fugitive criminal shall not be surrendered if the crime or offence in respect of which his surrender is demanded is one of a political character or if he prove to the satisfaction of the Magistrate, or of a Judge of the Supreme Court, if brought before the Court on a writ of habeas corpus, or of the Governor, that the requisition for his surrender has in fact been made with a view to try or punish him for a crime or offence of a political character or for a crime or offence which is not a surrender crime.

(ii). A fugitive criminal, who has been accused of a crime or offence in Hongkong not being the surrender crime for which his surrender is demanded, or who is undergoing sentence under any conviction in the Colony, shall not be surrendered until after he has been discharged whether by acquittal or on expiration of his sentence or otherwise.

4. Every fugitive criminal shall be liable to be apprehended and surrendered in manner provided by this Ordinance, whether the surrender crime in respect of which the surrender is demanded was committed before or after the passing of this Ordinance, and whether there is or is not any concurrent jurisdiction in any Court in the Colony over that crime.

Liability to be surrendered.

MALAY STATES (FUGITIVE CRIMINALS) SURRENDER.

Requisition to the Governor may be followed by order to Magistrate for warrant of apprehension.

5. Whenever the requisition for the surrender of a fugitive criminal is made to the Governor of Hongkong by the British Resident in Perak, Selangor, Negri Sembilan or Pahang, the Governor may, by order under his hand and seal, signify to a Magistrate that such requisition has been made, and require him to issue his warrant for the apprehension of the fugitive criminal.

Duties of a Magistrate upon receipt of such order.

6. A Magistrate, on receipt of the said order, shall issue his warrant for the apprehension of the fugitive criminal, or, if the fugitive criminal be already in custody, shall issue his order to all necessary persons to bring the fugitive criminal before him to be dealt with according to this Ordinance.

Magistrate may also issue warrant as in ordinary cases.

7. A Magistrate may also issue his warrant for the apprehension of a fugitive criminal on such information or complaint as would, in his opinion, justify the issue of a warrant if the alleged surrender crime had been committed in the Colony.

A fugitive criminal apprehended on a warrant so issued shall be discharged by the Magistrate, unless the Magistrate within such time as, with reference to the circumstances of the case, he shall think reasonable, receives from the Governor an order signifying that a requisition has been made for the surrender of such fugitive criminal.

Hearing of the case and evidence of crime being political.

8. When a fugitive criminal is brought before a Magistrate, he shall hear the case in the same manner, and have the same jurisdiction and powers, as nearly as may be, as if the prisoner were brought before him charged with an indictable offence committed in the Colony.

Provided always that—

Evidence in case of person accused.

(i). Copies of depositions signed or taken before any Judge or other competent Magistrate having authority in Perak, Selangor, Pahang or Negri Sembilan, as the case may be, to take cognizance of the crime charged, and authenticated in manner hereinafter provided, may be received in evidence of the criminality of such fugitive criminal.

Evidence in case of a person convicted.

(ii). In the case of a person convicted in Perak, Selangor, Pahang or Negri Sembilan of a surrender crime, a copy of the conviction, authenticated in manner hereinafter provided, may be received in evidence and shall, where the Magistrate is satisfied that such person is, according to the law of Perak, Selangor, Pahang or Negri Sembilan, as the case may be, unlawfully at large, justify such Magistrate in committing such person to Victoria Gaol to await the further order of the Governor without re-opening the case.

Proof of identity.

(iii). In every case proof of the identity of the fugitive criminal must be given to the satisfaction of the Magistrate.

Authentication of documents.

(iv). Warrants of arrest and copies of depositions signed or taken before any such Judge or other competent Magistrate as aforesaid, and copies of convictions shall be received in evidence, if the warrant of arrest purports to be signed by such Judge or Magistrate, and if the copies of depositions purport to be certified under the hand of such Judge or Magistrate to be true copies of the original depositions, and if the copy of the conviction purport to be certified under the hand and official seal of the British Resident in Perak, Selangor, Negri Sembilan or Pahang to be a true copy of the original conviction. The signature of every such Judge or Magistrate and his authority to take cognizance of the crime or offence charged shall be sufficiently proved if the document purport to be sealed with the official seal of the British Resident in Perak, Selangor, Negri Sembilan or Pahang, and all Courts of Justice in this Colony shall, for the purpose of this Ordinance, take judicial notice of such seal, and shall admit the documents so authenticated by it to be received in evidence without further proof.

(v). The warrant of arrest and the copy of the depositions, or, as the case may be, the copy of the conviction, shall be read to the fugitive criminal, if he so desire, and he shall be asked if he has any valid cause to shew why he should not be committed to gaol to await the order of the Governor.

Documents to be read to the fugitive, who must be asked to shew cause.

The Magistrate shall receive any evidence which may be tendered to shew that the crime or offence of which the fugitive criminal is accused, is a crime or offence of a political character, or is not a surrender crime.

Evidence of crime being political.

9. If at the hearing before a Magistrate such evidence is produced as would, subject to the provisions of this Ordinance, justify the committal of the fugitive criminal for trial at the Supreme Court if the surrender crime of which he is accused had been committed in the Colony, and in cases of conviction provided for by Section 8, Sub-section (ii) of this Ordinance, the Magistrate shall commit him to Victoria Gaol to await the further order of the Governor but otherwise shall order him to be discharged.

Committal to prison.

If the Magistrate commits the fugitive criminal to Victoria Gaol, he shall thereupon inform the fugitive criminal that he will not be surrendered until after the expiration of fifteen days from the date of such committal and that he has a right to apply to the Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus, and such Magistrate shall forthwith send to the Governor the depositions and other evidence in the case together with a report thereon.

10. Before ordering a fugitive criminal to be discharged the Magistrate shall cause notice of his intention to make such order to be served on the Crown Solicitor.

Notice to Crown Solicitor before discharge.

11. Ordinance 10 of 1899 or any Ordinance amending or substituted for the same so far as it relates to appeals from the decisions of Magistrates shall not apply to proceedings under this Ordinance.

Ordinance 10 of 1899 not to apply.

12: (i). Upon the expiration of fifteen days from the date of the Magistrate's order of committal or if a writ of habeas corpus has been issued and if upon the return to the writ the Supreme Court has not discharged the fugitive criminal, immediately after the decision of the Court, or after such further period in either case as the Governor may allow, the Governor may, by warrant under his hand and seal, order the fugitive criminal to be surrendered to such person as the Governor considers to be authorised to receive him on behalf of the authorities of Perak, Selangor, Pahang or Negri Sembilan, as the case may be, and the fugitive criminal shall be surrendered accordingly.

Warrant of surrender when to be signed.

MALAY STATES (FUGITIVE CRIMINALS) SURRENDER.

(ii). If the fugitive criminal while in the Colony escapes out of any custody into which he has been delivered in pursuance of a Magistrate's warrant as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for any Police Officer or Constable to take him without warrant and to restore him to the custody from which he has escaped, and for the person from whose custody the fugitive criminal has escaped to retake him or receive him from such Police Officer or Constable and to hold him at all times as upon the original warrant.

Discharge of fugitive criminal.

13. Except where any proceedings are actually pending upon a writ of habeas corpus before the Supreme Court, and in such case with the concurrence in writing of the Judge having cognizance thereof, the Governor may at any time by order under his hand and seal discharge a fugitive criminal from custody.

Discharge if not surrendered within two months or on application after decision upon habeas corpus to a Judge upon notice to the Crown.

14. If a fugitive criminal who has been committed to prison under this Ordinance to await the order of the Governor is not surrendered and conveyed out of the Colony within two months after such committal or within two months after the determination of any proceedings upon a writ of habeas corpus, as the case may be, any Judge of the Supreme Court may, upon application made to him by or on behalf of the fugitive criminal and upon proof that reasonable notice of the intention to make such application has been given to the Crown Solicitor, order the fugitive criminal to be discharged out of custody unless sufficient cause is shewn to the contrary.

Aiders and abettors in extradition crimes.

15. Every person who is accused or convicted of having counselled, procured, commanded, aided or abetted the commission of any surrender crime or of being accessory before the fact to any surrender crime shall be deemed for the purposes of this Ordinance to be accused or convicted of having committed such crime and shall be liable to be apprehended and surrendered accordingly.

Protection of Magistrate and others acting under warrant.

16. If any suit or action be brought against a Magistrate, Superintendent of the Victoria Gaol, Gaoler, Police Officer, Constable or any other person for anything done under or in obedience to any warrant or order issued under the provisions of this Ordinance, the proof of such warrant or order shall be a sufficient answer to such suit or action, and the defendant on such proof as aforesaid shall be entitled to a verdict or judgment accordingly and shall also be entitled to all costs of suit.

Forms.

17. The forms in the Second Schedule hereto or forms to the like effect with such variations and additions as circumstances require may be used for the purposes therein indicated and according to the directions therein contained and instruments in these forms shall (as regards the form thereof) be valid and sufficient.

No. 601.—A Ceylon Ordinance to provide for the Surrender of Fugitive Criminals from the Federated Malay States is published for general information.

ORDINANCE ENACTED BY THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR OF CEYLON, WITH THE ADVICE AND CONSENT OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL THEREOF.

No. 11 OF 1903.

An Ordinance to provide for the Surrender of Fugitive Criminals from the Federated Malay States.

EVERARD IM THURN.

Preamble.

WHEREAS persons who have committed certain crimes or offences within the Federated Malay States may escape to this Island, and it is expedient to provide for the apprehension of such fugitive criminals from justice, and for their surrender to the Government of the Federated Malay States in order that they may be dealt with according to law: Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of Ceylon, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as “The Federated Malay States (Fugitive Criminals) Ordinance, 1903.”

MALAY STATES (FUGITIVE CRIMINALS) SURRENDER.

2. In the interpretation of this Ordinance and the schedules thereto the following expressions shall, unless repugnant to or inconsistent with the context, have the meaning hereinafter assigned to them, viz.:

Interpretation.

"British Resident" means any person for the time being lawfully discharging the duties of the office of British Resident in Perak, or Selangor, or Pahang, or Negri Sembilan.

"Federated Malay States" means the States of Perak, Selangor, Pahang and Negri Sembilan.

"Surrender offence" means any offence which if committed in Ceylon would be one of the offences mentioned in the First Schedule hereto.

"Fugitive criminal" means any person accused or convicted of a surrender offence committed within the jurisdiction of the Federated Malay States, who is or is suspected of being in Ceylon.

The surrender offences mentioned in the First Schedule to this Ordinance shall be construed according to the law in force in Ceylon at the date of the alleged surrender offence.

Provided always that the Governor in Council may from time to time, by order to be published in the Government Gazette, declare that any offence specified in such order and not included in the First Schedule hereto shall form part thereof, and from and after the date of the publication of such order the offence specified therein shall come within the operation of this Ordinance as if the same had been originally included in the said schedule; and further that the Governor in Council may at any time, by order to be published in the Government Gazette, declare that any offence specified in the First Schedule hereto, or which may hereafter be added to the said schedule as hereinbefore provided, shall no longer form part thereof, and from and after the date of the publication of such order such offence shall cease to come within the operation of this Ordinance.

Power to add or expunge from the schedule of offences.

3. The following restrictions shall be observed with respect to the surrender of fugitive criminals:

Restrictions on surrender.

(i). A fugitive criminal shall not be surrendered if the offence in respect of which his surrender is demanded is one of a political character, or if he prove to the satisfaction of the Police Magistrate or of a Judge of the Supreme Court, if brought before the Court on a writ of habeas corpus, or of the Governor, that the requisition for his surrender has in fact been made with a view to try or punish him for a crime or offence of a political character, or for a crime or offence which is not a surrender offence.

(ii). A fugitive criminal who has been accused of a crime or offence in Ceylon not being the surrender offence for which his surrender is demanded, or who is undergoing sentence under any conviction in the Island, shall not be surrendered until after he has been discharged, whether by acquittal or on expiration of his sentence or otherwise.

4. Every fugitive criminal shall be liable to be apprehended and surrendered in manner provided by this Ordinance, whether the surrender offence in respect of which the surrender is demanded was committed before or after the passing of this Ordinance, and whether there is or is not any concurrent jurisdiction in any Court in Ceylon over that crime.

Liability to be surrendered.

MALAY STATES (FUGITIVE CRIMINALS) SURRENDER.

Requisition to the Governor may be followed by the order to Magistrate for warrant of apprehension.

5. Whenever the requisition for the surrender of a fugitive criminal is made to the Governor by a British Resident, the Governor may, by order under his hand and seal, signify to a Police Magistrate that such requisition has been made, and require him to issue his warrant for the apprehension of the fugitive criminal.

Duties of a Magistrate upon receipt of such order.

6. A Police Magistrate, on receipt of the said order, shall issue his warrant for the apprehension of the fugitive criminal, or, if the fugitive criminal be already in custody, shall issue his order to all necessary persons to bring the fugitive criminal before him to be dealt with according to this Ordinance.

Magistrate may also issue warrant as in ordinary cases.

7. A Police Magistrate may also issue his warrant for the apprehension of a fugitive criminal on such information or complaint as would, in his opinion, justify the issue of a warrant if the alleged surrendered offence had been committed in Ceylon.

A fugitive criminal apprehended on a warrant so issued shall be discharged by the Police Magistrate, unless the Police Magistrate, within such time as, with reference to the circumstances of the case, he shall think reasonable, receives from the Governor an order signifying that a requisition has been made for the surrender of such fugitive criminal.

Hearing of the case and evidence of offence being political.

8. When a fugitive criminal is brought before a Police Magistrate, he shall hear the case in the same manner, and have the same jurisdiction and powers, as nearly as may be, as if the prisoner were brought before him charged with an indictable offence committed in Ceylon.

Evidence in case of person accused.

Provided always that —

(i). Copies of depositions signed or taken before any Judge or other competent Magistrate having authority in the Federated Malay States to take cognizance of the crime charged, and authenticated in manner hereinafter provided, may be received in evidence of criminality of such fugitive criminal.

Evidence in case of a person convicted.

(ii). In the case of a person convicted in any of the Federated Malay States of a surrender offence a copy of the conviction, authenticated in manner hereinafter provided, may be received in evidence, and shall, where the Police Magistrate is satisfied that such person is according to the law of that State unlawfully at large, justify such Police Magistrate in committing such person to prison to await the further order of the Governor without re-opening the case.

Proof of identity.

(iii). In every case proof of the identity of the fugitive criminal must be given to the satisfaction of the Police Magistrate.

Authentication of documents.

(iv). Warrants of arrest and copies of depositions, signed or taken before any such Judge or other competent Magistrate as aforesaid, and copies of convictions shall be received in evidence, if the warrant of arrest purports to be signed by such Judge or Magistrate, and if the copies of depositions purport to be certified under the hand of such

MALAY STATES (FUGITIVE CRIMINALS) SURRENDER.

Judge or Magistrate to be true copies of the original depositions, and if the copy of the conviction purport to be certified under the hand and official seal of a British Resident to be a true copy of the original conviction. The signature of every such Judge or Magistrate and his authority to take cognizance of the crime or offence charged shall be sufficiently proved if the document purport to be sealed with the official seal of a British Resident, and all Courts of Justice in this Colony shall for the purpose of this Ordinance take judicial notice of such seal, and shall admit the documents so authenticated by it to be received in evidence without further proof.

(v). The warrant of arrest and the copy of the depositions, or, as the case may be, the copy of the conviction, shall be read to the fugitive criminal, if he so desires, and he shall be asked if he has any valid cause to shew why he should not be committed to prison to await the order of the Governor.

Documents to be read to the fugitive, who must be asked to shew cause.

The Police Magistrate shall receive any evidence which may be tendered to shew that the offence of which the fugitive criminal is accused is an offence of a political character or is not a surrender offence.

Evidence of offence being political.

9. If at the hearing before a Police Magistrate such evidence is produced as would, subject to the provisions of this Ordinance, justify the committal of the fugitive criminal for trial at the District or the Supreme Court if the surrender offence of which he is accused had been committed in Ceylon, and in cases of conviction provided for by Section 8, Sub-section (ii), of this Ordinance the Police Magistrate shall commit him to prison to await the further order of the Governor, but otherwise shall order him to be discharged.

Committal to prison.

If the Police Magistrate commits the fugitive criminal to prison, he shall thereupon inform the fugitive criminal that he will not be surrendered until after the expiration of 15 days from the date of such committal, and that he has a right to apply to the Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus, and such Police Magistrate shall forthwith send to the Governor the depositions and other evidence in the case, together with a report thereon.

10. Before ordering a fugitive criminal to be discharged the Police Magistrate shall cause notice of his intention to make such order to be served on the Attorney-General.

Notice to Attorney-General before discharge.

11 The provisions of "The Criminal Procedure Code, 1898," so far as they relate to appeals from the decisions of Police Magistrates, shall not apply to proceedings under this Ordinance.

Non-application of provisions of Criminal Procedure Code relating to appeals from Police Magistrates.

12. (i). Upon the expiration of 15 days from the date of the Police Magistrate's order of committal or if a writ of habeas corpus has been issued, and if upon the return to the writ the Supreme Court has not discharged the fugitive criminal, immediately after the decision of the Court, or after such further period in either case as the Governor may allow, the Governor may, by warrant under his hand and seal, order the fugitive criminal to be surrendered to such person as the Governor considers to be authorised to receive him on behalf of the Government of the State requiring his surrender, and the fugitive criminal shall be surrendered accordingly.

Warrant of surrender when to be signed.

MALAY STATES (FUGITIVE CRIMINALS) SURRENDER.

(ii). If the fugitive criminal while in Ceylon escapes out of any custody into which he has been delivered in pursuance of a Police Magistrate's warrant as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for any Police Officer or Constable to take him without warrant and to restore him to the custody from which he has escaped, and for the person from whose custody the fugitive criminal has escaped to retake him or receive him from such Police Officer or Constable and to hold him at all times as upon the original warrant.

Discharge of
criminal.

13. Except where any proceedings are actually pending upon a writ of habeas corpus before the Supreme Court, and in such case with the concurrence in writing of the Judge having cognizance thereof, the Governor may at any time, by order under his hand and seal, discharge a fugitive criminal from custody.

Discharge if not surrendered within two months, or on application after decision upon habeas corpus to a Judge upon notice to the Crown.

14. If a fugitive criminal who has been committed to prison under this Ordinance to wait the order of the Governor is not surrendered and conveyed out of the Colony within two months after such committal, or within two months after the determination of any proceedings upon a writ of habeas corpus, as the case may be, any Judge of the Supreme Court may, upon application made to him by or on behalf of the fugitive criminal, and upon proof that reasonable notice of the intention to make such application has been given to the Attorney-General, order the fugitive criminal to be discharged out of custody, unless sufficient cause is shewn to the contrary.

Aiders and abettors in surrender offences.

15. Every person who is accused or convicted of having counselled, procured, commanded, aided, or abetted the commission of any surrender offence, or of being accessory before the fact to any surrender offence, shall be deemed for the purposes of this Ordinance to be accused or convicted of having committed such offence, and shall be liable to be apprehended and surrendered accordingly.

Protection of Magistrate and others acting under warrant.

16. If any suit or action be brought against a Police Magistrate, Gaoler, Police Officer, Constable, or any other person for anything done under or in obedience to any warrant or order issued under the provisions of this Ordinance, the proof of such warrant or order shall be a sufficient answer to such suit or action, and the defendant on such proof as aforesaid shall be entitled to a verdict or judgment accordingly, and shall also be entitled to all costs of suit.

Forms.

17. The forms in the Second Schedule hereto, or forms to the like effect with such variations and additions as circumstances require, may be used for the purposes therein indicated and according to the directions therein contained, and instruments in these forms shall (as regards the form thereof) be valid and sufficient.

CIRCULAR DESPATCH FROM THE RIGHT HONOURABLE
 THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE COLONIES, AND ITS ENCLOSURE.

No. 619.—Circular.

DOWNING STREET,
 4th March, 1904.

SIR,

I have the honour to transmit to you the accompanying copy of a syllabus from which you will see that a post-graduate course in Veterinary Pathology and Bacteriology will be held at the Royal Veterinary College in October and November next.

2. I request that you will bring this syllabus to the notice of the public, and that you will inform me, at your earliest convenience, whether it is proposed that any qualified Veterinary Surgeon or Medical Officer belonging to the Government service of the Colony under your administration should attend the course.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient, humble servant,

(Sd.) ALFRED LYTTLETON.

THE OFFICER ADMINISTERING THE GOVERNMENT OF THE STRAITS SETTLEMENTS.

[Enclosure to Circular dated 4th March, 1904.]

ROYAL VETERINARY COLLEGE.

POST-GRADUATE COURSE IN VETERINARY PATHOLOGY AND BACTERIOLOGY.

This course will begin on Monday, 11th January, and end on Friday, 4th March, 1904, and a similar course will be held in October and November next.

These courses will be open only to qualified Veterinary Surgeons and Medical Men.

The hours of instruction daily (Saturday excepted) will be from 10 to 4 o'clock, with an interval of one hour (1 to 2 o'clock).

These courses will be essentially practical, the object being to afford to each member of the class the technical skill necessary to apply bacteriological knowledge in the investigation, diagnosis, and treatment of the microparasitic diseases of the domesticated animals, and in meat inspection.

To this end instruction will be given regarding :—

The general principles of bacteriological research.

The preparation of culture media and staining re-agents.

The general principles of vaccination and protective inoculation.

The preparation of bacterial toxins and vaccins.

The special bacteriology of the casual organisms of anthrax, quarter-evil, malignant oedema, glanders, epizootic lymphangitis, tuberculosis actinomycosis, tetanus, swine fever, swine erysipelas, swine pneumonia, fowl cholera, strangles, discomycosis, suppuration, calf diphtheria, ringworm, etc.

The pathology of Texas fever, Nagana or Tsetse-fly disease, Surra, African Coast fever, African horse sickness, etc.

Each member of the class must provide for his own use a suitable microscope, with a $\frac{1}{1\frac{1}{2}}$ oil immersion lens, but all the other instruments and accessories necessary for the work of the class will be provided by the College.

The fees for the course is £10 10s.

PENSIONS ORDER IN COUNCIL, 1895.

ADDITIONAL REGULATIONS MADE BY THE RESIDENT, WITH THE APPROVAL OF THE RESIDENT-GENERAL, ON THE 25TH DAY OF MAY, 1904, UNDER SECTION 2 OF THE PENSIONS ORDER IN COUNCIL, 1895.

No. 663.—The Regulations at present in force under the Pensions Order in Council, 1895, shall be amended as follows:—

Clause 1 (i) of the said Regulations is amended by inserting after the words “every Public Officer” the words “other than the Judicial Commissioner.”

The following new Clause 1 (a) is added immediately after Clause 1 of the said Regulations:—

“1. (a). (i). Subject as aforesaid, every holder of the office of Judicial Commissioner who has served as Judicial Commissioner for seven years or upwards shall be entitled on his retirement to a pension at the rate of fifteen-sixtieths of his salary with an addition of two-sixtieths in respect of each year of such service in excess of seven until twenty-nine-sixtieths in respect of each year of such service in excess of fourteen until the maximum of forty-sixtieths is reached.”

“(ii). A holder of the office of Judicial Commissioner who before being made Judicial Commissioner has served the Government of the State in another capacity and who has not less than ten years service in the State in all (including his service as Judicial Commissioner) may claim either a pension at the rate of one-thirtieth of his salary as Judicial Commissioner for each year of his service as Judicial Commissioner, together with one-sixtieth of the salary received by him previous to his becoming Judicial Commissioner for each year of his service in that other capacity, with an addition to such service which shall bear the same proportion to five years as such service bears to his total service in the State, or a pension at ordinary rates in accordance with Clause 1 of these Regulations; provided that in no case shall the pension under the former alternative exceed the maximum pension which could be claimed under Clause 1 (a) (i), viz., forty-sixtieths of his salary as Judicial Commissioner.”

Clauses 8 (i) and 8 (ii) of the said Regulations are amended by inserting after the words "every Public Officer" in each of the said Clauses the words "other than the Judicial Commissioner;" and Clause 8 (iii) of the said Regulations is amended by inserting after the words "every Officer" the words "other than the Judicial Commissioner."

The following new Clause 8 (iv) is added immediately after Clause 8 (iii) of the said Regulations:—

"(iv). Subject as aforesaid, every holder of the office of Judicial Commissioner who is transferred to or from the service of the State from or to the service of the British Government or of any British possession and is not entitled to a pension under Clause 1 (a) of these Regulations shall, if his aggregate service would have entitled him had it been wholly in the State to a pension under that clause, be entitled on his ultimate retirement to a pension at the rate of two seven-hundred-and-twentieths of the amount of his annual salary at the date of his retirement (if he ultimately retires as Judicial Commissioner) or at the date of his being so transferred from the service of the State for each month of his service as Judicial Commissioner, together with a pension for his service in any other capacity in the State calculated as under Sub-sections (i) or (ii) of this clause."

“THE LAND ENACTMENT, 1903.”

No. 668.—It is hereby notified that it appears to the Resident that the land in the locality hereunder described is likely to be needed for public purposes, that is to say, for the construction of a railway siding and station :

And it is further notified that the General Manager, Federated Malay States Railways, and any officers or workmen employed under him are authorised by the Resident :—

(i). To enter upon and survey and take levels of any land in the said locality;

- (ii). To dig or bore into the sub-soil;
- (iii). To do all other acts necessary to ascertain whether the land is adapted for such purpose;
- (iv). To set out the boundaries of the land proposed to be taken and the intended line of the work proposed to be made thereon;
- (v). To mark such levels, boundaries and line by placing marks and cutting trenches;
- (vi). Where otherwise the survey cannot be completed, the levels taken or the boundaries or line of the work marked, to cut down and clear away any standing crop, fence or jungle:

Provided that no person shall enter into any building or upon any enclosed court or garden attached to a dwelling-house (unless with the consent of the occupier thereof) without previously giving such occupier at least seven days' notice in writing of his intention to do so.

DESCRIPTION OF LOCALITY.

All the land in the mukim of Durian Sa'batang, in the District of Lower Perak, lying between the railway line on the north and Sungei Jelawat on the south, within an area bounded on the west by the Perak River, and on the east by a line drawn parallel to and east of the Batu Rabit road at a distance of one half mile from it.

Dated this 30th day of May, 1904.

ABSENT:

The Acting Secretary to Resident, W. G. MAXWELL, Esq.

The Datoh Muda, ABDUL WAHAB.

FIRST DAY.

The Council assembles at 11 a.m.

1. The Resident lays on the table and explains to the Council a draft Enactment to provide for the establishment of a Government Officer's Guarantee Fund, mentioning that a similar arrangement has been successfully adopted elsewhere. His Highness the Sultan and the Members having expressed themselves as being in favour of the proposal, the Enactment is passed, becoming No. 10 of 1904.

2. Three draft Enactments to amend the law relating to labour are submitted by the Resident to the Council, after a brief explanation of the reasons which render it advisable that the law on the subject should be divided into different Enactments.

The drafts are respectively,

- (i). To amend the law relating to Employers and Labourers.
- (ii). To regulate the employment of Chinese labourers in mines.
- (iii). To regulate the employment of Chinese Agricultural labourers.

The Resident, having summarised the differences between the first of these drafts and the present law, proceeds to read to the Council, section by section, the provisions of the two drafts relating to Chinese labour. Discussion takes place regarding many of the sections therein contained, the Chinese Members being particularly interested in the proposed changes and the reasons therefor. General approval is expressed of the provisions contained in the drafts, which are passed, becoming respectively, No. 11 of 1904; No. 12 of 1904; No. 13 of 1904.

3. The Resident submits to the Council a draft Enactment to provide for the registration of imports and exports, explaining why it is necessary to provide means of obtaining more accurate record of goods brought into and removed from the State for the purpose of compiling fuller and more accurate returns. The Council being of opinion that the proposed law will be of advantage to the State, the Enactment is passed, becoming No. 14 of 1904.

4. Unusual interest is excited by the announcement of the Resident that the next draft for consideration is that to amend the law relating to the protection of certain wild animals and birds. Before commencing to explain the contents of the draft to the Council, the Resident summarises for their information the circumstances which have led up to its introduction, reminding them of the views held by His Highness the Sultan, Sir Frank Swettenham and others, upon the preservation of game in this country, and points out that those views were somewhat divergent from the provisions of the Enactment which was passed two years ago. Having explained in general terms the differences which will be found in the draft now submitted, the Resident reads to the Council the proposed law, line by line, most of the Members taking notes of the interesting points, and making enquiry whenever the meaning has not been made quite clear to them.

All the Members having admitted their complete comprehension of the draft, His Highness the Sultan invites discussion, stating that he has had the advantage of personal acquaintance with the views of Sir Frank Swettenham, with which he is aware that the Resident concurs, and that personally he sees nothing in the proposed law to which exception can reasonably be taken. The Malay Chiefs have no hesitation in admitting that the draft meets their views to a much greater extent than they had been led to expect. They refer especially to those provisions which reserve to the people of the country their ancient right to kill animals and birds for food, and in defence of person and property, and they express a consensus of opinion to the effect that those provisions which give power to declare seasons, and prohibit the killing of game which is immature or out of season, will help to repair the damage which has already been done in some districts by improvident slaughter. His Highness the Sultan enquires whether any Member desires to suggest any amendment. All declare themselves satisfied, and the draft is accordingly passed, becoming Enactment No. 15 of 1904.

The Council adjourns at 4 p.m. until Saturday, May 21st at 10 a.m.

SECOND DAY.

The Council assembles at 10 a.m.

1. A draft Enactment entitled "The Land Enactment, 1903, Amendment Enactment, 1904," is considered and passed, becoming No. 16 of 1904.

2. The Resident submits to the Council a draft Enactment to amend the law relating to mining and entitled "The Mining Enactment, 1904," explaining seriatim the points in which the draft differs from the existing law, and the reasons for alteration. This is considered and passed, becoming No. 17 of 1904.

3. The Council accepts the retirement of Raja Hamza bin Raja Ahamat, Penghulu of Asam Kumbang and Kamunting on account of ill-health.

4. The Resident submits to the Council an application by Haji Abdulrahman bin Busu, Penghulu Orang Dagang, Krian, for a pension on account of old age. His service dates from the 1st January, 1894, and it is decided to grant him a pension of $72.75 per annum, being the amount for which he is eligible.

5. The Resident informs the Council that His Excellency the High Commissioner has approved the creation of an appointment of Assistant Penghulu at Tanjong Malim on a salary of $180 per annum, as recommended at a meeting of the Council held on the 16th March last. It is decided at the desire of His Highness the Sultan to postpone filling the appointment until the next meeting in order that the lists may be searched for a suitable candidate.

6. The Council decides upon the following changes of appointments, viz :—

(i). Haji Abdulrahman, Assistant Penghulu, Gopeng, salary $420 per annum, to be reduced for unsatisfactory conduct, and to become Penghulu, Asam Kumbang and Kamunting, salary $290 per annum, vice Raja Hamza, retired.

(ii). Abdul Hamid, Penghulu, Durian Pipit, salary $291 per annum, to be reduced for unsatisfactory conduct, and to become Assistant Penghulu, Simpang, salary $180 per annum.

(iii). Raja Chik bin Imam Paduka Tuan, Assistant Penghulu, Simpang, salary $180 per annum, to be Penghulu, Durian Pipit, salary $291 per annum, vice Abdul Hamid reduced.

7. An application by the Assistant Kathi, Upper Perak, for an increase of salary recommended by the District Officer on the ground that the Assistant Kathi's jurisdiction now includes the New Territory, is considered. The Council does not approve the recommendation as the salary was increased in 1901, for the same reason.

8. The Resident explains that at the last Conference of Residents held on the 2nd March, 1904, it was recommended that the Courts Enactment, 1900, should be amended, and the jurisdiction of penghulus increased. The Council supports the Conference and desires that all suits brought by or against Malays or other Asiatics in which the value does not exceed $25 may be heard and determined by the Court of a Penghulu.

9. The Council considers that the Kathis' Courts should be authorized to inflict fines up to $25, and that the Assistant Kathis' Courts and Penghulus' Courts should be empowered to inflict fines not exceeding $10.

10. The Resident refers to the minutes of the Federal Conference held on the 21st July 1903, relating to the use of intoxicating liquors by Muhammadans. His Highness the Sultan addresses the Council on the subject and it is recommended that the Kathis and Assistant Kathis should be given power to fine Muhammadans for drinking intoxicating liquors in public.

11. His Highness the Sultan addresses the Council regarding the subject of appeals from the Kathis' Courts which was referred to by His Highness at the Federal Conference held at Kuala Lumpur, on the 23rd July, 1903. It is decided to recommend that appeals from the Kathis' Courts should be to a Court consisting of a Mufti and two Chiefs selected by His Highness, one from the Orang Besar Ampat, the other from the Orang Besar Di-lapan, sitting with a European Magistrate of the First Class. The period in which appeal may be made to be limited to forty days.

The Council adjourns at 12.15 p.m. sine die.

H. CHEVALLIER,
for Clerk of Council.

No. 708.—The following Enactments were passed at a Meeting of the Council of State held on the 19th May, 1904.

FEDERATED MALAY STATES.

STATE OF PERAK.

ENACTMENT NO. 10 OF 1904.

An Enactment to provide for the establishment of a Guarantee Fund with regard to Securities to be furnished by Government Officers.

[19th May, 1904].

H. CONWAY BELFIELD,
Acting British Resident.

IT IS HEREBY enacted by His Highness the Sultan in Council as as follows :—

1. This Enactment may be cited as "The Government Officers' Guarantee Fund Enactment, 1904," and shall come into force upon the 1st day of July, 1904. Short title and commencement.

2. In this Enactment unless the context otherwise requires— Interpretation.

"The Fund" means the Government Officers' Guarantee Fund established by this Enactment.

"The Directors" means the Directors of the Fund appointed under this Enactment.

"Financial Commissioner" means the Financial Commissioner of the Federated Malay States.

"Legal Adviser" means the Legal Adviser of the Federated Malay States.

"Treasurer" means the Treasurer of the State in which the officer is serving.

"Officer" means any person holding an office by whatever tenure in the service of the Government who is required to give security for the due and faithful discharge of his duties and includes any person holding an office in any of the Federal Establishments of the Federated Malay States who is required to give such security.

No. 10 OF 1904.

ESTABLISHMENT OF FUND.

Establishment of Fund. 3. A Fund, which shall consist of the contributions herein directed to be made and the interest accruing thereon, is hereby established for the purpose of giving security for the due and faithful discharge of their duties by Officers required to give security.

The Fund shall be called "The Government Officers' Guarantee Fund."

ADMINISTRATION OF FUND.

Administration of Fund. 4. The Fund shall be administered by a Board of not less than three nor more than five persons holding offices in the service of the Government to be appointed by the Resident-General, and any three persons so appointed shall be a quorum.

Such persons shall respectively hold office during the Resident-General's pleasure and shall be styled "The Directors of the Government Officers' Guarantee Fund."

Collection of Contributions. 5. The Treasurer shall collect all sums accruing due to the Fund within the State and shall deduct from the salary of each Officer serving in the State the amount due to the Fund by such Officer.

Investment of moneys of Fund. 6. The Directors may from time to time invest the moneys of the Fund in Imperial or Colonial Government bonds, or other securities approved by the Resident-General.

Dealings with Fund. 7. No moneys of the Fund shall be appropriated or drawn out except on a cheque or order signed by not less than two of the Directors.

Annual report and statement. 8. The Directors shall prepare annually on or before the 30th April of each year for the information of the Resident-General a report and statement shewing the financial position of the Fund for the year ended the 31st December preceding, which shall be published in the Gazette.

Audit of accounts. 9. The accounts of the Fund shall be audited in January and July of each year by the Financial Commissioner, to whom the Directors shall submit all such documents relating to the accounts of the Fund and supply all such information connected therewith as he may require.

Clerical assistance. 10. The Directors may employ such clerical assistance as may be necessary, and the expense thereby incurred, not exceeding ten per cent per annum of the amount of the income of the Fund in any one year shall be a first charge on the Fund.

GIVING SECURITY.

Security to be furnished under Enactment. 11. Every person appointed or promoted after the coming into force of this Enactment to a permanent or acting office in the service of the Government, who may be required by the Resident-General or by the Resident or by any Enactment, rule or regulation to furnish security for the due and faithful discharge of his duties, shall furnish such security under this Enactment.

GOVERNMENT OFFICERS' GUARANTEE FUND.

Provided that the amount of any security or securities to be furnished under this Enactment on the credit of the Fund by any individual officer shall not exceed the sum of $5,000:

And provided further that any officer who may prefer to give security by the deposit of money in any bank approved by the Resident-General shall be exempt from contribution under the provisions of this Enactment if security is thus furnished within seven days of his assuming the duties of an office in respect of which security is required. Money deposited in a bank as security under the provisions of this section must be deposited in the name of the Treasurer.

And provided further that the Resident-General may exclude any office or class of offices from the operation of this Enactment, and in such case it shall be incumbent on the holders of such office or class of offices to give security otherwise than under the provisions of this Enactment.

12. (i). Any Officer appointed to any office in the service of the Government before the coming into force of this Enactment who is required to give security for the due and faithful discharge of his duties may if he so desires give such security by contributing to the Fund.

Officers appointed before Enactment may give security thereunder.

(ii). When any officer has before the coming into force of this Enactment furnished security by a bond entered into by a surety or sureties duly approved by existing regulations, it shall not be necessary for him to find another surety or other sureties unless such security shall be voided or rendered incomplete or insufficient in the opinion of the Resident-General through the death, departure from the Federated Malay States or resignation of any of his sureties or by any other cause.

Provided that when any security furnished by any Officer appointed to the service of the Government before the coming into force of this Enactment shall be voided or rendered incomplete or insufficient as aforesaid, the Officer who has furnished such security shall give security by contributing to the Fund.

Provided further that the Fund shall be in no way liable to make good any amount payable in respect of any act or default of any Officer contributing to the Fund under this section done or made before the first day in respect of which such Officer makes a payment to the Fund.

13. Any Officer who is performing at one and the same time duties of more than one office in respect of which security is required, shall give security and contribute in respect of every such office from which he derives additional emolument.

Officer holding more offices than one.

14. (i). Every Officer giving security under this Enactment shall furnish a personal bond in the form in the schedule.

Personal bond to be furnished.

(ii). Such bond shall be furnished within seven days from the date on which such Officer enters upon the duties of the office in respect of which security is required.

(iii). No stamp duty shall be charged on a bond furnished under this Enactment.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO FUND.

- Entrance fee. 15. Every person on first contributing to the Fund shall pay an entrance fee of one-half per cent of the amount of the security then required from him; and in the event of his being subsequently required to find security in a larger amount there shall be due from him, by way of further entrance fee, a payment of one-half per cent of the amount by which the amount of the security which he is last required to find exceeds the security or securities upon which he has already paid. Provided that in no case shall the total amount paid by any person by way of entrance fee exceed the sum of $10 or be less than $1.
- Contribution by Government. 16. On the establishment of the Fund a contribution thereto, to be fixed by the Resident-General, shall be made from the funds of the State such as when added to the aggregate contributions from the funds of the other Federated Malay States shall amount to $10,000.
- Contributions by Officers. 17. (i). Every person who is appointed to an office in the service of the Government in respect to which security is required, shall pay every year into the Fund an amount equal to one per cent of the amount for which security is required.
- (ii). After an officer has contributed to the Fund for five years in respect of one office, his future annual contribution shall be an amount equal to one-tenth part of one per cent of the amount for which security is required to be given by such officer; unless the Directors consider that the state of the Fund requires that all officers should contribute the full amount. In such case the Directors may, with the approval of the Resident-General, require the full contribution to be continued or resumed, as the case may be.
- (iii). Whenever the Directors on preparing their annual report and statement in accordance with Section 8 consider that in view of the financial condition of the Fund the rates at the time in force under Sub-sections (i) and (ii) may properly be reduced or ought to be raised they shall notify the Resident-General to that effect in their report and shall declare the rates which they recommend to be prescribed in substitution therefor, and such rates shall, on being approved by the Resident-General and published in the Gazette, be substituted for the rates at the time in force; provided that the rates shall at no time exceed those specified in Sub-sections (i) and (ii).
- Mode of paying contributions. 18. Every Officer permanently appointed shall pay each year in advance in the month of January the contributions due by him in respect of that year.
- Officer provisionally appointed. 19. When an Officer is provisionally appointed, he shall pay the same contribution to the Fund as if he were permanently appointed, but should the appointment not be confirmed, then, if he be not in default, such portion of the contribution paid in advance as is proportionate to the period of the year during which he has not drawn the salary of the office shall be returned to him.
- Acting Officer. 20. (i). Any person appointed to act for an Officer shall pay the same contribution to the Fund as if he were permanently appointed, by monthly contributions equal to one-twelfth part of the prescribed per-centage of the amount for which security is required from the holder of such office.

(ii). Any Officer who has elected to receive back his contributions under the provisions of this Enactment shall, if he rejoin the Fund, join as a new member and be liable to pay an entrance fee and to pay five years' contribution at the full rate of one per cent. Re-joining the Fund.

(iii). An Officer giving security in one appointment if transferred to another appointment in which security is required shall give security in respect of the last appointment, and, up to the amount of the security given in the first mentioned appointment, shall be treated as if he had not changed his appointment. Transfer.

(iv). Should the security required in his new appointment be less than that required in his previous one he may elect to continue contributing on the larger amount.

21. Save as regards the personal bond referred to in Section 14, every Officer contributing to the Fund shall be relieved from all further liability to give security for the due and faithful discharge of his duties unless the amount for which security is required exceeds the sum of $5,000, in which case the Officer shall be bound to give further security for the amount required in excess of the said sum of $5,000 to the satisfaction of the Resident-General. Provided always that such further security shall be deemed to be secondary to the security of the Fund, and that recourse shall not be had to such further security until the security of the Fund has been exhausted. Effect of contributing to Fund.

DEFAULTING OFFICER.

22. (i). Where any Officer is found to be in default by not duly accounting or by not duly delivering to the Officer or other person authorised or entitled to receive the same all property which ought to be so accounted for or delivered or otherwise, the amount due by the Officer in default shall be certified by the Financial Commissioner and the amount so certified shall be deemed to be due from the Fund on account of such Officer's default subject to appeal as hereinafter provided by the Officer alleged to be in default or by the Directors of the Fund. Officer in default.

Provided that notification of the Financial Commissioner's certificate shall be given to the Directors of the Fund, and when practicable to the Officer alleged to be in default and that the appeal shall be made within a month of the receipt of such notification by the Officers concerned.

(ii). If the salary of the Officer found to be in default is payable from the funds of the State and does not exceed £600 or $3,000 per annum such appeal shall lie to the Resident, with two Assessors, of whom one shall be the Judicial Commissioner or the Legal Adviser and the other shall be the Senior Magistrate; and if the salary of the Officer found to be in default is payable from the funds of the State and exceeds £600 or $3,000 per annum or is payable from Federal Funds such appeal shall lie to the Resident-General, with two Assessors, of whom one shall be the Judicial Commissioner or the Legal

No. 10 of 1904.

Adviser and the other shall be the Resident, provided that in the case of an Officer payable from Federal Funds the Resident shall not sit as an Assessor unless such Officer reside within the State.

Payment of amount certified to be due.

23. On application made by the Financial Commissioner, and subject to any decision in an appeal under Section 22, the Directors, if there are sufficient moneys at the credit of the Fund to enable them to do so, shall pay to the Treasurer from the Fund the amount certified as above to be due from the Officer in default unless the amount so certified exceeds the amount for which such Officer was required to give security; in which case the Directors shall pay an amount equal to the amount for which security was required from such Officer.

Proceedings against Officer in default.

24. Notwithstanding anything in this Enactment contained and subject to any decision in an appeal under Section 22, it shall be lawful for the Government or the Directors to recover from the Officer in default or from his personal representatives by civil action any amount which may be certified as herein provided to be due by him.

Recovery of amounts from Officer in default.

25. (i). Where the whole or any part of the amount due by such Officer is recovered the same shall, after the necessary expenses of recovery, if any, have been deducted, be repaid to the credit of the accounts of the Fund charged in the first instance, to the extent of or in proportion to the amounts so charged.

(ii). Where the Treasurer has not received from the Fund the whole amount due but a part only and the Government proceeds against any Officer in default and recovers the whole amount or any portion thereof, the Fund shall be repaid any amount which may remain after the necessary expenses of recovery, if any, have been deducted and after deducting from the amounts received from both sources the amount due by the Officer in default.

(iii). All moneys so paid into the Fund shall be placed to the credit of the accounts of the Fund charged in the first instance to the extent of, or in proportion to, the amounts so charged.

Fund liable for loss jointly caused by several Officers in unknown degrees.

26. Whenever it is established to the satisfaction of the Resident-General that loss has resulted to the Government by reason of the act, default, or negligence of some two or more Officers guaranteed under this Enactment but it is not possible to determine by which of the said Officers such loss was caused or in what proportions the loss was caused by them, the Fund shall never-the-less be liable to make good the amount of the loss sustained if such amount is not more than the aggregate amount of the sums in respect of which each of the said Officers has been guaranteed by the Fund, and if the loss is greater then to the extent of the sums aforesaid.

Exclusion from Fund.

27. Whenever under the provisions of this Enactment the Fund shall have more than once made good losses on account of any individual Officer, and the Resident-General has decided to maintain such Officer in his office or to transfer him with or without reduction of salary to some other office for which security is required, it shall be lawful for the Directors to exclude such Officer from the operation of this Enactment, and he shall then be required to furnish such security as the Resident-General shall determine and no sums paid by such Officer to the Fund shall be returned to him.

GOVERNMENT OFFICERS' GUARANTEE FUND.

KEEPING OF ACCOUNTS.

28. There shall be three separate accounts kept of the contributions and moneys accruing to the Fund, to be called :—

Separate accounts to be kept.

- (a). The "Income Account";
- (b). The "Officers' Personal Account";
- (c). The "Reserve Fund Account.";

29. All moneys received on account of Income

Account.

- (a). Entrance Fees, and
- (b). Interest on Investments, shall be placed to the credit of the Income Account.

30. All contributions from Officers shall be placed to the credit of the Officers' Personal Account, each of such Officers being credited in such account with the amount of his contributions.

Officers'
Personal Account.

31. An amount equal to one-tenth part of the contributions of all Officers during the preceding twelve months shall as on the 31st day of December in each year be transferred from the Officers' Personal Account to the credit of the Reserve Fund Account, the account of each of such Officers being debited accordingly. The contribution from the funds of the State under Section 16 shall also be placed to the credit of the Reserve Fund Account.

Reserve Fund
Account.

32. Whenever the amount at the credit of the Income Account is, in the opinion of the Directors, reasonably sufficient to meet any claims likely to fall upon it, they may transfer all further receipts or any portion of them under the Income Account to the credit of the Reserve Fund Account.

PAYMENT OF CLAIMS ON FUND.

33. All claims against the Fund shall be charged in the first instance against the Income Account.

Charging of claims in first instance.

34. (i). If the moneys at the credit of the Income Account are not sufficient to pay the claims at any time made on the Fund, the Directors shall have recourse to the amounts then standing at the credit of the Officers' Personal Account for the payment of such claims, taking and writing off an equal per-centage from the amount standing to the credit of each Officer.

When

No. 10 OF 1904.

(ii). Where two or more Officers are found to be in default under Section 26 but their respective responsibilities cannot be determined, every such Officer shall for the purposes of this section be deemed to be jointly and severally liable in respect of an amount bearing the same proportion to the total amount of the loss as the salary of such Officer bears to the aggregate salaries of the Officers in default.

RETURN OF CONTRIBUTIONS.

Return of portion of contributions.

36. Where an Officer is appointed to an office outside the Federated Malay States, or leaves the service of the Government, or ceases to hold an office in the service of the Government in respect of which security is required to be given by him, or dies, the amount appearing at his credit when the accounts are next adjusted, after the date of such appointment, leaving, cesser or death, shall be returned by the Directors to him or his representatives; but no payment shall be made under this section until after the accounts have been duly adjusted and the amount at the credit of the Officer, after taking into account all transactions and after deducting the proper proportions of the ascertained liabilities of the Fund for the year, has been ascertained and settled.

Provided that settlement of refunds of contributions shall remain in abeyance until the Reserve Fund shall amount to $15,000 or, after it has reached such sum, until there is an amount in excess of such sum sufficient to meet the claims of refund put forward, or of one or more of them according to priority. Priority of settlement shall be determined by the dates of the respective causes giving rise to the claims for such refund.

Conditions of return of money.

37. No return of any money paid into the Fund shall be made to any person under the preceding section or to his representatives unless and until the Financial Commissioner shall have certified that such person has duly accounted and is free from any liability to the Government, and no such return shall be made to any Officer who has been dismissed from the Service.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

Quinquennial report on working of Fund.

38. After a period of five years from the date of the coming into force of this Enactment, and quinquennially thereafter, the accounts of the Fund for the preceding period of five years shall be adjusted and the Directors shall report to the Resident-General as to the working of the Fund and as to its financial position and whether any re-adjustment of the rates of contribution is considered necessary. Such report shall be published in the Gazette.

ENACTMENT NO. 11 OF 1904.

An Enactment to Amend the Law relating to Employers and Labourers.

[19th May, 1904.]

H. CONWAY BELFIELD,

Acting British Resident.

IT IS HEREBY enacted by His Highness the Sultan in Council, as follows:—

1. (i). This Enactment may be cited as "The Labour Enactment, 1904, No. 1 (General)," and shall come into force upon the publication thereof in the Gazette. Short title, commencement and repeal.

(ii). Upon the coming into force of this Enactment the Enactments specified in the schedule hereto shall be repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column of the said schedule.

No. 11 OF 1904.

Interpretation.

2. In the interpretation of this Enactment the following expressions shall, unless repugnant to or inconsistent with the context, have the meanings hereinafter assigned to them, viz :—

“Employer” shall include every person, firm, corporation, or company who, or which, enters into an agreement or contract of service with any labourer as next hereinafter described, and the agent or manager of such person, firm, corporation or company.

“Labourer” shall mean any person who, being a labourer, servant in husbandry, artificer, miner, wood-cutter, public vehicle driver, jinrikisha puller, or otherwise engaged in manual labour, enters into, or serves under, an agreement or contract to work personally with an employer, and shall include domestic or menial servants, and the expression “domestic or menial servant” shall include private coachmen, grooms, gardeners, water-carriers and other house, stable, or garden coolies, and the expression “domestic or menial service” shall have a corresponding meaning.

“Agreement” shall mean a verbal engagement to labour in accordance with the provisions of this Enactment.

“Continuing Agreement” shall mean an agreement for a term not exceeding one calendar month, renewable from time to time by the mutual consent of the parties thereto.

“Contract” shall mean a contract in writing to labour in accordance with the provisions of this Enactment.

“Contract Labourer” shall mean a person who is legally bound to labour by virtue of a contract as hereinbefore defined.

“Parties,” when used with reference to an agreement or contract, shall mean the employers and labourers between whom such agreement or contract is made.

“Party” shall mean the employer or the labourer, according to the context.

“Property” shall include all real and personal estate and effects, used or employed under or affected by any agreement or contract or in any operation thereunder.

Persons under sixteen years of age shall be deemed to be under age for the purposes of this Enactment, but any person of sixteen years of age or over may enter into a contract under this Enactment for his or her labour.

PART I.

AGREEMENTS.

agreement.

3. An agreement may be entered into under the provisions of this Enactment for any period not exceeding one calendar month or for any number of days' work not exceeding thirty days and, in the absence of any engagement between the parties to the contrary, such agreement shall be held to be determined on the expiration of the term agreed upon.

LABOUR.

4. Wages earned by a labourer under an agreement shall become payable upon the determination of such agreement. Wages when payable under an agreement.

5. A continuing agreement may be determined at the expiration of such notice as may have been agreed upon between the parties, provided that no notice shall remain in force for a period exceeding one month. Notice to determine a continuing agreement.

Such notice may be given either verbally or in writing by either party to the other party.

In the absence of any engagement to the contrary one month's notice to determine such agreement, or in the case of domestic or menial service fourteen days' notice, may be given by either party to the other party at any time.

6. It shall be lawful for either party to a continuing agreement to determine the same without notice upon payment to the other party of a sum equal to the amount of wages which would have accrued due to the labourer during the term of such notice as is prescribed by the last preceding section. Determination by payment.

7. Wages due to a labourer under a continuing agreement shall be payable, in the absence of any engagement between the parties to the contrary, not later than seven days after the expiration of each term of service. Wages when payable under a continuing agreement.

8. (i). When a continuing agreement is determined by notice, or by a payment as provided in Section 6, the wages of the labourer shall be paid in full up to the end of the period of notice, or up to the day on which such payment is made. Determination by notice or payment.

(ii). The period of every notice to determine an agreement shall commence from the day on which such notice is given, and every determination of an agreement by a payment as provided in Section 6 shall take effect immediately on the completion of such payment.

PART II.

CONTRACTS.

9. No engagement to work for a period exceeding one calendar month, or for more than thirty days' work, as the case may be, shall, except as is otherwise provided by this Enactment, be valid, unless it be in writing and executed in the manner hereinafter prescribed. Contract to be in writing.

10. No contract under this Enactment shall be for a longer period than twelve calendar months, or for more than three hundred and sixty days' work, as the case may be, if made within the Colony or in any of the Federated Malay States, nor for a longer period than two years, or for more than seven hundred and twenty days' work, as the case may be, if made elsewhere. Duration of contract.

11. Every contract made within the State under this Enactment shall be fully explained and, if necessary, interpreted to the parties, and shall within six weeks from the date on which the labourer began service thereunder, be signed by the parties thereto in the presence of Explanation of contract to labourer.

No. 11 OF 1904.

a Magistrate, or of such other person (other than a person being a party to such contract) as the Resident may from time to time appoint for that purpose. Such Magistrate or other person shall certify thereon that the contract has been fully explained and (if it has been so interpreted) interpreted to the parties.

Contract invalid unless signed and certified.

12. No contract made within the State shall be held to be valid or effectual for any purpose under this Enactment till it has been signed and certified as provided by the last preceding section.

Contracts made without the State.

13. A contract made without the State for service within the State shall be valid and effectual only on the following conditions:—

(i). That it shall have been executed before a Magistrate, a British Consul or a Notary Public.

(ii). That such Magistrate, British Consul or Notary Public shall have certified that such contract was duly explained and interpreted to the parties and was duly executed by them in his presence.

(iii). That within six weeks from the date of the arrival of the labourer in the State the parties to such contract shall have appeared together before a Magistrate who, on being satisfied that the contract was duly executed, shall have certified the same thereon; provided that the employer shall be allowed to appear by his agent.

Contents of contracts.

14. Every contract shall contain the following particulars:—

(i). The names of all the parties thereto.

(ii). The names of the place or places in which the contract is to be performed.

(iii). The nature of the service to be performed.

(iv). The description and amount of all emoluments receivable by the labourer under the contract.

(v). The amount of all advances, if any, made to the labourer or on his behalf at the time of, or previous to, the execution of the contract.

(vi). The term of the contract.

(vii). The date on which and the place at which the contract was executed.

Duplicate to be delivered to labourer.

15. A duly executed duplicate of every contract shall, on the demand of the labourer, be delivered to him by the employer, after the contract has been certified as required by Sections 11 and 13 respectively.

Determination of contracts.

16. (i). Contracts under this Enactment shall be determinable as follows:—

(a). Upon the expiration of the term of service agreed upon, except as hereinafter provided in this section;

(b). A Magistrate, on proof that either party has failed to carry out any material obligation imposed upon him either by his contract or by this Enactment, or upon proof that either party has become permanently incapacitated from fulfilling his contract, or that the labourer has been grossly neglected or ill-used by the employer, shall have power to cancel the same;

LABOUR.

(c). A contract under this Enactment shall only be transferable or determinable by mutual consent when the parties thereto signify such consent before a Magistrate;

(d). Every labourer shall have the right of determining his contract upon payment to his employer of the amount of all advances made to him or on his behalf, together with all other moneys due and owing by him to his employer, and, further, the sum of $2, as smart money, for every month or every thirty days' work, as the case may be, which may remain uncompleted thereunder.

(ii). Subject to any express provision of law to the contrary, no contract under this Enactment made in the Colony or in any of the Federated Malay States shall under any circumstances be extended so as to have effect after the expiration of two years from the date thereof, and no contract made elsewhere shall under any circumstances be extended so as to have effect after the expiration of three years from the date thereof. Extension of contracts.

(iii). Any employer who, without reasonable excuse (proof whereof shall lie upon him), shall refuse to allow a labourer whose contract has determined to leave his service shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100 for each such offence.

17. The wages of a contract labourer shall, unless otherwise stipulated in his contract, become due and payable not later than the seventh day of each calendar month, in respect of the month or portion of a month last preceding, and at the determination of such contract all wages due shall immediately become payable. Wages, when payable under contract.

PART III.

COMPLAINTS AND ARRESTS.

18. Whenever an employer desires to make a complaint against any labourer in his employment under an agreement or contract for any of the following offences, that is to say— Labourer may be taken before Magistrate.

Disobedience to lawful orders, neglect of duty, carelessness in regard to property, wrongful determination of an agreement of service or neglect or refusal to fulfil or to enter on or commence service,

It shall be lawful for the employer, if such labourer is on the estate or place where he is bound by his agreement or contract to work, to apprehend and take such labourer before any Magistrate.

19. If it appears to the Magistrate before whom a labourer is brought under the preceding section that there was no sufficient ground for apprehending and bringing such labourer before him, or that such labourer was, through the neglect or default of the employer, detained an unnecessary length of time, it shall be lawful for the Magistrate to award to such labourer by way of compensation any sum not exceeding $10, to be paid by the employer. Compensation.

No. 11 of 1904.

Neglect by employer to fulfil agreement or contract.

20. Every employer who without reasonable excuse, to be allowed by the Court, wilfully neglects or omits to fulfil an agreement or contract shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $50, and, in default, to simple imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months, and it shall be lawful for a Magistrate to call upon such employer to find forthwith good and sufficient security to the satisfaction of the Court for the fulfilment of such agreement or contract, and if default be made in finding such security the Magistrate may order such agreement or contract to be cancelled.

Hearing of complaint.

21. Upon the hearing of any complaint brought under Sections 18, 19 or 20, the Magistrate shall examine the complainant and the party complained against, with such witnesses as may be produced before him, and shall proceed as follows:—

Dispute as to wages or wrongful determination.

(a). If the complaint relates to any dispute as to wages, whether under an agreement or contract, or any wrongful determination of an agreement by either party thereto, the Magistrate, on being satisfied as to the justice of the case, may order that a part or the whole of any wages claimed shall be deducted and kept back from the labourer; or may order that a part or the whole of any wages claimed shall be paid to the labourer, with such amount, not exceeding ten days' wages, in addition, as to the Magistrate may seem just, by way of compensation to the labourer for unpaid wages; and in the case of wrongful determination of an agreement the Magistrate may order the wages due under such agreement to be paid or withheld, subject to the provisions of Section 8, and may order such amount, not exceeding thirty days' wages, to be paid by the party in default to the other party, as to the Magistrate may seem fit, by way of compensation for the wrongful determination of the agreement.

Misconduct, etc.

(b). If the complaint relates to any disobedience to lawful orders, neglect of duty, carelessness in regard to property, or other such misconduct, or to any injury to the property of the party complaining, whether under an agreement or contract, the Magistrate, on being satisfied as to the justice of the case, and subject to the provisions of Section 25, may order the party complained against to pay a fine not exceeding $25, and, in default of payment, may sentence the defaulter to imprisonment of either description for any period not exceeding thirty days.

Omission to enter or absence from service.

(c). If the complaint relates, in the case of parties bound by a contract, to neglect or omission on the part of the party complained against, without reasonable excuse to be allowed by the Magistrate, to perform such contract, or if the labourer shall, without reasonable excuse to be allowed by the Magistrate, omit or refuse to enter on or commence his service, or if the labourer shall, without reasonable excuse to be allowed by the Magistrate, absent himself from his employer's service, the Magistrate may order the party complained against to perform the contract, and, if he thinks fit, may order such party to find forthwith good and sufficient security, with or without sureties to the satisfaction of the Magistrate, for the performance thereof, or may sentence him to imprisonment of either description for any period not exceeding three months, and in the case of absence from, or cessation of, service the Magistrate, in addition to ordering that the wages of the party complained against be forfeited to his employer during the period of such absence, or cessation, may order that the party complained against shall pay as a penalty such sum, not exceeding thirty days' wages, as the Magistrate may direct; and if the order direct the performance of the contract, and the finding of good and sufficient security as aforesaid, and the party complained against shall neglect or refuse to comply with such order, the Magistrate may, if he shall think fit, sentence such party to imprisonment of either description for any term not exceeding six months.

22. When any person wilfully breaks any agreement or contract under this Enactment knowing or having reasonable cause to believe that the probable consequences of his so doing, either alone or in conjunction with others, will be to cause the stoppage of work in any factory, field or place, in such manner as may be attended with serious loss to the owner of the factory, field or place, or serious inconvenience to the public by stopping or delaying supplies of water, food, or other necessities, he shall, on conviction, be liable to a fine not exceeding $100, or to imprisonment of either description for a period not exceeding six months.

Wilful breach of agreement or contract causing loss, etc.

23. (i). Any employer having reason to believe that a labourer employed by him has absconded from his service or is absconding may, without first procuring a warrant, and without the assistance of any Police Officer (who never-the-less shall be bound to give such assistance if called upon to do so), apprehend such labourer wherever he may be found and shall thereupon take him to the nearest police station.

Arrest of absconding
labourer.

(ii). Provided that no labourer found in the service or upon the premises of another employer shall be arrested without warrant except by a Police Officer or with the consent of such other employer.

(iii). Such other employer not so consenting shall, if so required by the employer desiring to arrest any labourer, be legally bound himself to arrest him and take him to the nearest police station. Any employer who shall wilfully make default in so arresting such labourer shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $50.

(iv). Every labourer convicted after arrest under this section shall further be liable to repay to his employer the amount of any moneys, not exceeding $10, which may be proved to have been reasonably expended, whether by way of reward or otherwise, in effecting his arrest and securing his conviction.

24. The Officer in charge of the police station shall forthwith take down in writing in the Report Book of the station the substance of the complaint of the employer, and shall send the labourer without delay before a Magistrate, who shall adjudicate upon the complaint.

Record of complaint.

25. (i). In every case in which a labourer shall have been so apprehended and taken to a police station, if it appears to the Magistrate before whom he is brought that he should be returned to perform the remainder of his agreement or contract the Magistrate shall make an order to that effect; but

Return of labourer to employer.

(ii). If it appears to the Magistrate that there was no sufficient ground for the apprehension of the labourer, or that the labourer, through the neglect or default of his original employer, was detained an unnecessary length of time, it shall be lawful for the Magistrate to award to such labourer, by way of compensation, any sum not exceeding $10, to be paid by such employer, and, in addition to such compensation, to further fine such employer any sum not exceeding $50; and further, when such labourer shall have been arrested under the provisions of Section 23, Sub-sections (ii) or (iii), the Magistrate may order compensation not exceeding $25 to be paid by the original employer to the employer in whose service the labourer was at the time when he was arrested.

No. 11 OF 1904.

Liability of labourer for advances.

26. No labourer shall be held to be liable for the amount of any advances made to him or on his behalf, or of any moneys expended on his behalf, prior to his arrival in the State, in consideration of his engagement to labour within the State, unless he shall have executed, either before his arrival in the State or not later than six weeks thereafter, a contract acknowledging such liability.

PART IV.

PROTECTION OF EMPLOYERS AND LABOURERS.

Exemption of labourer from penalty if wages unpaid.

27. No remedy under any provision of this Enactment shall be enforced against any labourer for neglect or refusal to work, or for absence from work, or for absconding, if at the time of the alleged neglect, refusal, absence, or absconding his wages shall have remained unpaid for a period exceeding that by this Enactment prescribed, or exceeding the period (if any) stipulated in his agreement or contract, provided always that at least forty-eight hours before the time of such alleged neglect, refusal, absence, or absconding the labourer shall have demanded from his employer, or from the person representing such employer, the payment of wages due to him, and such employer or representative shall have refused or failed to pay the same.

Periods during which wages not payable.

28. No wages shall become payable to or recoverable by any labourer for or on account of the term of any sentence of imprisonment undergone by him, or for or on account of any period spent by him in going to or returning from prison, or for or on account of any period spent by him in going to, attending before, or returning from a Court in or about a case in which he shall have been convicted of an offence, or in respect of which the Court before which the case was tried shall have certified that his attendance was not necessary for the ends of public justice.

Computing wages and deductions.

29. In computing the amount of wages due at any time, the labourer shall be debited with the amount to be deducted from wages at the time, according to the terms of the agreement or contract; and shall also be debited with the value of all food, clothes, and other articles supplied to him which the employer is not bound to supply at his own expense, subject, in all cases, to the terms of the agreement or contract as to the amount to be deducted from any one month's wages, and if no special terms are provided therein for the amount to be deducted such amount shall not exceed one-third of the month's wages.

LABOUR.

30. Where it is alleged by any party to a contract that the condition of a recognizance or bond entered into or given for the fulfilment of the contract under the provisions of this Enactment has not been performed, the Magistrate, being satisfied thereof, after hearing the parties and the sureties (if any), or in the case of any party or surety not appearing, after proof of service of summons in that behalf, may order that the recognizance or bond be enforced for the whole or part of the sum secured, as to the Magistrate may seem fit.

Enforcement of recognizance or bond.

31. From and after the determination of any imprisonment suffered under this Enactment for non-payment of the amount of any fine, compensation, or damages, with the costs assessed and directed to be paid by any Magistrate's order, the amount so ordered shall be deemed to be liquidated and discharged, and the order shall be annulled.

Imprisonment to be in discharge of compensation, etc.

32. When a Magistrate under this Enactment imposes a fine or enforces the payment of any sum secured by recognizance or bond, he may, if he think fit, direct that the whole or any part of such fine or sum when recovered be paid to the party complaining.

Application of fines and money recovered.

33. (i). If any labourer under a contract shall, during the continuance of such contract, have been imprisoned or shall have absented himself without leave, such period of imprisonment or absence shall be endorsed on the contract by a Magistrate and shall not be deemed to be part of the period of his service, and he shall be compellable, at the option of his employer, to serve for the full period for which he has contracted to serve, and until such extended service be completed he shall be subject to the provisions of this Enactment.

Absence without leave, or imprisonment not to be counted as service.

(ii). The period of every such imprisonment or absence without leave shall be endorsed on the contract by the Magistrate before whom the labourer may be sentenced to imprisonment or proved to have been absent without leave, or by any other Magistrate before whom the fact and duration of imprisonment or absence without leave may be proved, and such period may include the whole or any portion of the time during which the labourer is detained in a lock-up, as the Magistrate may direct.

(iii). On the completion of any term of imprisonment to which a labourer may have been sentenced, it shall be the duty of the officer in charge of the prison to hand over such labourer to any person appointed by the employer to receive him, or, on the request (and at the expense) of the employer, to return him under police escort to the place at which he is employed.

PART V.

CRIMPING.

34. Any person who knowingly induces or attempts to induce any labourer under an agreement or contract to abscond from service shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100, or to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding three months, or to both, in respect of every labourer so induced or attempt-

Crimping.

No. 11 OF 1904.

ted to be induced, and on a second or subsequent conviction for a similar offence, committed on a separate occasion, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $200, or to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding six months, or to both, in respect of every labourer so induced or attempted to be induced.

Employment of absconded
labourer.

35. Any person who shall take into his employment any labourer, knowing or having reason to believe that such labourer is bound by agreement or contract to any other employer, and any person who shall knowingly retain in his employment any labourer after receiving due notice that such labourer is so bound, shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100, or to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding three months, or to both.

Harbouring absconded
labourer.

36. Any person who shall harbour or conceal any labourer whom he knows or has reason to believe to have absconded from the service of his employer shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100, or to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding three months, or to both.

Apportionment of fine.

37. The whole or any portion of any fine recovered under the three preceding sections may be awarded as compensation by the Court to the employer from whose service the labourer has absconded.

PART VI.

OTHER PROVISIONS RESPECTING CONTRACTS.

Endorsement of conviction.

38. Whenever a labourer under a contract is convicted of an offence, the convicting Magistrate shall endorse upon the contract a memorandum of the conviction and sentence (if any).

Endorsement of forfeiture.

39. Whenever a labourer under a contract is ordered by a Magistrate to forfeit any moneys to his employer, the Magistrate shall endorse upon the contract a memorandum of such order.

Employer
may deduct fine from wages.

40. It shall be lawful for an employer, subject to any order which may be made by a Magistrate on complaint of either party, to deduct from the wages of any labourer the amount of any fine which he may see fit to inflict upon such labourer; provided that such labourer shall by the terms of his contract have consented to submit to the infliction of such fine.

Labourer not liable for default of another.

41. No labourer shall be bound in or by virtue of any agreement or contract to answer for the debt, default, or miscarriage of another person, so as to give any remedy under this Enactment for a breach of such agreement or contract, as to such debt, default, or miscarriage.

PART VII.

SANITATION AND HOSPITALS.

House accommodation.

42. Every employer who has agreed or contracted to provide house accommodation for his labourers shall supply and maintain such accommodation as shall fulfil all reasonable sanitary requirements. Should it appear to any Magistrate that the accommodation provided is likely, by reason of its site, construction, size, or otherwise, to endanger the health of any labourer or of any other person, it shall be lawful for such Magistrate to serve the employer with an order in writing requiring him to remove, alter, or enlarge such accommodation within a reasonable time, to be stated in such order, and such order may also, if necessary, declare that no labourer shall be permitted to occupy any building the subject of such order pending such removal, alteration, or enlargement, and any employer who shall neglect or refuse to comply with such order shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $200, and further to a fine not exceeding $10 for each day beyond the prescribed time during which such removal, alteration or enlargement remains uncompleted.

43. Every employer who shall be convicted of housing any labourer in a building the state or surroundings of which are in such a condition as to endanger the health or safety of such labourer shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100.

Penalty for housing labourer in insanitary dwelling.

44. Should the accommodation in any factory or other place used or intended to be used for the reception of labourers be insanitary, inadequate, or otherwise unsatisfactory, it shall be lawful for a Magistrate to order that no labourers shall be admitted to such factory or other place until satisfactory accommodation is provided by the employer.

Order prohibiting admission of labourers.

45. Every employer who is bound to provide house accommodation for his labourers shall also be bound to provide for them a sufficient quantity of wholesome water.

Watersupply.

46. Should it appear to a Magistrate that the water provided for the use of the labourers upon any factory or other place used or intended to be used for the reception of labourers is insufficient in quantity or unwholesome in quality it shall be lawful for such Magistrate to serve such employer with an order in writing requiring him to increase or improve such supply within a reasonable time, to be stated in such order, and such order may also, if necessary, declare that the employer shall not permit any labourer to use the water which is the subject of such order until such improvement has been effected, and any employer who shall neglect or refuse to comply with such order shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $200, and further to a fine not exceeding $10 for each day beyond the prescribed time during which such increase or improvement remains uncompleted.

Order to improve water supply.

47. In the event of any labourer housed by an employer falling sick and requiring medical treatment it shall be the duty of such employer to send him, with as little delay as possible, to the nearest Government hospital for treatment, providing transport if necessary.

Sick labourers to be sent to hospital.

48. Every employer who without reasonable excuse, the proof of which shall lie upon him, shall fail to send to hospital any such labourer shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100, or to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding two months, and, upon conviction for a second or subsequent similar offence committed within two years from the date of a previous conviction for such an offence, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $500, or to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding six months, or to both.

Penalty for non-compliance.

Order for removal of sick labourer.

49. If it shall appear at any time to a Magistrate or to a qualified Medical Officer of the Government that a labourer is suffering from a contagious or infectious disease or that it is otherwise desirable that he should be removed and placed under medical care, it shall be lawful for such Magistrate or Medical Officer to cause such labourer to be forthwith removed to such place as he may direct, and such labourer shall thereupon be detained until discharged by an order in writing under the hand of a Medical Officer.

PART VIII.

GENERAL.

Power of summons.

50. Whenever any Magistrate has reasonable grounds for suspicion that any offence has been committed by an employer against a labourer or by a labourer against an employer, or wishes to enquire into any matter concerning disputes as to wages, desertions, malingering, misconduct, food, medical attendance, deaths, crimping, sanitation or any other matters relating to employer and labourer dealt with under the provisions of this Enactment, it shall be lawful for such Magistrate to summon any person who he has reason to believe can give information respecting the subject matter of the enquiry, and the person so summoned shall be legally bound to attend at the time and place specified in the summons, and to answer truthfully all questions which such Magistrate may put to him.

money as fines.

51. Where under this Enactment an order is made for the payment of money, and the same is not paid as directed, it may be recovered in the manner provided by law for the recovery of fines.

Extent of retrospective action of Enactment.

52. All agreements and contracts for service in force at the commencement of this Enactment shall continue to be in force after the commencement thereof and, subject to the express provisions in any such agreement or contract, the parties thereto shall be subject to, and entitled to the benefit of, the provisions of this Enactment.

Proof of execution.

53. Any such contract not executed in accordance with the provisions of Sections 9 to 14, inclusive, may be proved before any Court to have been executed before the commencement of this Enactment.

Enactment
no bar to civil suit.

54. Nothing in this Enactment shall prevent any employer or labourer from enforcing their respective civil rights and remedies for any breach or non-performance of a contract of service by suit in Court in any case where proceedings are not instituted, or, if instituted, are not proceeded with to judgment and satisfaction under this Enactment.

LABOUR.

55. (i). Nothing in this Enactment shall interfere with the operation of the Penal Code or the ordinary criminal law or any special criminal law in cases where its provisions may be applicable, but so that no person be punished twice for the same offence. Penal Code.

(ii). Any prosecution under this Enactment may be withdrawn before judgment, and a fresh prosecution instituted for the same offence under the Penal Code or other law applicable to the circumstances of the case.

56. For the purpose of any criminal prosecution every factory or place in which ten or more labourers are employed shall be deemed to be a public place. Public place.

57. No punishment, whether by way of fine or imprisonment, suffered under the provisions of this Enactment shall, unless the Court so direct, be held to determine any agreement or contract which was in force at the time when the offence was committed. Engagement not determined by punishment.

58. (i). The Resident may, with the approval of the Resident-General, from time to time make such rules under this Enactment as may be necessary for fully and effectually carrying out and giving effect to the various purposes, provisions and powers in this Enactment contained, and such rules when published in the Gazette shall have the force of law. Power of Resident to make rules.

(ii). Breach of any such rule shall be punishable by such fine, not exceeding $100, as the Resident may, with the approval of the Resident-General, by notification in the Gazette prescribe, and, when the breach is a continuing one, with such further fine as may be prescribed in manner aforesaid, not exceeding $10 for every day during which such breach is persisted in. Penalty for breach of rules.

59. Nothing in this Enactment shall operate to invalidate or interfere with the provisions of "The Indian Immigration Order in Council, 1895," or the provisions of "The Labour Enactment, 1904, No. 2 (Chinese Mining)," or the provisions of "The Labour Enactment, 1904, No. 3 (Chinese Agricultural)." STATE OF PERAK.

ENACTMENT No. 12 OF 1904.

An Enactment to regulate the employment of Chinese Labourers in Mines.

[19th May, 1904].

H. CONWAY BELFIELD,

Acting British Resident.

IT IS HEREBY enacted by His Highness the Sultan in Council, as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. This Enactment may be cited as "The Labour Enactment, 1904, No. 2 (Chinese Mining)," and shall come into force upon the publication thereof in the Gazette.

Interpretation.

2. In the interpretation of this Enactment and the schedule thereto the following expressions shall, unless repugnant to or inconsistent with the context, have the meanings hereinafter assigned to them, viz:—

"Employer" shall include every person, firm, corporation or company who or which enters into an agreement or contract with any labourer as next hereinafter described, and the agent or manager of such person, firm, corporation, or company, and shall include a Mining Advancer, commonly called Kiu-chu (礦主).

"Labourer" shall mean any Chinese person employed to labour in a mine, and shall include mining mandors, overseers and headmen commonly called Nai-cheang-thau (坭井頭) Hop-tung-thau (合同頭) or Haong-kong (行港), respectively, but shall not include domestic servants.

"Wages" shall mean hire for time-work, piece-work or contract work, but shall not include a share of profits.

"Agreement" shall mean a verbal engagement to labour in accordance with the provisions of this Enactment.

"Continuing agreement" shall mean an agreement for a term not exceeding one calendar month, renewable from time to time by the mutual consent of the parties thereto.

"Contract" shall mean a contract in writing to labour in accordance with the provisions of this Enactment.

"Contract labourer" shall mean a person who is legally bound to labour by virtue of a contract as hereinbefore defined.

"Parties" when used with reference to an agreement or contract shall mean the employers and labourers between whom such agreement or contract is made.

"Party" shall mean the employer or the labourer, according to the context.

LABOUR (CHINESE MINING).

"The Protector" shall mean the officer for the time being performing the duties of Protector of Chinese and shall include any officer performing the duties of Assistant Protector of Chinese and any other officer duly authorised in that behalf by the Resident. Every officer duly appointed to perform the duties of the Protector shall, for the purposes of carrying out his duties under this Enactment, be vested with the powers of a Magistrate of the First Class.

"Court" shall mean the Court of the Senior Magistrate or of a Magistrate of the First Class.

"Tribute labourers" shall mean labourers who work in any mine without any fixed remuneration but with the right to retain for themselves the value of all minerals won from the mine, subject to the obligation to pay to the mine owner or his lessee a fixed percentage of such value, and who agree with any person to receive from him exclusively advances of food and supplies and pledge the value of all minerals won as security therefor;

The expression "a day's work" commonly called a Kung (工) shall mean work for a day of as many hours, not exceeding nine, as is customary for any labourer to work in a mine.

Persons under sixteen years of age shall be deemed to be under age for the purposes of this Enactment; but any person of sixteen years of age or over may enter into an engagement under this Enactment for his or her labour.

Except as is in this Enactment expressly provided every agreement and contract shall be subject to the provisions of "The Labour Enactment, 1904, No. 1 (General)," and every breach thereof shall be punishable in the manner provided by the said Enactment.

PART I.

AGREEMENTS.

3. An agreement may be entered into under the provisions of this Enactment for any period not exceeding one calendar month or for any number of days' work not exceeding thirty days and, in the absence of any engagement between the parties to the contrary, such agreement shall be held to be determined on the expiration of the term agreed upon.

Term of agreement.

4. Wages earned by a labourer under an agreement shall become payable upon the determination of such agreement.

Wages, when payable under an agreement.

5. A continuing agreement may be determined at the expiration of such notice as may have been agreed upon between the parties, provided that no such notice shall remain in force for a period exceeding one month.

Notice to determine a continuing agreement.

Such notice may be given either verbally or in writing by either party to the other party.

In the absence of any engagement to the contrary one month's notice to determine such agreement may be given by either party to the other party at any time.

No. 12 OF 1904.

Determination by payment.

6. It shall be lawful for either party to a continuing agreement to determine the same without notice upon payment to the other party of a sum equal to the amount of wages which would have accrued due to the labourer during the term of such notice as is prescribed by the last preceding section.

Wages, when payable under a continuing agreement.

7. Wages due to a labourer under a continuing agreement shall be payable, in the absence of any engagement between the parties to the contrary, not later than seven days after the expiration of each term of service.

Agreement
determined for misconduct.

8. When an agreement is determined by the employer, without notice to the labourer, on the ground of misconduct, such labourer shall, subject to any order which may be made by the Court on complaint of either party, be entitled to receive wages only up to the day on which the agreement was determined.

Disputes regarding wages.

9. In the event of any dispute arising between the parties to an agreement or continuing agreement concerning wages due thereunder, or concerning the determination of such agreement or continuing agreement, it shall be lawful for the Court, in addition to any other adjudication, to order either party to forfeit to the other party a sum not exceeding the amount of thirty days' wages.

Order by the Protector.

10. Such orders as are mentioned in the two last preceding sections may be made by the Protector, and when so made shall be as valid and effectual for all purposes as if made by the Court.

Labourer
refusing to work, or absconding.

11. Every labourer under an agreement or continuing agreement who shall without reasonable cause, to be allowed by the Court, refuse to commence work under the same or absent himself from work or abscond from the place in which he is employed shall be liable, on conviction, for a first offence to a fine not exceeding $10, and in default to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding six weeks, and for a second or subsequent similar offence to a fine not exceeding $25, and in default to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding three months.

Misconduct
by labourer.

12. Every labourer under an agreement or continuing agreement who shall be guilty of disobedience to lawful orders, or of neglect of duty, or of carelessness in the custody of the property of his employer shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $25, and in default to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding one month.

Apportionment of fine.

13. The whole or any portion of any fine recoverable under the provisions of the two last preceding sections may be adjudged by the Court to be paid to the employer.

PART II.

CONTRACTS.

Contract to be in writing.

14. No engagement to work for a period exceeding one calendar month, or for more than thirty days' work, as the case may be, shall, except as is otherwise provided by this Enactment, be valid unless it be in writing and executed in the manner hereinafter prescribed.

LABOUR (CHINESE MINING).

15. No contract under this Enactment shall be for a longer period than twelve calendar months, or for more than three hundred and sixty days' work, as the case may be, if made within the Colony or in any of the Federated Malay States, nor for a longer period than two years, or for more than seven hundred and twenty days' work, as the case may be, if made elsewhere. Duration of contract.
16. Every contract made within the State under this Enactment shall be fully explained and (if necessary) interpreted to the parties, and shall, within six weeks from the date on which the labourer began service thereunder, be signed by the parties thereto in the presence of a Magistrate, or of the Protector, or of such other person, other than a person being a party to such contract, as the Resident may from time to time appoint for such purpose. Such Magistrate, Protector, or other person shall certify thereon that the contract has been fully explained and (if it has been so interpreted) interpreted to the parties thereto. Explanation of contract to labourer.
17. No contract made within the State shall be held to be valid or effectual for any purpose under this Enactment until it has been signed and certified as provided by the last preceding section. Contract invalid unless signed and certified.
18. A contract made without the State for service within the State shall be valid and effectual only on the following conditions:— Contract made without the State.
 - (i). That it shall have been executed before a Magistrate, a Protector of Chinese, a British Consul or a Notary Public.
 - (ii). That such Magistrate, Protector of Chinese, British Consul or Notary Public shall have certified that such contract was duly explained and interpreted to the parties, and was duly executed by them in his presence.
 - (iii). That within six weeks from the date of the arrival of the labourer within the State the parties to such contract shall have appeared together before a Magistrate or before the Protector, who, on being satisfied that the contract was duly executed, shall have certified the same thereon: provided that the employer shall be allowed to appear by his agent and that the labourer in all cases in which a contract is made in the Colony before the Protector of Chinese need not appear when the endorsement is made before a Magistrate or the Protector unless specially directed in writing by either of them to do so.
19. Every contract shall contain the following particulars:— Contents of contract.
 - (i). The names of all the parties thereto.
 - (ii). The names of the place or places in which the contract is to be performed.
 - (iii). The nature of the service to be performed.
 - (iv). The description and amount of all emoluments receivable by the labourer under the contract.
 - (v). The amount of all advances, if any, made to the labourer or on his behalf at the time of, or previous to, the execution of the contract.
 - (vi). The term of the contract.

No. 12 OF 1904.

(vii). The date on which and the place at which the contract was executed.

Duplicate to be delivered to labourer.

20. A duly executed duplicate of every contract shall be delivered to the labourer, after the contract has been certified as required by Sections 16 and 18, respectively.

Determination of contracts.

21. (i). Contracts under this Enactment shall be determinable as follows:—

(a). Upon the expiration of the term of service agreed upon, except as hereinafter provided in this section.

(b). The Court or the Protector, on proof that either party has failed to carry out any material obligation imposed upon him either by his contract or by this Enactment, or upon proof that either party has become permanently incapacitated from fulfilling his contract, or that the labourer has been grossly neglected or ill-used by the employer, shall have power to cancel the same.

(c). A contract under this Enactment shall only be transferable or determinable by mutual consent when the parties thereto signify such consent before a Magistrate or the Protector.

(d). Every labourer shall have the right of determining his contract upon payment to his employer of the amount of all advances made to him or on his behalf, together with all other moneys due and owing by him to his employer, and, further, the sum of $2, as smart money, for every month, or every thirty days' work, as the case may be, which may remain uncompleted thereunder.

Extension of contracts.

(ii). Subject to any express provision of law to the contrary, no contract under this Enactment made in the Colony or in any of the Federated Malay States shall under any circumstances be extended so as to have effect after the expiration of two years from the date thereof, and no contract made elsewhere shall under any circumstances be extended so as to have effect after the expiration of three years from the date thereof.

(iii). Any employer who without reasonable excuse (proof whereof shall lie with him) shall refuse to allow a labourer whose contract has been determined to leave his service shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100 for each such offence.

Wages, when payable under a contract.

22. The wages of a contract labourer shall, unless otherwise stipulated in his contract, become due and payable not later than the seventh day of each calendar month, in respect of the month or portion of a month last preceding, and at the determination of such contract all wages due shall immediately become payable.

Disputes concerning wages.

23. In the event of any dispute arising between the parties to a contract concerning wages due thereunder or concerning the determination of the same, it shall be lawful for the Court or the Protector in addition to any other adjudication to order either party to forfeit to the other party a sum not exceeding the amount of thirty days' wages.

LABOUR (CHINESE MINING).

24. Every contract labourer who without reasonable cause, to be allowed by the Court, neglects or omits to fulfil his contract, or omits or refuses to work, or absents himself from work, or absconds from the place in which he is employed, shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $50, or to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding six months, or to both, and upon conviction for a second or subsequent similar offence such labourer shall be liable to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding twelve months. Labourer refusing to work, or absconding.
25. Every contract labourer who shall be guilty of disobedience of lawful orders, neglect of duty, or carelessness in the custody of the property of his employer shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $25 and in default to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding one month. Misconduct by labourer.
26. The whole or any portion of any fine recoverable under the two last preceding sections may be ordered by the Court to be paid to the employer. Apportionment of fine.
27. Every contract labourer so convicted shall further be liable to repay to his employer the amount of any moneys, not exceeding $10, which may be proved to have been reasonably expended, whether by way of reward or otherwise, in effecting his arrest and securing his conviction. Liability of labourer to repay expenses of his arrest and conviction.
28. Every employer who without reasonable excuse, to be allowed by the Court, wilfully neglects or omits to fulfil an agreement or contract shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $50 and in default to simple imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months, and it shall be lawful for the Court to call upon such employer to find forthwith good and sufficient security to the satisfaction of the Court for the fulfilment of such contract, and if default be made in finding such security the Court may order the contract to be cancelled. Neglect by employer to fulfil agreement or contract.
29. The whole or any part of any fine recoverable from the employer under the last preceding section may be ordered by the Court to be paid to the labourer. Apportionment of fine.
30. (i). No labourer shall be bound to work more than nine hours a day of actual labour; if a labourer works for and at the request of his employer more than nine hours in any one day he shall be paid for such extra work at the rate of not less than ten cents per hour. Hours of labour.
- (ii). It shall be lawful for a contract labourer to absent himself from work, without any deduction being made from his wages, upon two days in each month, and also upon those days customarily observed as holidays, provided that the total number of days of such absence shall not, except with the consent of the employer, exceed five days in any one month. Holidays.
- (iii). If on any such monthly holidays or any day customarily observed as a holiday any such contract labourer does not less than half of a day's work, he shall be credited with half a day's or a whole day's work, as the case may be.

No. 12 OF 1904.

Improper absence from work.

31. If a contract labourer shall have been absent from work otherwise than as provided by the last preceding section, it shall be lawful for the employer, subject to any order which may be made by the Court or the Protector, on complaint of either party, to deduct from the wages of such labourer a sum proportionate to the number of days during which he shall have been so absent.

Labourers in hospitals.

32. No contract labourer shall be entitled to claim wages for any day on which he shall have been absent from work on account of sickness, but such labourer shall be entitled to claim sustenance and medical attendance in a Government hospital and the payment of hospital fees, if charged by Government, at the expense of his employer.

When the result of immorality.

33. (i). If the absence from work of a contract labourer for any period is certified by a Medical Officer to be the direct result of the labourer's intemperance, immorality or wilful misconduct, a Magistrate or the Protector may endorse on the contract of such labourer, after such enquiry as may be necessary, the period of such absence.

(ii). It shall be lawful for the employer to deduct from the wages of the labourer the amount of any hospital fees paid by the employer in respect of the period of such absence.

Rates of hospital
fees.

34. The hospital fees which may become due under Section 32 shall be paid by the employer at such rate as the Resident may from time to time fix by notice in the Gazette, and shall be recoverable from the employer in a Civil Court at the suit of the Senior Medical Officer in any district, and the certificate of such officer shall be prima facie evidence that the amount therein specified is due from the employer.

Contract may be extended if advances are not repaid.

35. If a contract labourer is bound by the terms of his contract to repay to his employer the amount of any specified advances made to him or on his behalf previous to or at the time of his executing such contract, and if on the completion of the term of such contract the balance of wages due to such labourer, after deducting all sums authorised by Sections 31, 32 and 33 to be deducted and all fines and sums ordered by any Court or by the Protector to be paid by the labourer, shall be insufficient to repay such advances, then the period of time or the number of days' work for which such contract was made shall be deemed to be extended, and the contract shall remain in force and of full effect until the whole of such advances shall have been repaid: provided that every such contract shall be subject to the limitation imposed by Section 21, Sub-section (ii).

PART III.

COMPLAINTS AND ARRESTS.

Complaint by
labourer.

36. When any labourer desires to make a complaint to a Court and requests his employer to take him or allow him to go before the nearest Magistrate, such employer shall be legally bound to comply with such request within a reasonable time thereafter.

Penalty on employer refusing compliance.

37. Every employer who without reasonable excuse, the proof of which shall lie upon him, neglects or refuses to comply with such request as is in the preceding section mentioned shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100, and further to a fine not exceeding $25 for each day during which such refusal or neglect is persisted in.

LABOUR (CHINESE MINING).

38. If the Court before which a labourer is brought or comes under Section 36 is of opinion that the complaint of such labourer is frivolous, or made without reasonable cause, it shall be lawful for such Court to award to the employer compensation to be paid by such labourer to an amount not exceeding $10, for any loss or damage which he may have sustained by reason of the absence from work of such labourer, or otherwise by reason of the complaint.

Order by Court when complaint is frivolous.

39. Every employer who desires to make a complaint against a labourer may apprehend and take such labourer before the nearest Magistrate. If it shall appear to such Magistrate that there was no sufficient reason for apprehending and bringing such labourer before him, he may award to the labourer compensation to be paid by the employer to an amount not exceeding $10.

Complaint by employer.

40. (i). In the event of any dispute arising between employer and labourer under this Enactment as to any matter therein dealt with, it shall be lawful for the Protector to enquire into and decide all such disputes and to make any order he may deem just for the purpose of giving effect to such decision.

Protector may adjudicate between employer and
labourer.

(ii). The mode of procedure in any complaint shall be as follows :—

(iii). The person complaining shall lodge a memorandum in writing at the office of the Protector, specifying shortly the subject matter of the complaint and the remedy sought to be obtained, or he may make his complaint in person at any time or place to the Protector, who shall forthwith reduce it to writing. Upon receipt of such memorandum or verbal complaint the Protector shall summon in writing the party against whose conduct such complaint is made, giving notice to him of the nature of the complaint and the time and place at which the same will be enquired into, and he shall also notify or summon all persons whose interests may be affected by such enquiry.

At the time and place appointed the parties shall attend and state their case before the Protector and may call evidence, and the Protector having heard such statements and evidence and any other evidence which he may deem necessary shall give his decision.

(iv). If any person interested shall have been duly summoned by the Protector to attend at such enquiry and shall have made default in so doing, it shall be lawful for the Protector to hear and decide the complaint in the absence of such person, notwithstanding that the interests of such person may be prejudicially affected by his decision.

(v). The Protector shall keep a Case Book, in which he shall enter notes of the evidence taken and the decisions arrived at in each case heard before him, and shall authenticate the same by attaching his signature or initials thereto, and the record in such Case Book shall be sufficient evidence of the giving of any decision, or of the making of any order, and of the terms thereof; and any person interested in a dispute, decision or order shall be entitled to a copy of such record upon payment of a fee of $1.

No. 12 OF 1904.

(vi). No fees shall be charged by the Protector in respect of processes issued by him under this section and all orders made by the Protector shall be enforced by the Court in the same manner as a judgment of the Court, and all necessary processes may be served by a Court on his behalf.

(vii). In the event of any person interested being dissatisfied with the decision or order of the Protector, he may, within fourteen days after such decision or order, file an application to appeal therefrom to the Senior Magistrate.

(viii). Nothing in this section shall limit or affect the jurisdiction of any Court which may adjudicate upon any complaint arising out of an agreement or contract made under this Enactment.

Wilful breach of agreement or contract by labourer in conjunction with others.

41. Any labourer who wilfully breaks an agreement or contract, knowing or having reason to believe that the probable consequences of his so doing, either alone or in conjunction with others, will be to cause the stoppage of work in or upon any mine in such a manner as may be attended with serious loss to the owner of the same shall be liable, on conviction before the Court of the Senior Magistrate or of a Magistrate of the First Class, to a fine not exceeding $100, or to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding six months, and upon a second or subsequent conviction for the same offence he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $200, or to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding twelve months.

Arrest of absconding labourer.

42. (i). Any employer having reason to believe that a labourer employed by him has absconded from his service or is absconding may, without first procuring a warrant, and without the assistance of any Police Officer (who never-the-less shall be bound to give such assistance if called upon to do so), apprehend such labourer wherever he may be found and shall thereupon take him to the nearest police station :

(ii). Provided that no labourer found in the service or upon the premises of another employer shall be arrested without warrant —

(a). Unless the employer desiring to arrest the labourer can identify him by producing a photograph of such labourer, duly endorsed with the signature and seal of the Protector or of a Magistrate, or

(b). Unless such labourer is arrested by a Police Officer, or (c). Unless such other employer consents.

(iii). Such other employer not so consenting shall, if so required by the employer desiring to arrest any labourer, be legally bound to himself arrest him and take him to the nearest police station. Any employer who shall wilfully make default in so arresting such labourer shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100.

Record of complaint.

43. The officer in charge of the police station shall forthwith take down in writing in the Report Book of the station the substance of the complaint of the employer, and shall send the labourer without delay before the Court, which shall adjudicate upon the complaint.

LABOUR (CHINESE MINING).

44. In every case in which a labourer shall have been so apprehended and taken to a police station, if it appears to the Court that such labourer should be returned to perform the remainder of his agreement or contract the Court shall make an order to that effect; but if it appears to the Court that there was no sufficient reason for the apprehension of such labourer, or that such labourer was detained an unnecessary length of time through the neglect or default of the original employer, it shall be lawful for the Court to award to such labourer, by way of compensation, any sum not exceeding $10 to be paid by such employer, in addition to which compensation the Court shall have power to fine such employer any sum not exceeding $50: and further, when such labourer shall have been apprehended under the provisions of Section 42, Sub-section (ii) or (iii), the Court may order compensation not exceeding $25 to be paid by the original employer to the employer in whose service the labourer was at the time when he was apprehended.

labourer to employer.

45. No labourer shall be held to be liable for the amount of any advances made to him or on his behalf, or of any moneys expended on his behalf prior to his arrival in the State, in consideration of his engagement to labour within the State, unless he shall have executed, either before his arrival in the State, or not later than six weeks thereafter, a contract acknowledging such liability.

Liability of labourer for advances.

PART IV.

PROTECTION OF EMPLOYERS AND LABOURERS.

46. No remedy under any provision of this Enactment shall be enforced against any labourer for neglect or refusal to work, or for absence from work, or for absconding, if at the time of the alleged neglect, refusal, absence or absconding his wages shall have remained unpaid for a period exceeding that by this Enactment prescribed, or exceeding the period (if any) stipulated in his agreement or contract, provided always that at least forty-eight hours before the time of such alleged neglect, refusal, absence, or absconding the labourer shall have demanded from his employer, or from the person representing such employer, the payment of wages due to him, and such employer or representative shall have refused or failed to pay the same.

labourer from penalty if wages unpaid.

47. The advancer to a mine and the employer, if separate persons, shall be jointly and severally liable to the labourer for the payment of wages due to him, provided that the liability of the advancer shall cease if he shall have given reasonable notice to the labourer that on a certain day and at a certain time and place he intends to hand over his wages to the employer, and shall have so handed them over accordingly.

Liability for payment of wages.

48. No wages shall become payable to or recoverable by any labourer for or on account of the term of any sentence of imprisonment undergone by him, or for or on account of any period spent by him in going to or returning from prison, or for or on account of any period spent by him in going to, attending before, or returning from a Court in or about a case in which he shall have been convicted of an offence, or in respect of which the Court before which the case is tried certifies that such attendance was not necessary for the ends of public justice.

No. 12 OF 1904.

Return showing number of labourers employed, to be forwarded to the Protector.

49. (i). Every employer shall forward to the Protector during the month of January in each year, if so required by the Protector in writing, a return stating the number of labourers employed by him during the previous year.

(ii). Any employer making default in forwarding such return shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100.

Register of labourers.

50. (i). It shall be lawful for the Protector, or any person thereto duly authorised by the Resident by notification in the Gazette, to require any employer to keep a register in a prescribed form of all labourers employed by him.

(ii). Every employer shall, if so required in writing by the Protector or other person so duly authorised, within the first seven days of the months of January, April, July and October in each year forward to the Protector or such other duly authorised person a return giving the particulars of every death, desertion, dismissal, and of the expiration or cancellation of the agreement or contract of any labourer in his employment during the three months immediately preceding the date on which such return became due.

Report in cases of death.

51. It shall be the duty of every employer to make a report of the death of any labourer in his employment to the nearest police station or to the Penghulu within twelve hours after such death shall have taken place.

Penalty for omission to keep register or to forward returns.

52. Every employer who omits to make the prescribed entries in his Register, or to make such report as by the preceding section is required, and every employer who omits to forward such returns as are by Section 50 prescribed, or omits to give any of the particulars required by its provisions, shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100 for every such omission.

Compulsory muster of labourers.

53. Every employer may, on not more than four occasions in each year, be required to muster and produce before the Protector or the District Officer, at a reasonable place and time, all labourers employed by him: provided that he receives reasonable notice beforehand from the Protector or District Officer when such muster is to be held.

Penalty for non-compliance.

54. Every employer who without reasonable excuse, the proof of which shall lie upon him, neglects or refuses to comply with any requirement made under the provisions of the last preceding section shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $200.

Government inspections.

55. The Protector, the Senior Medical Officer for the time being in the district, and every Magistrate, and every Officer duly authorised in writing in that behalf by a Magistrate, shall have power to enter at all reasonable times upon any mine, and to put questions concerning the labourers there employed to their employer or to any person who may be in charge of them, and the employer or such person shall be legally bound to answer such questions truly to the best of his ability.

Inspection of documents.

56. The Protector and every Magistrate shall have power to call for and inspect all contracts, registers, books of account and other documents concerning any labourers or relating to their employment, and any employer who without reasonable excuse, the proof of which shall lie upon him, neglects or refuses to produce the same shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $200.

LABOUR (CHINESE MINING).

PART V.

CRIMPING.

57. Any person who knowingly induces or attempts to induce any labourer under an agreement or contract to abscond from service shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100, or to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding three months, or to both, in respect of every labourer so induced or attempted to be induced, and on a second or subsequent conviction for a similar offence, committed on a separate occasion, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $200, or to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding six months, or to both, in respect of every labourer so induced or attempted to be induced. Crimping.

58. Any person who shall take into his employment any labourer, knowing or having reason to believe that such labourer is bound by an agreement or contract to any other employer, and any person who shall knowingly retain in his employment any labourer after receiving due notice that such labourer is so bound, shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100, or to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding three months, or to both. Employment of absconded labourer.

59. Any person who shall harbour or conceal any labourer whom he knows or has reason to believe to have absconded from the service of his employer shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100, or to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding three months, or to both. Harbouring absconded labourer.

60. The whole or any portion of any fine recovered under the three preceding sections may be awarded by the Court to the employer from whose service the labourer has absconded. Apportionment of fine.

PART VI.

MINING CONTRACTS BY NOTICE.

61. (i). Any person who employs labourers in a mine either as labourers on Hun wages (which term shall include Kongsí Kung 公司工 and Tai-Ki-Tsai 大箕仔 labourers) or as piece-work labourers (Nai-Chiang 坭井 labourers) may define the conditions upon which such labourers are engaged by affixing in a conspicuous place in such mine a notice in the Chinese language setting out the conditions upon which he engages such labourers, and, in the absence of any special agreement to the contrary, the terms of such notice shall be deemed to be binding as a contract under this Enactment as between such employer and such labourers as may enter such employment whilst such notice shall continue to be so affixed. Provided always:— Mining notices deemed to be binding as contracts in the case of ordinary mining labourers.

No. 12 of 1904.

(a). That such notice shall clearly set out the name of the employer responsible to the labourers for their wages and other emoluments due to them;

(b). That such notice shall contain no illegal or immoral conditions;

(c). That no labourer taking service under such notice shall be compelled to continue working under its conditions for a longer period than six months, notwithstanding any debt that he may owe to any person;

(d). That all the terms and conditions of every such notice shall be approved by the Protector, and that a copy of it certified by the employer to be a true copy of the original notice, and signed by the Protector as approved by him, shall be deposited with the Officer in charge of the police station nearest to the mine at which such notice is affixed. Such copy shall also bear a certificate signed by the employer stating the date from which the notice shall have been in force and shall be filed by the Officer in charge of the police station.

(ii). Any employer who shall contravene any of the provisions of this section shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $500.

Mining
notices deemed to be binding as contracts in the case of tribute labourers.

62. (i). Any person who employs labourers in a mine as tribute labourers may define the conditions upon which such labourers are engaged by affixing in a conspicuous place in such mine a notice in the Chinese language setting out the conditions upon which he engages such labourers, and, in the absence of any special agreement to the contrary, the terms of such notice shall be deemed to be binding as a contract under this Enactment, as between such employer and such labourers as may enter such employment whilst such notice shall continue to be so affixed. Provided always :—

(a). That such notice shall clearly set out the name of the employer responsible to the labourers for the advancing to them of all necessary goods and moneys, and the term during which the labourers may be required to labour;

(b). That such notice shall contain no illegal or immoral conditions;

(c). That no labourer taking service under such notice shall be compelled to continue working under its conditions for a longer period than twelve months, notwithstanding any debt that he may owe to any person;

(d). That if at any time the employer shall fail to make due and sufficient advances to the labourers of the necessary goods and moneys, none of the conditions of the notice shall be enforceable by the employer against the labourers, and such labourers shall be at liberty to seek another advancer;

(e). That all the terms and conditions of every notice exhibited under the provisions of this section shall be approved by the Protector, and that a copy of it certified by the employer to be a true copy of the original notice, and signed by the Protector as approved by him, shall be deposited with the Officer in charge of the police station nearest to the mine at which such notice is affixed. Such copy shall also bear a certificate signed by the employer, stating the date from which the notice shall have been in force, and shall be filed by the Officer in charge of the police station.

(ii). Any employer who shall contravene any of the provisions of this section shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $500.

63. All wages earned by a labourer under such an engagement shall become due and payable on a date previously arranged between the parties thereto in accordance with the mining custom of the place in which such labourer is working, provided that in no case shall such date be more than six months later than the date of the commencement of such engagement, and provided further that in the event of the employer ceasing to provide a proper and sufficient supply of money and necessaries for the use of the labourer, as required by the terms of his engagement, all moneys due from him to such labourer shall immediately become payable.

Wages of labourers, when payable.

PART VII.

OTHER PROVISIONS RESPECTING CONTRACTS.

64. (i). Whenever any labourer complains to the Court or the Protector that he has reasonable grounds for believing that his employer, in order to evade payment of his wages, is about to leave the State, it shall be lawful for the Court or the Protector to summon such employer and direct him to shew cause why he should not be required to give security by bond to remain in the State till such wages are paid; and if after hearing the evidence of such employer the Court or the Protector adjudicate that such bond shall be given, it shall be lawful for the Court or the Protector to order such employer to give security by bond in a reasonable sum that he will not leave the district or the State (as the Court or the Protector may direct) until he satisfies the Court or the Protector that all the just claims of his labourers against him for wages have been paid or settled.

Employer about to abscond to evade payment of wages.

(ii). If the employer fails to comply with the terms of such order to give security, he shall be detained in the civil prison till arrangements are made by the Court or the Protector for settling the claims of his labourers by distress or otherwise, provided that such employer shall be released at any time on security being furnished, or on his payment, either in whole or in a reasonable part, of all claims of his labourers and provided that in no case shall the period of such detention exceed three months.

(iii). The bond to be given by an employer shall be a personal bond with one or more sureties, and the penalty for breach of the bond shall be fixed with due regard to the circumstances of the case and the means of the employer.

(iv). If on, or after, complaint made by any labourer under Sub-section (i) it appears to the Court or the Protector that there is good ground for believing that the employer complained against has absconded or is absconding or is about to abscond, it shall be lawful for the Court or the Protector to issue a warrant for the apprehension of such employer, and such employer shall be detained in safe custody pending the hearing of the complaint unless he finds good and sufficient security to the satisfaction of the Court or the Protector for his appearance to answer the complaint.

(v). If after summoning an employer to appear to shew cause why he should not be required to give security by bond to remain in the State till the wages of his labourers are paid it shall appear to the Court or the Protector after enquiry that the labourer who made the application had no reasonable or sufficient grounds for making it, the Court or the Protector may impose a fine of $5 upon such labourer and in default of payment sentence him to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding fourteen days.

Endorsement of conviction. 65. Whenever a contract labourer is convicted of an offence, the Court before which such conviction is had shall indorse upon the contract a memorandum of the conviction and sentence (if any).

Endorsement of forfeiture. 66. Whenever a contract labourer is ordered by the Court, or by the Protector, to forfeit any moneys to his employer, the Court or the Protector shall indorse upon the contract a memorandum of such order.

Return of labourer from imprisonment. 67. On the completion of any term of imprisonment to which a labourer may have been sentenced, it shall be the duty of the officer in charge of the prison to hand over such labourer to any person appointed by the employer to receive him, or, on the request (and at the expense) of the employer, to return him under police escort to the place at which he is employed.

Employer may deduct fine from wages. 68. It shall be lawful for an employer, subject to any order which may be made by the Court or by the Protector on complaint of either party, to deduct from the wages due to a labourer the amount of any fine which he may see fit to inflict upon such labourer, provided that such labourer shall, by the terms of his agreement or contract, have consented to submit to the infliction of such fine.

Labourer not liable for default of another. 69. No labourer shall be bound, in or by virtue of any agreement or contract made under this Enactment, to answer for the debt, default, or miscarriage of another person, so as to give any remedy under this Enactment for a breach of such agreement or contract as to such debt, default, or miscarriage.

Exhibition of working-board. 70. Every employer shall exhibit in a conspicuous place in the kongsi-house a correct "Kung-Pai" [工牌] or working-board, containing the names of all labourers working in such kongsi, and shall enter thereon, according to mining custom, the work done by each labourer in the kongsi.

Penalty in default. 71. Every employer who without reasonable excuse, the proof of which shall lie upon him, shall make default in any of the obligations imposed upon him by the last preceding section shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100.

LABOUR (CHINESE MINING).

72. It shall be lawful for the Protector to direct an employer to supply to any contract labourer, free of charge, on the date of making a contract, the following articles, namely, one jacket, two pairs of short trousers, one mosquito curtain, two bathing cloths, one sun hat, one pair of clogs and one blanket, and such articles shall be of a quality and make to be approved of by the Protector, provided that their total cost shall not exceed $4.

Employer to provide certain articles free.

Any employer failing to comply with any direction under the provisions of this section shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $25.

73. (i). Every employer who employs twenty contract labourers or upwards shall affix and exhibit continuously in a conspicuous place in the kongsi-house on his mine a copy of the abstract of Chinese Mining Labour Law set out in the schedule attached hereto.

Translation of schedule to be posted in certain cases.

(ii). Every employer who employs one hundred labourers or upwards shall affix and exhibit continuously in a conspicuous place on his coolie lines or kongsi-house a copy of the said schedule.

(iii). Printed copies of the said schedule, with such translations as may be necessary, shall on application be supplied free by the District Officer or the Protector to all such employers as are referred to in Sub-sections (i) and (ii).

(iv). Every employer who, without reasonable excuse, proof whereof shall lie upon him, refuses or neglects to comply with the provisions of Sub-sections (i) and (ii) shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100.

74. If any employer of contract labour who is bound by the terms of his contract to supply a contract labourer free of charge with clothing or other articles shall debit such labourer with such charges, or if any employer who is bound to pay stamp duty or other fees on making a contract under this Enactment or for its endorsement shall charge a contract labourer with such duty or fees he shall be guilty of an offence and be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $50.

Debiting labourer with improper charges.

75. (i). On the application of any employer to the Protector or a Magistrate that a contract labourer may be photographed for future identification it shall be lawful for the Protector or Magistrate to direct that such contract labourer and, if it shall appear necessary to him, such employer be photographed at such time and in such place and manner as the Protector or Magistrate may think fit, and the photograph of any such contract labourer or employer shall be endorsed with the signature and seal of the Protector or Magistrate before return to the employer, and one copy of such photograph shall be filed in the office of the Protector or Magistrate who makes such endorsement.

Photographing contract labourers and employers.

(ii). The expenses of photographing contract labourers for future identification shall be borne by the employer.

76. If any contract labourer proves physically unfit and unable to perform the work that he has by the terms of his contract undertaken to perform, it shall be lawful for the Court or the Protector, on complaint by such contract labourer or his employer, to order that Contract labourer unfit for particular work.

No. 12 of 1904.

such contract labourer be given such other work or task in place of that which he has proved unfit and unable to perform as the Court or Protector, after consultation with the employer, shall deem reasonable and just.

(ii). If any employer shall compel any labourer to perform any work which the Court or the Protector has directed that he shall not be bound to perform, he shall be guilty of an offence and shall, on conviction, be liable to a fine not exceeding $100.

PART VIII.

SANITATION AND HOSPITALS.

House accommodation.

77. Every employer who has agreed or contracted to provide house accommodation for his labourers shall supply and maintain such accommodation as shall fulfil all reasonable sanitary requirements. Should it appear to the Protector, or to any Magistrate duly authorised by the Resident, that the accommodation provided is likely, by reason of its site, construction, size, or otherwise, to endanger the health of any labourer or of any other person, it shall be lawful for such Protector or Magistrate to serve the employer with an order in writing requiring him to remove, alter or enlarge such accommodation within a reasonable time, to be stated in such order; and such order may also, if necessary, declare that no labourer shall be permitted to occupy any building the subject of such order, pending such removal, alteration, or enlargement, and any employer who shall neglect or refuse to comply with such order shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $200, and further to a fine not exceeding $10 for each day beyond the prescribed time during which such removal, alteration, or enlargement remains uncompleted.

Penalty for housing labourer in insanitary dwelling.

78. Every employer who shall be convicted of housing any labourer in a building the state or surroundings of which are in such a condition as to endanger the health or safety of such labourer shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100.

Order prohibiting admission of labourers.

79. Should the accommodation upon any mine be insanitary or otherwise unsatisfactory, it shall be lawful for the Protector or a Magistrate to order that no labourers shall be admitted to such mine until the necessary improvement has been effected.

Water supply.

80. Every employer who is bound to provide house accommodation for his labourers shall also be bound to provide for them a sufficient quantity of wholesome water.

Order to improve water supply.

81. Should it appear to the Protector, or to a Magistrate, that the water provided for the use of the labourers upon any mine is insufficient in quantity or unwholesome in quality, it shall be lawful for such Protector or Magistrate to serve such employer with an order in writing requiring him to increase or improve such supply within a reasonable time, to be stated in such order, and such order may also, if necessary, declare that the employer shall not permit any labourer to use the water which is the subject of such order until such improvement has been effected, and any employer who shall neglect or refuse to comply with such order shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $200, and further to a fine not exceeding $10 for each day beyond the prescribed time during which such increase or improvement shall remain uncompleted.

LABOUR (CHINESE MINING).

82. In the event of any labourer falling sick and requiring medical treatment it shall be the duty of his employer to send him, with as little delay as possible, to the nearest Government hospital for treatment, providing transport if necessary. Sick labourers to be sent to hospital.

83. Every employer who without reasonable excuse, the proof of which shall lie upon him, shall fail to send to hospital any such labourer shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100, or to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding two months, and upon conviction for a second or subsequent similar offence, committed within two years from the date of a previous conviction for such an offence, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $500, or to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding six months, or to both. Penalty for non-compliance.

84. If it shall appear at any time to the Protector or to a Magistrate or to a qualified Medical Officer of the Government that a labourer is suffering from a contagious or infectious disease or that it is otherwise desirable that he should be removed and placed under medical care, it shall be lawful for such Protector, Magistrate or Medical Officer to cause such labourer to be forthwith removed to such place as he may direct, and such labourer shall thereupon be detained until discharged by an order in writing under the hand of a Medical Officer. Order for removal of sick labourer.

85. It shall be lawful for the Resident, by order in writing, to require the owner of or the employer in any mine to construct within a reasonable time, to be stated in such order, and thereafter to maintain at his own expense, a hospital for the reception of the labourers employed for the purposes of such mine, upon such site and of such description as shall be approved by the State Surgeon, and also to require such owner or employer to employ a duly qualified dresser to be approved by the State Surgeon to superintend such hospital and to provide him with fit and proper house accommodation to the satisfaction of the State Surgeon. Hospitals.

86. It shall be lawful for the Resident, by order in writing, to fix from time to time the description and quantities of general diets for patients, the number of hospital attendants, together with the description and quantities of drugs and other medical and surgical appliances to be kept in stock at any such hospital. Orders by Resident as to hospitals.

87. Every owner or employer who neglects or refuses to comply with any such order as is mentioned in the two last preceding sections shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100, and further to a fine not exceeding $10 for each day beyond the prescribed time during which he shall have failed to comply with the same. Penalty for non-compliance.

PART IX.

GENERAL.

88. Whenever the Protector or any Magistrate has reasonable grounds for suspicion that any offence has been committed by an Power of summons.

No. 12 OF 1904.

employer against a labourer or by a labourer against an employer, or whenever the Protector or any Magistrate wishes to enquire into any matter concerning disputes as to wages, desertions, malingering, misconduct, food, medical attendance, deaths, mining customs and mining complaints, Government inspections, crimping, sanitation or any other matter relating to employer and labourer dealt with under the provisions of this Enactment, it shall be lawful for the Protector or any Magistrate to summon any person who he has reason to believe can give information respecting the subject matter of the enquiry, and the person so summoned shall be legally bound to attend at the time and place specified in the summons and to answer truthfully all questions which such Magistrate or the Protector may put to him.

Mining
custom.

89. All agreements and contracts and notices deemed to be binding as contracts under this Enactment shall be construed according to the mining custom of the place in which the same are to be performed, in so far as such custom is not inconsistent with the provisions of this Enactment.

Documents to be evidence.

90. All documents and books of account having relation to agreements, contracts or notices deemed to be binding as contracts under this Enactment or to the work to be performed under such agreements, contracts or notices shall be prima facie evidence thereof, provided that such documents and books shall have been kept in accordance with the mining custom of the place in which the agreement, contract or notice is to be performed.

action of Enactment.

91. All agreements and contracts in force at the commencement of this Enactment shall continue to be in force after the commencement thereof and, subject to the express provisions in any such agreement or contract contained, the parties thereto shall be subject to and entitled to the benefit of the provisions of this Enactment.

Proof of execution.

92. Any such contract not executed in accordance with the provisions of Sections 14 to 19, inclusive, may be proved before a Court to have been executed before the commencement of this Enactment.

Enactment
no bar to civil suit.

93. Nothing in this Enactment shall prevent any employer or labourer from enforcing their respective civil rights and remedies for any breach or non-performance of an agreement or contract by suit in Court, in any case in which proceedings are not instituted, or, if instituted, are not proceeded with to judgment and satisfaction under this Enactment.

Penal Code.

94. (i). Nothing in this Enactment shall interfere with the operation of the Penal Code or the criminal law in any case in which its provisions may be applicable, but so that no person be punished twice for the same offence.

(ii). Any prosecution under this Enactment may be withdrawn before judgment, and a fresh prosecution instituted for the same offence under the Penal Code or other law applicable to the circumstances of the case.

Public
servants.

95. For the purposes of this Enactment and of the Penal Code the Protector and all officers duly authorised in writing by the Resident to act under the provisions of this Enactment shall be deemed to be public servants.

LABOUR (CHINESE MINING).

96. For the purpose of any criminal prosecution every mine in which ten or more labourers are employed shall be deemed to be a public place.

97. No punishment, whether by way of fine or imprisonment, suffered under the provisions of this Enactment shall, unless the Court so direct, be held to determine any agreement or contract which was in force at the time when the offence was committed.

98. (i). The Resident may, with the approval of the Resident-General, from time to time make such rules under this Enactment as may be necessary for fully and effectually carrying out and giving effect to the various purposes, provisions, and powers in this Enactment contained; and such rules, when published in the Gazette, shall have the force of law.

(ii). Breach of any such rule shall be punishable with such fine not exceeding $100 as the Resident may, with the approval of the Resident-General, by notification in the Gazette prescribe and, when the breach is a continuing one, with such further fine as may be described in manner aforesaid not exceeding $10 for every day during which such breach is persisted in.

THE SCHEDULE.

(Section 73).

ABSTRACT OF CHINESE MINING LABOUR LAW.

1. A verbal agreement is deemed to be for one month and to be renewed from month to month until it is determined by either party giving a month's notice or paying to the other party a month's wages.

2. (a). The Manager of any mine may post a notice in Chinese on his mine stating the terms under which labourers are to work on time, piece or contract work, and whoever signs such notice is held to be the employer and such notice shall be deemed to be a contract between the person who signs it as employer and the labourer who commences work on such mine; such notice shall state clearly who is responsible for the wages of the labourer. No labourer working under such a contract shall be compelled to work for more than six months notwithstanding any debt he owes to any person.

(b). Tribute labourers may make an agreement with any person to advance to them, and he is to be regarded as the employer; such agreement must be in writing in Chinese and be signed by the employer and be suspended in the kongsi, and it shall be deemed to be a contract between the employer and the tribute labourers. Tribute labourers and the employer may fix how long the contract is to last and the employer must state this clearly in the notice, but under no circumstances may an employer compel a tribute labourer to work against his will under such an agreement for more than twelve months notwithstanding any debts which may be due from such tribute labourer to such employer. If at any time the employer shall fail to advance the necessary goods and moneys, none of the conditions of the notice shall be enforceable by the employer against the labourers; and the labourers shall be at liberty to take a new advancer.

(c). All such notices must first be approved by the Protector, and a copy, certified by him as approved by him, be deposited with the officer in charge of the nearest police station to the mine.

The mining labour law set out above in paragraphs (a) and (b) is voluntary, and not compulsory. If employer and labourer prefer to work on other conditions than those set out above it is open to them to make them. But employer and labourer must remember that verbal agreements only last for one month, and cannot bind either party to any term longer than thirty days. If therefore, employer or labourer wish to work on terms other than those stated above in paragraphs (a) and (b) for more than a month, they should make a written contract and have it signed by both parties before the Protector or Magistrate. Such contract, however, will not be valid if it contains anything contrary to the provisions of this Enactment.

3. No written contract made before a Magistrate or the Protector may be for more than three hundred and sixty days' work or "Kung" (I) or for a longer period of time than twelve months, if made in the Colony or Federated Malay States, nor for a longer period than two years, or for more than seven hundred and twenty days' work if made elsewhere.

4. No time during which a labourer is in prison or absent without leave counts towards completion of contract and the labourer must work off such days.

But under no other circumstances can a labourer be detained under one and the same written contract for a longer period than two years in the case of a contract made in the Colony or the Federated Malay States; nor for a longer period than three years in the case of a contract made elsewhere.

5. An employer cannot dismiss a labourer under written contract nor transfer him to another employer unless such labourer express his willingness before a Magistrate or the Protector.

6. An employer may himself arrest a labourer and take him before a Magistrate to complain against him.

7. If a labourer absconds his employer may himself arrest him anywhere if he is in a public place, and take him before a Magistrate.

If he is in another employer's house or service the employer may himself arrest him without warrant if he has a photograph of such labourer, endorsed by a Magistrate or the Protector, or if the other employer consents to his being arrested. If such other employer refuses to arrest the labourer the employer demanding the arrest of the absconded labourer may insist on the other employer arresting him and taking him before the Court. If the other employer refuses to do this he may be fined a sum not exceeding $100 by the Magistrate. An absconding labourer can always be arrested without warrant by his employer if he takes a Police Officer with him to effect such arrest.

LABOUR (CHINESE MINING).

A Magistrate may order a labourer to pay any sum not exceeding $10 to his employer for the cost of his arrest.

8. Every employer who neglects or omits to fulfil an agreement or contract is liable to a fine of $50 or, in default, to three months' simple imprisonment.

Every labourer on a written contract who neglects or omits to carry out his contract, or who refuses to work, or who absconds, is liable to a fine of $50, or to six months' imprisonment, or to both, and for a subsequent similar offence to twelve months' imprisonment. Every labourer on a verbal agreement who refuses to work, disobeys orders, or damages the property of his employer, is liable to a fine of $10, or to imprisonment not exceeding six weeks for a first offence, and for a second or subsequent similar offence to a fine not exceeding $25 or, in default, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months.

9. If any labourer is absent from work through idleness or sickness due to immorality or misconduct he gets no wages for the period of such absence.

All contract labourers who work by the day or month are entitled to have two holidays a month, namely on the first and fifteenth of each Chinese moon. They are also entitled to holidays on customary festivals without deduction from wages.

All contract labourers who have agreed to do so many days' work or "Kung" (工) are entitled to stop work on the first and fifteenth of every Chinese moon, and on the chief Chinese festivals, provided that the total number of days of their absence shall not exceed five days in any one month.

Such labourers are not to be credited with wages on such days.

10. All labourers under written contract are entitled to food and medical attendance from their employers free while absent from work owing to sickness.

Labourers on verbal agreements are not entitled to food and medical attendance from their employers.

Every employer is bound to send any of his labourers falling ill to the nearest Government hospital under penalty of a fine of $100.

11. Every employer is bound to take any labourer wishing to make a complaint before a Magistrate, under penalty of a fine of $100.

No. 12 OF 1904.

If the Court finds the complaint of the labourer to be frivolous the labourer may be fined up to $10 and this fine may be given to the employer as compensation.

12. The Protector, or a Magistrate, may order employers who provide houses for their coolies to improve them if unhealthy, and the employer is liable to a fine of $200 for non-compliance.

13. If the house accommodation is unhealthy, insufficient or unsafe for the labourers the Protector or Magistrate may forbid the employer to put labourers in such buildings.

14. The Protector or a Magistrate may order an employer who provides house accommodation for his labourers to provide wholesome water for them, or to improve existing sources, under penalty of a fine of $200.

15. No employer shall prosecute a labourer for absconding, idleness, or refusal to work, if the wages of such labourer have become overdue to him, under the terms of his agreement or contract, or under the provisions of the law, and the employer shall have refused to pay the same on demand.

16. If a labourer has received advances outside the State in consideration of an engagement to work in the State, and did not before entering the State sign a contract acknowledging such advances, he must sign such a contract within six weeks of his arrival in the State.

17. No contract under this Enactment is valid unless it has been duly certified by a Magistrate or the Protector or some other person appointed by the Resident for that purpose.

18. The Protector or any Magistrate, and any officer authorised in writing by a Magistrate, may enter upon any mine.

19. If the Protector or any Magistrate of the First Class is satisfied that a labourer has been ill-used by his employer he may cancel his contract.

20. No employer need pay wages to a labourer for any period of imprisonment undergone by him or for any time spent by him in travelling to or from prison or to or from a Court about a case in which he is convicted.

21. If any labourer is convicted of an offence and is imprisoned the employer may apply to the officer of the prison to have such labourer returned to him on expiration of his sentence and can send a person to receive him, or have such labourer returned by a police escort (at the employer's expense) to the place where he is employed. No fine or imprisonment terminates the verbal agreement or written contract of a labourer.

22. Under no circumstances may an employer make one labourer liable for the offences or debts of another labourer.

FEDERATED MALAY STATES.

STATE OF PERAK.

ENACTMENT NO. 14 OF 1904.

An Enactment to provide for The Registration of Imports and Exports.

[19th May, 1904].

H. CONWAY BELFIELD,

Acting British Resident.

IT IS HEREBY enacted by His Highness the Sultan in Council as follows:—

1. This Enactment may be cited as “The Registration of Imports and Exports Enactment, 1904,” and shall come into force upon the publication thereof in the Gazette. Short title and commencement.

2. It shall be lawful for the Resident, with the approval of the Resident-General, to make Rules for the registration of all goods imported into and exported from the State, and for the issue of certificates relating to goods so imported or exported, and such Rules shall be published in the Gazette, and shall, at the expiration of 30 days after such publication, have the same force and effect as if contained in this Enactment, and every person guilty of a breach of or non-compliance with any Rule so made and published, and any person wilfully making any false or misleading statement, written or verbal, with respect to any of the matters dealt with by this Enactment or by the Rules published thereunder shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100. Rules.

3. It shall be lawful for the Resident, with the approval of the Resident-General, from time to time, by notification in the Gazette, to appoint, by name or office, a Registrar, or Registrars, of Imports and Exports, for the purposes of this Enactment, and to revoke any such appointment. Appointment of Registrar.

RULES MADE BY THE RESIDENT, WITH THE APPROVAL OF THE RESIDENT-GENERAL, ON THE 16TH DAY OF JUNE, 1904, UNDER SECTION 2 OF “THE REGISTRATION OF IMPORTS AND EXPORTS ENACTMENT, 1904.”

GENERAL RULES.

1. The owner, master or agent of any steamer or sailing vessel arriving at any port in the State shall forthwith furnish to the Registrar of Imports and Exports a manifest in the Form A of all the cargo on board his vessel to be landed, and shall not land or permit to be landed any cargo which has been shipped on board his vessel at any place outside the Federated Malay States until he shall have Imports by sea.

No. 14 OF 1904.

received a certificate in respect thereof in the Form E signed by the Registrar. Such certificate may be obtained from the Registrar on the production to him of a declaration in the Form C giving particulars to his satisfaction of the description, quantity or weight and value of the goods to be landed signed by the consignee, consignor, or any person authorised on behalf of the consignee or consignor. Provided that a certificate in the Form E shall not be required in the case of goods consigned to the Government of any of the Federated Malay States; and provided further that the Registrar may in the case of goods shipped direct from any European or other port by way of Singapore or Penang permit the same to be landed without the issue of a certificate in the Form E if he be satisfied that the prescribed declaration will be furnished by the consignee in due course.

Exports by sea.

2. The owner, master or agent of any steamer or sailing vessel leaving any port in the State shall within five days thereafter deliver or cause to be delivered to the Registrar of Imports and Exports a manifest in the Form B of all the cargo shipped on board his vessel at the said port, and shall not receive or permit to be received on board his vessel any cargo consigned to any place outside the Federated Malay States until he shall have received a certificate in respect thereof in the Form F signed by the Registrar. Such certificate may be obtained from the Registrar on the production to him of a declaration in the Form D giving particulars to his satisfaction of the description, quantity or weight and value of the goods to be shipped signed by the consignor or any person authorised on his behalf.

Limitation of foregoing rules.

3. The foregoing Rules shall not apply to any junk, tongkang, prahu, boat or steam vessel under 50 tons, commanded by a native.

Imports by small craft.

4. On the arrival of any junk, tongkang, prahu, boat or steam vessel under 50 tons, commanded by a native, the nakhoda or helmsman thereof shall attend in person at the office of the Registrar of Imports and Exports and there make a written or verbal declaration of all the cargo on board his vessel to be landed.

Exports by small craft.

5. On the departure of any junk, tongkang, prahu, boat or steam vessel under 50 tons, commanded by a native, the nakhoda or helmsman thereof shall attend in person at the office of the Registrar of Imports and Exports and there make a written or verbal declaration of all the cargo shipped on board his vessel and her port of destination. No port clearance shall be granted until such declaration has been made.

Imports by rail.

6. Every person to whom goods are consigned by railway from any place outside the Federated Malay States to a place in the State with which there is direct railway communication shall furnish or cause to be furnished to the Station-master at the station of delivery a declaration giving particulars of the description, quantity or weight and value of such goods in the Form G without which delivery shall not be granted; provided that if the description or value of such goods be unknown to the consignee thereof delivery may be given on a written promise of the consignee or his agent to furnish the necessary information in a reasonable time to the satisfaction of the Station-master.

REGISTRATION OF IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

7. Every person who consigns goods by railway to any place outside the Federated Malay States with which there is direct railway communication shall furnish or cause to be furnished to the Station-master at the station of despatch a declaration giving particulars of the description, quantity or weight and value of such goods in the Form H, without which no receipt or document in the nature of a receipt shall be granted.

Exports by rail.

8. Passengers' baggage and articles not exceeding $250 in value, which are not intended for sale but for private use, and articles by parcel post, are exempted from the operation of Rules 1, 2, 6 and 7.

Exception as to passengers' baggage, etc.

9. On the arrival at any station appointed for the registration of imports and exports on any boundary of the State, other than a boundary between the State and any other of the Federated Malay States, of any cart, waggon, car, truck or other vehicle having goods consigned by road from any place outside the Federated Malay States to a place therein, the person in charge thereof shall make a written or verbal declaration to the Officer in charge of such station of the goods carried and shall not proceed till this has been done.

Imports by road.

10. On the departure from any station appointed for the registration of imports and exports on any boundary of the State, other than a boundary between the State and any other of the Federated Malay States, of any cart, waggon, car, truck or other vehicle having goods consigned by road from any place in the Federated Malay States to any place outside the said States, the person in charge thereof shall make a written or verbal declaration to the Officer in charge of such station of the goods carried and shall not proceed till this has been done.

Exports by road.

11. Nothing contained in these Rules shall absolve any importer or exporter from the obligations contained in any Enactment or Rules made thereunder, regulating the movement of any special merchandise or coins.

Special obligations preserved.

SPECIAL RULES, RELATING TO SUGAR.

12. Whenever any sugar, raw or refined, or converted into any special form (such as sugar-candy, barley sugar, or the like), is imported into the State from any place outside the Federated Malay States or is exported from the State to any place outside the Federated Malay States, the Registrar of Imports and Exports shall, if possible, enter in his Register the following particulars:—

Registration of particulars.

(a). The kind and quantity of the sugar.

(b). The kind, number and marks of the packages.

(c). The country of production or origin, and if the sugar is in a manufactured state, the country of manufacture.

13. Whenever any such sugar as aforesaid is exported from any place in the State to any place outside the Federated Malay States the Officer in charge of the Customs at the place at which such sugar is exported from the State shall on demand, if satisfied as to the country of origin, production or manufacture of such sugar and as to the other required particulars, issue to the exporter a certificate of origin indicating the following particulars:—

Granting certificates of origin on export.

No. 14 of 1904.

- (a). The quality and quantity of the sugar.
- (b). The number and description of the packages.
- (c). The origin as well as the destination of the sugar.
- (d). The method of transport (whether by rail, sea, etc.), giving the name of the ship or railway.
- (e). For what length of time the certificate is available, the maximum period being fixed at one year exclusive of detention in customs warehouses.

For sugar produced in countries not parties to the Brussels Convention, the certificates must further state whether the consignment proceeds from a factory which does not refine sugar which in accordance with the terms of the Brussels Convention is either liable to a special import duty or the importation of which is entirely prohibited.

Requiring certificates of origin on import.

14. Whenever any such sugar as aforesaid is imported into the State from any place outside the Federated Malay States, the Officer in charge of the Customs at the place at which such sugar is imported into the State shall require from the importer a certificate of the origin of such sugar issued by the proper fiscal authority of the country of origin or manufacture, indicating the particulars above mentioned.

The expression "importer" in this Rule includes the consignee or his agent and also the master of the vessel in which any sugar is imported.

Export of imported sugar.

15. Where sugar which has been imported into any of the Federated Malay States from a place outside the said States is afterwards exported from the State whether in a changed condition or after re-packing or otherwise, no certificate of origin shall be issued in respect of such sugar by the Officer in charge of the Customs unless and until the certificate of origin under which such sugar was imported has been produced and given up to such Officer.

ENACTMENT NO. 15 OF 1904.

An Enactment to Amend the Law relating to the Protection of Wild Animals and Birds.

[19th May, 1904].

H. CONWAY BELFIELD,

Acting British Resident.

IT IS HEREBY enacted by His Highness the Sultan in Council
as follows:—

1. (i). This Enactment may be cited as "The Wild Animals and Birds Protection Enactment, 1904," and shall come into force three months after the publication thereof in the Gazette. Short title, and commencement.

(ii). Upon the coming into force of this Enactment the Enactment specified in the First Schedule shall be repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column thereof. Repeal.

2. In this Enactment unless the context otherwise requires— Interpretation

"Big game" means any animal included from time to time in the Second Schedule;

"Deer" means any animal included from time to time in the Third Schedule;

"Wild bird" includes all birds found wild within the State other than those included from time to time in the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Schedules;

No. 15 OF 1904.

"Shoot" includes to shoot at with any gun or blow-pipe, or to kill, wound, snare, net, or take by means of any contrivance.

Offences.

3. Subject as hereinafter provided, it shall not be lawful for any person—

(a). To shoot any female elephant or female sambur deer;

(b). To shoot any immature big game or deer;

(c). To shoot any big game or wild bird or any bird included from time to time in the Fourth Schedule or any snipe unless he be duly licensed in that behalf in accordance with the provisions of this Enactment; provided that no licence shall be required in the case of His Highness the Sultan, the High Commissioner, the Resident-General or the Resident.

(d). To procure or instigate any other person not duly licensed in that behalf to shoot any big game or wild bird or any bird included from time to time in the Fourth Schedule, or any snipe;

(e). To snare, net or take by means of any contrivance, or to procure or instigate any other person to snare, net or take by means of any contrivance any deer or any bird included from time to time in the Fourth Schedule, or any snipe; provided that no native of the State who shall snare, net or take any deer or any such bird as is in this sub-section referred to shall be deemed to have committed an offence under this sub-section if he prove that such deer or bird was snared, netted or taken in order to serve as food for himself or his family and was used for that and for no other purpose;

(f). To expose or offer for sale or have in his possession, alive or dead, any big game, deer or bird or any part thereof unless the same shall have been lawfully taken, as to which the burden of proof shall be upon such person.

Licence to shoot big game or wild birds.

4. (i). Licences to shoot big game or wild birds shall only be issued by the Resident and shall be substantially in the form of the Seventh and Eighth Schedules, respectively, and it shall be in the absolute discretion of the Resident to grant or refuse such licences, for every such licence a fee shall be payable at the rate prescribed from time to time under Section 11, provided that the Resident may reduce or remit the fee prescribed for a licence to shoot wild birds in any case where he is satisfied that such licence is intended to be used only in the interests of science.

(ii). The term of a licence under this Enactment to shoot big game or wild birds shall not exceed six months; on the expiration or other determination of any such licence a further licence may, in the discretion of the Resident, be granted to the holder thereof.

(iii). Notwithstanding anything contained in Sub-sections (i) and (ii), any holder of a licence to shoot big game who shall on the expiration thereof certify in writing to the satisfaction of the Resident that he has not killed, wounded, taken or fired at any big game during the period of such licence shall be entitled, on application, to a further licence free of charge to shoot such big game as are specified in the expired licence or, at his option, to a refund of the fee paid by him in respect of the expired licence.

WILD ANIMALS AND BIRDS PROTECTION.

5. (i). Licences under this Enactment to shoot birds included from time to time in the Fourth Schedule and snipe shall be substantially in the form of the Ninth Schedule and may be obtained on application made verbally or in writing to the principal Police Officer of any district and payment of the prescribed fee; provided that in any place where such principal Police Officer is below the rank of Inspector every such licence shall be countersigned by the District Officer.

Other licences.

(ii). The term of any such licence shall not exceed one year.

6. (i). Every licence under this Enactment, unless it be otherwise expressly stated therein, shall be valid throughout the State.

Licence where valid.

(ii). In no case shall a licence be transferable.

Not transferable.

7. Subject to any express limitations therein contained every licence to shoot wild birds, or birds included from time to time in the Fourth Schedule or snipe, issued and in force in any other of the Federated Malay States shall have the same effect as if it had been issued under this Enactment; and, subject as aforesaid, every licence to shoot big game issued and in force in any other of the Federated Malay States shall, if it be endorsed by the Resident, have the same effect as if it had been issued under this Enactment.

Licences issued in other States.

8. (i). The Resident may require any person applying for a licence to shoot big game or wild birds to deposit in the Treasury a sum not exceeding $500; and if any person who has made such deposit as aforesaid shall commit any breach of the terms of any licence to shoot big game or to shoot wild birds issued to him or of the provisions of this Enactment, the whole of such deposit or such part thereof as the Resident may direct may, by order of the Resident, be forfeited to the Government, without prejudice to any penalty to which such person may be otherwise liable.

Deposits.

(ii). So much of any such deposit as shall not have been forfeited shall, after the completion of one month from the date of the expiration or other determination of the licence in respect of which the same was made, be refunded to the depositor on his application therefor.

9. (i). Every holder of a licence to shoot big game or to shoot wild birds, whether such licence was issued under this Enactment or in any other of the Federated Malay States, who shall in pursuance thereof shoot within the State any big game or wild bird shall, before he leaves the State or on the expiration or other determination of his licence, whichever is the earlier date, furnish the Resident with a return shewing the number and description of big game or of wild birds shot within the State under such licence.

Return of big game or wild birds shot.

(ii). In the case of big game such return shall shew the date on which and the place at which each head of big game was shot.

10. The Resident may by written permit, subject to such conditions as to time, place, payment of fees or otherwise as may be stated therein, authorise the capture of elephants by means of enclosures arranged for that purpose; and no person capturing or attempting to capture elephants in accordance with the terms and conditions stated Elephant kraals.

No. 15 OF 1904.

in such permit shall be deemed to have thereby committed an offence against the provisions of Section 3 or incurred liability to any penalty prescribed by Section 19.

Rules.

11. The Resident may, from time to time, with the approval of the Resident-General, by rule published in the Gazette—

(a). Prescribe standards for determining when big game or deer shall be deemed to be immature for the purposes of this Enactment;

(b). Prescribe the fees to be charged for licences to shoot big game or wild birds or birds included from time to time in the Fourth Schedule and snipe; provided that the fee for a licence to shoot big game may vary according to the different circumstances of applicants therefor, and shall vary according to the number and species of the animals permitted to be shot thereunder, and shall in no case be less than $25;

(c). Prohibit absolutely throughout the State or within any specified area thereof the shooting of any kind of animal or bird mentioned in the rule.

(d). Add to or remove from the Second and Third Schedules, respectively, the name of any kind of animal, or add to or remove from the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Schedules, respectively, the name of any kind of bird;

(e). Declare what shall be deemed the close season for deer or for birds included from time to time in the Fourth and Fifth Schedules or any of them, provided that such close season shall not exceed six months during the year;

(f). Declare what period shall be deemed the breeding season of any wild birds;

(g). Vary the forms contained in the Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Schedules or substitute other forms therefor.

Protection during close season.

12. No person shall shoot any deer or bird during the period of any close season declared for deer or for such bird, respectively, under Section 11.

eggs.

13. No person shall take, destroy or have in his possession the eggs of any bird for which a close season has been declared under Section 11 during the period of such close season; and no person shall take, destroy or have in his possession the eggs of any wild bird during any period declared under Section 11 to be the breeding season of such wild bird.

Setting spring-guns,
etc.

14. (i). It shall not be lawful for any person to set, place or prepare, or cause to be set, placed or prepared, any spring gun or engine, sharpened stakes, pit-fall furnished with sharpened stakes, or other contrivance likely to endanger human life or inflict grievous bodily harm.

FEDERATED MALAY STATES.

STATE OF PERAK.

ENACTMENT NO. 16 OF 1904.

An Enactment to amend "The Land Enactment, 1903."

[21st May, 1904].

H. CONWAY BELFIELD,

Acting British Resident.

IT IS HEREBY enacted by His Highness the Sultan in Council as follows:—

1. (i). This Enactment may be cited as "The Land Enactment, 1903, Amendment Enactment, 1904," and shall come into force upon the publication thereof in the Gazette. Short title, commencement and construction.

(ii). This Enactment shall be read together with "The Land Enactment, 1903," hereinafter referred to as "The Principal Enactment," and any copy of the principal Enactment printed after the commencement of this Enactment may be printed with the amendments and additions required and made by this Enactment.

2. Sections 16 and 21 of the principal Enactment are amended by inserting in each of the said sections after the words "certificate of title" the words "or a lease issued under Part II." Amendment of Sections 16 and 21 of the principal Enactment.

3. Section 20 of the principal Enactment is amended by inserting after the word "grant" the words "or lease." Amendment of Section 20 of the principal Enactment.

4. Immediately after Section 25 of the principal Enactment there are inserted two new sections, to be numbered 25A and 25B, as follows:— New Sections 25A and 25B.

25A. (i). Subject to the provisions of Section 23 (iii), land under this Part may, at the discretion of the Resident, be alienated under lease for such term, not exceeding 100 years, and subject to such special rates of premium and rent, as the Resident may approve. Leases.

(ii). Every such lease shall be sealed with the public seal of the State and signed by the Resident and the lessee, and there shall by virtue of this Enactment be implied therein, in the absence of an express provision to the contrary, the same obligations and conditions as are by Sections 24 and 25 implied in a grant.

25B. A book to be called the "Register of Leases for Land" shall be kept by every Registrar of Titles appointed under the provisions of the Registration of Titles Enactment, 1897, wherein the Registrar shall bind up the duplicates of all leases issued under this Part for land situated within his registration district, and the provisions of the said Registration of Titles Enactment, 1897, shall, with the necessary modifications, apply to every such lease in the same manner and to the same extent as if such lease were a grant within the meaning of the said Enactment, subject to the following provisos:— Registration of leases and of dealings therewith.

No. 16 of 1904.

(a). Where reference is made in the said Enactment to "the register" such reference shall be deemed to be to the Register of Leases for Land prescribed by this section;

(b). The terms "proprietor" and "owner" in the said Enactment shall mean the person registered as lessee, and the term "lease" in the said Enactment, with its grammatical variations and cognate expressions, shall mean sub-lease;

(c). Nothing in the said Enactment contained shall operate to vest in any person by transfer, transmission or otherwise howsoever any interest in the land leased greater than is conveyed by the terms of the lease or for a period extending beyond that limited by the terms of the lease;

(d). Certificates of title issued under the said Enactment shall be substantially in the form of Schedule D (ii), and shall be taken by all Courts as conclusive evidence that there is vested in the person named therein all such interest in the land leased as is conveyed by the terms of the lease, subject to the conditions and agreements expressed or implied therein, and the title of such person shall not be subject to challenge except on the grounds specified in Section 7 of the said Enactment;

(e). The forms contained in Schedule B and the subsequent schedules to the said Enactment shall, when used for the purposes of leases under this Part, be subject to such modifications as circumstances may require, or as the Resident may, with the approval of the Resident-General, from time to time prescribe.

Amendment of Section 26 of the principal
Enactment.

5. Section 26 of the principal Enactment is amended by inserting therein after the words "certificate of title" the words "or under lease issued under this Part," and by adding at the end thereof the words "unless it be held under such lease as aforesaid, in which case it shall be subject to the quit-rent reserved by the terms of such lease."

Amendment of Section 71 of the principal
Enactment.

6. Section 71 of the principal Enactment is amended by omitting the words "six months" and inserting in place thereof the words "four months."

New Schedule
D (ii).

7. Immediately after Schedule D to the principal Enactment there is inserted a new schedule, to be lettered D (ii), as follows:—

SCHEDULE D (ii). Section 25b.

FEDERATED MALAY STATES.

STATE OF PERAK.

ENACTMENT No. 17 OF 1904.

An Enactment to amend the Law relating to Mining.

[21st May, 1904].

H. CONWAY BELFIELD,

Acting British Resident.

IT IS HEREBY enacted by His Highness the Sultan in Council as follows:—

PART I.

PRELIMINARY.

1. This Enactment may be cited as "The Mining Enactment, 1904," and shall come into force on the 1st day of July, 1904.

Short title and commencement.

2. (i). The Enactment mentioned in Schedule A is hereby repealed to the extent specified in the third column of that schedule.

Repeal and saving of existing rights and provision where title promised by Resident.

(ii). Nothing in this Enactment shall invalidate any title to occupy land for mining purposes lawfully granted under the Enactment hereby repealed or under any prior Enactment, or in the absence of an express provision in that behalf abrogate any of the rights or privileges expressly conferred thereby: provided that every such title, right or privilege shall be limited to the extent prescribed by the Enactment under or by virtue of which the same was granted or conferred; and provided further that, save as by such title or Enactment is expressly otherwise provided, it shall be incumbent upon a lessee or occupier of the said land to hold and work the same in accordance with the conditions set forth in this Enactment, and in all respects as if his title to occupy the same were a lease issued under this Enactment.

No. 17 OF 1904.

(iii). In any case in which, before the commencement of this Enactment, the Resident has promised to any person a mining title under the Enactment hereby repealed or under any prior Enactment, such title may be issued after the commencement of this Enactment in the same way as if this Enactment had not been passed or, at the discretion of the Resident, a lease may be issued under this Enactment.

(iv). All appointments made and all rules which may be in force as law under the provisions of the Enactment hereby repealed shall, so far as they are consistent with the provisions of this Enactment, be deemed to have been made under this Enactment.

Interpretation.

3. In this Enactment and in any rules made thereunder the following terms shall, if not inconsistent with the context or subject matter, have the respective meanings hereby assigned to them :

State land.

(i). "State land" means all lands which have not been and may not hereafter be reserved for any public purpose, or which have not been and may not hereafter be leased or granted to or are not and may not hereafter be lawfully occupied by any person, and includes all lands which at the commencement of this Enactment may have become or which hereafter may become forfeited by reason of any breach of the conditions on which the same have been lawfully occupied, or which have been or may hereafter be surrendered to the State by the lawful owner thereof;

Lease.

(ii). "Lease" means a lease of land for mining purposes issued by or under the authority of the Ruler of the State, and includes a lease for such purposes issued prior to the commencement of this Enactment;

Occupier.

(iii). "Occupier" includes every person registered in the Land Office as the lessee or sub-lessee of mining land under this Enactment;

The Court.

(iv). "The Court" means the Court of the Senior Magistrate;

Commissioner.

(v). "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Lands and Mines for the Federated Malay States; Collector.

(vi). "Collector" means any Collector or Assistant Collector duly appointed under "The Land Enactment, 1903;"

Warden.

(vii). "Warden" means a Warden of Mines appointed under this Enactment and includes Assistant Warden;

Inspector.

(viii). "Inspector" means an Inspector of Mines appointed under this Enactment.

PART II.

AUTHORITY TO WORK MINING LANDS AND ACQUISITION OF TITLE WITH SUCH AUTHORITY.

Disposal of
State land.

4. Subject to the provisions of this Enactment the Resident may from time to time on behalf of the Ruler of the State lease State land for mining purposes for such terms as may be stated in the leases, and may direct whether the right to mine any such land shall be disposed of by public auction or tender or in compliance with an application lodged therefor or otherwise and whether premium shall or shall not be charged in respect thereof.

MINING.

5. Any person wishing to apply for any State land for the purpose of mining must lodge in the Land Office of the district an application substantially in the form of Schedule B, setting out the position and approximate area of such land and giving an address at which notices shall be served, and any notice served at such address shall be deemed to be duly served. Every such application must be accompanied by a deposit of money sufficient to cover the prescribed fees.

Application for mining land, how made.

6. The Collector shall thereupon, if in his opinion the particulars contained in the application are sufficient, mark such application with a distinctive number and shall note thereon the day and hour of receipt and shall file the same in the Land Office and enter the particulars thereof in an index of applications to be kept in the Land Office. All applications shall be numbered and entered in the index according to the order in which the same are received, but so that priority of application shall give no claim or priority of claim to the grant of a lease.

How application to be dealt with.

7. Should an application be approved, permanent boundary marks shall be erected and the land surveyed.

Procedure upon approval of application.

8. (i). Should the applicant desire to commence mining operations before the survey can be completed and the lease issued, it shall be lawful for the Collector, with the written consent of the Resident, to issue to the applicant, after the land has been demarcated, a certificate, to be prepared in duplicate, substantially in the form of Schedule C, having thereon a sketch plan of the land, and such applicant may then enter upon, occupy and work the land therein described.

Mining certificate and provisions as to same.

(ii). Every such certificate shall, so far as the circumstances permit, confer the same rights and privileges and be subject to the same conditions, obligations, liabilities and other provisions of this Enactment as a lease granted under this Enactment.

(iii). No claim shall be maintainable in respect of the subsequent alienation of any portion of the land included in the certificate, unless the applicant has strictly complied with the terms of Section 16, Sub-Section (ii).

9. (i). Upon receipt of a certified plan shewing the area of the land with the boundaries and abutments of the same and the position of all boundary marks the Collector shall cause to be prepared a lease for the land in duplicate substantially in the form of Schedule D, with such plan delineated thereon. Upon the completion of the lease, the Collector shall cause to be served at the registered place of address of the applicant, and if possible upon such applicant personally, a notice substantially in the Form I, given in Schedule E. In the event of the applicant failing to comply with the requirements of such notice within three months from the date of service thereof, it shall be lawful for the Collector to cancel such application, and, if a certificate has been issued under Section 8, to cancel such certificate.

Mining lease.

Procedure before signature by applicant.

(ii). Any applicant may at any time upon payment of all expenses cancel his application by a notice in writing addressed to the Collector.

Applicant may cancel application.

No. 17 OF 1904.

Procedure
after signature by applicant.

10. Whenever any lease has been signed by the applicant in accordance with the provisions of the last preceding section, the Collector shall forward the same to the Resident in order that the same may be signed by him and the public seal of the State be affixed thereto, and, upon the return of the same duly executed, he shall cause to be served at the registered address of the applicant, and if possible upon such applicant personally, a notice substantially in the Form II given in Schedule E. In the event of the applicant failing to comply with the requirements of such notice within three months from the date of service thereof, it shall be lawful for the Collector to cancel such application, and, if a certificate has been issued under Section 8, to cancel such certificate, and the Collector shall return the lease to the Resident for cancellation.

Service of notices.

11. The notices prescribed by Sections 9 and 10 may, if personal service cannot be effected and there is no registered place of address, be served in such manner as may be prescribed by rule under Section 124.

Extended application of preceding sections.

12. When any lease has been prepared in pursuance of an application made under any previous Enactment the provisions of the three last preceding sections shall be applicable in respect thereof and the Collector shall have the like power in respect of any certificate issued pursuant to such application, as authority for the commencement of mining operations pending the issue of a lease, as if such certificate had been issued under Section 8.

Applicant not to be deemed to have acquired right to lease.

13. No applicant shall by the payment of survey fees, the signing of a lease, or in any way other than by obtaining a certificate under Section 8, be deemed to have acquired any right to claim the issue of a lease to him in respect of the land for which he has applied; but any application for a lease may, except as aforesaid, be refused by the Resident at any time before such lease has been issued to the applicant. This sub-section applies to applications made before, as well as to those made after, the commencement of this Enactment.

REGISTER OF MINING LEASES AND CERTIFICATES.

Provisions as to registration of leases and other transactions.

14. (i). The Collector shall keep a register, to be called the "Register of Mining Leases," and shall bind up therein the duplicates of all leases issued under this Enactment, and each lease shall constitute a separate folium of such register and the Collector shall record therein the particulars of all instruments, dealings and other matters by this Enactment required to be registered or entered in the register affecting the land contained in each lease.

(ii). The Collector shall also keep a similar register of certificates issued under Section 8.

PROVISIONS AS TO MINING LEASES.

Implied rights of lessee.

15. Every lease shall vest in the lessee thereof in the absence of any express provision to the contrary the following rights, and such other rights, if any, as may be expressly set forth therein:—

(i). The right to work all metals and minerals found upon or beneath the land, and, subject to the provisions of Sub-section (iii), to remove, dispose of, dress and treat the same during such term as may be mentioned in the lease;

MINING.

(ii). The right to use such portion of land as may be required for the purpose of erecting such houses, coolie lines, sheds, or other buildings, or of growing such plants and vegetables, or of keeping such animals and poultry, as may in the opinion of the Warden be reasonable for the purposes of the mine or for the use of the coolies ;

(iii). The exclusive right, subject to the provisions of Section 16 Sub-section (ix), to all timber and other jungle produce upon the land, but no right to remove beyond the boundaries of the land for any purpose (excepting only for the extraction therefrom of any metal or mineral ore) any timber or other jungle produce or any granite, limestone, laterite or other stone, coral, shell, guano, sand, loam or clay obtained from the said land, or any bricks, lime or other commodities manufactured from the materials aforesaid, without licence granted under the provisions of "The Land Enactment, 1903," or any rules made thereunder.

16. There shall be implied in every such lease in the absence of any express provision to the contrary the following obligations on the part of the lessee, and such other obligations, if any, as may be expressly set forth therein :—

Implied obligations on part of lessee.

(i). That the lessee will duly pay the quit-rent to the State at such time and place and in such manner as may from time to time be prescribed, and to such persons as may from time to time be authorised to receive the same ;

(ii). That all land marks by which the boundaries of the land are defined shall be duly maintained and that all boundary lines shall be kept open ;

(iii). (a). That mining operations shall be commenced upon the land within a period of six months from the date of issue of the lease ;

(b). That within a further period of six months there shall be at work thereon not less than such number of coolies as shall be mentioned in such lease, or labour-saving apparatus equivalent thereto calculated at the rate of one horse power to eight coolies (the horse power of such apparatus being determined in the manner prescribed by Schedule F.)

(c). That thereafter the lessee shall not at any time during the term of the lease fail for a period of more than twelve consecutive months to substantially and efficiently carry on mining operations on the land or to keep at work thereon such number of coolies as shall be mentioned in the lease or labour-saving apparatus equivalent thereto calculated as aforesaid. Provided always that the Resident may on payment of the prescribed fee grant exemption for a period of not more than six months from all or any of the obligations described in this sub-section, and renewals of such exemption may, at the discretion of the Resident, be granted in the like manner.

(iv). That if at any time there shall be discovered on any portion of the land which is in process of being worked for alluvial deposits any mineral in the form of lodes, beds, pockets, stockworks or similar formations, or any mineral oil, and the lessee be required, in writing by the Resident, to work the same, he shall commence to do so in a proper and workmanlike manner within twelve months from the date of receipt of such requisition, and in default of so doing he shall be bound to surrender to the State, if so required, such portion of the land as the Resident may direct: provided that he shall receive reasonable compensation in respect of such loss or damage, if any, as may have been sustained by him in consequence of such surrender, but so that such compensation shall not include any sum on account of the value of any mineral deposit which he has so failed to work as aforesaid and such compensation shall be assessed in the manner provided by Part VII of "The Land Enactment, 1903";

No. 17 OF 1904.

(v). That the lessee will carry on all his mining operations in an orderly, skilful and workmanlike manner, and will not cause danger or damage to the owners or occupiers of other lands;

(vi). That the lessee will not use or permit to be used any portion of the land for any purposes other than those mentioned in Section 15 without the written authority of the Collector;

(vii). That all Government officers duly authorised in that behalf shall at all reasonable times have free access to the land and to all workings and buildings in or upon the same, and that all such officers as may be duly authorised by the Warden shall at all reasonable times have free access to the land for the purpose of making examination thereof by boring or otherwise and shall receive from the lessee all reasonable facilities for making such examination.

(viii). That the lessee shall truly fill in, exhibit and cause to be maintained at the principal office or place of business on the land, and wherever the business of the mine is conducted and the coolies housed, a notice substantially in the form of Schedule G, and will also exhibit in a conspicuous place upon any specified buildings copies of such documents in such languages as may from time to time be required by the Warden;

(ix). That the lessee will permit the taking and removal, without payment, from the land, by any person duly authorised by Government, of any earth, stone, gravel, timber and other road-making or building material which may be required by the State for any public purpose;

(x). That the lessee shall cause to be kept true and sufficient books of account of the mining and other business carried on upon the land, and of the disposal of the metals and minerals obtained, and will, if so required, produce or cause to be produced such books for the inspection of the Warden or of any person duly authorised by him in that behalf;

(xi). That the lessee shall allow over the land such access to adjoining land as shall not, in the opinion of the Warden, interfere with his rights under the lease;

(xii). That the lessee will take all due and proper precautions and will comply with all such requirements of the Warden as may be necessary to ensure the health and safety of all miners and workmen employed on the land.

MINING.

17. The obligations mentioned in the last preceding section shall continue binding on the lessee notwithstanding that he may have sub-leased the land or any part thereof and shall also be binding on the sub-lessee or sub-lessees of the land and any occupier thereof.

To what extent obligations continue binding on lessee.

18. (i). Breach of any of the obligations described in Sub-section (iii) of Section 16, except in so far as exemption may have been granted by the Resident under the said sub-section, or of any obligation for breach whereof the lease may be expressed to be forfeitable, shall render the lease liable to forfeiture.

Liability to forfeiture, how incurred.

(ii). If at any time the lessee shall during a period of two consecutive years fail to carry on mining operations then, except as aforesaid, the lease shall without notice to the lessee be absolutely forfeited and the land comprised therein shall revert to and vest in the Ruler of the State.

19. The number of coolies required by the terms of any lease issued under this Enactment to be employed on the land leased thereunder shall not be less than one coolie to each acre of the said land.

Minimum number of coolies.

20. In any case in which a lease has become liable to forfeiture under the provisions of this Enactment, such forfeiture may be enforced notwithstanding the fact that quit-rent may have been received in respect of the said lease, but, if the forfeiture is enforced, any quit-rent received in respect of the year in which the forfeiture is enforced shall be repaid to the lessee.

Receipt of quit-rent not to prevent forfeiture.

21. (i). In any case in which there is reason to believe that a lessee has done or omitted to do something in consequence whereof his lease has become liable to forfeiture, it shall be lawful for the Collector, with the approval of the Resident, to serve on the lessee a notice, which may be substantially in the form of Schedule H with such variations as circumstances may require, calling upon him, within a period specified in such notice but which shall be not less than one month from the service of the notice, to shew cause to the satisfaction of the Resident why the lease should not be forfeited ;

Provisions in case of lease liable to forfeiture.

(ii). If the lessee shall fail to satisfy the Resident that the lease ought not to be forfeited the Resident may, by notification in the Gazette, declare the lease to be forfeited and the land comprised therein shall thereupon revert to and vest in the Ruler of the State ;

(iii). The notice mentioned in Sub-section (i) shall, if possible, be served personally on the lessee, but, if personal service cannot be effected, the notice may be served by publication in at least three consecutive issues of the Gazette ;

(iv). In addition to such service as aforesaid, a duplicate of the notice mentioned in Sub-section (i) shall in every case be posted in some conspicuous position on the land comprised in the lease ;

(v). The provisions of this section shall not apply to the case of a lease forfeited under Section 18, Sub-section (ii).

22. (i). In every case in which a lease has been forfeited and the land comprised therein has reverted to and vested in the Ruler of the State a notice of such forfeiture, under the hand of the Resident, shall be published in the Gazette, and a duplicate thereof shall be posted in some conspicuous position on the land comprised in the lease ;

Procedure when lease forfeited.

No. 17 OF 1904.

(ii). A copy of the Gazette containing such notice shall be conclusive evidence in every Court of Justice in the State that the said lease has been forfeited, and that the land comprised therein has reverted to and vested in the Ruler of the State.

Renewal of lease, how obtained.

23. Any lessee desirous of obtaining a renewal of his lease may make a written application for renewal to the Collector at least twelve months before the expiration of the current term of such lease. A new lease shall thereupon be granted if the lessee proves, to the satisfaction of the Resident, that he has consistently complied with the obligations of his lease.

How land may be surrendered.

24. (i). It shall be lawful for the person entitled under any document of title for mining land at any time to surrender his land, in whole or in part, upon application to the Collector and upon payment of all arrears, if any, due in respect thereof, and of all fees and charges, if any, which may be incurred in ascertaining the position and area of the land so to be surrendered. In all such cases the document of title held in respect of the land shall be forwarded to the Collector for cancellation.

(ii). If part only of the land is to be surrendered, the person entitled shall apply to the Collector to have such part demarcated and surveyed, and such application shall be accompanied by the document of title and by a deposit of such a sum as may, in the opinion of the Collector, be sufficient to cover the amount of all fees and charges incident to such surrender, and thereafter there shall be issued to the person entitled a lease in respect of that portion of his land which remains unsurrendered.

(iii). The Collector shall not be bound to accept a surrender of any land in respect of which all the requirements of this Enactment shall not have been complied with.

Delivery of forfeited or expired title.

25. When any document of title is forfeited or expires the Collector may by a notice in writing to be served on the holder thereof require him to deliver up such document, and the holder shall thereupon be legally bound to so deliver it.

Exchange of existing titles for new leases.

26. Any person who at the commencement of this Enactment is in possession of mining land by virtue of any document of title may exchange such document for a lease under the provisions of this Enactment, without further payment except for survey, demarcation and registration fees, if any, provided that no such exchange shall be permitted if there be vested in any other person any concurrent right to work any metal or mineral in or upon the land described in such document of title; and provided further that nothing herein contained shall entitle any person to receive a lease for a greater area than that specified in the document of title under which he claims or for a longer period than the unexpired portion of the term thereby granted.

Procedure for issue of substituted titles.

27. (i). When any lease has been prepared in pursuance of an application under Section 26 or in substitution for

(a). An agreement for a lease, or

MINING.

(b). Any document of title to land whereof a part has been surrendered to or resumed by the Government, or

(c). Any document of title to land for which owing to re-survey or otherwise it is, in the opinion of the Collector, necessary to substitute a corrected title, the Collector may by notice, substantially in the form of Schedule I, require the person entitled to receive such lease to attend at the Land Office within three months from the date of service of the notice and to sign or take out such lease, as the case may be.

(ii). The Collector may also by such notice require that the person entitled to receive such lease shall on the issue thereof deliver up the title in substitution for which such lease has been prepared, and if default be made in delivering up any document of title required to be delivered up under the provisions of this sub-section the Collector may apply to the Court for an order that such document of title be cancelled or otherwise dealt with and the Court shall make such order in the matter as may be just.

TRANSFERS, SUB-LEASES, CHARGES AND CAVEATS OF MINING LANDS.

28. (i). After the commencement of this Enactment all land held under any title to occupy land for mining purposes granted prior to such commencement, or under any such title granted after such commencement in pursuance of a promise made by the Resident before such commencement, or under a lease or certificate granted under this Enactment, shall be subject to this Enactment and shall not be capable of being transferred, transmitted, sub-leased, charged or otherwise dealt with except in accordance with the provisions of this Enactment, and every attempt to transfer, transmit, sub-lease, charge or otherwise deal with the same, except as aforesaid, shall be null and void and of none effect.

Provisions as to dealings with land.

(ii). The provisions of this section shall not apply to a sub-lease for a period not exceeding twelve months.

Exception of certain sub-leases.

29. (i). Any person wishing to transfer, sub-lease or charge his land shall deliver or transmit to the Collector of the district wherein the land to be transferred, sub-leased or charged is situated the document of title under which the land is held together with a memorandum, substantially in such one of the forms in Schedule J as the nature of the case may require and with such variations, if necessary, as the Collector may permit, filled in and duly signed by each of the parties thereto.

Procedure on transfers, etc

(ii). In the case of a sub-lease of a portion of the land comprised in any lease there shall also be delivered or transmitted as aforesaid a plan coloured red of the land intended to be sub-leased intituled "Plan of that portion of the land comprised in Lease No. of date sub-leased by Sub-Lease No. of date to ."

(iii). The signature of every party to a memorandum shall be attested as follows—that is to say,

No. 17 OF 1904.

(a). If the party signs within the State by one of the following persons — namely,

(i). A Magistrate ;

(ii). A Warden ;

(iii). A Collector ;

(iv). Any Solicitor admitted to practise in the Court of the Judicial Commissioner ;

(v). Any person appointed by the Resident by notification in the Gazette to be a qualified witness under this Enactment ;

(b). If the party signs outside the State by one of the following persons — namely,

(i). A Magistrate ;

(ii). A Notary Public ;

(iii). A British Consul or Vice-Consul ;

(iv). Any person specially appointed in writing by the Resident to attest the signature of any party to the memorandum in question outside the State.

(iv). In all cases where an official holding a seal of office shall attest any memorandum he shall authenticate his signature by his official seal.

Power of attorney.

(v). Where any memorandum purports to be signed by any person as attorney for another, the Collector shall not receive the same for registration unless the power of attorney is produced and is attested in a manner similar to that prescribed by Sub-section (iii) and unless the same or a copy thereof be deposited with the Collector for record. Provided that the Commissioner may, in any case where the production of the original power of attorney would in his opinion involve unreasonable difficulty, expense or delay, by written order addressed to the Collector direct that the production of such a duly certified copy thereof as may be prescribed in the order shall be sufficient, and thereupon the Collector shall upon production of such duly certified copy proceed as if the original power of attorney had been produced.

Collector to make certain endorsements.

30. On receiving payment of the prescribed fees, and any arrears of rent which may be due, the Collector shall endorse upon the document of title a brief memorial shewing the nature of the dealing, the names of the parties and the date, and, in the case of a sub-lease of a portion of land already leased, shall also endorse a reference to the plan in the book hereinafter mentioned and shall insert and bind up in a book to be intituled "Plans of Portions of Land Sub-leased" the plan delivered or transmitted to him as provided by Section 29 Sub-section (ii), with the blanks in the title thereof duly filled in. A similar memorial shall be endorsed upon the duplicate copy of the document of title, and every memorial shall be made or attested by the Collector and shall contain a reference to the memorandum upon which it is based.

MINING.

31. Every such memorandum shall be filed in the Land Office and shall bear a number to indicate the document of title to which it relates. Memorandum to be filed.
32. After registering the transfer, charge or sub-lease as hereinbefore described, the Collector shall return the document of title to the party entitled to the custody thereof. Document of title to be returned.
33. (i). On production of sufficient evidence that any charge has been satisfied the Collector shall obtain the signature of the chargee to that effect upon the memorandum of charge and shall attest such signature and thereupon shall write the word "Satisfied" against the endorsement and memorial relating to such charge together with the date and the number of such memorandum and shall affix his signature. Cancellation of charge.
- (ii). In any case in which it shall be shewn to the satisfaction of the Court that a charge has been satisfied and that the signature of the chargee cannot be obtained in consequence of his absence from the State, or for any other sufficient reason, it shall be lawful for the Court to order that the signature of the chargee be dispensed with. Court may dispense with chargee's signature.
34. (i). On production of sufficient evidence that any sub-lease has been surrendered or cancelled, the Collector shall write the word "Surrendered," or "Cancelled," as the case may be, against the memorandum, endorsement and memorial, and affix his signature thereto. Surrender or cancellation of sub-lease.
- (ii). In all other cases an order of the Warden or of the Court shall be required.
35. (i). It shall be lawful for the Collector, on the application of any chargee and on being satisfied that default has been made in payment of the interest, or of any part thereof, or of the principal sum secured by the charge and that three months' notice, which may be substantially in the form of Schedule K with such variations as may be necessary, demanding payment has been given by the chargee to the owner, to order the sale of the land comprised in the charge, or of such portion thereof as may be necessary. Such sale shall be carried out at the District Land Office and no chargee shall sell any land comprised in a charge except in accordance with the provisions of this section. Sale of land by chargee.
- (ii). No order shall be made under this section unless and until notice of the application, which may be substantially in the form of Schedule L with such variations as may be necessary, shall have been served on all persons who would be affected by such order, and such persons have had an opportunity of appearing before the Collector.
- (iii). Any person aggrieved by any order or refusal of the Collector under this section may appeal to the Court, which may order any sale to be suspended pending the hearing of the appeal. No such appeal shall be admitted after the expiration of thirty days from the date of the order of refusal appealed against.
36. (i). An executor or administrator or person claiming by any form of succession may produce to the Collector the probate or letters Transmission.

No. 17 OF 1904.

of administration granted to him, and thereupon the Collector shall endorse under his hand upon both the original and duplicate document of title to the land or interest claimed a brief memorial shewing the date of the probate or letters of administration and the date and hour of the production of the same to him and shall add the words "as representative" after the name of the person to whom such probate or letters of administration were granted, and upon such endorsement being made such person shall, subject to the provisions of "The Probate and Administration Enactment, 1904," be deemed to be the registered owner of such land or interest or of such part thereof as shall for the time being remain undisposed of, and the Collector shall note the fact of such registration by memorandum under his hand on the probate or letters of administration. Any person registered as the representative of a deceased person shall hold the land or interest in respect of which he is registered for the purposes to which the same is applicable according to equity and good conscience and subject to any trusts upon which such deceased person held the same, but for the purposes of any registered dealings with such land or interest he shall, subject to the provisions of "The Probate and Administration Enactment, 1904," and of this Enactment, be deemed to be the absolute owner thereof.

(ii). A trustee in bankruptcy or receiver of an insolvent estate or other person claiming by any order of Court or act of law may become the registered owner of mining land or of interests therein by producing at the Land Office the order of Court establishing his claim or other satisfactory proof of his title.

(iii). Any person aggrieved by any refusal of the Collector to register him under this section may appeal to the Court, provided that no such appeal shall be admitted after the expiration of thirty days from the date of such refusal.

(iv). In any case in which no legal representative of any deceased person shall have been registered it shall be lawful for the Collector, at any time after the expiration of twelve months from the death of such person and after notification in two successive issues of the Gazette of the intention to do so, to resume on behalf of the Ruler of the State any mining lands the title whereof is registered in the name of such deceased person; provided that no such resumption shall be carried out during the pendency of proceedings before any Court to establish the claim of any person to act as such legal representative.

(v). Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to vary or invalidate the procedure provided by any law in force for the time being to regulate the succession to estates of small value.

Power of Commissioner to correct errors.

37. The Commissioner may, upon such evidence as shall appear to him sufficient, order the Collector to correct formal errors in leases or certificates or in the register or other office records, or to supply entries which by mistake have been omitted to be made. But the Collector shall not erase or render illegible the original words and shall affix the date on which such correction was made or entry supplied, with his initials.

Caveat may be lodged.

38. Any person claiming to be interested under any will, settlement, or trust deed, or any instrument of transfer or transmission, or under any unregistered instrument, or otherwise howsoever, in any land in respect of which a mining lease or other mining title for a period of more than twelve months has been issued and is in force, may lodge a caveat with the Collector to the effect that no disposition of such land be made either absolutely or in such manner and to such extent only as in such caveat may be expressed, or until notice shall have been served on the caveator, or unless the instrument of disposition be expressed to be subject to the claim of the caveator as may be required in such caveat, or to any conditions conformable to law expressed therein.

(i). A caveat may be substantially in the form of Schedule M and shall be verified by the affirmation of the caveator or his agent, and shall contain an address within the State at which notices may be served. Form of caveat.

(ii). Upon the receipt of a caveat the Collector shall make a memorandum thereon of the date and hour of the receipt thereof, and shall enter a memorandum thereof in the register, and shall forthwith send a notice of such caveat through the post office or otherwise to the person against whose title such caveat shall have been lodged, hereinafter called "the caveatee." Notice to be sent to caveatee.

(iii). So long as any caveat shall remain in force prohibiting the transfer or other dealing with land, the Collector shall not enter in the register any memorandum of transfer or other instrument purporting to transfer or otherwise deal with or affect the land in respect of which such caveat may be lodged; provided that the Collector may notwithstanding the terms of any caveat make any entry in the register required to be made in pursuance of a sale for recovery of arrears of rent due to the State. Effect of caveat.

(iv). The lessee or other person claiming land may by summons call upon the caveator to attend before the Court to shew cause why the said caveat should not be withdrawn, and it shall be lawful for the Court upon proof that such last-mentioned person has been summoned, and upon such evidence as the Court may require, to make such order in the premises either ex parte or otherwise as to the Court shall seem fit. And where a question of right or title shall require to be determined, the proceedings shall be as nearly as may be in conformity with the rules of Court in relation to civil causes. Opposition to caveat.

(v). Except in the case of a caveat lodged by the Collector the caveatee may make application in writing to the Collector to remove such caveat, and thereupon the Collector shall give twenty-one days' notice in writing to the caveator requiring that the caveat be withdrawn, and after the lapse of twenty-one days from the date of the service of such notice at the address mentioned in the caveat the Collector shall remove such caveat from the register by entering a memorandum that the same is discharged, unless he shall have been previously served with an order of the Court extending the time as herein provided. Removal of caveat.

(vi). Such caveatee shall in such application give an address in the State at which notices and proceedings may be served. Caveatee to give address.

(vii). The caveator may either before or after receiving such notice from the Collector apply by summons to the Court for an order to extend the time beyond the twenty-one days mentioned in such notice, Extension of time to caveator.

No. 17 of 1904.

and such summons may be served at the address given in the application of the caveatee, and it shall be lawful for the Court upon proof that the caveatee has been summoned, and upon such evidence as the Court may require, to make such order in the premises either ex parte or otherwise as the Court shall think fit.

Withdrawal of caveat.

(viii). The caveator may by notice in writing to the Collector withdraw his caveat at any time, but such withdrawal shall not prejudice the power of the Court to make an order as to payment by the caveator of the costs of the caveatee incurred prior to the receipt by the caveatee of notice in writing of the withdrawal of such caveat.

Registration of withdrawal.

(ix). An entry shall be made by the Collector in the register of the withdrawal, lapse, or removal of any caveat or of any order made by the Court.

No second caveat to be lodged in same matter.

(x). It shall not be lawful for the same person or for anyone on his behalf to lodge a further caveat in relation to the same matter, but the Collector may alter or amend the same in such manner and on such terms as may seem just, and all such amendments shall be made as may be necessary for the purpose of determining the real questions in controversy between the caveator and caveatee, and nothing herein contained shall prejudice the right of the Collector to enter or continue any caveat under the powers vested in him by Sub-section (xii).

Person wrongfully lodging caveat to make compensation.

(xi). Any person other than the Collector lodging or continuing any caveat wrongfully and without reasonable cause shall be liable to make compensation to any person who may have sustained damage thereby.

Powers of Collector.

(xii). The Collector may at any time enter a caveat on behalf of the Ruler of the State, or on behalf of any person who may be under the disability of infancy, lunacy, unsoundness of mind, or absence from the State, to prohibit the transfer of, or any dealing with, any land belonging or supposed to belong to the State or to any such persons as hereinbefore mentioned, and also to prohibit any dealing with any land in any case in which it shall appear to him that an error has been made by misdescription of such land or otherwise in any document of title or other instrument, or for the prevention of any fraud or improper dealing.

Proviso.

(xiii). This section shall apply only to land in respect of which a mining lease or other mining title for a period of more than twelve months has been issued and is in force.

Land laws to apply in certain cases.

39. Every title to work mining land shall be subject to the land laws of the State for the time being in respect of the following matters—that is to say,

- (a). Demarcation and survey ;
- (b). Collection of land revenue ;
- (c). Sub-divisions of lands ;
- (d). Loss of documents of title ;
- (e). Certified copies of documents of title ;
- (f). Acquisition of land for residential reserves or public purposes.

MINING.

INDIVIDUAL MINING LICENCES.

40. The Resident may from time to time, by notification in the Gazette, declare any area to be an area within which mining may be carried on under individual mining licence, and so long as any such notification remains in force it shall be lawful for the Collector to issue licences for individual mining within the area specified in such notification.

Authority for issue of individual licence.

41. (i). Every such licence shall be substantially in the form of Schedule N, and shall convey to the person named therein the right to mine any mineral deposit being within the area defined by such licence.

Form of licence, right conveyed.

(ii). No such licence shall be issued except to the person named therein.

42. (i). Every such licence shall be subject to the following conditions and limitations :—

Conditions and limitations of licence.

(a). It shall not remain in force after the 31st day of December of the year in respect of which it is issued ;

(b). It shall not be transferable ;

(c). It shall convey to the licensee the right to work in such manner only as may be approved by the Warden or by an Inspector ;

(d). It shall be liable to immediate cancellation by the Warden should the licensee at any time during the continuance thereof make default in the observance of any of the conditions of such licence or of the provisions of this Enactment, or disobey or disregard any lawful order ;

(e). It shall be carried by the licensee at all times when he may be engaged upon any work which is in any way affected or controlled by the conditions of such licence or by the provisions of this Enactment, and shall be produced whenever lawfully required.

(ii). There shall be payable in respect of every such licence such fee as may be prescribed.

PART III.

PROSPECTING LICENCES.

43. (i). It shall be lawful for the Collector, with the approval of the Resident, to grant licences to prospect for metals or minerals, subject to such terms, conditions and limitations as are stated in this Part.

Licences to prospect.

(ii). No licence so granted shall be in any way nullified by the provisions of "The Land Enactment, 1903."

(iii). In this Part "licence" means a licence issued under the provisions of this Part, and "licensee" means the lawful holder of such a licence.

44. Every application for a licence shall be in writing and shall contain the following particulars :—

Application for licence and particulars to be given.

(a). The position, approximate area and boundaries of the land in respect of which the application is made ;

No. 17 OF 1904.

(b). The metal or mineral for which it is proposed to prospect ;

(c). The extent of the area in respect of which the applicant desires the prior right to receive a lease.

Particulars to be entered.

45. The particulars of every application for a licence shall be entered by the Collector in a book to be kept by him for that purpose, and all applications shall be dealt with according to the order in which the same are received, but so that priority of application shall give no claim or priority of claim to a licence.

Form of licence;
not transfer-able.

46. Every licence shall be substantially in the form of Schedule O ; no licence shall be transferable.

Licensee to work subject to Warden's
direction.

47. Every licence shall convey to the licensee the right to undertake and continue such work only as may in the opinion of the Warden be reasonably necessary to enable him to test the metalliferous qualities of the land.

Removal of minerals.

48. It shall be lawful for the licensee to remove from the land and dispose of all metals or minerals raised in the course of prospecting operations upon payment of such royalty or export duty as may be fixed by any law for the time being.

Where licensee may not prospect.

49. A licence shall convey no permission to prospect lands other than State lands except with the consent in writing of the lawful occupier thereof, nor shall it entitle the licensee to enter upon any land which shall at the date of such licence be the subject of an application for a mining lease.

Work of licensee subject to inspection.

50. Every licensee shall permit the Warden and Inspector, and any persons thereto duly authorised by the Warden, at all reasonable times to inspect any work which may have been executed or which may be in progress upon the land the subject of such licence, and shall render, when so required, by the Warden, a full, true, particular, and just account of the results of his prospecting operations.

Production of licence.

51. Every licensee shall produce his licence at all reasonable times when required to do so by the Collector, the Warden, or an Inspector.

Licence may be cancelled.

52. Every licence shall be liable to be cancelled by the Resident upon proof of the breach of any of the conditions thereof or of any of the provisions of this Enactment.

Rights of licensee.

53. Every licence shall convey to the licensee the prior right to select and receive a lease for a block of mining land, of an area to be determined by the Resident and stated in the licence, from any part of the land being State land described in such licence, in the event of the Resident being satisfied that the licensee has done a sufficient amount of prospecting work to entitle him to such land : and shall also, in the absence of any express provision therein to the contrary, convey to the licensee the following rights and privileges and be subject to the following conditions :—

(i). The exclusive right to prospect for metals and minerals within a specified area ;

MINING.

(ii). No application for a lease lodged in respect of any land held under a licence shall be dealt with and no portion of such land shall be alienated for agricultural purposes until all rights of the licensee in respect of such land shall have been satisfied;

(iii). If upon the expiration of the term of any licence the licensee shall prove, to the satisfaction of the Resident, that he has completed a reasonable amount of prospecting and has otherwise in all respects complied with the conditions of his licence and the provisions of this Enactment, there shall upon his application and upon payment of the prescribed fee be issued to him a new licence in respect of any such part of the land comprised in the former licence as he may select provided that such part shall not, except with the permission of the Resident, exceed one half thereof; such new licence shall, unless the Resident otherwise direct, entitle the licensee, subject to the provisions of this Part, to select and receive a lease for a block of mining land of an area not less than that which he was entitled to select under the expired licence;

(iv). The term of every licence shall be fixed by the Resident;

(v). There shall be payable in respect of every licence the prescribed fees together with the amount of all such reasonable expenses, if any, as may, in the opinion of the Collector, be necessary to defray the cost of fixing the position of the land to be included in such licence;

(vi). A licence may at any time be cancelled by the Resident if the licensee shall have ceased altogether to work on the land comprised in the licence for a period to be fixed by the Resident and inserted in the licence.

PART IV.

PROVISIONS REGARDING WATER.

54. The entire property in and control of all rivers, streams and water-courses throughout the State is and shall be vested solely in the Ruler of the State, save in so far as such right may in any special case have been limited by any express grant made before the commencement of this Enactment.

Control of and property in water vested in Ruler of State.

55. (i). Any person who shall in the course of mining operations interfere with the bank of any river, stream or water-course may, by written order, be required to restore the same to the condition in which it was immediately prior to such interference or to re-make the same in such manner as may be specified in the order.

Restoration of river banks.

(ii). Such order may be made by the Resident in the case of rivers, streams and water-courses or parts thereof as to which the Resident may have notified in the Gazette that orders under this section shall only be made by him; in other cases orders under this section may be made by the Warden.

56. It shall not be lawful for the occupier of any mining land to make or permit any other person to make, without the sanction of an Inspector, any such alteration in the water supply of any lands as may prejudicially affect the water supply enjoyed by any other persons or lands.

Alteration in water supply prohibited.

No. 17 OF 1904.

- Presumption if alteration made. 57. Whenever any such alteration shall have been so made, the occupier or occupiers of the lands benefited thereby shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be presumed to have made it.
- Licence for use of water. 58. (i). It shall be lawful for the Warden to issue to any person who is working or is about to work any land for mining, by virtue of any legal title, a licence to divert, make use of and deliver such water as is therein mentioned, in such places, by such means, in such manner, in such quantities and on such conditions as he may think fit.
- (ii). Every such licence shall be substantially in the form of Schedule P and shall be tenable for any period not exceeding twelve months, and shall be renewable at the discretion of the Warden.
- (iii). Licences for periods exceeding twelve months, to be named in the licence, may be granted under the hand of the Resident.
- Warden may require licence to be taken out. 59. The Warden shall have power to issue a notice in writing calling upon the occupier of any mining land to take out such licence within a period to be specified in such notice, and every person so cited shall be legally bound to comply with such notice.
- Conditions of licence to be observed. 60. No occupier of any mining land to whom such licence shall have been issued, nor any person in his employ or working upon such land, shall divert, make use of or deliver any water, otherwise than as permitted or required by the terms of such licence, without the permission in writing of an Inspector.
- Cancellation of licence. 61. It shall be lawful for the Warden to cancel any such licence upon proof of the breach by the licensee, or such other persons as are in the preceding section mentioned, of any of the conditions of such licence.
- Inspector's power in respect of water. 62. An Inspector shall have power to give orders concerning the distribution of any available water among the occupiers of any mining lands, and all persons affected by such order shall be legally bound to obey the same; every such order shall be given in writing if so required by any person affected thereby.
- Water - wheel may be forbidden. 63. The Warden shall have power to forbid the use of a water-wheel in any case in which it may appear to him that the use of the same is prejudicial to the interests of other miners, and every person receiving such prohibition shall be legally bound to comply therewith.
- Powers of Resident in respect of water. 64. (i). It shall be lawful for the Resident to grant, for a stated period and purpose, to any person a licence to erect, cut or construct upon or through any State or alienated lands, to be described in such licence, any pump, line of pipes, flume, race, drain, dam or reservoir, and, subject to such conditions as may be specified therein, to take and use all water therefrom in such quantities and in such manner as in the opinion of the Resident may be necessary for the purpose of effectually working such lands as may be specified in such licence, and it shall be lawful for the licensee to enter upon such State or alienated lands for the purposes expressed in such licence, and to carry out all or any of the works thereby sanctioned, and to exercise all or any of the rights thereby granted; provided that he shall be liable to make compensation to the owner or lawful occupier of any alienated land upon which such work shall be carried out or such rights exercised.

MINING.

(ii). All rights and privileges granted by any such licence shall be exercisable by the representatives and assigns of the licensee, and shall be revocable if not exercised for a period of two consecutive years.

65. The Resident shall have power, at any time and without cause assigned, to revoke or alter any licence granted by him in accordance with the provisions of the last preceding section, or to vary the terms and conditions thereof, upon payment to the licensee, his representatives or assigns, of compensation for any damage which he may sustain in respect of such revocation, alteration or variation.

Revocation or alteration of Resident's licence.

66. The compensation mentioned in the two last preceding sections shall be assessed in the manner provided by Part VII of "The Land Enactment, 1903."

Assessment of compensation.

67. The Warden shall have power to compel the lawful occupier of any mining land which is beneficially affected by the rights and privileges conferred by such licence as is in Sections 58, 64 and 65 mentioned, to permit any other person to enter upon such land, and thereupon, at his own expense, to erect, construct and maintain any pump, line of pipes, flume, race or water-course which in the opinion of the Warden may be necessary to enable such person to take advantage of any outflow of water from such land, and to convert the same to his own use: provided that no such erection, construction or maintenance shall be permitted or continued upon proof that the same is exercising or is likely to exercise any prejudicial effect or result upon or towards any actual or prospective mining operations which are or may be hereafter commenced or carried on upon the land so beneficially affected as aforesaid.

Occupier of land beneficially affected by Resident's licence to permit use of outflow to others.

68. (i). Every person who shall use water in connection with his mining operations, whether for the generation of power or for the removal of mineral substances or for concentrating, milling or otherwise dealing with such substances, shall, whatever may be the nature and date of the title under which such use is enjoyed, make such provision as will ensure that all water so used shall, before it leaves the mining area on which it has been so used, be freed from all earth, sand, gravel, sludge, dirt and tailings and from all chemicals deleterious to animal or vegetable life, and from all other refuse matter which may have become present therein in consequence of such use.

Purification of water.

(ii). The Warden or an Inspector shall on complaint made in writing of failure on the part of any person to comply with the requirements of Sub-section (i) hold an enquiry into the matter of such complaint, and may, with or without such complaint as aforesaid, at any time order any person who shall fail to comply with the requirements of Sub-section (i) to provide such retaining walls, brush dams, settling pits and other mechanical appliances and to use such chemical methods as the Warden or Inspector may deem necessary for effectual compliance with the said sub-section, and may also order such person to suspend his mining operations until such provision has been made and such methods adopted.

(iii). Compliance with an order of the Warden or of an Inspector made under the preceding sub-section shall not affect any liability incurred by any person through breach of the provisions of Sub-section (i).

No. 17 OF 1904.

PART V.

THE REGULATION OF MINING OPERATIONS.

- 69. It shall be lawful for the Warden to issue to the lawful occupier of any mining land a notice calling upon him to open and keep open the boundaries thereof within a period to be specified in such notice, and thereupon such occupier shall be legally bound to comply with the same, and, if he shall fail to do so, the Warden may cause the work to be done and recover the cost from the occupier by action in any Civil Court having jurisdiction, and a certificate signed by the Warden shall be conclusive evidence of the amount recoverable.
- 70. No gunpowder, dynamite, petroleum, or other inflammable oil in bulk, or other substance of an explosive or dangerous nature, shall be stored, placed or used in or near any mine or building, except in such places, in such quantities, in such manner and on such conditions as shall be prescribed by rules under this Enactment; and no detonator, match, or other highly inflammable substance or liquid shall be stored together with any other explosive substance or liquid.
- 71. It shall be lawful for an Inspector to give to any person, who may be working or may be about to work any mining land, such orders as may be necessary to ensure the effectual and economical working of the same. Any such order shall, if so required by such person, be in writing.
- 72. In the case of any accident in a mine, whereby loss of life or serious bodily injury has been occasioned, the Mining Manager, or person in charge of the mine, shall immediately report in writing to the Warden the nature of the accident, and the Warden shall cause an inspection to be made of the mine where the accident occurred and shall proceed to hold an enquiry into the nature and cause of the accident and shall forward a copy of the evidence taken at such enquiry, with his report thereon, to the Resident.
- 73. The Manager of any mine may draw up a code of rules for the local government of such mine and its surrounding mining appliances and accessory works and shall specify at the end of each clause the fine, or forfeiture, for the infringement of such clause. Any such code shall come into force upon being approved by the Resident in writing and shall cease to be in force so soon as the Resident shall in writing withdraw his approval thereof; and fines or forfeitures inflicted under any such code while in force shall be recoverable and enforceable by order of a Magistrate in the same way as fines or forfeitures inflicted or adjudged by such Magistrate, or such fines or forfeitures may be deducted by the Manager of the mine from the salary of any servant or officer of the mine who has in the opinion of such Manager become liable to pay the same, and any such person aggrieved by the decision of the Manager may appeal within thirty days to the nearest Magistrate, who may confirm, vary or reverse the decision of the Manager.
- 74. Except so far as may be necessary in order to make the first opening to work any mining land, the occupier thereof shall not deposit any overburden or tailings upon any unworked land without the permission of an Inspector.

Warden may require boundaries to be opened.

Gunpowder, etc., not to be

MINING.

75. The occupier of any mining land may be directed by an Inspector to deposit his overburden or tailings upon any other land denoted by him.

Inspector may give directions as to overburden.

76. The occupier of any worked-out land shall, upon receipt of an order to that effect from an Inspector, permit the occupiers of any other lands to deposit overburden or tailings thereon.

Deposit of overburden on worked-out land.

77. The occupier of any unworked land shall, upon receipt of an order to that effect from the Warden, permit the occupiers of any other lands to deposit overburden or tailings thereon. The Warden shall not make any such order unless and until the occupiers in whose favour the order is to be made shall have given security to the occupier of the unworked land, by bond with sureties or by cash deposit, to the satisfaction of the Warden, to compensate the occupier of the unworked land for any loss or damage which he may suffer by reason of the overburden or tailings being deposited on his land.

Similar deposit on unworked land.

78. The Warden shall have power to give such orders as may be necessary to control the disposal of all earth, sludge, dirt, tailings or other refuse matter from any mine, washing-shed, stamping-house, water-course or other place.

Power of Warden as to earth, etc.

79. (i). It shall not be lawful for any occupier of mining land, notwithstanding the terms of any document of title thereto, to commence or carry on, or allow to be commenced or carried on, upon such land any underground workings of the nature known in Malay as "Lombong Siam" not allowed without licence.

"lombong Siam" or in Chinese as "talung" (打窟) or "ta ngam"

(打巖) or "ta pak kop lung" (打白鴿籠) without a licence in writing under the hand of the Warden so to do.

(ii). The Warden may, at his discretion, grant or refuse any such licence, and may grant the same subject to any terms or conditions as to construction, timbering, or otherwise, as he may think fit. In the event of the Warden refusing any such licence or imposing any such conditions he shall, if so required by the applicant, state in writing the reasons for such refusal or for imposing such conditions. Provided that such licence shall not be refused to any person applying therefor who may be expressly authorised by any document of title to mining land to work the same by underground methods.

Warden may refuse licence.

80. Every such licence shall—

Requirements of licence.

(a). Describe the limits of the land;

(b). Contain such conditions as may be necessary for the protection of life and property;

(c). Be liable at any time to cancellation or alteration by the Warden upon proof of breach of the conditions of the licence, or if it shall appear to the Warden that further work under the licence cannot be carried on efficiently, or is likely to cause danger to life or property.

81. (i). The occupier of any mining land, whether alienated before or after the commencement of this Enactment, in which any open pit, shaft or adit exists shall—

Open pit, etc., to be fenced, and shafts to be filled in.

No. 17 OF 1904.

(a). Erect and thereafter maintain such fencing as may be necessary to prevent the occurrence of any danger or damage to man or beast;

(b). Surround with a substantial wall or fence the top of any shaft which for the time being is out of use or used only as an air-shaft;

(c). Immediately fill in every shaft so soon as the same ceases to be required for further use, and every shaft which the Warden may by written order direct to be filled in; provided that no person shall be liable to any penalty for failure to comply with such order of the Warden as aforesaid if he prove to the satisfaction of any Court before which the proceedings are taken that the shaft in respect of which the order was given was at the time of such order required for further use.

(ii). The Resident may, at his discretion, by order in writing signed by him, exempt the occupier of any particular mining land from all or any of the obligations imposed by Sub-section (i).

Shafts, etc., to be timbered and supported.

82. Such occupier shall at all times, when necessary, securely timber and support all shafts, adits, levels, galleries and underground passages in such a manner as to ensure the safety of all persons working in or passing through the same.

Ladderways.

83. Such occupier shall provide and maintain, to the satisfaction of the Warden, such ladder or other ways as will furnish effectual means of exit from any underground working or of ascent and descent of persons without the assistance of winding machinery.

Ventilation.

84. All parts of every underground working shall be properly and sufficiently ventilated to the satisfaction of the Warden.

Hydraulic working prohibited save as herein provided.

85. Save as is provided by this Enactment, no person shall work any land by ground sluicing or by any other method of removing earth by water power.

Licence for hydraulic
mining.

86. (i). It shall be lawful for the Warden to grant to any person a licence, for a period not exceeding twelve months and subject to such conditions as shall be therein stated, to work mining land by any of such means as are in the last preceding section mentioned.

(ii). It shall also be lawful for the Warden, with the sanction of the Resident, to grant any person a similar licence for such period as may be therein stated.

Place for deposit of waste matter to be specified in licence.

87. Every such licence shall specify the land upon which waste matter from such workings may be deposited, and the applicant may be required to lodge in the Treasury a sum of money sufficient to defray the cost of removing such waste matter and compensating the owner of the land on which the same has been deposited.

Warden may cancel or suspend
licence.

88. The Warden shall have power to cancel or to suspend for such period as he may think fit the operation of any licence issued under the provisions of the two last preceding sections upon proof that the licensee shall have failed to observe or comply with any of the conditions thereof, or upon proof that he is carrying on mining operations in such a manner as to injure or be likely to injure the property of the State or to impair or be likely to impair the lawful rights, privileges or possessions of any other person.

MINING.

89. The Warden shall have power in cases of emergency to suspend for such period as he may think fit any operations for the removal of alluvial deposits from beneath water by mechanical means, and shall have the like power in the case of any such operations which are being carried on otherwise than in accordance with any rules in force under this Enactment for the regulation of such operations or in such a manner as to injure or be likely to injure the property of the State or to impair or be likely to impair the lawful rights, privileges or possessions of any other person.

Suspension of dredging operations.

PART VI.

DUTIES AND POWERS OF OFFICERS IN CHARGE OF MINES.

90. (i). The Resident may from time to time appoint, by notification in the Gazette, the following officers to carry out the provisions of this Enactment—namely, a Senior Warden of Mines, Wardens of Mines, Assistant Wardens of Mines, Inspectors of Mines, Overseers of Mines and such other officers as he may consider necessary for carrying out the purposes of this Enactment.

Appointment, powers and duties of Wardens,
Inspectors and Overseers.

(ii). The duties and powers of the said officers shall be those assigned to them respectively by this Enactment and by any rules made thereunder and all officers appointed under this section shall be deemed to be public servants within the meaning of the Penal Code.

(iii). The Senior Warden may exercise all powers vested by this or any other Enactment in a Warden.

(iv). An Assistant Warden may exercise the powers and perform the duties assigned by this or any other Enactment to a Warden.

WARDEN OF MINES.

91. (i). Every officer duly appointed to exercise the powers of Warden shall be vested by virtue of such appointment with the powers of a Magistrate of the First Class for the purpose of compelling the attendance of witnesses, of maintaining order in his Court and otherwise of carrying into effect the provisions of this Enactment.

Warden to have powers of Magistrate of First Class and of Inspector.

(ii). Any powers given to an Inspector under this Enactment may be exercised by a Warden.

92. Except as may be otherwise expressly provided, in every case in which any duty, obligation or penalty is, by any of the provisions of this Enactment or by any order lawfully made thereunder by any officer subordinate to the Warden, imposed upon any person in occupation of mining land, whether lawfully or otherwise, or by expression or implication upon any person employed or working thereon, the Warden shall have jurisdiction to hold such enquiry, to make and enforce such order, and to inflict and recover such penalty as may be provided by this Enactment.

Warden may hold enquiry and enforce provisions of Enactment.

93. A Warden of Mines may enquire into and decide all disputes between occupiers of mining lands, either amongst themselves or in relation to themselves and third parties, concerning any of the matters hereinafter mentioned, and shall have power to make any order which may be necessary for the purpose of giving effect to his decision and to order the payment by any party to the dispute of such compensation, not exceeding $500, to any other party as may be reasonable. Such matters are as follows:—

(a). Concerning the claim of any person to be entitled to erect, cut, construct or use, any pump, line of pipes, flume, race, drain, dam or reservoir for mining purposes, or to have any priority of water taken, diverted, used or delivered, as against any other person claiming the same;

(b). Concerning disputed boundaries: provided that the provisions of Section 65 of "The Land Enactment, 1903," shall not be affected;

(c). Concerning any wrongful act committed, or any act wrongfully omitted, or alleged to have been committed or omitted, in the course of mining operations, by any person against any other person;

(d). Concerning acts, omissions, or matters in the course of, connected with, or auxiliary to mining operations, requiring explanations which may have come to his knowledge.

Fees.

94. There shall be charged by a Warden fees in respect only of processes issued by him, and the rate of such fees shall be such as may from time to time be approved for the Court.

Procedure.

95. The mode of procedure in any complaint shall be as follows:—

(i). The person complaining shall lodge a memorandum in writing at the office of the Warden, specifying shortly the subject matter of the complaint and the remedy sought to be obtained, or he may make his complaint in person, at any time or place, to the Warden, who shall forthwith reduce it to writing; and upon receipt of such memorandum or oral complaint the Warden shall, if he thinks the complaint is based on good grounds, issue a summons to the party against whose conduct such complaint is made, stating the nature of the complaint and the time and place at which the same will be enquired into, and he shall also notify and call all persons whose interests may, in his opinion, be affected by such enquiry.

(ii). At the time and place appointed the parties shall attend and state their case before the Warden, and may call evidence, and the Warden, having heard such statements and evidence and, if necessary, made an examination of the place in question, shall give his decision.

(iii). If any party interested shall have been duly summoned by the Warden to attend such enquiry and shall have made default in so doing, it shall be lawful for the Warden to hear and decide such complaint in the absence of such party, notwithstanding that the interests of such party may be prejudicially affected by such decision.

(iv). If at the time of receiving any such complaint as is mentioned in this section it appears to the Warden that all the parties interested, together with their witnesses, if any, can, without prejudice to the interests of any persons concerned, be forthwith assembled, and that the time and place are suitable for the holding of such enquiry, and that the interests of justice and of the persons so interested as aforesaid will best be served by holding an immediate enquiry, it shall be lawful for the Warden to forthwith cause all such persons to be assembled, and thereupon to proceed to hold his enquiry and to adjourn the same, at any stage of the proceedings, to such other time and place as he may appoint, or to give his decision or order thereon, or to reserve the same for further consideration, as to him may seem just.

(v). The Warden shall be entitled to appoint one or more assessors, to be nominated by him, to assist him in such enquiry.

96. No Advocate or Solicitor shall be allowed to practise or appear for any person in a Warden's Court.

Solicitors not allowed.

97. A Warden may, at any time before he has delivered judgment, order any case pending in his Court to be transferred to the Court.

When Warden may transfer case.

98. The Court may, at any time before the Warden has delivered judgment, order any case pending in a Warden's Court to be transferred to the Court.

When Warden shall transfer case.

99. It shall be lawful for any Civil Court other than the Court of the Senior Magistrate, before which there may at any time be pending a suit in which there arises any issue relating to mining operations or mining land, to transfer such issue to a Warden's Court for trial, and the Warden shall thereupon try and determine such issue, and his decision may be enforced in the same manner, and shall be subject to the like appeal, as if the questions in dispute had come before him under Section 93.

Power to Civil Courts to transfer cases to Warden.

100. It shall be lawful for a Warden to enquire into and decide any matter coming before him under this Enactment either in any Court-house in the district or in any other place in which the Warden may think fit to enquire into and decide the same, and any proceedings before a Warden may be conducted in any language which the Warden may allow.

Warden may sit anywhere and conduct business in any language.

101. (i). A Warden shall keep a record of all cases heard and complaints decided by him and shall take notes in writing of all evidence given before him.

Warden to keep record and take notes.

(ii). Any person interested in any dispute, decision or order shall be at liberty to obtain a copy of such record and notes upon payment of the prescribed fee.

102. (i). A Warden may send a copy, certified under his hand and seal, of any decree or order made by him to any Civil Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the subject matter of the decree is situated, and such Civil Court shall enforce the decree of the Warden in the same manner in which it would enforce its own decree or order.

Enforcement of Warden's decrees.

(ii). The same fees only shall be payable upon the enforcement of such decree or order as would be payable upon the enforcement of a like decree or order made by the said Civil Court.

103. (i). Any person aggrieved by any decree, order or decision made or given under the powers vested in a Warden by Sections 34 (ii), 61, 68, 80 (c), 88 or 93 may appeal to the Court: provided that there shall be no appeal to the Court from any such decree, order or decision in so far as the same may relate to the distribution or utilisation of water in cases where no rights in respect of such water are vested Appeal to Court from decision of Warden.

by licence or other written authority in the person aggrieved; and provided further that there shall be no appeal to the Court from any order or decision under Section 80 (c) unless the same be made or given on the ground of breach of the conditions of the licence.

(ii). No appeal to the Court shall be admitted after the expiration of thirty days from the date of the decree, order or decision appealed against.

Warden to be a party to appeal from his decision.

104. When an appeal from any such decree, order or decision is heard by the Court, the Warden whose decree, order or decision is appealed against shall be deemed to be a party to such appeal and shall be served with notice to attend the hearing in all respects as if he were a person interested in the dispute.

Warden may require owner of mining land to give information.

105. A Warden shall have power to issue a notice requiring any owner or occupier of mining land, or any person employed on or about such land, to appear before him at any reasonable time and place, and to require such owner, occupier or other person to give such information as he may be possessed of, and every such owner, occupier or other person shall be legally bound to comply with such notice.

Warden may call for plans and returns.

106. A Warden may by written notice require owners or occupiers of mining land or persons having the management thereof to keep plans of their workings and to furnish to him accurate copies of any plans of their workings which may be in their possession as well as returns containing information as to their mining operations of such description and at such times as the Resident may either generally or in particular cases approve; and every such owner, occupier or other person shall on receipt of such written notice comply with the requirements thereof.

In certain cases Warden may stop mining operations.

107. If at any time the Warden shall consider that mining operations are being carried on upon any land in contravention of the requirements of Section 16 Sub-Section (v) or in such a manner as to cause danger to life or property, it shall be lawful for him to issue an order to stop work upon such land, either in whole or in part, until such arrangements shall have been made as are, in his opinion, necessary either to secure compliance with such requirements or to avert such danger.

Duty of Warden as to control of mining.

108. It shall be incumbent on the Warden to direct and control so far as possible, all mines on lands already alienated for mining purposes.

Orders may be varied or cancelled.

109. (i). A Warden may vary or cancel any order made under this Enactment by any officer subordinate to him.

(ii). Any order or decision made or given by a Warden under this Enactment in respect of which no appeal is otherwise expressly provided may be varied or cancelled by the Resident.

INSPECTOR OF MINES.

Inspector's duties.

110. The duties of an Inspector shall be as follows :—

(i). To make entries day by day in a journal of all acts done by him and of all orders made by him in pursuance of the duties imposed upon him and the powers entrusted to him by the provisions of this Enactment, and to periodically submit such journal for the inspection of the Warden;

(ii). To call for and inspect, whenever he may deem necessary, any document of title to mining land or licence in respect of mining land or water;

(iii). To satisfy himself by personal examination that all the conditions of such documents of title and licences are being faithfully observed;

(iv). Whenever he shall have reason to believe that any person is unlawfully carrying on, or is doing any act with a view to unlawfully carrying on, mining operations upon or under any State or reserved land or any land alienated for agricultural purposes, to forthwith visit and inspect such land, and to make such enquiry into the matter as may be necessary;

If after such enquiry it appears to him that any person is so unlawfully acting as aforesaid, to call in the assistance of the police, if necessary, and to take proceedings against such person;

(v). To satisfy himself, by personal inspection at frequent and regular intervals, that the requirements of this Enactment are consistently observed, and to report to the Warden any matter in respect of which he may be of opinion that any enquiry or order is necessary;

(vi). To take measures to ensure the use of proper precautions in all mining operations for the prevention of danger, damage or inconvenience to life or property;

(vii). To make such orders as he may consider necessary in cases of dispute between occupiers of mining land in respect of their occupation or use of such land.

111. The powers of an Inspector shall be as follows:—

Inspector's powers.

(i). To give all such lawful orders as may be necessary to enable him to effectually perform the duties imposed upon him by the last preceding section, and to exercise such powers as are vested in him by the provisions of this Enactment, and every such order shall be given in writing if so required by any person affected thereby;

(ii). To arrest without warrant and take before a Magistrate any person whom he may find committing an offence against the provisions of this Enactment.

112. In any case in which it appears to an Inspector that the condition of a mine or of any mining land, or of any of the works or appliances appurtenant to such mine or land, is such as to be likely to be a source of danger to life or property, the Inspector shall have power to give any order which he may deem advisable or necessary for the purpose of averting the same; and if the danger to life or property is, in the opinion of the Inspector, serious and immediate, he may enforce or execute such order in a summary manner at the expense of the occupier of such mine or land.

Power of Inspector where works are dangerous to life or property.

No. 17 OF 1904.

OVERSEER OF MINES.

Overseers. 113. (i). The duties of an Overseer of Mines shall be to assist the Inspector of Mines, to whom he is subordinate.

(ii). An Overseer of Mines shall, so far as is necessary for the purpose of carrying out his said duties, have the powers of a Police Constable.

PART VII.

TRESPASSES AND PENALTIES.

114. Any person found to be occupying or carrying on mining operations upon any land, or doing any act with the view to occupying or carrying on mining operations upon the same, without having received lawful authority so to do under any of the provisions of this Enactment, or in breach of any of the conditions thereof, shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $1,000, and all machinery, tools, plant, buildings or other property, together with any ore or other product which may be found upon, or proved to have been obtained from, the land so unlawfully occupied, shall be liable to forfeiture.

115. (i). Any person who shall wilfully neglect to comply with the requirements of any notice duly served upon him under Sections 9, 10, 12, 25, 27 (i), 59, 69, 105 or 106 shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100, and any person who, after the service upon him of a second notice to the same effect, shall neglect to comply with the same shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $2 a day for every day during which such neglect shall continue.

(ii). Any person neglecting to produce any metals or minerals in accordance with a notice published under Section 126 (ii), and every person selling or buying or otherwise disposing of or dealing in the same, before they have been so produced, shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $250.

116. (i). Any person who shall make default in observing any of the conditions of his document of title to any mining land as prescribed by this Enactment shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $250, and where such offence is a continuing one, he shall be additionally liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $5 for every day during which such offence shall be continued.

(ii). Any person who shall, without permission in writing from the Collector, erect or permit to be erected upon mining land any house or other building except for such purposes as are mentioned in Section 15 (ii) shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $250, and the Collector may cause such house or other building to be destroyed.

117. Any holder of an individual mining licence who shall make default in observing any of the conditions of such licence as prescribed by Section 42 shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $50.

118. Any holder of a licence under Part III, who shall make default in observing any of the conditions of such licence shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100.

MINING.

119. Any person who shall contravene the provisions of Sections 56, 60 or 68 (i) or who shall fail to obey any order given under Sections 55, 63 or 68 (ii), shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $500, and additionally, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $10 a day for every day during which such contravention or disobedience shall continue.

Penalty for disobeying sections, or order under sections.

120. Any person who shall fail to obey any order given under Section 78 or shall commit a breach of any of the provisions of Part V shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $1,000, and additionally, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $10 a day for every day during which such disobedience or breach shall continue.

Penalty for disobeying order or breach of provisions of Part V.

121. Any person who shall fail to obey any lawful order made by a Warden or an Inspector, shall, in cases where no penalty is specifically provided, be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $250, and in cases where such default may be continuing, to an additional fine not exceeding $5 for every day during which such default may continue.

Other penalties for disobedience of Warden's or Inspector's order.

122. Where a person who is an owner or occupier of mining land or any Manager of or person employed in or about a mine commits a breach of any of the provisions of this Enactment which in the opinion of any Court constituted by the "Courts Enactment, 1900," before which the proceedings are taken was reasonably calculated to endanger the safety of persons employed in or about the mine, or to cause serious personal injury to any of such persons, or to cause a dangerous accident, and was committed wilfully by the personal act, personal default or personal negligence of the person accused, such person shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine not exceeding $1,000 or to imprisonment of either description for a period not exceeding three months.

Penalty for offence dangerous to life or safety.

123. Any person offending against the provisions of any rule made under this Enactment shall, in cases where such offence is of a continuing nature, be liable, in addition to any fine prescribed under Section 124, to a further fine not exceeding $2 for every day during which such offence may continue.

Penalty for breach of rules.

PART VIII.

GENERAL.

124. The Resident may, with the approval of the Resident-General, from time to time make rules for fully and effectually carrying out and giving effect to the various purposes, provisions and powers in this Enactment contained, and such rules when published in the Gazette shall have the force of law.

Power to make rules.

Such rules may provide for:—

- (i). The fixing of premia, rents and fees under this Enactment;
- (ii). The service of notices issued under the provisions of this Enactment or of any rules made thereunder;
- (iii). Adding to and varying the rules prescribed by Schedule F;

No. 17 OF 1904.

(iv). Prescribing the procedure to be taken under Sections 35, 37 or any other sections;

(v). Prescribing the powers and duties of officers appointed under the provisions of this Enactment;

(vi). Altering, adding to or rescinding any of the forms contained in the schedules;

(vii). The regulation of mining operations, whether alluvial, hydraulic, lode or otherwise, and the adoption in or about mines of any precautions necessary or desirable for the prevention of accidents and protection of human life;

(viii). The prohibition of the employment of specified classes of persons in underground workings;

(ix). The publication, enforcement, amendment or cancellation of such codes of rules as may from time to time be made under the provisions of Section 73;

(x). The furnishing by owners or managers of mines of statistical returns and the keeping and production by them of books and plans;

(xi). Prescribing the fine with which the contravention of any rule made under this Enactment shall be punishable, but so that such fine shall not exceed $1,000;

(xii). Any other matters, whether similar or not to those above mentioned, as to which rules may be necessary or desirable for enforcing the provisions or purposes of this Enactment.

Royalty. 125. All minerals or metals won within the State shall be liable to such royalty as the Resident, with the approval of the Resident-General, may from time to time fix by notification in the Gazette.

Commutation of royalty. 126. (i). In any case in which the Resident may think it advisable, it shall be lawful for him, with the approval of the Resident-General, to commute for a fixed annual payment (hereinafter called a "commutation fee") in respect of every miner employed, any royalty upon metals or minerals:

(ii). Where such commutation fee is imposed, it shall be lawful for the Resident to require, by notice published in the Gazette, that all metals or minerals won by those on whom the commutation fee is imposed shall be produced before the Warden, or such other officer as may be duly authorised in that behalf, and shall not be sold or otherwise disposed of until they have been so produced.

Resumption of alienated land. 127. All lands alienated otherwise than for mining purposes before or after the commencement of this Enactment shall be liable to be resumed for mining purposes by the Ruler of the State in Council upon payment to the grantee or other person entitled thereto of compensation for such interest in the land as is conveyed by his title and for the improvements, if any, thereon; such value, in case of disagreement, to be assessed in the manner provided by Part II of "The Land Enactment, 1903."

Compensation.

MINING.

128. No title, licence or other authority issued under the provisions of this Enactment shall exempt any person from liability in respect of any damage occasioned by such person to the property of the Government or of any person.

Miner's liability for damage.

129. Except with the sanction of the Ruler of the State in Council, no mining title shall be issued for land in respect of which any title, other than a mining title, has been issued and is in force.

No mining title to be issued under certain circumstances without sanction.

130. Whenever it is proved to the satisfaction of any Court having jurisdiction that a breach of any of the provisions of this Enactment, or of any rules published thereunder, has been committed by any miner or workman employed on the land in respect of which such breach has been committed, the employer of such miner or workman shall be held to be liable for such breach, and to the penalty provided therefor, unless he shall prove to the satisfaction of such Court that the same was committed without his knowledge or consent and that he had taken all reasonable means to prevent the same and to enforce the observance of such provisions.

Employer responsible for miners and workmen.

Provided that nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to exempt such miner or workman from liability in respect of any penalty provided by this Enactment for any breach proved to have been committed by him.

Exception.

131. All offences punishable under Sections 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 121 or 123 and offences against the provisions of any rule under this Enactment punishable with fine not amounting to $1,000 shall be triable by a Magistrate of the First or Second Class, and all offences punishable under Sections 114, 120 or 122 and offences against the provisions of any rule punishable with fine which may amount to $1,000 shall be triable by a Magistrate of the First Class.

Trial of offences.

132. It shall be lawful for any Magistrate before whom a conviction may be had under this Enactment to direct that any sum not exceeding one half of any fine recovered upon such conviction shall be paid to any person upon whose information or evidence such conviction was obtained.

Rewards to informers.

PART IX.

PROTECTION OF OFFICERS.

133. (i). No action shall be brought against any person for anything done or bona fide intended to be done, in the exercise or supposed exercise of the powers given by this Enactment, or by any rules made thereunder—

Provisions as to actions.

(a). Without giving to such person one month's previous notice in writing of the intended action, and of the cause thereof ;

(b). After the expiration of three months from the date of the accrual of the cause of action ;

(c). After tender of sufficient amends.

(ii). In every action so brought it shall be expressly alleged that the defendant acted either maliciously or negligently and without reasonable or probable cause, and if, at the trial, the plaintiff shall fail to prove such allegation judgment shall be given for the defendant.

No. 17 of 1904.

(iii). Though judgment shall be given for the plaintiff in any such action, such plaintiff shall not have costs against the defendant unless the Magistrate before whom the action is tried shall certify his approbation of the action.

PART X.

ANCESTRAL MINING LAND.

Meaning of "ancestral mining land."

134. "Ancestral mining land" shall mean such ascertained areas of mining land as have been specially granted by the State prior to the commencement of the "Mining Enactment, 1899," to persons who have established an ancestral claim thereto and are still held by such persons or members of their families in pursuance of such grant.

Rent free.

135. No quit-rent shall be payable in respect of any ancestral mining land.

Limited rights.

136. The right of a holder of ancestral mining land shall be limited to the working of alluvial tin only.

Special provisions.

137. Such land shall be subject in all respects to the provisions of this Enactment with the following exceptions:

(i). No person shall be registered as the holder of such land unless he be a member of the family of the original grantee; provided that a person registered as sub-lessee of such land shall not for the purposes of this sub-section be deemed to be thereby registered as the holder thereof;

(ii). No such land shall be sub-leased for any period exceeding ten years from the date of the sub-lease or the term of the natural life of the sub-lessor;

(iii). The right to such land shall be liable to forfeiture if not exercised for a period of two consecutive years.

Proviso: Surveys for which fees have been deposited at rates previously in force may be carried out at such previous rates.

3. In calculating survey fees an additional part of an acre shall be reckoned as an additional acre.

4. In addition to the prescribed survey fees the actual cost of each boundary mark inserted shall also be paid.

5. In further addition to the prescribed survey fees the Government, in cases where mining lands lie at a considerable distance from any surveyed lands, reserves the right to charge the whole or part of the cost of the connections necessary to fix the mining lands in their correct position on the district map at a rate not exceeding 80 cents per chain of traverse run.

MINING.

SERVICE OF NOTICES.

6. The service of all notices or other processes issued under the provisions of the Enactment, or of any rules made thereunder, may be effected as follows:—

(i). Service may be effected by delivering or tendering a copy of the document to be served, authenticated by the seal of the issuing officer, either to the person to whom it is addressed or to any adult member of his family (other than a servant) residing with him, and obtaining the signature of the person to whom such copy is delivered or tendered to an acknowledgment of service endorsed upon the original document or written in a book to be kept for that purpose.

(ii). If the person to whom such copy is delivered or tendered is unwilling or unable to sign the acknowledgment, or if the serving officer is unable to find any proper person on whom to effect personal service, service may be effected by affixing a copy of the document to be served in a conspicuous position upon the land (if any) which is affected, and by also—

(a). Affixing a copy thereof upon the house or place of business of the person to be served if such can be found within the State, or

(b). Affixing a copy thereof or a notice containing full particulars thereof at the mosque, penghulu's balei, market or other common place of resort in the town or village or kampong in which the person to be served usually resides or last resided.

(iii). In each of the above cases the serving officer shall enter on the back of the original of the document served or in the book above mentioned a statement of the time, place and manner in which he effected the service, and shall sign the same.

(iv). The officer issuing the notice may require any serving officer to make oath or affirmation to the truth of any such entry made by him.

ALIENATION.

7. There shall not, except with the written consent of the Resident, be alienated for the purpose of mining any land within the limits of any town or in the immediate neighbourhood of any public building or institution or of any railway or in such proximity to any padi fields as may be likely to render the same less valuable or convenient for the purpose of cultivation.

REGISTRATION.

8. Where the Collector requires for record a true copy of any instrument presented to him and a duly certified copy thereof is not furnished by the parties a fee at the prescribed rate shall be payable for examination and certification of a copy by the Collector.

9. Revocation of an original power of attorney, filed in any Land Office, may be by delivery to the Collector of a notice substantially in the form of Schedule I hereto. Every notice to the Collector of revocation of any power of attorney shall be attested in the manner provided by Section 29 (iii) of the Enactment.

No. 17 OF 1904.

SALE OF CHARGED LAND.

10. Every application by a chargee under Section 35 (i) of the Enactment shall be in writing and signed by the chargee, and may be in the form of Schedule II hereto and shall contain all details required thereby.

11. Upon receipt of any such application for the sale of land the Collector shall fix a day and hour for the hearing thereof, and shall thereupon cause to be issued under his hand the notices prescribed by Section 35 (ii) of the Enactment which shall be posted upon the land, and served, at the expense of the applicant, on every person who may appear to the Collector to be interested in the hearing of the application.

12. At the day and hour fixed for the hearing the Collector shall proceed to hear the application in the presence of the parties interested and shall record their evidence in writing. He may adjourn the hearing at any stage and for any period and shall record his reasons for such adjournment.

13. An order of sale shall be substantially in the form of Schedule III hereto.

14. (i). Every such sale shall be by public auction, and the Auctioneer shall be nominated by the Collector, provided that no person shall be nominated who has any interest whatever in the proceedings or who is not an officer borne on the pensionable establishment of the State or a person approved by the Resident to conduct sales by auction in the district in which the land is situated.

(ii). Every auction shall be conducted under the conditions of sale prescribed for the conduct of auctions of State land so far as the same may be applicable.

15. The date of the sale shall be wholly in the discretion of the Collector, who may if he see fit postpone it at any time.

16. The Collector shall cause such public notice to be given of the sale as he may in the interest of the parties or of either of them think advisable. Any expense incurred in so doing shall be part of the cost of the proceeding.

17. At any time prior to the fall of the hammer the owner of the land shall have the right to stop the sale upon payment of the sum due together with all costs.

18. The chargee may himself bid at the sale.

19. If a sale is effected the purchase money shall be paid within the period mentioned in the order of sale to the person named therein. The nomination of such person shall be in the discretion of the Collector, and he may nominate himself or the Auctioneer.

20. (i). Such person nominated shall make no payment to any person until authorised to do so by the Collector.

MINING.

(ii). The costs of the proceedings shall be a first charge upon the amount realised by the sale.

(iii). Should the amount realised be more than sufficient to meet the costs and the claim of the chargee the balance shall be paid to the chargor or person claiming under him.

21. Upon payment to the chargee of the amount due to him in respect of the charge, or of such less amount as may be available after deducting the costs of the proceedings, the Collector shall endorse upon the order of sale a certificate giving the name of the purchaser and the price paid, and shall register the purchaser as owner of the land.

REGULATION OF MINING OPERATIONS (GENERAL).

22. Every owner or manager of a mine who shall have been furnished by the Warden with a summary of the provisions of Part V of "The Mining Enactment, 1904," or of any rules thereunder, shall keep the same posted in a conspicuous place in the principal building on his mine so that all persons employed in such mine may have free access thereto.

23. No person not properly authorised in that behalf shall wilfully remove or render useless any fencing, means of signalling, signal chain, flange, brake, indicator, ladder, platform, steam-gauge, water-gauge, safety-valve or anything in any mine provided for the safety of any miner.

24. No woman or girl and no boy under the age of 16 years shall be employed in any underground working.

25. No shaft shall be sunk within 100 feet of the edge of any road or of the outer rail of any railway or siding or of any building, not being a building used in connection with the mining operations, without the written permission of the Resident.

26. No shaft shall be sunk within 30 feet of any other shaft without the written permission of an Inspector.

27. The top of all working and pumping shafts and all entrances between the top and bottom of such shafts shall be kept properly fenced, provided that any such fence may under proper precautions be temporarily removed for the purpose of repairs or other necessary operations.

28. When one part of a shaft is used for the ascent or descent of persons by ladders and another part thereof is used for raising substances got in the mine the first-mentioned part shall be cased or otherwise securely fenced off from the last-mentioned part.

29. No truck, iron, timber, tools, rail or other material shall, except when the shaft is being repaired, be placed in any cage in which men are being lowered to or raised from their work.

30. Every working shaft exceeding 150 feet in depth, which is used or intended to be used for raising or lowering persons, shall, unless the Warden grant exemption in writing, be provided with guides and proper means of communicating distinct and definite signals from the bottom of the shaft and from every entrance for the time being in use between the surface and the bottom of the shaft to the surface, and from the surface to the bottom of the shaft and to every entrance for the time being in use between the surface and the bottom of the shaft.

No. 17 OF 1904.

The signals shall be as follows :—

Stop or hold fast	...	...	...	...	1 knock.
Raise	...	...	...	...	2 knocks.
Lower	...	...	...	...	3 „
Men about to get on cage	...	...	...	...	4 „

The manager of any mine shall add to the foregoing such additional signals not inconsistent therewith as may in his opinion be necessary, and shall cause copies of the complete code of signals to be posted in the winding engine-house and at the top and bottom of the shaft and at all entrances thereto in such languages as may be in use among the persons employed in the mine.

31. There shall be on the drum of every machine used for lowering or raising persons such flanges or horns and also, if the drum is conical, such other appliances as may be necessary to prevent the rope from slipping.

32. There shall be attached to every machine worked by steam, water or mechanical power and used for lowering or raising persons an adequate brake and also a proper indicator (in addition to any mark on the rope), whereby the person working the machine may know the position of the cage or load in the shaft.

33. Every windlass worked by manual power shall be provided with an adequate brake and shall have, attached to the rope, marks whereby those working the windlass may know the position of the load in the shaft.

34. A clear view shall be kept for the engine driver between his station and the shaft at the surface brace.

35. No appliances except such as are of a pattern approved by the Warden shall be used for raising or lowering miners or materials in any shaft.

36. All ladders, windlasses, brakes, ropes and winding gear shall be kept in good condition and repair to the satisfaction of the Warden or an Inspector.

37. The Warden shall cause to be thoroughly examined at least once in every six months all ropes in use by miners in connection with machinery used for the purposes of hauling and winding and shall record in a book to be kept for that purpose the condition of such ropes at the time of such examination.

MINING.

38. Every underground plane whereon persons travel which is self-acting or worked by an engine or windlass shall be provided with sufficient man-holes as places of refuge at intervals of not more than 20 yards and also, if it exceed 100 feet in length, with some approved means of signalling between the stopping places and the ends of the plane.

39. Every man-hole and space for a place of refuge shall be kept clear and unobstructed and no persons shall place in or near the same anything which may prevent free access thereto.

40. Any fly-wheel and all exposed and dangerous parts of any machinery used in or about a mine shall, unless specially exempted by the Warden, be kept securely fenced.

41. No gunpowder, dynamite or other explosive or highly inflammable substance shall be used underground in any mine except in accordance with the following conditions:—

(a). It shall not be stored in the mine except in such quantities, not exceeding 50 lbs., as the Warden may permit;

(b). It shall not be taken into the mine except in such quantities, and in such manner as may be allowed under any code of rules in force for the local government of such mine, or in such quantities and in such manner as the Warden may permit;

(c). No iron or steel pricker shall be used in blasting, and no iron or steel tools shall be used in tamping or ramming;

(d). No attempt shall be made to withdraw any charge which has missed fire;

(e). No boring shall be done in the bottom of any hole which has once been fired.

42. No shaft or underground working place which has been out of use shall be brought into use or the use thereof resumed until effectual measures have been taken for the dissipation of all noxious gases therefrom.

43. (i). Every mine shall be kept so ventilated that the health of persons working in the shafts, winzes, levels and underground working places thereof and using the roads to and from such working places shall not be injured; and in every shaft more than 60 feet deep some mechanical or other appliance adapted to ensure adequate ventilation shall be provided.

(ii). In the case of a single shaft, it shall be divided by a partition into two compartments whereof one shall be used as an up-cast and the other as a down-cast shaft.

(iii). In the case of two or more shafts connected underground, one of such shafts shall be used as an up-cast shaft.

(iv). Every reasonable precaution shall be taken to see that air travels freely to all working faces before ascending the up-cast shaft.

44. Whenever there is any indication, whether from the infiltration of water or otherwise, of the close proximity of old workings, all persons employed in the workings shall immediately come to the surface and no person shall re-enter the workings with naked light until every reasonable precaution shall have been taken to ensure the absence of an explosive mixture of gas and air.

No. 17 of 1904.

45. In approaching workings likely to contain a dangerous accumulation of water, bore-holes shall be kept in advance of the face as a precaution against an inrush of water; and no drive, gallery or other excavation shall be made within a dangerous distance of any such accumulation.

46. In any mine where the Warden may so direct, a stretcher and ambulance, splints, bandages and other first-aid appliances shall be kept ready to hand.

47. At any mine where the Warden may so direct, a book shall be kept wherein the manager or other person in charge of the mine shall certify at intervals of not less than seven days that he has personally examined the mine, and the buildings, winding machinery, ropes and other appliances used in or about the same and has found them to be in good order, or as the case may be, and shall also specify any repairs or alterations which in his opinion are required to ensure greater safety to the persons employed in or about such mine, and shall as soon as such repairs have been executed enter a record thereof in the said book.

SPECIAL RULES FOR REGULATING THE REMOVAL OF ALLUVIAL DEPOSITS FROM BENEATH WATER BY MECHANICAL MEANS.

48. All tailings shall be deposited behind the dredger or as the Warden may direct.

49. No dredging operations shall be carried on within 100 yards of the centre line of any road or railway or of any bridge or of any Government building without the written permission of the Resident, nor shall such operations be so carried on as to obstruct traffic on any river, channel or other waterway.

NOTIFICATION UNDER SECTION 79 OF "THE LAND ENACTMENT, 1903."

ACQUISITION OF LAND FOR PUBLIC PURPOSES.

No. 733.—It is hereby notified that it appears to the Resident that land in the locality hereunder described is likely to be needed for a public purpose, that is to say, for irrigation :

And it is further notified that the Irrigation Engineer, and any officers or workmen employed under him are authorised by the Resident :—

(i). To enter upon and survey and take levels of any land in the said locality ;

(ii). To dig or bore into the sub-soil ;

(iii). To do all other acts necessary to ascertain whether the land is adapted for such purpose ;

(iv). To set out the boundaries of the land proposed to be taken and the intended line of the work proposed to be made thereon;
